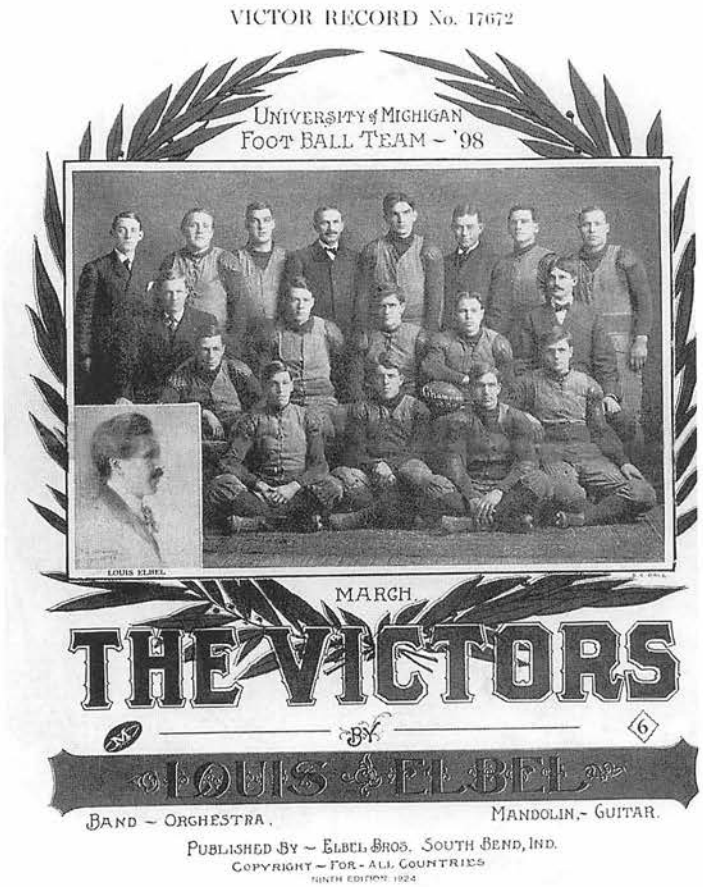
Michigan Traditions "A" to "Z"



The University of Michigan band has gained national notoriety by playing "The Victors" fight song from coast to coast.

Attendance - Michigan has led the NCAA in total attendance every year since 1974, and a grand total of 28 times since the NCAA began keeping attendance records in 1949. During the 1997 season, 745,139 fans filed into Michigan Stadium (average 106,448), which was a NCAA single season total attendance mark. The Wolverines also pushed to 142 the streak of consecutive home games that Michigan has drawn over 100,000 fans.

Band - 1998 marks the 100th anniversary of the marching band's first appearance at a Michigan football game. Formed with nine men in 1844, the Michigan Marching Band has appeared in every Michigan bowl game since 1948 and was dubbed "The Transcontinental Band" after appearing at both Yankee Stadium and the Rose Bowl during the 1950 season. In 1973, U-M had the first college band to perform in a Super Bowl and, in 1983, became the first recipient of the Sudler Trophy, given annually to the college marching band of particular excellence. In a piece of band trivia, the Michigan band originated and was the first to perform the "Script Ohio," honoring its opponent in a 1932 game at Columbus. Today the Michigan Marching Band is made up of 225 people and will perform at all six Michigan home games as well as the Notre Dame and Ohio State games on the road in 1998.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Conferences - Following a respectable performance on its 1881 trip to the East, Michigan was invited to join the Eastern College League, but declined due to faculty resistance.

In January of 1896, U-M became a charter member of the Big Ten Conference. In the Big Ten meetings that followed the 1905 season, a rule was proposed which would allow only three years of varsity play to all athletes. Michigan's disagreement with this rule is that it would apply retroactively and affect students already registered. Due to this difference, Michigan withdrew from the Big Ten on Jan. 4, 1908. Students and alumni of Michigan supported its independence wholeheartedly until 1913, when sentiment began to change, paving the way for Michigan's reinvitation into the conference on Nov. 20, 1917.

Dedications - In 1922, Michigan went to Nashville to play in Vanderbilt's stadium dedication game and secured a 0-0 tie. Later in 1922, the Wolverines spoiled Ohio Stadium's dedication game with a 19-0 shutout of the Buckeyes in Columbus. In 1924, Michigan played in the dedication game for Michigan State's Spartan Stadium, and prevailed 7-0. That same year, the Wolverines traveled to Illinois for the dedication game of Memorial Stadium, but the Illini, led by Harold "Red" Grange, subdued U-M, 39-14. The Wolverines dedicated Michigan Stadium in fine fashion on Oct. 22, 1927, downing Ohio State, 21-0.

Eagle - Standing at the southwest corner of Michigan Stadium, the eagle was dedicated in 1948 to the memory of the men and women of the University of Michigan who gave their lives for this country in World War II. In 1993, the eagle was the subject of a restoration project to return it to its original green color.

Firsts - Among many firsts the University of Michigan can claim are: the first football game west of the Allegheny Mountains (vs. Racine, 1879) ... the first football team to fly cross-country by airplane to play a football game (vs. California, 1940) ... the first complete university in America supported solely by public funds ... graduated the first woman to practice law in the United States (1871) ... the first university to offer courses in American literature, pharmacy and data processing ... the first primarily defensive player to win the Heisman Trophy (Charles Woodson, 1997)

Grass - The surface of Michigan Stadium's field has been Prescription Athletic Turf since 1991 and was resodded prior to the 1996 season. The conversion from artificial surface was made in May 1991, since that change Michigan has tallied a record of 36-8-1 (.811) at home. The Stadium had been carpeted between 1969-90, during which time Michigan compiled a home record of 115-16-3 (.869). The Wolverines are 601-221-31 (.722) all-time on grass and 175-33-5 (.833) all-time on artificial surface entering 1998.

Homecoming - Michigan's 24-3 victory over Minnesota on November 1, 1997 marked Michigan's 101st homecoming football game. Michigan's all-time record in homecoming games now stands at 75-24-2. The homecoming tradition started in 1897, when a group of Michigan alumni beat the Wolverines, 15-0. After Alumni games in 1898 and 1899, Purdue became Michigan's first outside homecoming opponent in 1900. From 1968-1989, U-M won 22 straight homecoming games.

Michigan celebrated its 100th Homecoming game in 1996.

Internet - Keeping with the University tradition of "leaders and best," the Michigan Athletic Department has been a pioneer in the new medium of the internet. The University of Michigan has continued to stay on the cutting edge of internet technology with the inclusion of numerous multimedia activities on its webpage, including the cybercasting of all home football games. March 27, 1998, the Michigan website made history as the U-M/Princeton hockey game became the first collegiate game carried on a live video feed over the internet. For the Michigan Athletic webpage log on to: www.umich.edu/~mgoblue.

January - The Wolverines have been no stranger to January games, playing 24 games in the first month of the year, including the 1998 Rose Bowl. The 24 appearances lead all Big Ten teams, as do the 17 Rose Bowl appearances Michigan has made. For Michigan's bowl record see page 328.

Kin - Over 40 sets of brothers have lettered in Michigan football over the years. The most famous set of brothers at Michigan were Albert, Alvin and Francis Wistert, all of whom were named All-Americans. In their honor, the jersey no. 11 that each of the brothers wore has been retired.

Michigan Traditions "A" to "Z"

Little Brown Jug - According to the 1996 NCAA records book, there are 57 trophy games involving Division I-A teams. They all owe their creation to the University of Michigan, the University of Minnesota, some misgivings about water and a 30-cent, putty-colored jug.

Michigan had won 28 straight games as it headed to Minneapolis for a battle with Minnesota in 1903. The Golden Gophers came into the game 10-0 on the season, with a crowd of 20,000 to root the home team on. Having doubts that Minnesota would provide pure water to the Michigan bench, head coach Fielding Yost ordered a manager, Tommy Roberts, to purchase a receptacle for drinking water which would be free from suspicion. Roberts purchased a five-gallon jug from a variety store in Minneapolis, and Michigan and Minnesota prepared to duel.

The Wolverines took a 6-0 lead in the first half, but the Gophers rallied to tie the game on a touchdown with two minutes remaining. When Minnesota blasted over the goal line, the fans, some sitting in trees and atop telephone poles, rushed the field in excitement. The pandemonium that ensued led to the game being called with time still left on the clock.

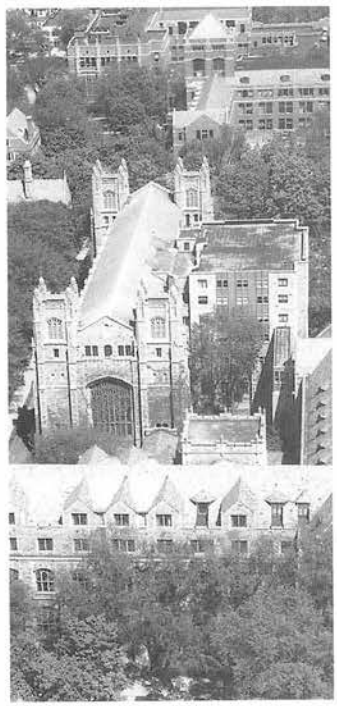
In their haste to leave and catch the train back to Chicago, the Michigan players dressed quickly and departed the stadium, leaving the jug behind. Minnesota equipment manager Oscar Munson found the jug the following morning and brought it to Director of Athletics L.J. Cooke. In remembrance of the exceptional tie, they decided to hold on to the jug and adorned it by painting, "Michigan Jug - Captured by Oscar, October 31, 1903," and the score "Minnesota 6, Michigan 6" on the side of the jug.

When Yost sent a letter requesting the return of the jug, Cooke wrote back, "If you want it, you'll have to come up and win it." Due to the brutality of the 1903 game, the two teams did not meet again until 1909, when Michigan did win the jug, 15-6. The Wolverines defended the jug in Ann Arbor in 1910, but due to Michigan's withdrawal from the Big Ten, the jug was not played for again until 1919.

The trophy disappeared from the trophy case of the Michigan Athletic Administration building in 1930 and was not found until 1934. Before the actual jug was found behind a clump of bushes by a gas station attendant in Ann Arbor, a replica of the prize was displayed in Michigan's trophy case. The authenticity of the original was confirmed by a flaw that could not be duplicated. Since then, the trophy has been carefully safeguarded.

The Wolverines and Gophers have met every year since 1929 and even played two games in 1926. After Minnesota reeled off eight consecutive wins from 1934-42, Michigan only led the trophy battle 14-11-1, but the Wolverines have won 44 of the last 55 games and 28 of the last 30. Michigan's 24-3 win in Ann Arbor in 1997 was its 12th straight over the Golden Gophers.

Dating back to 1909, the battle for the Little Brown Jug is the oldest trophy game in Division I-A. Sixteen years passed before the next trophy game was created. In 1925, the Illibuck (Illinois-Ohio State), the Old Oaken Bucket (Indiana-Purdue) and the Beer Barrel (Kentucky-Tennessee) trophies were first played for, the last of which was created, "to rival Michigan's Brown Jug."



Michigan - The University of Michigan was founded in Detroit in 1817 bearing the name "Catholepistemiad." When Michigan became a state in 1837, the first legislature renamed the institution "The University of Michigan." When the citizens of Ann Arbor donated 40 acres of land, the University relocated here, opening its doors to seven students in 1841. Though the original 40 acres (now the "Diag") still mark the center of campus, things have changed. Back then, there was only one opening in the fence for students to enter through, so as to allow people in while keeping out wandering cows. The entire campus was enclosed by this fence, as well as the grazing land for the cows of the faculty.

Michigan Traditions "A" to "Z"

Nickname - Since the earliest days of recorded University of Michigan history, the students and alumni have been referring to themselves as "Wolverines." While this moniker has proven successful for over a hundred years of intercollegiate sports, what is the reason for it? And moreover, what exactly is a wolverine?

The simplest reason for the wolverine nickname would be that the animal was abundant in Michigan at some time. However, all the evidence points otherwise, as there has never been a verified trapping of a wolverine inside the state's borders, nor have the skeletal remains of a wolverine been found within the state's 96,705 square miles.

The truth is that there is truly no known reason why the Wolverine was chosen as the nickname. However, there are several theories.

The great Michigan football coach Fielding H. Yost had a theory for the nickname, which he wrote about in the Michigan Quarterly Review in 1944. Yost felt that the reason for the nickname concerned the trading of wolverine pelts which occurred at Sault Ste. Marie for many years. The trading station served as an exchange between the Indians, other trappers and fur traders, who would eventually ship the products off to the Eastern United States. Because many of the furs were in fact wolverine pelts, the traders may have referred to them as "Michigan wolverines," leading to the state nickname and ultimately to the University of Michigan representation.

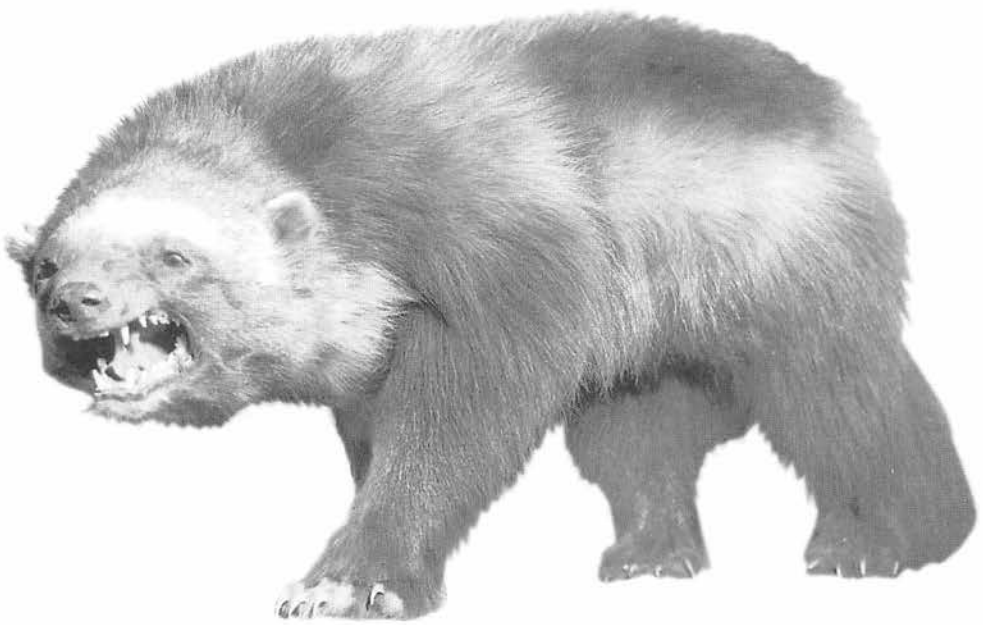
Eight years later, in the Michigan Quarterly Review of 1952, Albert H. Marckwardt presented another theory for the "wolverine" name. Marckwardt's reasoning is based when Michigan was first settled by the French in the late 1700s. The appetites of the French who made up a sizable portion of the settlers, was judged to be gluttonous or "wolverine-like" and therefore, the title wolverines was set upon them.

The last theory surrounds the border dispute between Michigan and Ohio in 1803. While the two sides argued over the proper setting of the state line, Michiganders were called wolverines. It is unclear, however, whether the Michigan natives pinned this name upon themselves to show their tenacity and strength or whether Ohioans chose the name on account of the gluttonous habit of the wolverine. From then on, Michigan was labeled the "Wolverine state" and when the University of Michigan was founded, it simply adopted the nickname of the state it represented.

Fielding Yost set out to find a wolverine in 1923, upon seeing Wisconsin carrying live badgers along with its football team. Yost's desire met with difficulty, as the coach had problems finding a dealer of live wolverines. After a letter to 68 trappers yielded no mascot for his team, Yost expanded his wish to any wolverine, alive or dead.

Yost was able to obtain a mounted wolverine from the Hudson's Bay Fur Company in the fall of 1924, but his quest for a live one continued. In 1927, 10 wolverines were obtained from Alaska and placed in the Detroit Zoo. On big football days, two of these wolverines were brought into Michigan Stadium and carried around in cages.

However, the animals grew larger and more ferocious, and as Yost states, "It was obvious that the Michigan mascots had designs on the Michigan men toting them, and those designs were by no means friendly." Therefore, the practice of bringing wolverines into the stadium had to be discontinued after only one year. However, one of the wolverines was not returned to the Detroit Zoo. Instead, "Biff" was put in a cage at the University of Michigan Zoo where students were able to visit him at all times. In 1937, the Chevrolet Motor Company donated a wolverine (as well as the cage to keep it in) to the University of Michigan. It is unclear how long this wolverine lasted, but it is known that no live wolverines have been in Michigan Stadium in the last half-century.



Wolverines are known for their relentless ferocity.

An artist's drawing of Charlie Widman's touchdown run against Amos Alonzo Stagg's powerful Chicago team in 1898. The Thanksgiving victory inspired U-M student Louis Elbel to pen Michigan's famed fight song, "The Victors."

One - Or more exactly 01, which is what Michigan Stadium's capacity has ended in since the facility was expanded to seat over 100,000 in 1956. To discover the reason for the extra seat, please see the stadium story beginning on page 356.

Paul Bunyan Trophy - The annual Michigan-Michigan State game gives the winner state bragging rights, an inside track to a bowl game, and last, but certainly not least, ownership of the mammoth Paul Bunyan Trophy. The four-foot wooden statue, donated by then-Governor G. Mennen Williams in 1953, portrays the legendary figure astride an axe with feet planted on a map of the state of Michigan. Two flags-one with the Michigan 'M' and the other with the Michigan State 'S'-are planted on either side of Bunyan.

Since the battle for the trophy began in 1953 with Michigan State's inception into the Big Ten Conference, Michigan holds a 26-17 edge with two ties. Since 1970, Michigan has won 21 of the 27 games played between the two schools, but the Wolverines only hold a 5-3 edge in the 1990's.

The first game for the Paul Bunyan Trophy was a disputed one for the Wolverines, who said before the Michigan State game that they would refuse the trophy if they won. There was no problem, however, as Michigan State won the initial contest, 14-6, in East Lansing. In 1954, Michigan was glad to take the trophy back when it defeated Michigan State, 33-7, in Ann Arbor.

Paul Bunyan Trophy Records:

Overall Wins:	Michigan 26
	Michigan State 17, 2 ties
Consecutive Wins:	Michigan 8 (1970-77)
	Michigan State 4 (1959-62)
Most Points Scored:	Michigan 45 (1991,96)
	Michigan State 35 (1957)

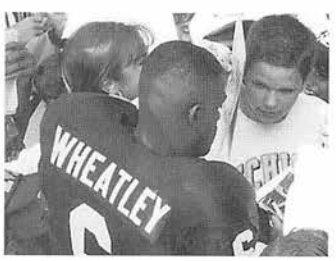
Quarterbacks - Michigan quarterbacks have been prominent in the NFL recently, with three former Wolverines playing starting roles. Elvis Grbac is the starting quarterback for the Kansas City Chiefs while Todd Collins of the Buffalo Bills and Jim Harbaugh, then of the Indianapolis Colts, faced off against each other as starters in a regular season game. The matchup between Collins and Harbaugh was the first matchup between two Michigan quarterbacks since Bennie Friedman and Harry Newman faced off for the 1933 meeting between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants. Incidentally, Friedman led the league in pass rating and completion percentage while Newman took top honors in passing yards, completions and touchdowns that season.

Michigan Traditions "A" to "Z"

Retired Numbers - Five Michigan jersey numbers have been retired in honor of seven Wolverine players. Number "11", worn by brothers Albert, Alvin, and Francis Wistert; "47" worn by Bennie Oosterbaan; "48" worn by Gerald Ford; "87" worn by Ron Kramer; and "98" worn by Tom Harmon are jerseys which will never be donned by another Michigan player. All of the jersey numbers were retired after the athlete played his last season with the Wolverines, with the exception of Gerald Ford, whose "48" was retired prior to the Michigan State game on Oct. 8, 1994.

States - Michigan has played teams from 38 U.S. states while playing games in 26 U.S. states, including its first-ever game in Colorado in 1996. Wolverine letterwinners have hailed from 44 states (all but Alaska, Delaware, Hawaii, Mississippi, Nevada and Vermont) while players from 47 states (all except Alaska and Mississippi) have graced Michigan rosters over the years.

Television - Since Michigan's 55-0 victory over Michigan State was televised by Detroit station WWJ on Sept. 27, 1947, the Wolverines have been featured on "the tube" 257 times, including all 12 contests during the 1997 season. The 257 appearances include 121 national, 77 regional, and 59 local telecasts. Michigan has appeared on the ABC network 110 times, NBC 26 times, ESPN 31 times, and has made 19 appearances on CBS. Michigan appeared in the first televised Rose Bowl games as it defeated USC, 49-0, on Jan. 1, 1948.



Uniforms - The uniforms Michigan wore its first game against Racine in 1879 consisted of white, close-fitting canvas, with blue stockings and a belt.

Soon after, the Wolverines switched to blue jerseys with gold numerals, which they used for every game through the 1927 season. In 1928, when Michigan played Navy, the midshipmen refused to change their jerseys, so Michigan players donned a bright yellow jersey with blue numbers. In 1949, when playing Northwestern, Michigan wore a white away jersey for the first time. Currently, the Michigan home uniforms consist of blue jersey with yellow lettering and maize pants. On the road, Michigan wears white jerseys with blue lettering and maize pants.

From 1959 to 1968, Michigan players had white numbers on the sides of their helmets. Also in 1968, Michigan had a block "M" on the sleeves of its jerseys. This "M" was replaced by numerals on the shirt sleeves for Bo Schembechler's first season in 1969. In 1974-75, the Wolverines wore white pants for road games. In 1980 the Michigan uniforms changed once again, when the players' names were added to the back of the jersey. The most recent change occurred for the national championship campaign of 1997 when head coach Lloyd Carr reinstituted the block "M" on the sleeves of Michigan's road jerseys.

Victors, The - In a game that would determine the 1898 conference champion, Michigan battled the-then heaviest team in college football history, Chicago. The Maroons held an 11-5 lead late in the game, but with less than two minutes left, a rarely used Michigan substitute named Charles Widman was handed the ball and scampered 65 yards down the field for the touchdown and an 11-11 tie. The successful point after gave the Wolverines their first conference championship.

One of the 1,400 fans in attendance at Marshall Field in Chicago that day was Louis Elbel. After a celebration by Michigan fans in the Chicago streets, Elbel began to walk back to a relative's house in the weakening sunlight. It was on this walk where the young man realized that Michigan did not have the right celebration song. On his walk, the melody of the refrain for the "Victors" came to him. He wrote his thoughts down in paper, then tried out the whole portion on the piano the following night. Elbel got the idea of making the song into a big march and wrote the rest on the train back to Ann Arbor.

Elbel was happy just writing the song, but his brother, who was in the music business, suggested that it be printed. Looking for the big band sound like he heard on the streets of Chicago, Elbel had band arranger E.R. Schremser prepare 23 sheets of the song for the 23 instruments. The printed copies were received in early April 1899. On April 8, John Philip Sousa and his band came to University Hall for a scheduled concert, and Louis asked the leader if he would consider playing "The Victors." The great band leader took the song and gave the debut performance.

Two nights later, "The Victors" was performed by an orchestra at the U of M Minstrels concert. It was during the playing that the words were sang for the first time in public.

When the baseball team returned from a successful trip out east in May 1899, 1,500 students were waiting at the railroad station to greet them. The throng, which included the Michigan band, took the team members up to the

Michigan Traditions "A" to "Z"

Law Building on a hay wagon. There, the band played "The Victors" for the first time, and many students joined in singing.

Since then, "The Victors" has been played worldwide, consistently ranked among the best and most well recognized fight songs. For the complete words to the song, please see page 379.

Winged Helmet - The story of the most well-known helmet in college football began with Fritz Crisler's arrival as head coach in 1938. It was Crisler, fresh from Princeton with an eye for detail and style, who turned Michigan's then-black helmets into the famous winged design known nationwide today.

"Michigan had a plain black helmet and we wanted to dress it up a little," Crisler recalled. "We added some color (maize and blue) and used the same basic helmet I had designed at Princeton."

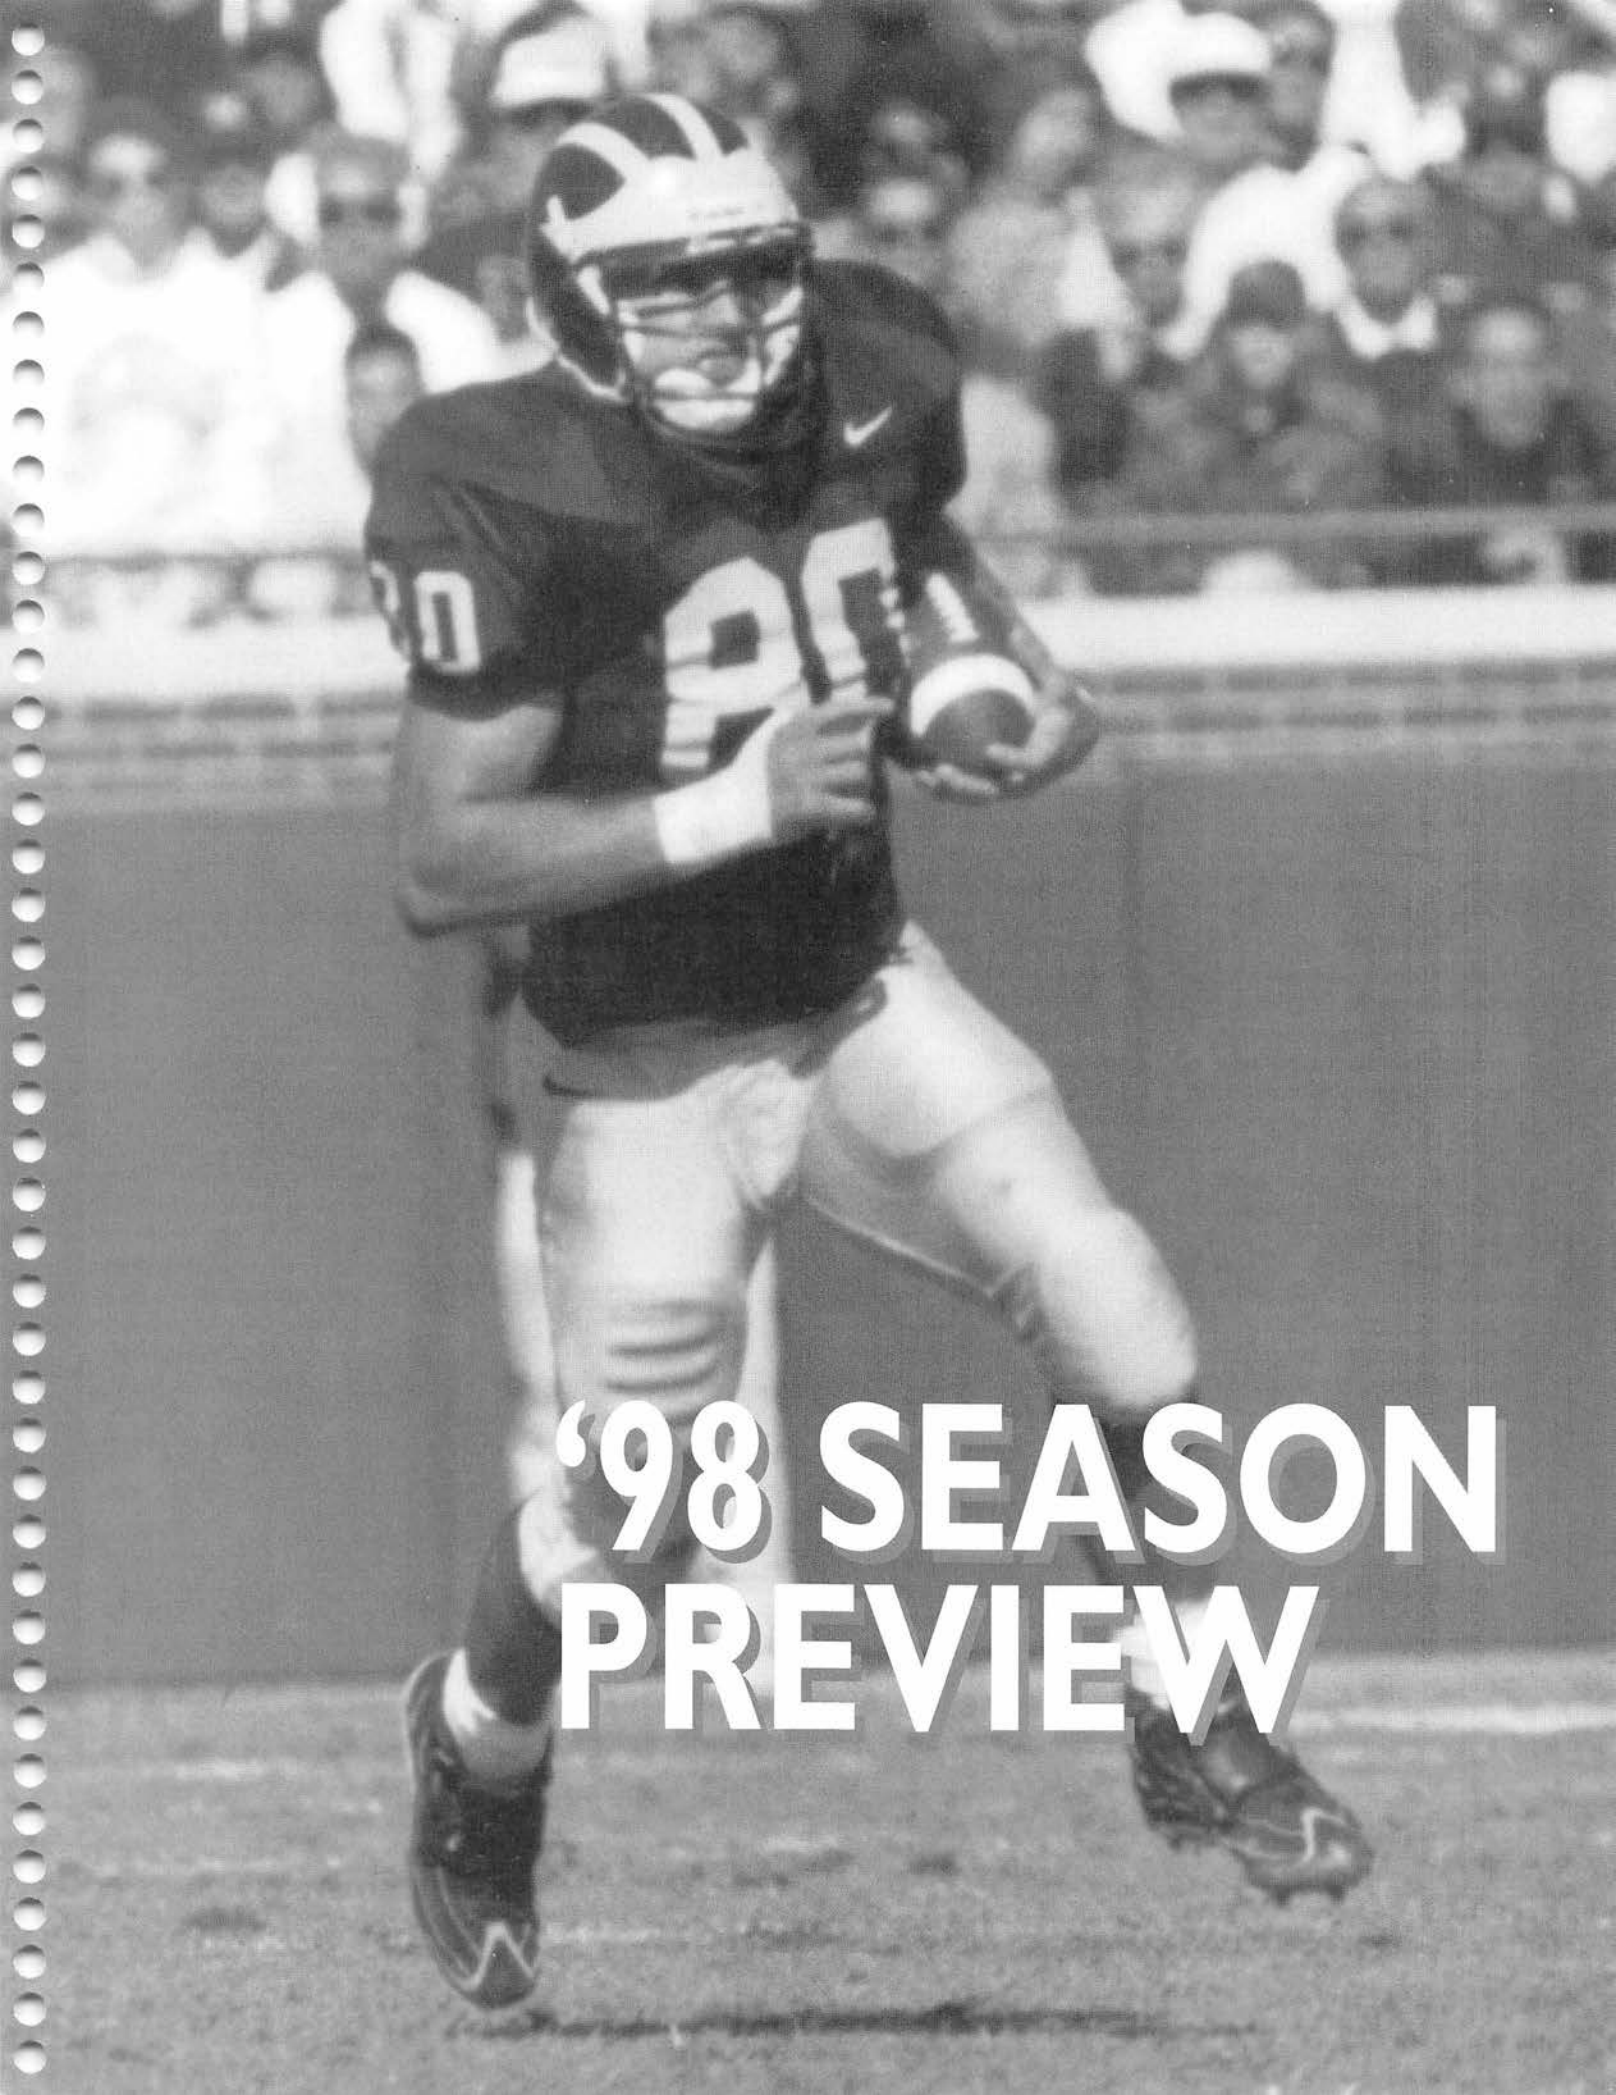
The change in style was Crisler's primary reason, but the former Athletic Director also saw help for his quarterbacks. Crisler figured the unique helmet would help his passers find their receivers downfield. "There was a tendency to use different-colored helmets just for receivers in those days, but I always thought that would be as helpful for the defense as for the offense," offered Crisler. Crisler's ideas were not far from the mark, as Michigan nearly doubled its passing yards, cut its interceptions almost in half and increased its completion percentage by over nine percent between 1937 and 1938.

Former Wolverine standout Tshimanga Biakabatuka was born in Zaire and raised in Montreal before being "discovered" while attending Michigan's Football Camp.

Xtra games - The Wolverines have played an extra game in each of their last 23 seasons. Since the Big Ten allowed more than one team into a bowl in 1975, Michigan has played in a postseason game every year, the second longest streak of any college team.

Yellow and Blue - More exactly, Maize and Blue, the official colors of the University of Michigan. Selected by a committee of students from the Literary Department, Azure Blue and Maize became the emblematic colors of the University on Feb. 12, 1867. The definitions of the exact, precise colors have never been set, and the hues of the official colors have become lighter over time. However, the colors worn by University of Michigan Athletic teams were adopted unofficially as deep blue and bright yellow by the Athletic Association near the beginning of the 20th Century.

Zaire - The birthplace of former Michigan running back and current Carolina Panthers player Tshimanga Biakabutuka. Fluent in five languages, he moved from Zaire to Montreal before becoming the most prolific single-season rusher in Michigan history with 1818 yards in 1995.



'98 SEASON PREVIEW

1998 Michigan Outlook

University of Michigan fourth-year Head Coach Lloyd Carr looks to the challenge of another tough schedule, this time as the defending national champions. Once again, the Wolverines 1998 slate includes seven bowl teams from the previous season.

Josh Williams and Dhani Jones

Defensive Preview

The nation's top-ranked statistical defense returns nine of its 11 starters but the two losses are substantial as All-Americans Glen Steele (defensive end) and junior Heisman Trophy winner Charles Woodson (cornerback) have departed.

The attack style defense instituted by Defensive Coordinator Jim Herrmann, the 1997 National Assistant Coach of the Year, paid immediate dividends as Michigan finished first in scoring defense (8.91 points per game), pass efficiency defense (75.79 rating) and total defense (206.91 average) while ranking seventh in rushing defense (91.0 yards per game).

The Wolverines have plenty of capable leaders led by preseason All-American strong safety Marcus Ray (Columbus, OH), two-time leading tackler Sam Sword (Saginaw, MI) and defensive lineman Josh Williams (Houston, TX) and Rob Renes (Holland, MI).

Defensive Line

Despite losing All-American Steele to the NFL (Cincinnati Bengals), the Wolverines defensive front offers an experienced group of starters led by senior/juniors Rob Renes and Josh Williams. The inside track on Steele's spot at defensive end will be senior Juaquin Feazell (Fort Valley, GA) who has started 11 games during his career.

Renes established himself at the nose tackle position, starting all 12 game a year ago, while Williams made 11 starts at the defensive tackle slot. Feazell showed his versatility, making starts at three different position in 1997.

Linebackers

One of the nation's best units, Michigan's linebacking unit could be the deepest position on the field. Returning starters Sam Sword, Dhani Jones (Potomac, MD), James Hall (New Orleans, LA) and Clint Copenhaver (Brighton, MI) lead this unit. Junior Ian Gold (Belleville, MI) will push Sword and Jones for the starting duties.

Fifth-year senior and two-time leading tackler Sam Sword anchors this unit from the inside linebacking position. Sword has started 23 of the team's last 24 games (did not start against Colorado in 1997 as Wolverines started in a nickel package) and 27 contests during his career. A preseason All-American, Sword has 253 career tackles, including a career-best 109 tackles in 1996.

Jones, a junior, stepped into the starting lineup after the loss to injury of senior co-captain Eric Mayes against Indiana. Jones was named to the All-Big Ten team after finishing second on the Wolverines with 90 tackles (64 solo, 28 assists) as well as nine TFLs and four sacks.

Hall, a junior who has been listed during his career as both a defensive lineman and outside linebacker, is the ideal player for the rush linebacker position. Hall started 11 games last year, including the final eight contests and finished sixth on the team with 51 tackles (30 solo, 21 assists). He collected eight tackles for loss, four sacks, three pass break-ups and critical extra point blocks against Iowa and Washington State on special teams.

Fifth-year senior Copenhaver has played in all 37 games since his redshirt freshman year and made 18 career starts. He started eight contest during the 1997 national championship season, contributing 29 tackles, seven TFLs, two PBUs, one sack and an interception.

Gold converted to linebacker during fall drills before the 1997 season. He started the season-opener against Colorado (Sept. 13) and played in all 12 contests during the year. Gold notched 34 tackles (24 solo, 10 assists), three TFLs and three pass break-ups.

Junior Jeff Holtry (Salt Lake City, UT) and junior/sophomore Grady Brooks (Dallas, TX) will push for time at the rush linebacker position. Redshirt freshmen Anthony Jordan (Jersey City, NJ), Eric Brackins (Pigeon Ford, TN) and Bob Fraumann (Deerfield, IL) provide back-up at the inside linebacker positions while fifth-year senior Chris Singletary (Detroit, MI) and redshirt freshman Eric Rosel (Liberal, KS) provide support at outside linebacker.

Senior/junior Jeff Smokevitch (Birmingham, MI), junior/sophomore Andy Sechler (Union City, MI) and redshirt freshmen P.J. Cwayna (Grand Rapids, MI) and Brodie Killian (Deerborn, MI) will also fight for playing time at the linebacking positions.

The Wolverines incoming freshmen linebacking contingent includes Larry Foote (Detroit, MI), Victor Hobson (Mount Laurel, NJ) and Bennie Joppru (Wayzata, MN). Michigan's two rush linebackers are Dave Armstrong (Doylestown, PA) and Dan Rumishek (Addison, IL).

Defensive Backs

After leading college football in pass efficiency defense, setting an NCAA record with only 8.8 yards allowed per reception and losing the services of Heisman Trophy winner Woodson, one would think the Wolverines secondary was empty. But, this group returns eight regulars and seven of the eight players from last year's season-ending two deep.

The leader of the group is preseason All-American Marcus Ray, a player who has started 30 games at strong safety during his career. Ray stepped up his game in 1997, intercepting five passes while finishing third on the team with 71 tackles (44 solo, 27 assists). He has notched 211 career tackles and lists second behind only Sam Sword (253) in active leading tacklers.

Joining Ray as returning starters are cornerback Andre Weathers (Flint, MI) and junior free safety Tommy Hendricks (Houston, TX). In the battle for the wide cornerback position are true sophomores James Whitley (Norfolk, VA) and William Peterson (Uniontown, PA).

Weathers, who joined Ray and Woodson on the All-Big Ten First-Team, collected 47 tackles (33 solo, 14 assists), three tackles for loss and had two interceptions in 1997. His team-best 43-yard interception for a touchdown against Ohio State provided the margin of victory in Michigan's Big Ten title clinching 20-14 win.

Hendricks started all 12 games at free safety making 60 tackles (37 solo, 23 assists) and a pair of interceptions, including the end zone interception that helped preserve the Wolverines' 21-14 victory over Notre Dame.

Providing back-up for one of the nation's top secondary units are senior/junior free safety Brent Washington (Inkster, MI), junior/sophomore cornerback LeAundre Brown (Fort Worth, TX) and sophomore free safety DeWayne Patmon (San Diego, CA). Senior/juniors Ken Jackson (Houston, TX) and converted tailback Tate Schanski (Perry, MI) are in a back-up battle at wide-side cornerback. Providing depth at the defensive back positions are senior/juniors David Downs (Detroit, MI), Matt Johnson (New Buffalo, MI), junior/sophomores Ryan Parini (Grand Rapids, MI) and Dan Williams (Temperance, MI) and redshirt freshman Michael Manning (Worcester, MA). Downs sat out the 1997 season after his transfer from Holy Cross.

Michigan's highly-touted freshman cornerbacks fighting for playing time are Cato June (Washington, D.C.) and Todd Howard (Bolingbrook, IL).

Offensive Preview

The 1998 Wolverine offense features plenty of talent but lacks starting experience up the middle. Michigan will feature a new starter at center, quarterback, fullback and tailback as graduation claimed All-Big Ten performers Zach Adami, Brian Griese, Chris Floyd and Chris Howard. The Wolverines return All-American tight end Jerame Tuman (Liberal, KS), preseason All-American tackle Jon Jansen (Clawson, MI), wide receiver Tai Streets (Matteson, IL) and one of the nation's best offensive lines. Overall, the offensive unit returns six regular starters from the 1997 season.

Quarterback

Senior/junior Tom Brady (San Mateo, CA) has the inside track as the starter heading into fall drills as the Wolverines must replace Rose Bowl MVP Brian Griese. Brady served as the primary back-up for Griese in 1997 and will be joined in the competition by fifth-year senior Scott Dreisbach (Mishawaka, IN) and junior/sophomore Jason Kapsner (Eden Prairie, MN). High School All-American Drew Henson (Brighton, MI) will enter the mix in the fall. Senior/junior Mark Bergin (Rochester Hills, MI) adds depth to this position.

Brady saw action in four 1997 contests, completing 12 of 15 passes for 103 yards. Brady made his career debut against UCLA in 1996 and had his most extensive playing time as he connected on six-of-eight passes at Indiana this past season.

Dreisbach is the team's most experienced returning signal caller having started 15 games during his career. A two-year starter (1995 and 1996), Dreisbach played has passed for 2,894 yards (206-for-378) along 15 touchdowns.

Andre Weathers

Kapsner saw his first career action and completed first pass against Baylor. He played in a total of four contests, completing two of three attempts for 21 yards.

Running Backs

The Wolverines have an excellent 1-2 punch returning with senior Clarence Williams (Detroit, MI) and sophomore Anthony Thomas (Winnfield, LA) at the tailback position.

Williams is a multi-faceted weapon, combining for 2,334 all-purpose yards in his career (includes 1,340 rushing, 580 receiving yards and 414 kickoff return yards). He has started 13 games during his career and played in 34 of the 37 games during the Lloyd Carr era.

Thomas, the Big Ten Freshman of the Year and a First-Team Freshman All-American selected by The Sporting News, collected 549 yards rushing to become the fourth-best Wolverine freshman rusher in school history. Thomas was tabbed The Sporting News Break-Out Player of the Year for the 1998 season.

Sophomore Patrick McCall (Carson, CA), who saw action in 10 games, will battle for playing time along with junior Manus Edwards (Henderson, NV).

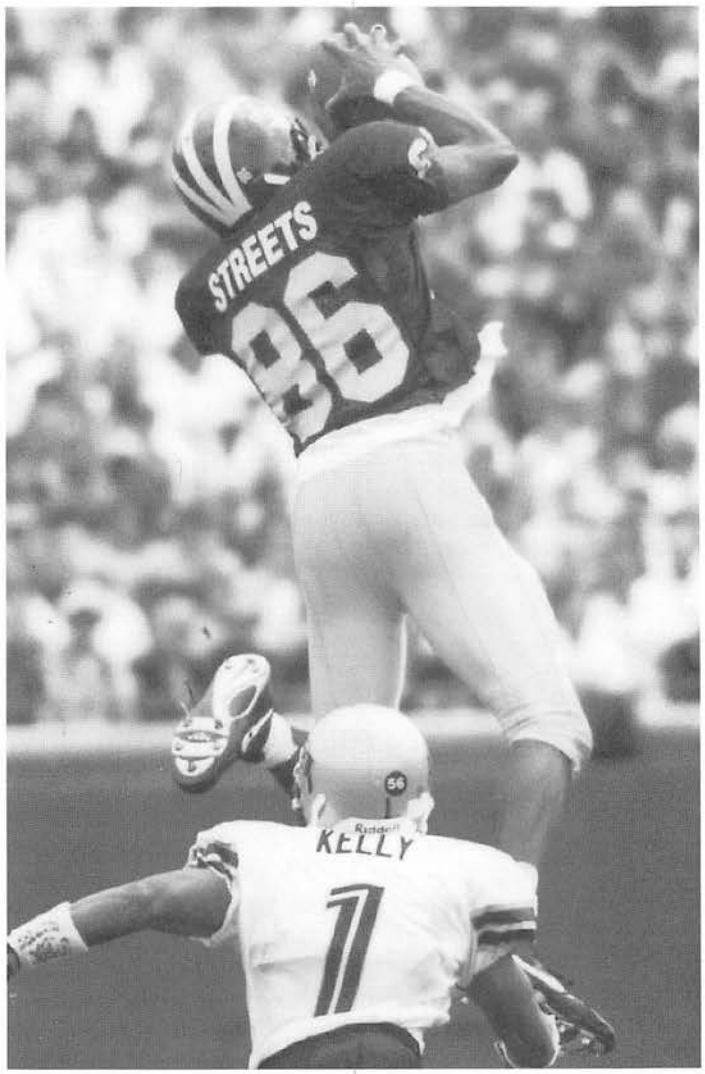
Top-notch sophomore blocker Ray Jackson (Indianapolis, IN) has the inside edge at the fullback position in the battle with classmate Demetrius Smith (Calumet Park, IL). Junior/sophomore Chris Roth (Windsor, Ontario) provides depth at the fullback position.

The Wolverines have a highly-regarded recruiting class that boasts four running backs. Evan Coleman (Houston, TX) is the lone fullback while he is joined by a trio of talented of tailbacks that includes Justin Fargas (Encino, CA), Walter Cross (Fort Washington, MD) and Julius Curry (Detroit, MI).

Wide Receiver

Senior split end Tai Streets, who hauled in four passes for 127 yards and two touchdowns in Michigan's Rose Bowl victory against Washington State, returns to lead the receiving corps. In the Rose Bowl, Streets gathered in scoring passes of 53 and 58 yards, the longest two scoring and passing plays of the year. Streets has started 24 career games and has accounted for 1,249 yards receiving (77 receptions, 16.2 average) and eight touchdowns.



Tai Streets

Anthony Thomas

Last year's backups at both receiving spots, senior/junior Kevin Bryant (Farmington Hills, MI) and junior Marcus Knight (Sylacauga, AL) will look to step up and contend for the starting flanker position. Converted safety senior/junior DiAllo Johnson (Detroit, MI) and fifth-year senior Todd Brooks (Freeport, IL) will battle for the backup position at split end behind Streets. Adding depth at the wide receiver positions will be fifth-year senior Darren Petterson (Flint, MI) and redshirt freshmen Aaron Richards (Reading, MI) and Rudy Smith (Knoxville, TN).

The Wolverines incoming freshmen of David Terrell (Richmond, VA) and Marquise Walker (Syracuse, NY) could provide excitement as they manned the two First-Team slots on The USA Today High School American squad.

Tight End

Arguably the team's deepest offensive position, tight end provides the Wolverines' offense with a variety of options. This group is led by senior All-American Jerame Tuman, fellow classmate Mark Campbell (Clawson, MI) and senior/junior Aaron Shea (Ottawa, IL).

Tuman finished second on the team in receiving yards (437), receptions (29) and touchdowns with five. He has collected 71 receptions for 1,032 yards in his career, the 15th player in school history to record 1,000 receiving yards.

Both Campbell and Shea have notched starts during their careers and have taken advantage of the Wolverines utilization of two and three tight end sets. Michigan also offers a trio of exceptional back-ups that includes junior/sophomore Chad Carpenter (Wilmington, IN) as well as redshirt freshmen Shawn Thompson (Saginaw, MI) and Bill Seymour (Granger, IN).

The team's lone incoming freshman is Deitan Dubuc (Sainte-Dorothee, Quebec).

Offensive Line

The offensive line, considered one of last year's major question marks turns out to be one of this season's biggest strengths. The unit is led by offensive co-captain and preseason All-American Jon Jansen (Clawson, MI). Jansen, who has made 37 starts during his career, was one of only two starters returning in 1997. But, the offensive line gelled leading the conference in fewest sacks allowed (18) that helped lead to a championship season.

Veteran offensive linemen providing back-up include center/guard Steve Frazier (Kingwood, TX), senior tackle Noah Parker (Milton, FL) and guards Jeff Potts (Three Rivers, MI) and Eric Warner (Brighton, MI).

Michigan's highly-touted 1997 recruiting class provides the Wolverines with five capable reserves, including Adam Adkins (Troy, MI), Jason Brooks (Cleveland, OH), Ben Mast (Massillon, OH), Todd Mossa (Darrien, CT) and converted defensive tackle Maurice Williams (Detroit, MI). Williams made the position to offense during spring drills and made an impression, winning the Maulbetsch Award given to the freshman football player who shows promise for future success.

The lone Wolverines incoming player is 6-8 Joe Denay (Bay City, MI).

Kicking Game

Looking to build on last season, the kicking game should be an asset heading into 1998. With all three major contributors returning as seniors — Kraig Baker (Terre Haute, IN), Jay Feely (Odessa, FL) and Jason Vinson (Troy, MI) — the kicking duties will be manned by an experienced group. The addition of High School All-American Hayden Epstein (Cardiff, CA) bolsters this deep group.

Heading into the fall in a battle for the field goal duties, the Feely and Baker competition will provide considerable depth at this position. Baker led the squad with 77 points, hitting 14-of-19 on FGs and 35-of-37 on PATs and hit a career-long 42-yarder at Penn State last year. Feely, who has handled the kickoff duties the past three seasons, is the long-range bomber hitting three-of-four field goals. He connected on a season-best 51-yarder against Baylor. Adding depth to the position will be junior/sophomore Jeff Del Verne (Sylvania, OH), senior/junior left-footer Brandon Kornblue (Boca Raton, FL), junior/sophomore Jared Chandler (Westlake, OH) and newcomer Epstein.

Senior punter Vinson, a 1997 All-Big Ten selection, returns to lead the punting unit. Vinson punted 52 times for a 38.9 yard average last year, including knocking 19 punts inside the opposition's 20-yard line. Also, contending for the punting duties are Baker (punted as a true freshman), junior/sophomore Cory Sargent (South Lyon, MI) and Epstein. Incoming freshman quarterback Drew Henson was the punter on USA Today's High School All-American Team.

The team's kickoff responsibilities will once again fall on specialist Feely. He has been credited with 41 touchbacks during the last two seasons, including knocking 13 kickoffs through the end zone and having 24 touchbacks in 1997.

Getting the ball into position for the punters and kickers will be an integral part of the team's success. Senior Jon Jansen will once again handle snapping duties on field goals while Jeff Holtry remains the long snapper on punts. Both have the ability to snap on either facet of the kicking game as well as redshirt freshman Jeremy Miller (Swanton, OH). With the loss of holder Brian Griese, quarterbacks Tom Brady and Jason Kapsner as well as cornerback James Whitley will contend for the team's placement holding duties.

Carr Looks for 30th Career Win in Opener
Fourth-year University of Michigan Head Coach Lloyd Carr will be in search of his 30th career coaching victory when the Wolverines open the season against Notre Dame. Carr has compiled a 29-8 record during his first three seasons at the helm of the Michigan football program. His 29 victories are tied with former Texas Christian coach Dutch Meyer (1934-36) for the sixth best start by wins in NCAA history. Carr will also look to attain his 20th Big Ten Conference coaching win (18-6).

"Big House" Gets Bigger
The home of the Wolverines, Michigan Stadium, is currently being enlarged for the upcoming 1998 season. The "Big House" will receive and additional 5,000 seats, expanding the capacity to over 107,000.

Video Boards Added to Michigan Stadium
The University of Michigan Board of Regents approved a proposal to add two new video screens to Michigan Stadium. The Sony video boards that are scheduled make their debut this season will provide Michigan fans with video replay highlights and statistics.

All-American Candidates
Tight End Jerame Tuman (Liberal, KS) and strong safety Marcus Ray (Columbus, OH) return and look to again gain All-American honors in 1998, while offensive tackle Jon Jansen (Clawson, MI), wide receiver Tai Streets (Matteson, IL), defensive tackle Josh Williams (Houston, TX), linebacker Sam Sword (Saginaw, MI) and linebacker Dhani Jones (Potomac, MD) hope to add their names to that select group this season.

All-Conference Candidates
With six first-team All-Big Ten performers returning from last season's squad (media and coaches panel), the 1998 All-Big Ten teams could once again be littered by Wolverines. In addtion to the aforementioned All-America candidates, several Michigan gridders will be shooting for All-Big Ten status. A pair of sophomore offensive lineman, Jeff Backus (Norcross, GA) and Steve Hutchinson (Coral Springs, FL), return after garnering second team All-Big Ten distinction as freshmen. Other All-Big Ten candidates include running backs Anthony Thomas (Winnfield, LA) and Clarence Williams (Detroit, MI) along with defensive lineman Rob Renes (Holland, MI). James Hall (New Orleans, LA) and Ian Gold (Belleville, MI) are all-conference candidates from the linebacker position. Representing the defensive backfield will be cornerback Andre Weathers (Flint, MI), a 1997 first team selection, along with Tommy Hendricks (Houston, TX).

17 Starters Return from 1997 Squad
The Wolverines return 17 starters from last season's team that won the national title (including the kickers). Michigans top-ranked defense returns nine of its 11 starters from the previous season while the offense has six returnees. The most notable loses took place offensively where U-M lost five starters: center Zach Adami (Maumelle, AR), quarterback Brian Griese (Miami, FL), fullback Chris Floyd (Detroit, MI), tailback Chris Howard (River Ridge, LA) and flanker Russell Shaw (Los Angeles, CA). Defensively, the team has hit with three major losses: cornerback Charles Woodson (Fremont, OH), defensive end Glen Steele (Ligonier, IN) and outside linebacker and part-time starter Rob Swett (Chalfont, PA). Michigan also lost emotional leader and co-captain Eric Mayes (Kalmazoo, MI).

Position Switches
Spring practice brought upon position changes for several Wolverines to provide needed depth. Sophomore Maurice Williams (Detroit, MI) remains in the trenches, but on the other side of the ball as he moved from defensive tackle to offensive tackle. Following Williams in moving from defense to offense is redshirt junior DiAllo Johnson (Detroit, MI), who switches from the defensive backfield over to the receiving corps. Redshirt freshman Eric Rosel (Liberal, KS) moved from defensive back up to linebacker.

1997 Season Recap
"Third time's a charm" never rang more true than in Lloyd Carr's third season as Michigan's head coach. Entering the season with gaping holes to fill on both the offensive and defensive lines, skeptics were critical of Michigan's chances to escape thier string of uncharacteristic four-loss seasons. The critics were quieted, week by week, as Michigan completed perhaps the best season in school history, going undefeated for the first time in 50 years. Beginning with a 27-3 victory over seventh-ranked Colorado, and ending with an electrifying 21-16 victory over Ryan Leaf and Washington State in the Rose Bowl. The championship run was Full of highlights, including a nailbiting defeat of fourth-ranked OSU in front of a record crowd of 106,982 at Michigan Stadium in the last week of the regular season. The climb to the top included big road victories over #14 Michigan State, #23 Wisconsin and #2 Penn State, as well as close calls at home agianst long-time rival Notre Dame 21-14 and #15 Iowa, 28-24. Michigan's national championship was sweetened by important individual awards, Charles Woodson's Heisman and Thorpe Trophy and Lloyd Carr's coach of the year awards.

Tuman Chases Tight End Record
Senior tight end Jerame Tuman (Liberal, KS) looks to become the most prolific pass catcher in Michigan history at his position. He enters his final season with 71 receptions for 1,032 career yards. Tuman is currently tied for 10th in career touchdown receptions with 11 (tied with Ralph Clayton, 1976-79).

As Carr Goes So Goes Jansen
Senior left tackle Jon Jansen (Clawson, MI) is the only Wolverine to start all 37 games of Lloyd Carr's head coaching career at Michigan. The 1997 co-captain was a first team All-Big Ten selection by the coaches and returns as a leading candidate for the Outland Trophy, Lombardi Award and All-America honors.

Nation's Top Defense Returns Nine Starters
The number one ranked defense of 1997 and one of the best in Michigan history should once again be a strength for the Wolverines. The Maize and Blue lose only two starters from last year's dominating squad with their two leading tacklers from a year ago leading the way. Leading tacklers senior Sam Sword (Saginaw, MI) and junior Dhani Jones (Potomac, MD) will anchor a strong defensive unit from the linebacker position.

Streets Chases Receiving Records
Senior wide receiver Tai Streets (Matteson, IL) enters the 1998 season 12th on the all-time Wolverine receptions list ... Streets needs 17 receptions to move into the top 10 all-time, surpassing Vince Bean with 93 catches.

Schedule
Michigan will take on a challenging schedule in 1998 that includes seven bowl teams from the previous season (at Notre Dame, Syracuse, Michigan State, at Iowa, Penn State, Wisconsin, at Ohio State).

Michigan Sets NCAA Attendance Record
The Wolverines surpassed their previous record as 745,139 fans attended the seven home games last year. Michigan averaged 106,448 fans for each game, including 4 games that rank in the Top 10 all-time at Michigan Stadium. With the expansion currently being done, the Wolverines are due to rewrite the record books again soon.

142 Consecutive Games with Crowds in Excess of 100,000
After leading the NCAA in attendance for 23 years, Michigan finished second to Tennessee (106,538 average) for the 1997 season. Michigan's total of 745,139 was the most in NCAA Division IA history.

Team and Game Notes for Michigan's 1998 Opponents

Notre Dame - The 1998 game will the the 28th matchup between the two schools, the most Michigan has played against any non-Big Ten team ... this is the first time Michigan has opened the season on the road since 1992 when the Wolverines and Irish tied 17-17 in South Bend ... all of the Michigan-Notre Dame matchups in modern history have been sellouts ... U-M and Notre Dame are 1-2 in the NCAA in all-time victories and 2-1 in the NCAA in all-time winning percentage.

Syracuse - This is the first meeting between the two schools since 1918 (80 years) ... Michigan leads the all-time series 5-4-1 ... U-M is 4-0 at home against Syracuse ... Syracuse is making its first appearance in Michigan Stadium ... The Wolverines are 13-5-1 against schools currently in the Big East ... Michigan is 10-1 in Ann Arbor against schools currently in the Big East.

Eastern Michigan - This is the first time the Washtenaw County foes have met since 1931 ... Eastern Michigan has never scored in its five games against Michigan ... The Wolverines are 9-0 against schools currently in the Mid-American Conference.

Michigan State - The schools are meeting for the 54th consecutive year and 91st overall time since the series began in 1898 ... every Michigan-Michigan State game since 1948 has been a sellout ... this is the 16th time the Wolverines have opened the Big Ten season with the Spartans, more than any other school, but first time since 1969 opener versus Purdue ... Michigan has won 16 consecutive, and 29 of the last 30, conference openers.

Iowa - Michigan is making its first trip to Iowa City since 1994 ... The Wolverines are 13-3-1 at Iowa ... The Wolverines are 3-0-1 in their last four trips to Iowa and are 5-0 in their last five meetings with the Hawkeyes.

Northwestern - This game on ESPN is the seventh Big Ten night game for the Wolverines ... The Wolverines are 6-0 under lights in Big Ten play; 5-0 inside at the Minneapolis Metrodome (1983-85-87-91-96) and 1-0 outside at Wisconsin (1986) ... The Wildcats have only won successive series games at home once and not since 1958 and 1965 ... Northwestern has not won three-of-four series meetings since 1934-36-37.

Indiana - Michigan's 102nd homecoming game ... this is the 10th time Indiana has visited Michigan for homecoming weekend, with U-M holding an 8-1 record ... this is the third consecutive year the schools have met for a homecoming game (1996 and 1998 in Ann Arbor, 1997 at Indiana) ... the Wolverines have won eight straight and 23 of the last 24 series meetings ... Michigan has won the last 11 series meetings in Ann Arbor, dating back to 1967.

Minnesota - Michigan has won 11 straight and 28 of the last 30 series meetings in the Battle for the Little Brown Jug ... Michigan's 62 series wins are the most victories the Wolverines have over any school ... this is the 70th consecutive, and 89th overall, meeting between the Wolverines and Gophers ... this is the first of Michigan's two games on artificial turf (at Hawaii) ... Michigan is 7-0 in the Metrodome.

Penn State - Penn State is the only Big Ten school that has a winning record versus Michigan (3-2 record) ... the road team has won four of the five series meetings ... Michigan is 0-2 against Penn State in Michigan Stadium.

Wisconsin - The Badgers are making their first trip to Michigan since 1994 ... Michigan has not lost back-to-back home games to Wisconsin since 1959 and 1962 ... U-M has won 24 of the last 27 series meetings, while Wisconsin has won two of the last three.

Ohio State - The game will mark the 81st consecutive year the Wolverines and Buckeyes have met ... this is the 95th overall series meeting dating back to 1897 ... Michigan holds a 7-1-1 advantage in the last nine meetings ... the Wolverines have gone 4-1-1 in their last six trips to Columbus ... the Wolverines have handed the Buckeyes three of their four Big Ten losses the last three seasons ... the game has had an effect on the Big Ten champion in eight of the last 10 years and 23 of the last 30 seasons.

Hawaii - This is the second series meeting between the Wolverines and Rainbows (1986), with U-M holding a 1-0 advantage ... this is just the second time in 56 years, and third in 64 seasons, that Michigan has not ended the regular season with Ohio State (Iowa in 1942, Hawaii in 1986).

Overall - Michigan is pursuing its 24th straight bowl season, 31st consecutive non-losing season and 31st straight winning conference season ... The Wolverines will play their 1,075th game Nov. 7 against Penn State ... Michigan enters the 1998 season with 523 home victories ... The Wolverines hold the all-time NCAA I-A record for wins with 776.

• Michigan's football program, founded in 1879, is the second oldest Division I-A team in the nation.

• U-M has finished in the top 25 of the final AP poll 45 times, the most of any school in the nation. Rounding out the top five are Notre Dame (43), Alabama (41), Oklahoma (40) and Ohio State (40). The Wolverines have appeared in the top 10 of the final AP poll 33 times, tied with Notre Dame for the most of any school in the nation.

• The Wolverines have appeared in 566 AP polls, the second highest total in the nation. Michigan is the only school in history to be ranked in every AP football poll in a given decade, having been ranked in all 148 polls in the 1970's. Entering the 1997 season, U-M has been ranked in the last 56 polls and has received votes in 196 polls dating back to 1985.

• Michigan has been bowl bound every season since 1975, a streak of 23 years -- the second longest active string and third longest of all-time. Nebraska holds the all-time record with a span of 29 straight bowl seasons entering 1997. Alabama holds the second place spot with 25 straight bowl appearances.

• Three U-M coaches are ranked among the NCAA's top 20 in all-time winning percentage: Fielding Yost (.828 with Ohio Wesleyan, Nebraska, Kansas, Stanford and Michigan), Bo Schembechler (.775 with Miami of Ohio and Michigan) and Fritz Crisler (.768 with Minnesota, Princeton, and Michigan). Nebraska is the only other school besides Michigan to have three entries in this prestigious list.

• Michigan's football and baseball programs are the only two Big Ten teams to win a conference title in every decade since the conference was founded in 1895. The Wolverines' football team has the most crowns of any conference sport, winning 38 Big Ten banners in 91 seasons.

• The Wolverines enter the 1998 season among the nation's top five teams in all-time All Americans and all-time NFL first round draft picks.

Lloyd Carr, Head Coach

Walter Camp Foundation Coach of the Year
American Football Coaches Association GTE National Coach of the Year
Woody Hayes College Football Coach of the Year
Football News Coach of the Year
Paul "Bear" Bryant Coach of the Year
Maxwell Football Club Coach of the Year
Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year Finalist

Michigan captured a Big Ten title and Rose Bowl victory behind the leadership of Head Coach Lloyd Carr in his third season at the helm. Carr and the Wolverines proved that excellence is a product of dedication, teamwork, and execution; the direct result of which was Michigan's first National Title in 49 years (1948 season).

Carr, who reached 25 wins faster than any current Big Ten coach, enters his fourth campaign as head football coach at the University of Michigan in 1998. In addition, Carr became just the second Big Ten coach to post an undefeated regular season record in just his third year of head coaching (Joe Paterno went 10-0 in 1968).

Carr has written himself into the NCAA record books, becoming just the seventh coach in NCAA history to have reached 29 wins in just three seasons of coaching.

Prior to being elevated to head coach, Carr said he thought he held the greatest assistant coaching job in the country, serving 15 years under Bo Schembechler (1980-89) and Gary Moeller (1990-94). Carr joined Schembechler's staff in 1980 as defensive secondary coach, became defensive coordinator for eight seasons, and then moved into the position of assistant head coach for the final five years before becoming head coach.

Carr moved into one of the nation's best head coaching positions on May 16, 1995 when then Michigan Director of Athletics Joe Roberson named him as the interim head coach of the Wolverines following the resignation of Moeller. On November 13, 1995 Carr had the "interim" title removed. He is the 17th football coach in school history, but only the 10th since Fielding Yost made his debut in 1901.

Carr began his U-M head coaching tenure in dramatic fashion as his first game against Virginia provided the biggest comeback in Michigan history. The Wolverines trailed 17-0 with less than 12 minutes remaining, but came back to win with a touchdown pass on the final play of the game for an 18-17 victory.

Lloyd Carr (Northern Michigan, 1968)
Fourth Year as Michigan Head Coach
29-8 Overall Record at Michigan

The 1995 regular season culminated in a 31-23 home win over second-ranked and undefeated Ohio State in a game considered one of the biggest triumphs in school history.

The Wolverines finished the 1996 season with an appearance in their 22nd consecutive bowl game and ranked number 20 in the national rankings. Highlights from Carr's second season included a road win against Colorado and home field victories against UCLA and arch-rival Michigan State. Michigan closed out the regular season with yet another win over an undefeated and second ranked Ohio State team, this time by a score of 13-9 at Ohio Stadium.

In 1997, Carr put all the pieces together, posting the most impressive regular season campaign at U-M in more than 25 years. At the start of the season, coach Carr not only faced a schedule rated as one of the toughest in NCAA Division I-A, but also had the task of deciding on a starting quarterback while having to replace three All-Americans, four starters on defense and three starters on the offensive line.

Under Carr's steady hand, Michigan remained consistent each week, en route to its first Big Ten title and Rose Bowl appearance in five seasons. With a 24-3 defeat of then No. 5 Colorado in the first game of the season, Michigan flexed its defensive muscles, giving fans a sneak peek of what to expect all season long. Michigan remained perfect through its first three games, boosting Carr's September record to 10-0. Even with tough road contests against Michigan State, Penn State and Wisconsin, the Wolverines remained focused.

The culmination of Michigan's 1997 regular season proved to be the most dramatic contest of them all, with Michigan defeating No. 4 Ohio State 20-14 in front of the largest crowd in Michigan Stadium history. With the victory, coach Carr became just the third U-M coach to defeat Ohio State in each of his first three games, following coaching legends Fielding H. Yost and Fritz Crisler.

Carr and his Michigan Wolverines reached the summit of their journey when they defeated No. 7 Washington State, 21-16, in the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1. Two days later Michigan was named the Associated Press National Champions. A week later, the Wolverines were awarded the MacArthur Bowl by the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame and the Grantland Rice Trophy by the Football Writers Association of America, given annually to the nation's most outstanding football team.

Carr's leadership of the 1997 Wolverines earned him several national coaching honors, including the Walter Camp Football Foundation, American Football Coaches Association, Football News, Maxwell Football Club, Woody Hayes, and Paul "Bear" Bryant coach of the year awards. With the awards, Carr became just the fourth Michigan coach to win coach of the year honors, behind Crisler (1947), Bennie Oosterbaan (1948) and Bo Schembechler (1969).

A three-sport athlete at Riverview High School, Carr was an all-state quarterback (1969) in football. He enrolled at Missouri for three years and was the backup quarterback on the Tigers' 1966 Sugar Bowl championship team.

Carr transferred to Northern Michigan University and quarterbacked the Wildcats to an undefeated season. He graduated from NMU in 1968 with his B.S. in education. Carr went on to earn his masters degree in education administration at NMU in 1970 under a Mott Fellowship.

Carr began his coaching career as a high school assistant at Nativity High in Detroit (1968-69) and at Belleville (Mich.) High School from 1970 to 1973. He was head coach at John Glenn High School (Westland, Mich.) from 1973-75, earning Regional Class A Coach of the Year honors in 1975 following an 8-1 season.

Carr's collegiate coaching career started with two seasons at Eastern Michigan (1976-77), followed by two seasons at Illinois (1978-79) before arriving at U-M.

In 1997, Carr was inducted into both the Catholic League and Northern Michigan University Halls of Fame.

Carr is married to the former Laurie McCartney. They have six children: Melissa, Brett, Jason, Ryan, Emily, and Jarrett. Jason was a quarterback at Michigan.

Lloyd Carr — Season Capsules

Record: 9-4, 5-3 Big Ten (T-Third)
Final AP ranking: 17

Lloyd Carr's first season as Michigan head coach proved to be a season to remember, beginning with Michigan's biggest comeback in school history — an 18-17 last-second victory over Virginia — and ending with one of the school's biggest upsets, as Michigan defeated second ranked Ohio State 31-23 behind Tim Biakabutuka's 313 rushing yards. Biakabutuka proved to be the shining star of the season, setting single season records for rushing attempts (303) and rushing yards (1818), while defensive tackle Jason Horn and offensive tackle Jon Runyan both earned All-America honors. Michigan finished tied for third place in the Big Ten, earning a trip to the Alamo Bowl against Texas A&M. The Wolverines lost a hard-fought defensive battle to the Aggies, 22-20.

Record: 8-4, 5-3 Big Ten (T-Fifth)
Final AP ranking: 20

Coach Carr's sophomore season proved similar to his first campaign in Maize and Blue as Michigan once again finished 5-3 in the Big Ten and earned a trip to a postseason bowl game. After running its record to 7-1, Michigan lost to Purdue, 9-3, in what would be remembered as one of Purdue's greatest upsets. Following another difficult loss to Penn State, Michigan saved its best performance of the regular season for last, defeating Ohio State, 13-9, in front of a stunned Ohio Stadium crowd. Michigan, for the second straight year, had beaten an undefeated, second-ranked Ohio State team. With the victory, Michigan earned a trip to the Outback Bowl in Tampa, where the Wolverines lost another hard-fought defensive battle, this time to Alabama, 17-14. After the season, four Wolverines were awarded All-America honors: William Carr (Defensive Tackle), Jarrett Irons (Inside Linebacker), Rod Payne (Center) and Charles Woodson (Defensive Back).

1997
Record: 12-0, 8-0 Big Ten (First)
Final AP ranking: 1

"Third time's a charm" never rang more true than in Lloyd Carr's third season as Michigan's head coach. Entering the year with gaping holes to fill on both the offensive and defensive lines, skeptics were critical of Michigan's chances to escape its string of four-loss seasons. The critics were quieted, week by week, as Michigan put together its most impressive regular season since going 11-0 in 1971. Beginning with a 28-3 victory over seventh-ranked Colorado, and ending with a nailbiting defeat of fourth-ranked OSU, 20-14, Michigan followed the lead of its top-ranked defense all the way to the Rose Bowl. The perfect regular season included big road victories over No. 14 Michigan State, No. 23 Wisconsin, and No. 2 Penn State, as well as close calls at home against long-time rival Notre Dame (21-14) and No. 15 Iowa (28-24). The final chapter of Michigan's storied season ended with a 21-16 victory over No. 7 Washington State in the Rose Bowl and subsequent selection as the National Champions by the Associated Press.

Defensive Secondary

Vance Bedford

Vance Bedford is starting his fourth year as a member of the football coaching staff at the University of Michigan.

As head of the defensive secondary, Bedford was instrumental in developing the best pass defense in the nation last season. U-M's pass efficiency rating in 1997 was 75.79, one of the best national ratings in recent years. In addition, U-M's pass defense set a NCAA record for fewest yards allowed per completion, allowing just 8.8 yards per completed pass.

Another reason the Wolverines defensive backfield was so effective was because of great players and the depth. For the first time in the history of college football, a primarily defensive player was awarded the Heisman Memorial Trophy, given to the best player in college football. Charles Woodson was the recipient, and Woodson was a part of Bedford's defensive backfield. Woodson also captured the Jim Thorpe Award given annually to the nations top defensive back

Michigan has had one of the top rated defenses against the pass in recent years. In 1996, they held the 20th rated pass defense. In 1997, they were ranked number one against the pass. The returning corps of defensive backs should again be solid and consistent.

A native of Beaumont, TX, Bedford earned four letters (1977-79, 81) at the University of Texas where he was a starter at cornerback. He set the single season record for pass break-ups (22) in 1981. He recorded 47 pass break-ups during his college career which ranks him second all time in the University of Texas history. Bedford also served as a captain and was a two-time second-team All-Southwest Conference selection. He played in the Cotton Bowl twice, including the 1977 national championship game against Notre Dame and Joe Montana. Additionally, he played in the Sun Bowl twice, and earned Most Valuable Defensive Player honors in the 1982 Senior Bowl all-star game.

Bedford was one of 11 Texas Longhorns selected in the 1982 NFL draft, and was a teammate of the 1977 Heisman Trophy winner, Earl Campbell. Bedford played a year in the National Football League with the St. Louis Cardinals (1982) and also played professional football with the Oklahoma Outlaws (USFL) in 1984.

Bedford started his coaching career at the high school level at Forest Brook H.S. in Houston, TX. He started coaching at the collegiate level at Navarro J.C. in 1986. He coached under Earl Bruce at Colorado State (1987-92), helping the Rams to the 1991 Freedom Bowl. Following his experience with the Ram, he then moved on to become the secondary coach at Oklahoma State (1993-94). In 1995, he accepted his position at Michigan.

Being able to record interceptions makes a defensive backfield a dangerous weapon. Defensive backs and secondaries coached by Bedford have a history of intercepting a lot of passes. While coaching Colorado State, Bedford's 1990 secondary set a school record and led the nation with 25 interceptions in the pass happy Western Athletic Conference. That feat was no fluke however, as his 1997 group of Wolverines defensive backs picked off 22 passes, third in the nation and most in the Big Ten.

Bedford graduated from Hobert High School in Beaumont, Texas. He and his wife, the former Margaret Bulloch, currently reside in Ann Arbor.

Wide Receivers

Erik Campbell

Erik Campbell is starting his fourth year as a member of the University of Michigan football staff. Though Campbell has a diverse football background, he coaches the wide receivers for Michigan.

A native of Gary, IN, Campbell earned four letters as a Wolverine (1984-87). Campbell was primarily a defensive player in his collegiate days. While at Michigan, he saw action for three years at the defensive back. Campbell was one of three freshmen to letter in 1984. A versatile performer, he lettered three years as a defensive back and as a flanker his sophomore season.

Campbell made 31 career starts and started in all 25 games his last two years (15 at wide cornerback, seven at free safety, and three at the strong corner). He also returned punts, made 113 career tackles, and had five interceptions.

His four years at Michigan, Campbell was known as a fearless competitor. He was recruited as a wide receiver but knew he might switch positions. The team was lean in the secondary due to injuries. He started four games as a freshman, and found his niche. His versatility earned him plenty of playing time as a freshman.

From there, Campbell's primary responsibilities were in the defensive backfield. He did see action in other areas however. Most of it came on special teams, though he did see some action at wide receiver. In 1985, he returned 13 punts for an average of 9.2 yards per return. In 1986, he returned four kicks for an 18.5-yard average.

The Wolverines compiled a record of 35-13-1 and won the Big Ten title in 1986 while Campbell was a member of the squad. He earned his Bachelor of General Studies degree from Michigan in 1988, and served as a student coach during the 1988-89 school year.

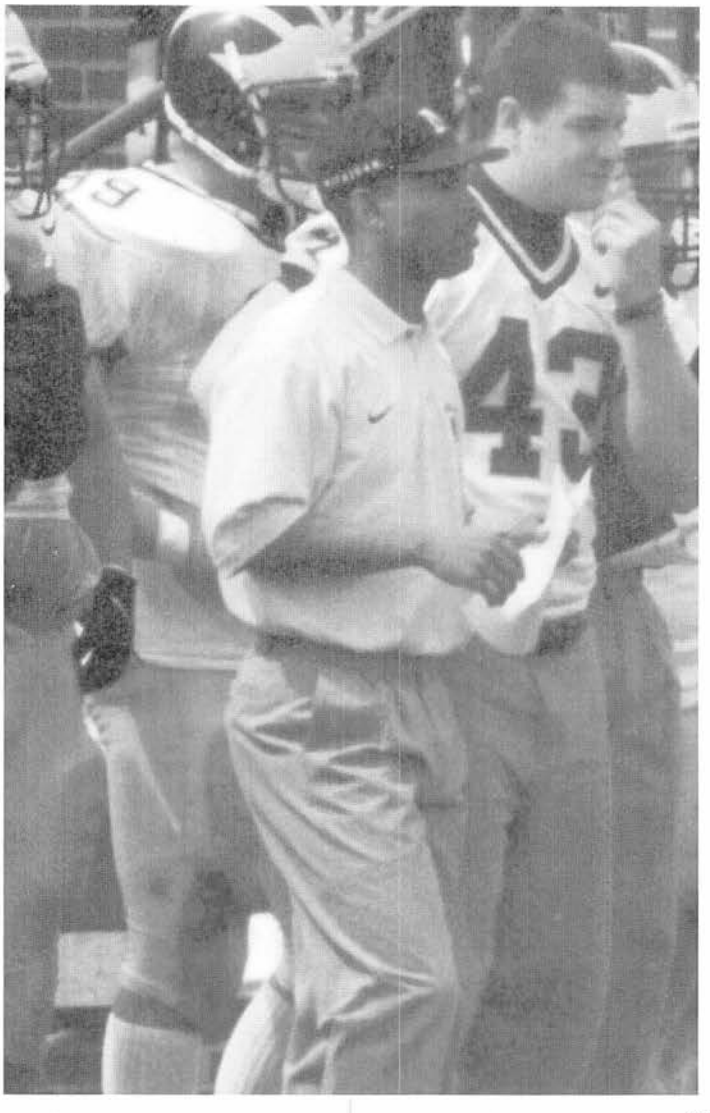
Coaching football seemed to be a natural fit for Campbell. In 1988, he was a student coach at Michigan. He started his full-time coaching career as an assistant coach at Navy from 1989-90 where he coached running backs, his high school position. From there, he moved onto Ball State where he spent three years (1991-93) again coaching running backs. His final stop before coming back to Ann Arbor was at Syracuse in 1994 where his responsibilities were much the same as they were in his previous two positions. In 1995, he started his work with the wide receivers at Michigan.

While at Michigan Campbell has coached Amani Toomer, second round pick of the NY Giants (1996), who ranks second in all-time receptions and receiving yards at Michigan, Mercury Hayes, a fifth-round pick of New Orleans (1996), who ranks sixth in career receptions and fifth in reception yardage and Heisman Trophy winner Charles Woodson, a first round pick of Oakland (1998). Woodson led the team with 19.8 yards per reception as a part-time receiver in 1997.

As a prep star at Roosevelt H.S. in Gary, IN, Campbell was an all-state selection in football and an All-American in track. He led his high school team to back-to-back state track championships. For his accomplishments, he was inducted into the Indiana High School Track Hall of Fame.

Campbell is married to the former Laura Henderson and they reside in Ann Arbor.



Defensive Coordinator / Linebackers

Jim Herrmann

Jim Herrmann starts his ninth year as a member of the Wolverine staff. Herrmann's responsibilities are two fold as he is the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach.

Defense is a tradition at Michigan. Jim Herrmann and his players have upheld that tradition exceptionally well. As the numbers read, Herrmann's Wolverine defense led the nation in pass efficiency, total defense and scoring defense in 1997 en route to the National Championship.

With a great team a great defense, and a national championship, many will receive recognition. With the success of the team and hard work of the coaching staff, Hermann was named winner of The Broyles Award (named after coaching legend Frank Broyles) as the national assistant coach of the year following the regular season.

While at Michigan, Herrmann has coached numerous All-Big Ten selections, All-Americans and overall great players. The list includes, but is not limited to Erick Anderson, 1991 winner of the Butkus Award given to the top linebacker in the nation, Steve Morrison, who played with the Indianapolis Colts, and All-American Jarrett Irons, second leading tackler in Wolverine history. Morrison and Irons are both two-time winners of the Roger Zatkoff Award presented to Michigan's top linebacker.

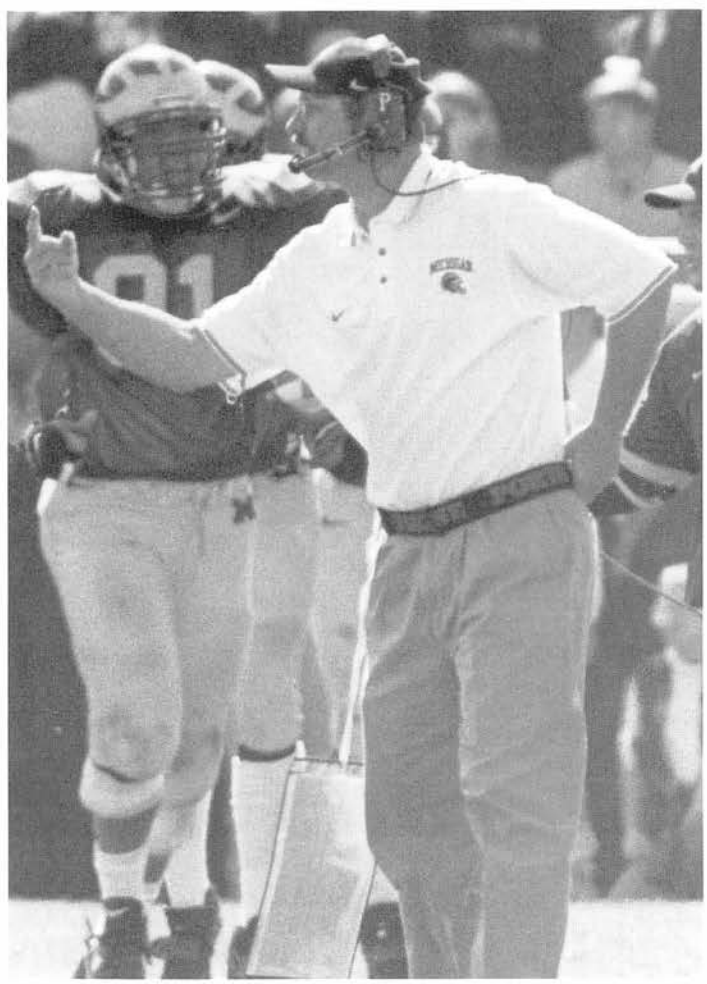
Herrmann is without question a Michigan man. Originally from of Dearborn Heights, MI, he attended the University of Michigan, and earned three letters as a Wolverine linebacker (1980-82). He was on legendary coach Bo Schembechler's first Rose Bowl Championship team in 1980. In 1983, he earned his B.A. degree in education from Michigan.

Combining his education and football background, coaching the game he loves was the logical path. Starting his coaching career, he spent two years coaching at the high school level in Michigan, coaching at Harper Woods, Notre Dame (1984) and Orchard Lake, St. Mary's (1985). In 1986, he returned to Michigan as a graduate assistant coach. Paying his dues and making his mark, he continued to serve as a graduate assistant for the next two seasons (1986-87) and as a volunteer coach for two seasons (1988-89) before being added to the full time staff in 1990. In December of 1996, Herrmann was promoted to the defensive coordinator position where he currently sits.

A prep star at Dearborn Divine Child H.S., Herrmann earned nine varsity letters in three sports and was an All-State selection at linebacker before attending Michigan.

"Jim has the qualities it takes to be a great coach," said head coach Lloyd Carr. "The first thing you notice about Herrmann is he is a great teacher. He has a great work ethic, he understands the game, is a great organizer, he can motivate and has great intensity."

Herrmann is also a family man. He is married to the former Ann Popiel of Dearborn Heights and Divine Child. They reside in Ann Arbor with their daughter, Jessica (9), and sons, Cory (6) and Timothy (4).



Offensive Coordinator / Tackles & Tight Ends

Mike DeBord

Mike DeBord begins his seventh season as an assistant coach at the University of Michigan and his second as offensive coordinator.

DeBord became a member of the Michigan staff in June of 1992 when he was named an assistant by then head coach Gary Moeller. At the time, DeBord had some big shoes to fill as he was taking over for longtime Wolverine assistant, Jerry Hanlon, who left to join the athletic department's development staff.

DeBord did have some big shoes to fill, but has done an outstanding job. In February of 1997, head coach Lloyd Carr promoted DeBord to the position of offensive coordinator while continuing to serve as the coach of the offensive tackles and tight ends.

A major part of DeBord's offensive philosophy is to establish the running game and be effective inside the opponent's 20-yard line. "We need to be able to run the ball to compete," DeBord said. "Our red-zone attack is very important, too, and everybody knows it."

In addition, DeBord places a strong emphasis on discipline. Reduction of turnovers has become a major focus. Evidence of this priority was the fact that Michigan led the Big Ten with the fewest turnovers (18) during the 1997 season (only six of those were interceptions). The Wolverines also led the Big Ten in fewest sacks allowed.

A native of Gaston, IN, DeBord earned his Bachelor of Sciences at Manchester College in 1978. He earned four letters as an offensive lineman, playing both center and tackle. DeBord also won all-conference and all-district honors. He went on to earn a Master's of Arts from Ball State in 1981.

DeBord started his collegiate coaching career as an assistant at Franklin College (1982-84). He went on to coach at Fort Hays State University (1984-87) and then to Eastern Illinois (1987-88) before returning to Ball State in 1989. DeBord served one season as the offensive line coach under former Michigan assistant Paul Schudel when the Cardinals won the Mid-American Conference and earned a berth in the California Raisin Bowl.

He accepted a job as the offensive line coach prior to the 1990 season at Colorado State under Earle Bruce. DeBord spent the 1990 and 1991 seasons with the Rams, coaching in the 1990 Freedom Bowl. He accepted a position at Northwestern in January of 1992 but moved on to Michigan later that spring.

DeBord and his wife Deb, formerly of Gaston, IN reside in Saline with their two sons Tyler (17) and Kyle (12).

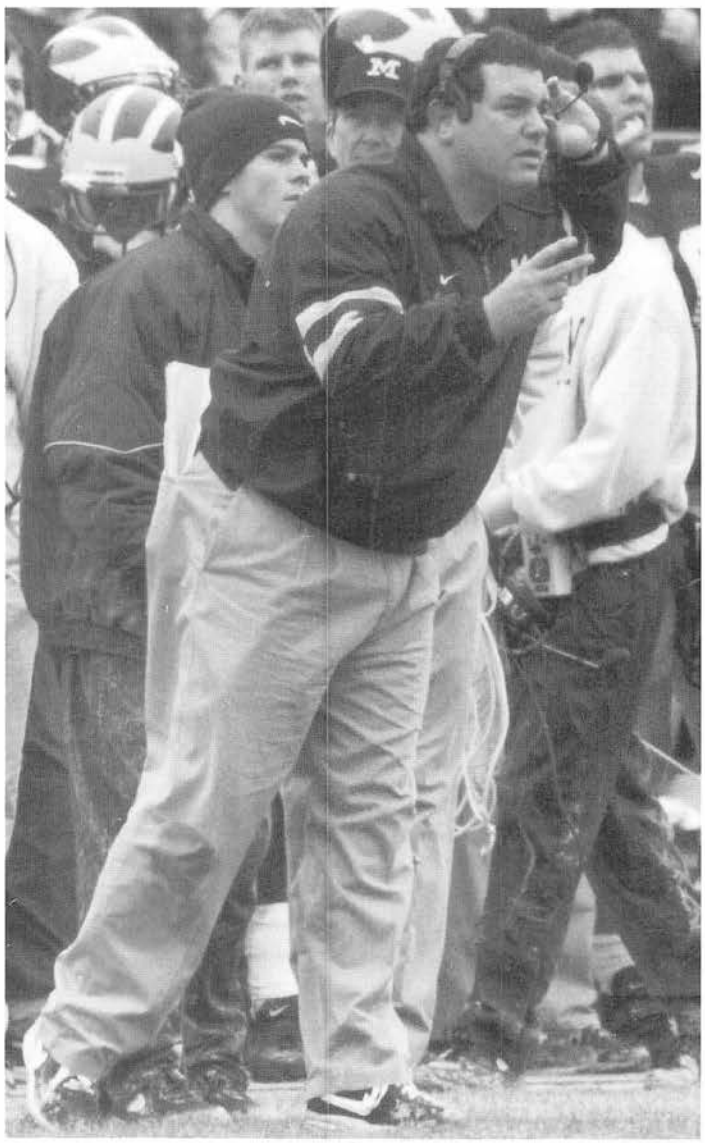
Defensive Line

Brady Hoke

Brady Hoke is in his fourth year as a member of the Michigan coaching staff, and he currently handles the defensive line for the Wolverines.

A native of Dayton, OH, Hoke attended Fairmont East High School in Kettering, Ohio, graduating in 1977. He earned three letters in football, three in wrestling and three in baseball. He played linebacker on the football team while playing both catcher and third base on the baseball team. As a junior, he qualified for the state wrestling championships. As a senior, he earned second-team all-state honors in football.

Hoke attended Ball State University where he earned four letters (1977-80) in football and was a three-year starter at linebacker. A member of the Mid American Conference champions as a sophomore, Hoke served as a captain his senior season while earning second-team All-MAC honors. He earned his Bachelor of Sciences degree in criminal justice from Ball State in 1981.



Hoke started his coaching career at the high school level at Yorktown H.S. in Yorktown, IN, as an assistant coach. He started at the collegiate level at Grand Valley (1983). He coached the defensive line and special teams at Western Michigan (1984-86). In 1987, he moved to the University of Toledo (1987-89) to coach the outside linebackers before heading to Oregon State to coach defensive line and inside linebackers. His stay with the Beavers lasted six years, from 1989 through 1994.

In March of 1995, former Michigan head coach Gary Moeller named Hoke coach of the defensive ends citing his personality and ability to communicate with players as key aspects of his qualifications.

Certainly, adding Hoke to the team of coaches at Michigan has helped. The evidence has been displayed, especially with the defensive performance of 1997. Hoke helped coach the number one defense in the country. His line, led by All-American Glen Steele, Rob Renes, Juaquin Feazell, and Josh Williams gave opposing backfields nightmares. Michigan led the Big Ten in rushing defense allowing just 2.7 yards per carry and 89 yards per game. In 12 games, they gave up just seven rushing touchdowns. Those numbers ranked the Wolverines seventh in the nation. In addition, the 89.0 rushing yards per game allowed were the best of any Michigan team since the 1971 team that also went 11-0 in the regular season. Only three other 'M' teams since 1936 have boasted better numbers against the run.

While at Michigan, Hoke has helped coach two All-Americans on the defensive line: Steele, and nose tackle William Carr in 1996.

Assistant Head Coach / Offensive Backfield

Fred Jackson

Fred Jackson starts his seventh season as an assistant coach at the University of Michigan and his second as the assistant head coach. Jackson also handles the offensive backfield coaching responsibilities.

Jackson is a well traveled individual having coached at five different schools before coming to the University of Michigan. His travels brought him a experience and a wealth of knowledge. Jackson has coached almost every type of offense imaginable from the run and shoot to the wishbone, he has drawn it up.

A native of Baton Rouge, LA, Jackson was an All-Conference quarterback at Jackson State in Mississippi, leading the conference in passing in 1970. He earned his Bachelor of Sciences degree in 1972 and added his Masters of Arts at Michigan in 1975.

Jackson started his coaching career at Flint Southwestern High School, where he coached future Wolverine star quarterback Rick Leach. Jackson, who was head track coach and assistant football coach at the start of his high school career, coached a pair of state championship track teams (1975 & 1977) and was named the Coach of the Year in 1977.

He started his collegiate coaching career as an assistant at Toledo (1979-81) under Chuck Stobart and went on to Wisconsin (1982-86) under Dave McClain. While at Wisconsin, he coached Al Toon who went on to an All-Pro career with the New York Jets. He was quarterbacks and receivers coach at both schools and also served as offensive coordinator.

Jackson also coached at Navy (1987), South Carolina (1988), Purdue (1989-90), and Vanderbilt (1991) before accepting his position at Michigan.

Since 1992, two Jackson-coached running backs have been first round NFL draft selections: Tyrone Wheatly (1995), and Tshimanga Biakabutuka (1996). In 1997, Jackson's starting backfield of taliback Chris Howard (Denver) and Chris Floyd (New England) were both drafted.

Jackson and his wife Teresa reside in Ann Arbor with their sons Jeremy (6) and newborn Joshua.

Offensive Line

Terry Malone

Terry Malone is in his second year as a member of the Michigan football staff, and he handles the interior offensive line and tight ends for the Wolverines.

A native of Detroit, Malone graduated from Detroit Catholic Central High School. In 1983, he earned his bachelor of arts degree majoring in history from Holy Cross in 1983.

Malone, 38, earned his B.A. in history at Holy Cross in 1983. While at Holy Cross, he was a four-year starter at tight end. An All-New England selection, Malone served as captain for the Crusaders in his senior season.

Malone started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Arizona under former Wolverine assistant coach Larry Smith. He spent two seasons at Arizona before returning to coach tight ends at Holy Cross in 1985.

In 1986, Malone moved on to Bowling Green State University where he would spend 10 years as an assistant coach (1986-95) starting with the offensive line. The last year of his stay, he served as the offensive coordinator. The Falcons set 56 school or conference records in a five-year span (1991-95) in which they led the Mid-American Conference in scoring offense three times and were never ranked lower than second in total offense.

Malone, 38, served as offensive line coach under Dan Henning at Boston College in 1996. He accepted his position at Michigan in February of 1997.

Malone and his wife Ann, reside in Saline with their four children, Kara (9), Patrick (7), Ryan (4) and Natalie (2).

Special Teams / Recruiting Coordinator

Bobby Morrison

Bobby Morrison is currently in his 12th season as an assistant coach at the University of Michigan and his fourth as the recruiting coordinator. Morrison's responsibilities also include the handling of special teams for U-M.

The importance of recruiting can never be overstated. Michigan is a school rich in tradition when it comes to attracting the finest athletes. In 1998, Michigan will be introducing what many are considering to be the best recruiting class in the nation. In four years, the Michigan staff hopes to continue the development of the individuals as football players and as students.

A native of Niles, OH, Morrison played linebacker at McKinley H.S. He attended Findlay College in northwest Ohio and was co-captain for the Oilers in 1966. He earned his B.S. degree from Findlay in 1967 and his Masters of Education degree at Bowling Green State University in 1969.

Morrison served one year as an assistant football coach at Findlay H.S. and was a graduate assistant for one year at BGSU. Before returning to the college ranks, he spent two years at Warren Western Reserve High School as an assistant football coach.

He started his college coaching career at William & Mary in 1971 and was the defensive coordinator and linebacker coach at VMI for four seasons (1972-75).

Prior to coming to Ann Arbor, Morrison was at Virginia in 1976 coaching the linebackers. Later in 1976, he moved to North Carolina State to become the offensive line coach. The next season, he moved to the other side of the ball to coach the defensive line. He remained at that post for three years. In 1979, Morrison moved to Baton Rouge, LA to become the linebackers coach for the LSU Tigers. Following his stint at LSU, he headed to Annapolis, MD for five seasons where he was the linebackers coach and defensive coordinator at Navy (1982-86). In 1987, Morrison joined Bo Schembechler's staff at Michigan becoming the coach of the outside linebackers. In 1995-96, his responsibilities were altered as he became an offensive line coach in charge of tackles and tight ends. Also in 1995, he became the recruiting coordinator. Special teams were added to his duties in 1997.

A fishing enthusiast, Morrison and his wife Marty, have two children, Rob, an officer in the U.S. Navy and a graduate of the Naval Academy, and Robin (Mrs. David Martz, Ann Arbor, MI).

Quarterbacks

Stan Parrish

Stan Parrish is in his third year as part of the University of Michigan football staff. Stan's chief responsibilities are the quarterbacks.

One of the most important characteristics of a quarterback is his ability to not make crucial mistakes. In 1997, Parrish had a quarterback that epitomized that quality. Brian Griese was consistent and relatively mistake free. In 12 games, Griese threw just six interceptions, the fewest of a Michigan quarterback since 1991. In addition, Griese set a single season for pass competitions with 193.

A man of dedication and intense work ethic, Parrish always has something for his quarterbacks to work on to improve their games.

A graduate of Valley Forge High School in Cleveland, Parrish earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in biology and physical education from Heidelberg College in 1968. He earned his Masters in health and physical education while serving as a graduate assistant at Purdue in 1975.

Parrish, 51, has been a head coach at the collegiate level for 10 seasons. After getting his first full time coaching position at Wabash College in 1977, he became the head coach in 1978 and posted a record of 42-3-1, the best in school history. For his outstanding accomplishments, he was inducted into the Wabash Athletic Hall of Fame in 1988.

After a season as quarterbacks coach at Purdue (1983), Parrish took the head coaching job at Marshall where he spent two seasons. He led the Thundering Herd 13-8-1 record before spending three seasons as head coach at Kansas State (1986-88). His career head coaching record is 57-41-3.

While in his second stint at Purdue in 1983, Parrish coached Jim Everett and Scott Campbell.

Parrish spent six seasons at Rutgers as the quarterbacks coach before accepting his position at Michigan. He was the assistant head coach for the Scarlet Knights the last three seasons and also served as offensive coordinator.

While at Rutgers, the offense set numerous school records including most points scored in a season in 1992 (341) and again in 1993 (351). In 1995 Rutgers led the Big East in passing (253.3 yards per game) and in total offense (team record 427.4 yards per game).

Parrish started coaching at the high school level in Ohio as an assistant coach at Windham in 1969. He was the head coach at Windham from 1972 until going to Purdue as a graduate assistant in 1975.

Parrish comes from a coaching family as his father (Stan Sr.) and brother (Dave) have coached high school sports in the Cleveland area. Parrish and his wife Ruth, have a son, Andrew (17) and a daughter, Libby (15).

Defensive Graduate Assistant

Rick Clark

Rick Clark is in his second season as a graduate assistant on Head Coach Lloyd Carr's University of Michigan football program. Clark's primary day-to-day responsiblities are coaching the rush linebackers.

A native of East Wenatchee, WA, Clark spent six seasons (1991-1996) as the defensive line coach at James Madison University.

Clark earned his B.S. at Central Washington in 1981. He earned two letters as an outside linebacker at Central Washington.

Clark served as defensive line coach at Long Beach State in 1990 under coaching legend George Allen after working with the defensive line as a graduate assistant at Arizona under Dick Tomey in 1989. Allen received a master's from Michigan and worked for Fritz Crisler.

Clark coached five seasons at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo (1984-88) and he also coached at Western Washington (1983), Wenatchee Valley Community College (1982) and Eastmont High School (1981).

Clark is married to the former Roxanna Gonyer of San Luis Obispo. She is currently in grad school at Chapman College.

Video Coordinator

Phil Bromley

Phil Bromley enters his ninth season as the video coordinator for the Michigan Wolverines Football program.

A four-year letter-winner (1981-82-83-84) as a center at the University of Florida, Bromley started all four seasons for the Gators earning Freshman and Sophomore All-American honors in 1981 and 1982 and All-Southeastern Conference honors in 1983 and 1984. He was a second team All-American selection as a senior.

Bromley earned his B.S. degree in psychology from University of Florida in 1985 and his master's in education from Florida in 1988.

He served as a graduate assistant at Florida in 1986 and 1987 and joined the Michigan Football staff as a graduate assistant for two seasons (1988-89). Bromley was a volunteer coach for the Wolverines for the spring of 1990 and took over the video coordinator's position prior to the start of the 1990 season.

Bromley and his wife, the former Jill Brumbaum of Plantation, FL, reside in Saline Township with their son, Tripp (6), daughter, Christina (3) and newborn son Alex.

Offensive Graduate Assistant

Scot Loeffler

Scot Loeffler begins his first season as a graduate assistant with the Michigan Football program. Loeffler will have day-to-day responsibilities with the offensive coaching staff and will handle the scout team offenses during practice.

He was a five-year member of the Wolverine program (1993-97) who earned a varsity letter as a student coach on Michigan's 1997 Big Ten and national championship squad. Loeffler served as the primary backup for Todd Collins (now with the Buffalo Bills) before suffering a shoulder injury that cost him his playing career. He saw fourth quarter action in the 1995 Homecoming game against Minnesota.

A two-year starter for Barberton High School, Loeffler set school records in career passing yards (4,266) and touchdowns (30). He completed 126 of 207 passes for 1,710 yards and 12 TDs in seven games as a senior. Loeffler was rated among the Top 10 prep quarterbacks when he committed to Michigan.

He earned Michigan Athletic Academic Achievement recognition during the 1997-98 academic year. Loeffler received his Bachelor of Sciences degree in History and Political Science from the School of Literature, Science and the Arts.

Loeffler is single and resides in Ann Arbor.

Director of Football Operations

Scott Draper

Scott Draper enters his seventh season with the Michigan football program and is in his second year as the Director of Football Operations. Draper works with Michigan head football coach Lloyd Carr with administrative duties associated with the team and with Schembechler Hall.

A native of Linden, MI, Draper worked with the video staff (1992-94) and served as a graduate assistant on offense (1995-96) before accepting his current position.

Draper, 27, was an all-state linebacker at Linden High School and played two years of basketball at Mott CC in Flint before transferring to Eastern Michigan. He graduated from EMU (1994) with a degree in psychology.

Draper is single and resides in Ypsilanti.

Equipment Manager

Jon Falk

Jon Falk begins his 25th season as the head equipment manager at the University of Michigan during the 1998 season. Falk was honored for his dedication to the department in 1994, becoming an "Honorary 'M' Man".

One of the most resepted equipment managers in the nation, Falk has been the exceutive director of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA) for the past 10 years.

He is responsible for the overall budgeting of the Athletic Departments equipment needs and oversees a a staff of five full-time assistants and four student workers.

A native of Oxford, OH, Falk graduated from Talawanda High School in 1967 and earned his degree in physical education from Miami University in 1971. He worked as a student manager at Miami in football and baseball during his undergraduate days. Upon graduation, Falk accepted an assistant equipment manager at Miami before accepting the head job at Michigan in 1974.

Falk and his wife , the former Cheri Boychuck of Ann Arbor, reside in Chelsea with their three children, Joe, Nicki and Katie.

Strength & Conditioning Coach

Mike Gittleson

A pioneer in the field, Mike Gittleson enters his 21st season as the strength and conditioning coach for the Michigan football program. He was appointed the Athletic Department's first strength and conditioning coach in 1978 and currently oversees the day-to-day strength and condititioning program for the student-athletes.

A native of Manchester, NH, Gittleson earned degrees from the University of New Hampshire (1975) and Plymouth State College (1977). He later came to Michigan and completed a master's degree in exercise (1980) and earned the prestigious Paul Hunsicker Award as an outstanding graduate student at the University.

A Vietnam Veteran, Gittleson lettered in football, wrestling and track at Plymouth State and was named the outstanding senior in physical education as a senior.

An adjunct lecturer in Sports Management and Communication for the Division of Kinesiology, Gittleson was honored with the distinction of becoming an "Honorary 'M' Man" in 1997.

Gittleson is married to the former Sandra Szymanski. He has two sons, Matthew (17) and Casey (7) and two daughters, KayLee (6) and Josie Rose (4). They reside in Ann Arbor.

Supervisor of Athletic Training

Paul Schmidt

Paul Schmidt enters his eighth season as Supervisor of Athletic Training at the University of Michigan.

Schmidt, who is in his 16th year at Michigan, served as the assistant football trainer for five years. He was a graduate assistant at Michigan between 1983 and 1985 prior to gaining a promotion to a full-time position with the Wolverines in 1986.

A graduate of Fremont (OH) Ross H.S., Schmidt graduated from Ohio State in 1983 with a B.S. in physical therapy. He earned his master's degree in exercise physiology from Michigan in 1985.

Schmidt oversees the prevention, care and rehabilitation of athletic injuries for all Wolverine athletes. He coordinates a staff of 10 full-time, two graduate assistants, and 40 student trainers. He serves as a liaison between Michigan coaches, athletes, parents and the Wolverine medical staff.

He is a member of the Michigan Physical Therapy Association, the American Physical Therapy Association and the National Athletic Trainer's Association.

Schmidt and his wife, Angela, reside in Saline with their daughters Sarah Michelle (3) and newborn Rachel Christine.

Athletic Media Relations

Jim Schneider

Jim Schneider is in his 21st year working within the University of Michigan Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. He is in his ninth year working with the Michigan Football team after spending 12 years handling all aspects of media relations for Michigan hockey. He has worked with the Wolverines' baseball team the past 20 seasons.

A native of East Hampton, NY, Schneider is a 1974 graduate of Bowling Green State University, where he majored in journalism. While at BGSU, he worked with the Falcons Sports Information Staff. After spending three years as a reporter at the Daily Sentinel-Tribune in Bowling Green, OH, Schneider was named assistant sports information director at U-M in 1978.

A member of the College Sports Information Directors of America, Schneider has served as color analyst on Michigan baseball and hockey radio broadcasts. In addition, he served as the information director for the Central Collegiate Hockey Association from 1972-84.

A native of Detroit, Dr. Kurze currently practices internal medicine at University Health Services and is a primary care provider for M-CARE HMO. She has a special interest in women's health and assisted in the organization of the Eating Issues Network, a team of U. of M. health professionals whose focus is helping women with eating disorders.

Dr. Kurze earned her B.A. in biology at Kalamazoo College in 1981 and was employed as a research assistant at Warner Lambert Pharmaceuticals in Ann Arbor from 1981-85. She earned her M.D. degree at Michigan State in 1989 and completed her internal medicine residency at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Gerald O'Connor, M.D.

Team Physician

Dr. Gerald O'Connor starts his 35th season as a team physician for the University of Michigan football team. He is an associate professor in the Department of Surgery at the University of Michigan and practices at MedSport, the university sports medicine program in the Section of Orthopaedic Surgery.

A native of Burbank, S.D., Dr. O'Connor has been the Michigan team physician and orthopaedic surgeon since 1964. He has worked with four different head coaches in the Wolverine football program starting with Bump Elliott in '64, Bo Schembechler, Gary Moeller and currently with Lloyd Carr.

He is one of the most well-respected members of the sports medicine field as he was President of the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine in 1983. He is active in post-graduate education in sports medicine and has given numerous presentations on diagnosis and treatment of sports injuries.

O'Connor received the President's Challenge Award from the National Athletic Trainers' Association in 1988. He was also honored by the 'M' Club of Greater Detroit, along with Dr. Anderson, with the "Distinguished Alumni Service Award" at the 1996 football bust.

He earned his B.S. from Loras College in 1949 and his M.D. from Creighton University in 1953.

Dr. O'Connor and his wife, Margaret, have nine children.

Edward Wojtys, M.D.

Associate Team Physician

Dr. Edward Wojtys starts his 14th season as a team physician at the University of Michigan.

A native of Detroit, Dr. Wojtys is a professor in the Department of Surgery at the University of Michigan Medical Center and also the Medical Director of MedSport, the university sports medicine program in the Section of Orthopedic Surgery.

A former Wolverine football player, Wojtys earned his B.S. at Michigan in 1974 and his M.D. degree at Michigan in 1979. He completed his orthopedic surgery residency at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

He returned to the Department of Surgery at Michigan in 1985 following a fellowship at the Cincinnati Sports Medicine Center.

His extensive and ongoing experience in research earned him one of the first Asian Traveling Fellowship positions in 1989. He is currently engaged in ligament and meniscal transplantation.

Dr. Wojtys and his wife Robin have three children.

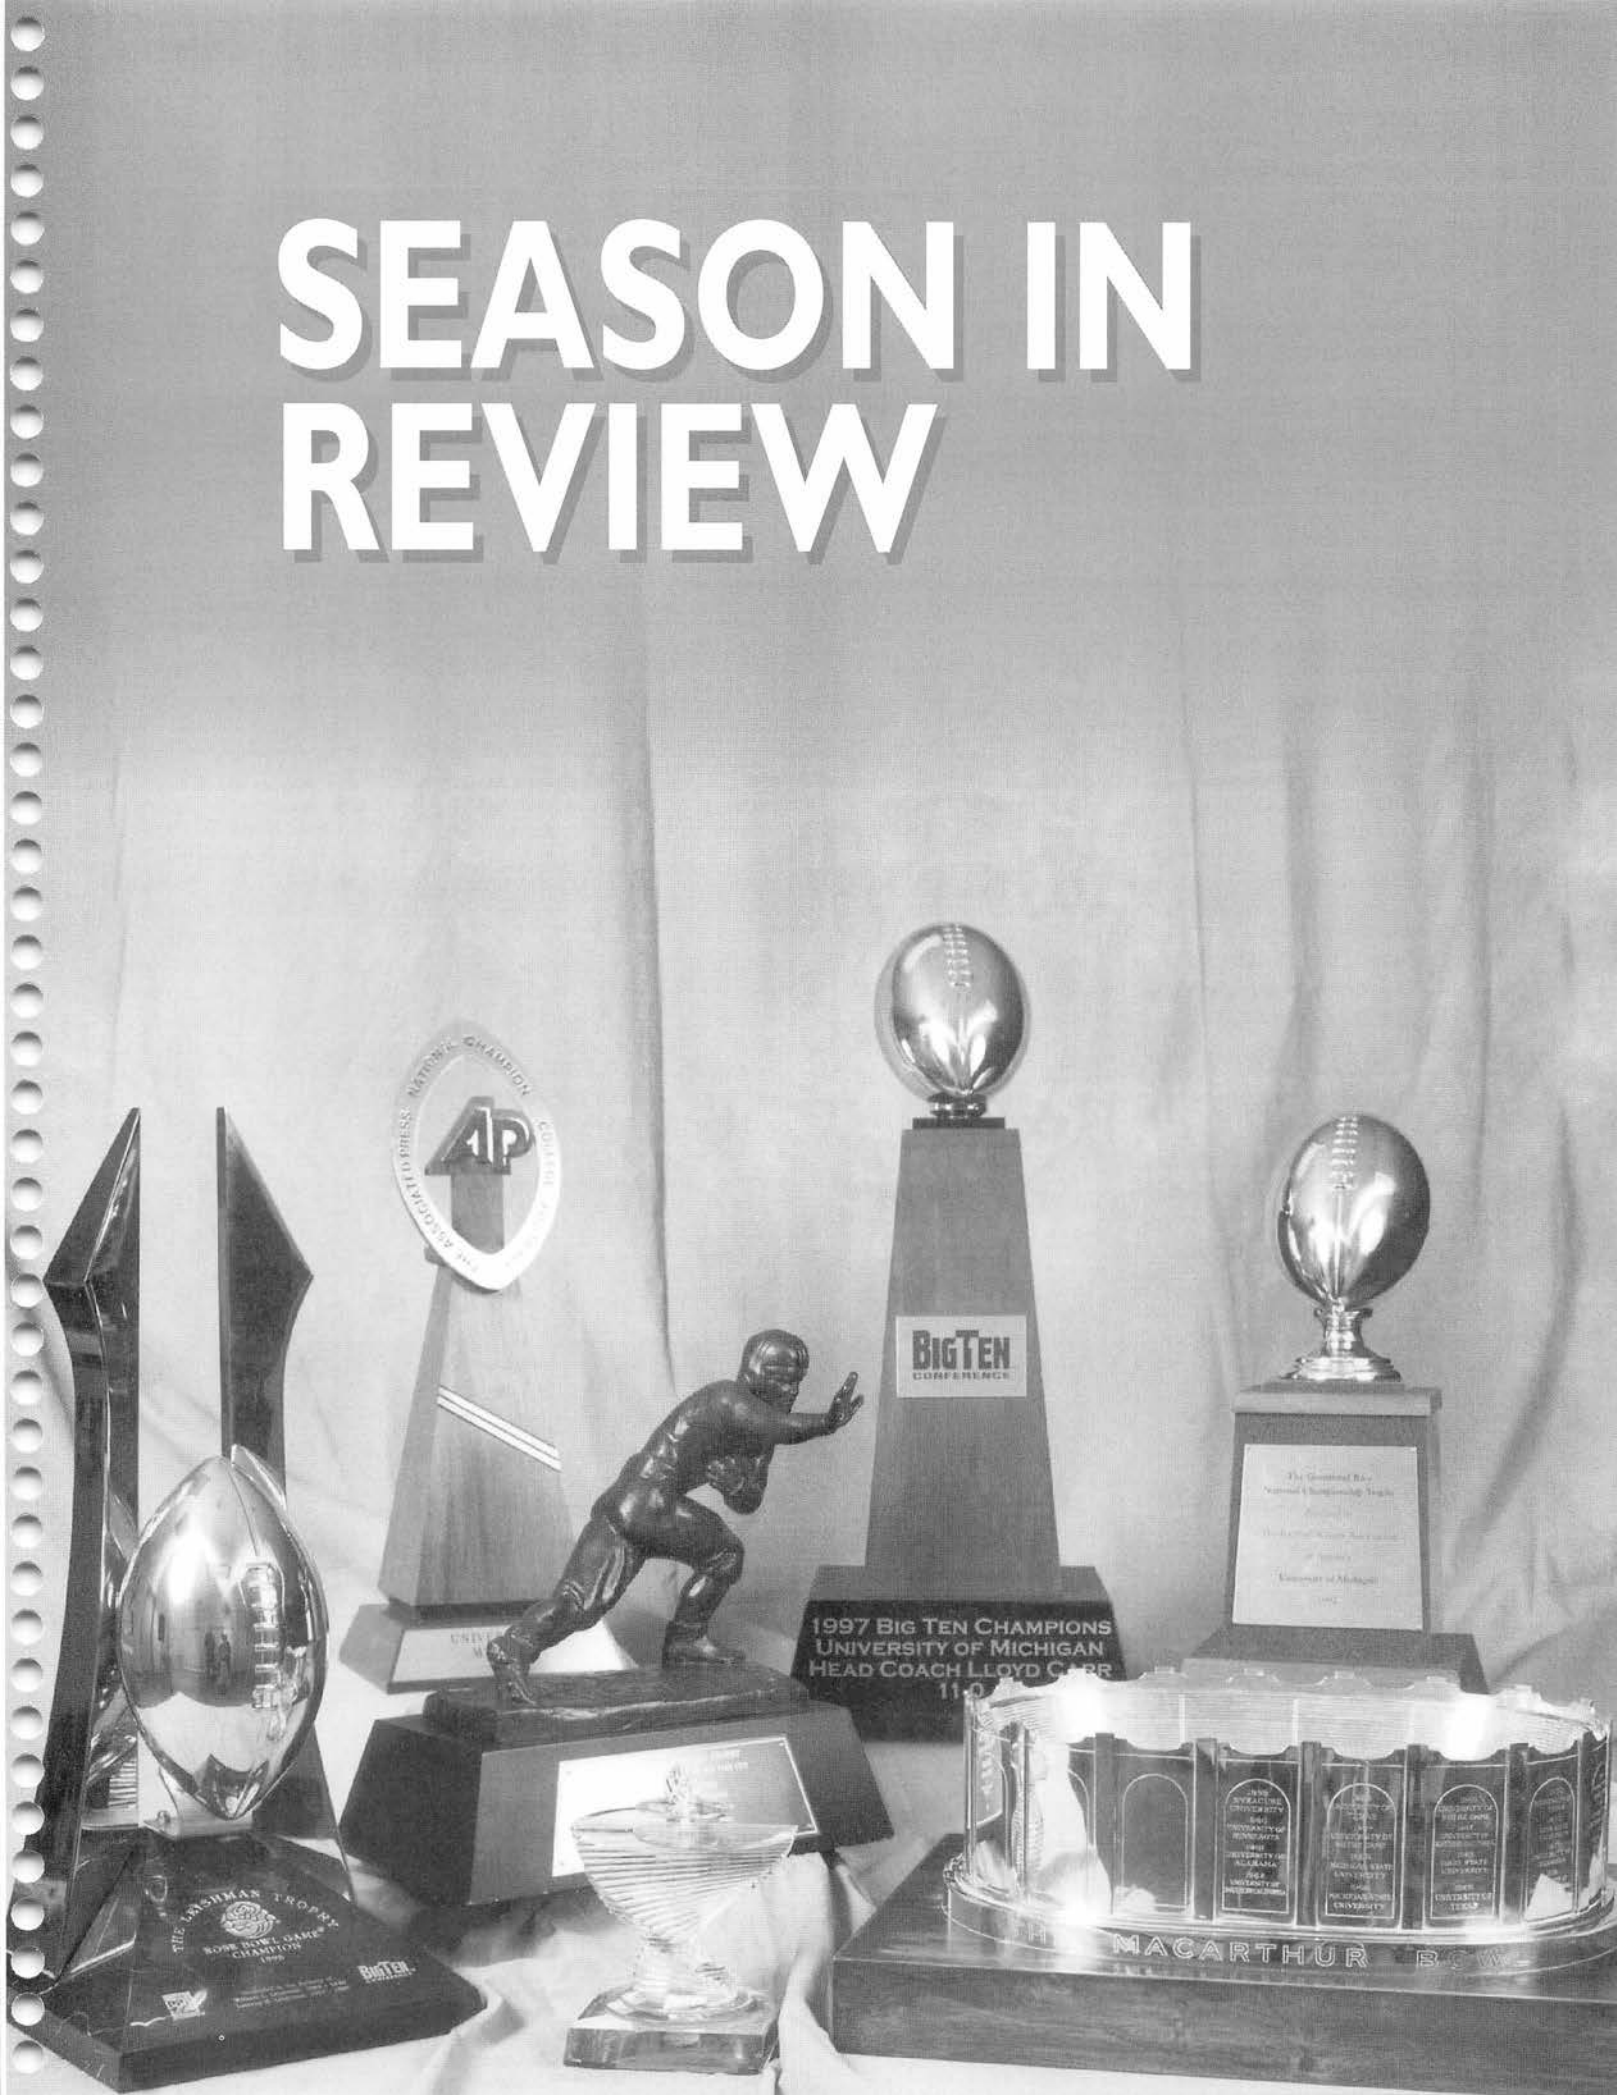
SEASON IN REVIEW



1997 Season Recap

The old saying "Defense wins championships" held true for the Michigan football team this past season. U-M ran a ball control offense that had possession of the ball for 59 minutes more than its opponents (an average of five minutes more per game). The Wolverine's defense broke the University of Oklahoma's 9.4 yards per catch record by holding it opponents to only 8.8 yards per catch (NCAA statistics do not count bowl games in official statistics). Michigan led the country in three of the four major statistical defensive categories, including total defense, pass efficiency defense and scoring defense as well as finishing seventh in rushing defense.

Preseason pollsters called Michigan's 1997 schedule the toughest in the nation. The Wolverines were slated to play opponents who had compiled an 81-42 record in 1996. U-M took those teams on like a mountain climber attacks Mt. Everest, one step at a time. After four previous four-loss seasons, the Michigan football team was not commanding a lot of preseason attention. The Associated Press and the USA Today /ESPN polls both had the Wolverines slated at 14th prior to the kickoff of the 1997 season.

However, the players and coaches knew they were deserving of more.

"No one gave us a chance to even be in the Rose Bowl or have a shot at the National Championship. We all felt we could go undefeated, it was just a matter of going out and doing it," said Heisman Trophy winner Charles Woodson.

Head coach Lloyd Carr said, "We all have tremendous satisfaction in knowing that we played a very challenging schedule and remained unbeaten. What is satisfying for me is that our team was ready to play every week and that is something our seniors deserve a lot of credit for. Those fifth year seniors gave us great leadership as did all of our coaches. The best thing a national championship can do is enable these kids to be recognized for a stellar performance."

Michigan silenced many of the critics in the season opener vs. Colorado. U-M made sure the game didn't come down to a final Hail Mary pass. The 14th-ranked Wolverines dominated every facet of the game in a 27-3 victory over the eighth-ranked Buffaloes. The Michigan defense started its stellar season with four interceptions including one by Woodson, two quarterback sacks by senior Glen Steele, and seven solo tackles by Sam Sword. Michigan's ball-control offense showed Colorado it could run and pass the ball, combining for 426 yards of total offense.

If Michigan was to show signs they had overcome the previous four years of disappointment, avoiding a letdown against Baylor was the first step. Michigan rolled to 532 total yards on offense while the defense limited the Bears to just 154 total yards. The triple threat of U-M running backs powered by Chris Howard, Anthony Thomas, and Clarence Williams gained 358 yards on the ground.

In 1997, Michigan renewed some old rivalries with teams they had not seen for a few seasons. The first of those renewed rivalries was against Notre Dame. Coach Carr and co-captain Jon Jansen were feeling the excitement and expectations of playing Notre Dame after a two-year absence from the schedule.

"To play in this series is one of the reasons the players come to Michigan. I don't think you ever have to worry about a player being emotionally ready to play in this game," said Carr prior to the game.

Jansen echoed Carr's sentiments saying, "One of the reasons you come to Michigan is to play in all the great rivalries and one of those is Notre Dame. We haven't had that opportunity for some time. I'm sure at Notre Dame, they feel the same way."

In the game, Michigan's defense made the big plays necessary to beat Notre Dame, 21-14, in the 27th meeting between the two schools. Michigan had three defenders reach double-figures in tackles, led by Sam Sword with 15, Eric Mayes with 14, and Marcus Ray with 11. Michigan marched undefeated through the three-game portion of its non-conference schedule, the third year in a row that U-M has gone undefeated prior to Big Ten play.

The Wolverines opened their Big Ten season with a win at Indiana. The maize and blue spoiled Indiana's homecoming with a 37-0 shutout. After a 3-0 first quarter, Michigan had its most productive offensive quarter of the season, tallying 28 second quarter points on four TD's. The defense again came through with big plays as Heisman trophy winner Woodson had an interception. Senior co-captain Eric Mayes, however, suffered a season-and-career ending knee injury in the first half.

Carr expressed the disappointing loss of the leader, "His spirit, enthusiasm, toughness, and his leadership will be missed by our football team. Eric Mayes did a tremendous job for us. It's a shame to see a guy, especially a senior, end his career on that kind of note ... He's still a captain and he'll have an important role on our team."

The next step up the mountain for U-M was Northwestern. There would be no repeat of a Northwestern upset as the sixth-ranked Wolverines dominated with both defense and the combination of Brian Griese to Jerame Tuman in the 23-6 defeat of the Wildcats. The defense again did not give up a touchdown, for the fourth time in the first five games. Michigan totaled 385 yards, 141 rushing and 244 passing while limiting the Wildcats to 170 total yards, with just 35 on the ground.

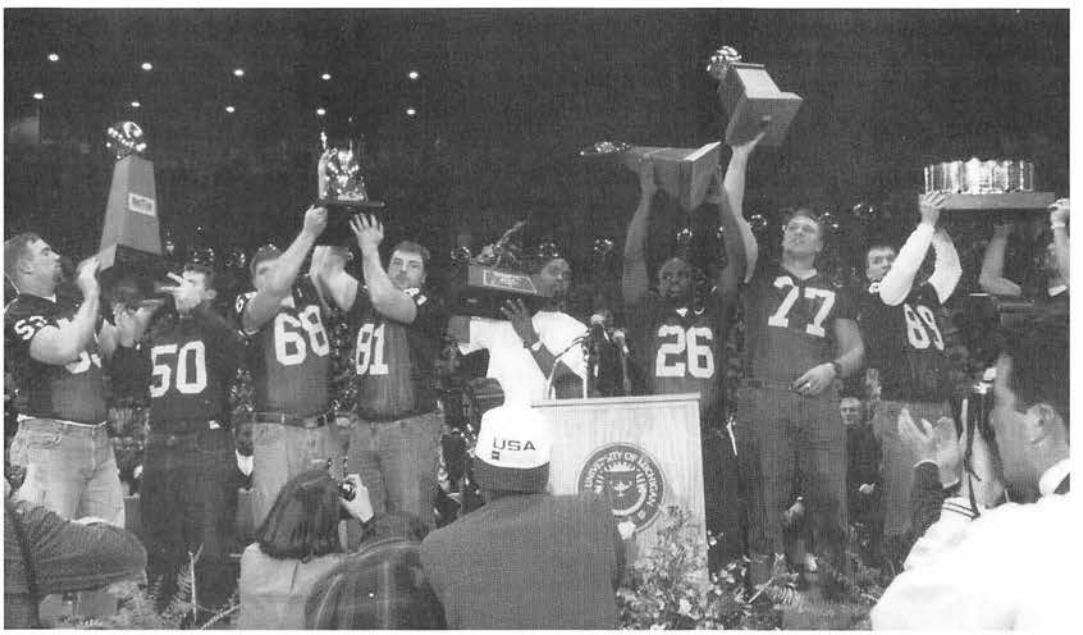
The Iowa and Michigan series resumed in 1997 after a two-year hiatus. Iowa came to Ann Arbor with a solid team ready to play. The No. 5 Wolverines had to overcome a 21-7 halftime deficit to defeat Iowa 28-24 with yet another huge defensive effort, allowing the Hawkeyes only 187 yards. Iowa scored twice in the last three minutes of the first half with Michigan regrouping at half-time to take the game in hand.

Carr was positive about the team's play after the game. "The comeback is the good news. We certainly have a group of kids who fought back and gave us a great win. I wanted to get mad at Griese at halftime, but I couldn't. At the start of the third quarter, I told him this is why you are here. This is your time. Bring us back. Have fun, but bring us back."

Next up, intra-state rival Michigan State. Michigan vs. MSU is always an intense game, but this season, with both teams off to a tremendous start, the importance and desire for victory increased. The Wolverines marched into East Lansing with one goal in mind—remain undefeated. Michigan won 23-7, breaking a five-game streak of home team wins. The maize and blue defense continued its dominance, picking off two Spartan quarterbacks for a total of six interceptions. Woodson and Marcus Ray each collected two interceptions; Woodson's first was an acrobatic one-handed grab that moved him to the forefront of the Heisman Trophy race. Michigan's six interceptions tied a school record set on three previous occasions. The Wolverine's offense continued to roll by controlling the ball six minutes longer than MSU. Howard lead the way for Michigan with 110 yards on 21 carries and one touchdown.

The fourth-ranked Michigan Wolverines gave the 106,577 fans something to cheer about homecoming weekend. They dominated the Minnesota Golden Gophers on both sides of the ball, winning 24-3. The only Gopher points came on a field goal on their initial possession. On the first play of the second quarter, Woodson ran a reverse for an electrifying 33-yard touchdown. The Little Brown Jug stayed in Ann Arbor for another year.



Underdogs after three straight losses to Penn State, the fourth-ranked U-M team handed Joe Paterno and his second-ranked Nittany Lions their worst loss at home in 32-years. A 34-8 thrashing took place in front of a record crowd of 97,498 fans. Michigan came out firing and scored on its first possession of the game. The Wolverines had their best offensive showing to date gaining 265 yards on the ground and 151 yard through the air. The defense set the tone on Penn State's first possession as Glen Steele and Juaquin Feazell each had sacks to force the Nittany Lions to punt after three plays.

Carr was proud of his teams' performance on both sides of the ball, saying, "This is the best our offense has played all year. Everybody was talking about the matchup with our defense against Penn State's offense, but our offense has been on the verge of breaking through which they did today ... Our defense was tremendous. I would not have guessed our defense would do as well as they did because Penn State's offense is so physical."

The victory over the Nittany Lions propeled the Wolverines into the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press Poll and to second in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches' Poll. Michigan was returning to the nation's top spot for the first time since the 1990 season.

On a snowy Saturday in Madison, the top-ranked Wolverines took the fourth-largest crowd in Camp Randall Stadium history (79,806) out of the game early. They used a balanced offensive attack, marching 80 yards on the opening drive for a 7-0 lead. Griese had another solid day for the Wolverines, finishing with 254 yards on 19 of 26 passing with one touchdown and no interceptions. By beating the Badgers, 26-16, Griese led the maize and blue to at least a share of the Big Ten title for the first time in five years.

One game remained and Michigan knew what was at stake. After Wolverine victories had ruined Ohio State's perfect season the past two years, the Buckeyes were prepared to return the favor. Michigan, however, would not give up without a fight. In front of 106,982 fans, the largest crowd in Michigan Stadium history, both defenses dominated the game. Woodson was the star both offensively and defensively. He made a 37-yard reception to set up the Wolverines' first score, followed with a 78-yard punt return for a touchdown, and made a key end-zone interception to shut down an OSU scoring drive. Michigan was victorious, 20-14, and headed to the Rose Bowl as the undefeated Big Ten Champions and the nation's Playing Michigan football all the way, the Wolverines did not forget what got them to Pasadena. The Wolverines came from behind twice to defeat Washington State, 21-16. They completed a perfect season and planted the "M" flag at the top of their mountain to lay claim on its first national title in 49 years. Woodson and Griese were again the leaders of the team on the field. Woodson made another game-saving play, stopping a drive with another endzone interception. Griese, the Rose Bowl MVP, outshined WSU quarterback and Heisman candidate Ryan Leaf, completing three spectacular passes for touchdowns.

No. 1 team.

When all was said and done, the Associated Press poll voted the Wolverines National Champions while the USA Today/ESPN poll had Michigan two votes behind Nebraska.

Carr said, "I am so proud of this team. This group of guys believed this was possible when no one else did. The only ones who thought this was possible were the ones at every practice from spring ball until now."

Michigan had its first National Championship in 49 years!

Colorado

September 13, 1997
Michigan Stadium, Ann Arbor, MI
Attendance: 106,474

Colorado	0	0	3	0-3
Michigan	7	3	14	3-27

Ann Arbor -- This time, Michigan made sure the game didn't come to down to a final Hail Mary pass from a Colorado Buffaloes quarterback. After weeks of watching every other team in Division I college football play, the 14th-ranked Michigan Wolverines finally kicked off the 1997 football season against the eighth-ranked Colorado Buffaloes, dominating every facet of the game en route to a 27-3 victory.

The Wolverines scored a touchdown on its second possession of the game and never looked back. After beating Colorado State the week before, the Buffaloes struggled against a strong Michigan defense, managing just one field goal the entire game.

Leading 10-0 at half time, the Wolverines tore out of the gates in the second half to put the game away. Clarence Williams took the second half kickoff 61 yards, but a holding penalty brought the ball all the way back to the Michigan 12-yard line. Nonetheless, the Wolverines marched down the field in 11 plays and scored on a five-yard pass from Brian Griese to Chris Howard that extended the lead to 17-0 with 10:26 remaining in the third quarter.

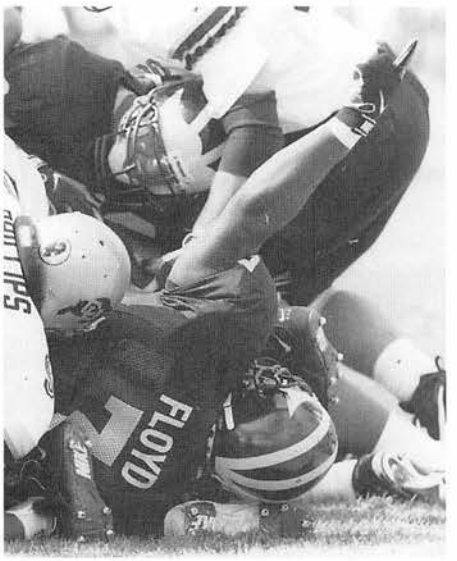
Two plays into the ensuing Colorado drive, outside linebacker Clint Copenhaver intercepted a John Hessler pass and returned it 19 yards to the Colorado 14 yard line. Michigan scored three plays later as Griese found a wide open Russell Shaw in the end zone for a 6-yard strike, giving the Wolverines a commanding lead with 8:42 left in the third quarter.

The Buffaloes only score took place later in the third quarter. After reaching the Wolverines 20-yard line, linebacker James Hall sacked Hessler for a 16-yard loss, forcing Colorado to eventually settle for a 52-yard field goal by Jason Lesley.

The big question before kickoff was how the Wolverines would look early, considering the Buffaloes already had played a game. Michigan won the coin toss and deferred, so Colorado opened with the ball in the first half. After stopping the Buffaloes on three plays, Michigan got the ball at Colorado's 45 yard line following a 17 yard punt by Nick Pietsch. The Wolverines drove down to the Buffaloes 28, but Kraig Baker missed a 45-yard FG.

On the Buffaloes next possession, All-American Charles Woodson intercepted a Hessler pass, giving Michigan possession at its own 45. On the first play following the interception, Griese connected with a wide open Jerame Tuman for a 53-yard gain, moving the ball down to the Colorado two-yard line. Two plays later, Chris Floyd scored Michigan's first points of the season on a one yard run through the center of the line. The kick was good and the Wolverines held a 7-0 lead with 9:28 left in the first quarter.

That would be it for the first half scoring until the waning seconds of the second quarter. After taking over on the Colorado 49-yard line with just 15 seconds left, Griese found Woodson over the middle for a 29-yard gain. Griese spiked the ball with four seconds to go, and Baker came on to attempt a 37-yard field goal. The kick was good and Michigan went into the lockerroom, up 10-0.



Chris Floyd scored his first career TD versus Colorado.

Michigan had 426 yards of total offense in the game while holding Colorado to 224 total yards. Griese, unsure of his start at quarterback until earlier in the week, was brilliant, completing 21 of 28 passes for 258 yards. Griese threw two touchdowns and was intercepted once. His favorite target on the day was tight end Tuman, who had a career-high five receptions for 126 yards. Also with five catches apiece were Tai Streets (36 yards) and Howard (26 yards).

Michigan used four different running backs extensively, each with at least eight rushes. Clarence Williams led the team with 42 yards on 10 rushes, while Howard totaled 40 yards on 12 attempts. Chris Floyd ran eight times for 27 yards and Anthony Thomas managed 20 yards on nine carries.

Michigan's impressive defensive performance was headlined by Sam Sword's seven tackles, while Marcus Ray, Dhani Jones, and Glen Steele each recorded six. Steele, who also tallied two sacks, was an instrumental part of a Michigan pass rush that led to four interceptions, one each by Jones, Woodson, Copenhaver, and Tommy Hendricks.

Under constant pressure by the Michigan defense, Hessler completed just 15 of 40 passes for 175 yards. Chris Anderson had six receptions for 60 yards and Phil Savoy caught five passes for 50 yards. Herchell Troutman led Colorado with 41 yards on 15 carries. Defensively, Ryan Sutter was Colorado's top tackler with 13 while Hannibal Navies added 11 and Mike Phillips eight. Marcus Washington had the Buffaloes lone interception.

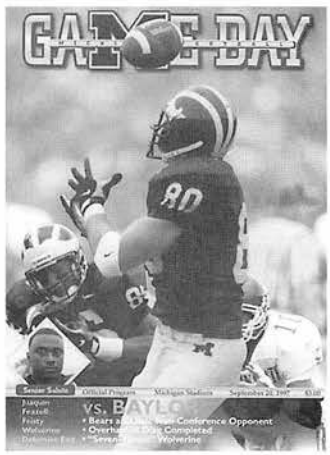
Baylor	3	0	0	0-3
Michigan	7	14	7	10-38

Ann Arbor - If letdowns are supposed to take place between big games, Michigan didn't show it Saturday afternoon. In front of a Michigan Stadium crowd of 106,041, the eighth-ranked Wolverines stormed by Baylor, 38-3.

Even though Michigan's Chris Howard fumbled on the second play of U-M's first drive, the Bears (1-2) had to settle for a 30-yard field goal by Matt Bryant, the only points Baylor would score all day.

Michigan (2-0) immediately came back and took the lead on the next possession. The Wolverines drove 65 yards in seven plays for the eventual game-winning touchdown. Howard ran for 31 yards on the drive while Brian Griese completed all three of his passes. He finished the drive with a 10-yard touchdown pass to Charles Woodson.



Two possessions later, the Wolverines put another seven points on the board as Howard capped off a five-play, 47-yard drive with a five-yard touchdown run to put the Wolverines ahead 14-3. U-M extended the lead to 21-3 on its next series, as Michigan drove from its own eight in 16 plays and scored on a Howard one-yard dive.

With Baylor reeling, Michigan scored again on its second possession of the third quarter with Anthony Thomas capping off another 92-yard drive on a two-yard run, his first collegiate score. In the fourth quarter, Michigan added a 51-yard Jay Feely field goal and a one-yard touchdown run by Tate Schanski to complete the scoring at 38-3.

Michigan dominated on both ends of the ball, compiling 532 total offensive yards while limiting the Bears to just 154 yards of total offense. The Wolverines gained 358 yards on the ground and added 188 yards through the air. U-M held the ball for 35:25 and converted on 8 of 14 third down conversions. The Wolverines one weakness was penalties, as they committed 11 for 90 yards, with nine of the penalties occurring in the second half.

The Wolverines running game was powered by the trio of Thomas, Howard, and Clarence Williams. Thomas gained 122 yards on 21 carries, Howard added 112 yards on 19 rushes, and Williams ran 11 times for 77 yards. Griese completed 13 of his 22 attempts for 169 yards. Williams also led the team in receiving with five catches for 52 yards, as nine different receivers caught at least one pass.

Michigan held Baylor's top running back, Jerod Douglas, in check throughout the game as he managed just 12 yards on 12 carries. Bears quarterback Jeff Watson compiled 12 of 24 passes for 62 yards. Tommy Hendricks led the Wolverines defense with nine tackles while Sam Sword added six. True freshman DeWayne Patmon had the lone interception in the game.

Chris Howard rushed for 112 yards on 19 carries.

Anthony Thomas notched his first career 100-yard rushing performance with 122 yards on 21 attempts.

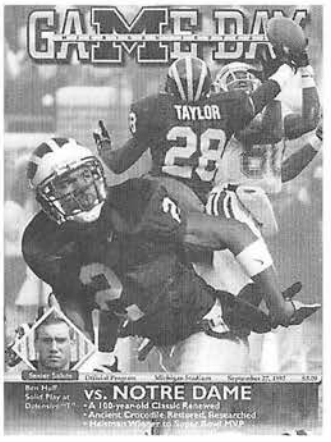
GAME 3

Notre Dame

September 27, 1997
Michigan Stadium, Ann Arbor, MI
Attendance: 106,508

Notre Dame	7	7	0	0-14
Michigan	0	7	14	0-21



Ann Arbor -- Michigan's defense made the big plays in the fourth quarter as the sixth-ranked Wolverines prevailed, 21-14, over Notre Dame in the 27th meeting between the two schools.

The Wolverines carried a 21-14 lead into the fourth quarter and looked to its defense to maintain the lead. After an Aaron Shea fumble, Notre Dame took over on the Michigan 47, where the Irish quickly moved the ball down inside the 10-yard line. On third and goal from the Michigan nine-yard line, Notre Dame quarterback Ron Powlus was pressured by an aggressive U-M pass rush and Tommy Hendricks made a diving interception in the end zone to maintain the seven point edge.

U-M fumbled again on its next possession, but once again the Wolverines defense lived up to the challenge as Notre Dame, after taking over on the Michigan 42-yard line, could not sustain a drive and had to punt.

However, on the next, and third straight possession, Notre Dame recovered a fumble inside Michigan territory and took over on the U-M 28 yard line. With under four minutes left in the game, Notre Dame was faced with fourth and two from the Michigan 20, but Glen Steele and James Hall combined on the biggest tackle of the game, stopping Notre Dame running back Autry Denson for no gain, and giving U-M possession of the ball. The Wolverines led by Chris Howard, were able to run out the last 3:26 of the clock to win its third straight game of the 1997 season.

Michigan trailed 14-7 at the half, but came out of the locker-room on fire. Following a 28-yard Clarence Williams kick-off return to the U-M 44 yard line, Brian Griese found Tai Streets for a 15-yard completion. On the next play, Griese found Streets, who outraced the Irish defenders for a 41-yard touchdown, his first of the season, to tie the game at 14.

Charles Woodson set up Michigan's next drive with a 20-yard punt return. Taking over at the Notre Dame 42-yard line, Michigan drove 42 yards in seven plays for the games decisive touchdown. Fullback Chris Floyd capped the drive with a 14-yard run.

Notre Dame was the first team to score in the first game between the two rivals since Remy Hamilton's late field goal gave the Wolverines a 26-24 victory in 1994. For the first time in the season, the Michigan defense gave up a touchdown as Ron Powlus found Bobby Brown for a 15-yard touchdown with 3:16 left in the first quarter as Notre Dame took a 7-0 lead. The Wolverines came back on the next drive to tie the game as Clarence Williams scored his first touchdown of the season on a four-yard run.

Notre Dame was able to drive 98 yards on 11 plays on its last possession of the first half as Tony Driver scored on a two yard touchdown run to give the Irish a 14-7 lead heading into the lockerroom.

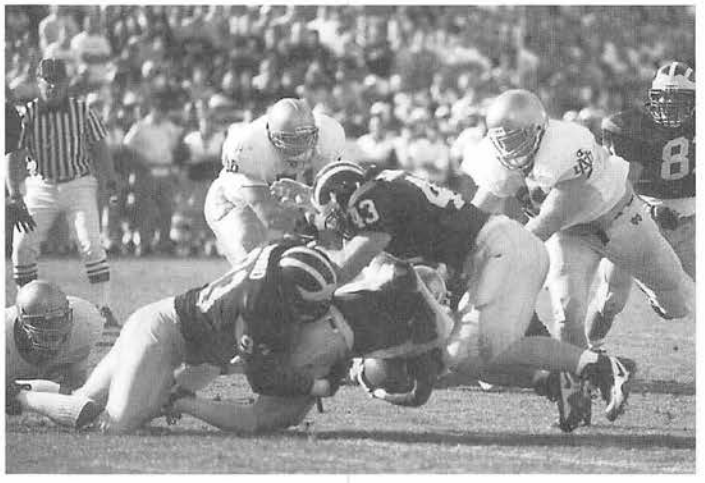
With the victory, Lloyd Carr, in his third year as Michigan head coach, remained undefeated in the 10 games he's coached in the month of September. The victory also marked Carr's 20th career victory as coach of the Wolverines.

The Michigan offense was balanced with 168 yards gained on the ground and 177 yards through the air. Griese had another solid effort at quarterback, completing 16 of his 22 passes for 177 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions. Floyd had four catches for 35 yards, Williams had four receptions for 23 yards, and Streets totaled 77 yards on three catches to lead the Wolverines. Howard was the leading rusher with 91 yards on 16 carries while Floyd ran seven times for 41 yards and Williams gained 28 yards on six runs.

Michigan had three defenders reach double-figures in tackles, led by Sam Sword with 15, Eric Mayes with 14, and Marcus Ray with 11. Hendricks had Michigan's lone interception while the Wolverines defense was held without a sack.

Michigan marched undefeated through the three-game portion of its non-conference schedule, the third year in a row that U-M was undefeated prior to Big Ten play.

Clarence Williams scored his first TD of 1997 on a four-yard run in the second quarter.



Sam Sword registered a game and season-high 15 tackles against Notre Dame.

Bloomington, IN — It was homecoming in Bloomington, but the Wolverines made sure that Hoosier alumni did not go home with smiles on their faces, as Michigan opened the Big Ten schedule with a 37-0 win over the Hoosiers. With the win, U-M leads the all-time series 43-9, and has won eight straight and 23 of the last 24 meetings.

Both Michigan and Indiana started slowly by trading punts on their opening possessions. The Wolverines converted on their second possession as place-kicker Kraig Baker kicked a 27-yard field goal to give U-M a 3-0 lead. The drive was aided by senior fullback Chris Floyd's 43-yard catch and run off a screen pass from quarterback Brian Griese.

Michigan took control of the game late in the first quarter. Senior defensive end Glen Steele recovered a Jay Rodgers' fumble late in the first quarter, leading to senior tailback Chris Howard's three-yard touchdown run 1:30 into the second quarter. The TD capped a 12-play, 87-yard drive that gave Michigan a 10-0 edge.

Howard's 16th career TD (13th rushing) was the start of Michigan's most productive offensive quarter of the season as the Wolverines would tally 28 second quarter points on four touchdowns.

On the next Michigan possession, Griese hooked up with junior Tai Streets for an 18-yard touchdown pass. Streets' TD was his second scoring reception of the season and fourth of his career. The pass gave Griese five touchdowns on the season, 21 on his career, and at least one touchdown pass in his last six games.

As they did all game, Michigan's defense stepped forward again, holding Indiana on a fourth-and-one run to give the offense the ball on Indiana's 41-yard line. With the aid of two pass interference calls, the Wolverines drove to the IU 14, where freshman Anthony Thomas followed fellow classman Ray Jackson around the left end for his second career score.

The defense again came through with a big play as junior All-American Charles Woodson intercepted a Rodgers pass. Woodson's second interception of the season set up freshman Patrick McCall's first career touchdown run. McCall scampered three yards into the endzone to give Michigan a 31-0 halftime edge.

With a comfortable lead, the Wolverines were able to showcase some of its future performers throughout the second half. "Everybody played and I think that's always a positive," Head Coach Lloyd Carr said. "We got some young guys some more experience and that bodes well for the future."

Michigan's only points of the second half came on two Baker field goals, while back-up quarterbacks Tom Brady and Jason Kapsner combined to complete 7 of 10 passes for 79 yards.

Griese, who only played one series in the second half, was named the Player of the Game by ESPN-regional. The fifth-year senior connected on 16 of his 26 passes for 204 yards, moving him into seventh place on the program's career passing yards list with 2,898 yards.

Senior co-captain Eric Mayes suffered a season-and-career ending knee injury in the first half of the game.

Brian Griese went 16-of-26 for 204 yards against Indiana.

Ann Arbor — The sixth-ranked Wolverines' dominating defense and the combination of Brian Griese to Jerame Tuman were more than enough to make sure there would be no upset this year for Northwestern as Michigan rolled to a 23-6 victory over the upset-minded Wildcats.

The Michigan defense, allowing just five points per game coming into the contest, once again did not give up a touchdown to the opposition, the fourth time in the first five games that an opposing team did not find the end zone.

Northwestern, winner of the last two meetings between the two teams, looked to pull off another upset by getting on the scoreboard first. On its first possession, Northwestern drove all the way from its own 15 yard line to the U-M 6 yard line. But after a holding penalty pushed the Wildcats back 11 yards, Josh Williams came up with two nine-yard sacks on consecutive plays to force a field goal attempt from 52 yards out. Brian Gowins nailed the long try to put Northwestern up, 3-0, with 6:21 left in the first quarter.

Michigan tied up the game at 3-3 on its second possession of the game, keyed by a 37-yard pass from Griese to Tuman on a third and three play from the NU 45-yard line. Kraig Baker put a 19-yard kick through the uprights to even the score with 13:25 remaining in second quarter.

On the ensuing kick-off, the Wildcats' Aaron Burrell got hit hard by DeWayne Patmon. Burrell fumbled and kicker Jay Feely recovered to give Michigan possession on the Northwestern 36-yard line. Eight plays later, Baker hit a 23-yard field goal to put Michigan up 6-3 with 10:02 left in the half.

The Michigan defense held Northwestern to three and out on its next series, forcing a Tim Hughes punt. The punt traveled 71 yards, forcing Michigan to start its next drive from its own 10-yard line. Michigan drove 90 yards in 16 plays, capped off by a Tuman catch from Griese for a 10-yard TD to put the Wolverines up, 13-3. Clarence Williams had a key seven-yard catch and run on a third and six from the Michigan 24 to keep the drive alive.

U-M headed into the locker-room at halftime with the 13-3 advantage. Northwestern scored the only points of the third quarter on a 42-yard Gowins field goal to cut the Michigan lead to 13-6.

The Wolverines started the fourth quarter with the ball on its own 30-yard line and drove 70 yards for another touchdown. On second and goal from the Northwestern two-yard line, Griese eluded Kevin Buck and found Tuman in the end zone for the score, increasing the lead to 20-6.

On the first play of Northwestern's next drive, Charles Woodson intercepted a Tim Hughes pass, setting up a 26-yard Baker field goal. The points secured the final margin of victory, 23-6.

Michigan totaled 385 yards, 141 yards on the ground and 244 yards through the air, while limiting the Wildcats to 170 total yards, including a mere 35 yards rushing. Griese had another solid day at quarterback, completing 23 of 36 passes for 244 yards, two touchdowns, and no interceptions. Tuman was on the receiving end with five catches for 79 yards and two touchdowns, while Russell Shaw added five catches for 44 yards. Chris Howard led the running attack with 90 yards on 18 carries.

Defensively, Dhani Jones, replacing the injured Eric Mayes at inside linebacker, led the way with 11 tackles and a sack. Marcus Ray had six tackles while Josh Williams added five tackles to go along with two sacks. Woodson had three tackles, a sack, and an interception to go along with the 30-yard reception.

Tight end Jerame Tuman collected his first career two touchdown game against the Wildcats.

Chris Howard had a team-leading 18 carries for 90 yards against the Wildcats.

Ann Arbor - No. 5 Michigan (6-0 overall, 3-0 Big Ten) overcame a 21-7 half-time deficit to No. 15 Iowa (4-2, 1-2) to defeat the Hawkeyes 28-24 and remain unbeaten. The Wolverines were led by another dominating defensive performance which allowed Iowa 187 yards on 52 plays.

After Iowa's Tavian Banks scored on a 53-yard run to open the scoring with 13:29 left in the second quarter, the Wolverines came back to tie the game at seven as Brian Griese found Tai Streets in the end zone for a 15-yard touchdown with 4:53 to go in the half.

The Hawkeyes scored two TDs in the last three minutes of the first half to go into the lockerroom up 21-7. After Ed Gibson returned a Griese interception 64 yards to the U-M one-yard line, Michael Burger ran it in to give the Hawkeyes the 13-7 lead (James Hall blocked the extra point). On the last play of the half, Tim Dwight returned a Jason Vinson punt 61 yards for a touchdown and Iowa scored a two-point conversion to end the half leading 21-7.

Michigan came out of the lockerroom and quickly scored a touchdown on its first third quarter possession. Griese found a wide open Russell Shaw in the end zone for a 10-yard score to cut the Hawkeyes lead to 21-14 at the 12:06 mark.

Two possessions later, the Wolverines knotted the game at 21. On the second play of the drive, Anthony Thomas sprung loose for a 58-yard rumble down to the Iowa four. After Thomas was unable to score on second and third down from the one-yard line, Griese opted to keep the ball and scored on a one-yard dive to tie the game.

Dwight returned the ensuing kick-off to the U-M 26-yard line, but the Wolverines defense held Iowa to a 38-yard field goal from Zach Bromert. The Hawkeyes carried the 24-21 lead into the fourth quarter, the first time all season that Michigan trailed heading into the final quarter.

The Wolverines took over on its own 23-yard line with 7:25 left in the game. On third-and-16, Griese's pass for Streets was incomplete, but an Iowa pass interference call gave 'M' new life. On third-and-five from the 35-yard line, Griese found Tuman for a 20-yard gain and another first down. Griese and Tuman hooked up again on the very next play for a 15-yard gain to bring the ball down to the Iowa 30-yard line. Four Thomas runs for 20 yards and a Hawkeyes personal foul later, the Wolverines had the ball down to the two-yard line. Griese rolled right on third-and-goal and found a wide open Tuman for the touchdown to put Michigan up 28-24 with 2:55 left, capping off the comeback.

The Hawkeyes converted on two third down tries its next possession, bringing the ball to the U-M 26 yard line. However, Iowa's quarterback Matt Sherman was heavily pressured and subsequently intercepted by Sam Sword. Griese had to kneel down twice and Michigan came away with the hard fought victory, 28-24.

Griese struggled in the first half, throwing three interceptions, but had a big second half. He ended up completing 15 of 26 passes for 165 yards and three touchdowns. Tuman, had seven catches for 85 yards to once again lead the team. The Michigan defense held Sherman to eight completions on 21 attempts for 86 yards and three interceptions.

Thomas came to life in the second half after gaining 36 yards in the first half. For the game, Thomas totaled 129 yards on 20 carries, while Chris Howard added 81 yards on 13 carries. The Wolverines held Banks, the leading rusher in the nation to 99 yards on 19 carries. Banks went over the 1,000 yard plateau in the game on just his 125th carry of the season, the fewest number of rushes it has ever taken a back to gain 1,000 yards in college football history.

Defensively, Dhani Jones paced the Wolverines with nine tackles and a sack. Sword had six tackles and an interception while Marcus Ray intercepted Sherman twice.

Sam Sword preserved the 28-24 victory with an interception in the final seconds.

East Lansing, MI - The fifth-ranked Michigan Wolverines continued their quest for a Big Ten Championship as they defeated intrastate rivals Michigan State 23-7. The win broke a five-game streak in which the home team won the Michigan-Michigan State game. The ninth-largest crowd all-time at Spartan Stadium — 79,687 fans — witnessed the Wolverines defense continue their dominance on opposing quarterbacks as they picked off two different Spartan quarterbacks for a combined six interceptions.

Michigan opened the scoring as placekicker Kraig Baker connected on a 30-yard field goal to give the Wolverines an early 3-0 lead. Michigan State wasted little time in answering the Michigan scoring drive. Sophomore running back Sedrick Irvin scored on a first quarter fake field goal to answer the Wolverine score and grab a 7-3 edge. The trick play that led to the Spartans TD would prove to be their only points as the Wolverines scored 20 unanswered and put the clamps on the MSU offense.

The Michigan defense went on the attack in the second quarter as Marcus Ray made the first of his two picks off MSU quarterback Todd Schultz. As U-M's offense sputtered, the game continued to be a battle of punts. After a Spartan punt to the five-line, Michigan took over with 5:36 remaining in the half. The Wolverines put together a well engineered 95-yard drive sparked by a Chris Howard 51-yard run. Quarterback Brian Griese put Michigan ahead for good, 10-7, scoring on a one-yard lunge.

In the second half, the Michigan defense continued to come up big. Cornerback Andre Weathers picked off a Schultz pass on the Spartans first possession of the third quarter that would lead to a Baker 30-yard field-goal, giving Michigan a 13-7 lead.

After both teams traded punts, cornerback Charles Woodson came up with the first of his two interceptions, making a spectacular, one-handed grab off a Schultz pass. He would strike again, on the very next possession, making his second interception deep in Spartan territory (31-yard line). The pick-off led to a two-yard Howard touchdown run that extended Michigan's lead to 20-7.

Baker closed the scoring as he connected on a 27-yard field-goal with 7:40 remaining to secure the Michigan win. Senior tailback Howard led the Wolverines' attack with 110 yards and one touchdown on 21 carries.

Defensively, Woodson and Ray each collected two interceptions in the game. Michigan's six total interceptions tied a school record set on three previous occasions. The last time the Wolverines' intercepted six opponent passes was Sept. 8, 1984 when U-M picked off six Bernie Kosar passes in a 22-14 victory against No. 1 Miami (Fla.).

The Michigan defense continued its second half dominance versus the opposition holding Michigan State to 83 yards (20 rushing and 63 passing). Sam Sword led the charge with 12 total tackles (11 solo, one assist).

Minnesota	3	0	0	0-3
Michigan	0	14	7	3-24

Ann Arbor - The fourth-ranked Michigan Wolverines dominated the Minnesota Gophers on both sides of the ball en route to winning its eighth straight game of the season, 24-3. In doing so, the Wolverines won the battle with the Gophers for the Little Brown Jug for the 11th straight time.

The only points the Wolverines surrendered came on Minnesota's first possession of the game. The Gophers went 71 yards in nine plays and Adam Bailey kicked a 27-yard field goal to give Minnesota a 3-0 lead with 10:49 in the first quarter.

Michigan scored on its second possession of the game after taking over on the Gopher's 49-yard line. On the first play of the second quarter, Chris Howard took the hand-off from Brian Griese and gave it to Charles Woodson, who went around left end for an electrifying 33-yard touchdown scamper. Woodson's first rushing touchdown of the season gave the Wolverines the 7-3 lead with 14:51 left in the first half.

The Wolverines added another touchdown two possessions later. After Woodson returned a punt 11 yards to Minnesota's 37-yard line, Griese found a wide open Anthony Thomas for a 28-yard gain. After Thomas lost three yards, Griese hooked up with tight end Mark Campbell for a 12-yard touchdown to put the Wolverines on top 14-3 with 7:58 to go in the half.

The Maize and Blue threatened again at the end of the first half, but Griese's pass to Tai Streets in the end zone was intercepted by Jimmy Wyrick with 48 seconds left, sending the Wolverines to the locker-room with a 14-3 advantage.

Michigan increased the lead to 21-3 on its second possession of the second half. Keyed by a Campbell 24-yard reception, the Wolverines drove to the Minnesota 29-yard line where Thomas took the hand-off and scampered down the right side for a touchdown with 7:49 left in the third quarter.

The final score of the game came in the fourth quarter as Kraig Baker made up for an earlier missed field goal by nailing a 31-yard attempt to put the Wolverines up, 24-3.

The Wolverines came into the game with the top pass efficiency defense and scoring defense in the nation and dominated the Gophers from start to finish, holding an opponent under 10 points for the sixth time. Minnesota was limited to 90 yards on the ground and were limited to only 12 yards in the air. Sam Sword led the defensive with 11 tackles, including five for a loss, and two sacks. Ian Gold added six tackles while Rob Renes and Tommy Hendricks each had five. Michigan pressured the Minnesota quarterbacks, Cory Sauter and Billy Cockerham (a combined 3-11 for 12 yards) coming up with five sacks and many forced incompletions.

Michigan had a balanced offensive attack, gaining 204 yards on the ground and passing for 190 yards. Griese threw for 171 yards on 27 attempts with one touchdown and one interception. Campbell and Aaron Shea, filling in for tight end Jerame Tuman, who sat out the game with the flu, each had three receptions for the Wolverines. Howard, coming off a big performance the previous week at Michigan State, sparkled again gaining 98 yards on 20 carries while catching four passes for 40 yards. Thomas gained 39 yards on 10 carries and caught three passes for 43 yards.

Sam Sword notched two sacks, 11 tackles and five tackles for loss against the Gophers.

Attendance: 97,498

Michigan	10	14	10	0-34
Penn St.	0	0	0	8-8

State College, PA - Michigan went into Happy Valley as the underdog, but raced out leaving no doubters following a 34-8 thrashing of the Nittany Lions. After losses the last three years to Penn State, the Wolverines dominated both sides of the ball in toppling the second-ranked Nittany Lions in front of a record crowd of 97,498 fans at Beaver Stadium. Michigan handed Penn State its worst home loss ever in Joe Paterno's 32 years as head coach and fourth worst loss in the Nittany Lions' history.

Michigan came out firing on its first possession. Starting on its own 35, the Maize and Blue moved the ball to the Penn State 48-yard line, but on third-and-16, Brian Griese's pass was incomplete. However, Penn State was penalized for roughing the passer, giving Michigan new life. After moving the ball down to the Penn State 12-yard line, the Wolverines got on the scoreboard as Kraig Baker nailed a 29-yard field goal to put U-M up 3-0 with 8:52 left in the first quarter.

Michigan set the tone defensively on Penn State's first possession as Glen Steele and Juaquin Feazell each had sacks to force the Nittany Lions to punt after just three plays. Following the PSU punt, Michigan started with good field position on its own 45-yard line. After driving deep into Nittany Lion territory, Anthony Thomas raced around the right end for a 12-yard touchdown to give the Wolverines a 10-0 lead with 4:41 still to go in the first quarter.

Two possessions later, the Wolverines struck once again. Starting from the Michigan 20-yard line, Griese was forced from the pocket, but he scrambled for a career-long 40-yard gain. Two plays later, Griese hooked up with a wide open Charles Woodson for a 37-yard score to give U-M a 17-0 lead with 11:07 left in the first half.

Michigan increased the lead to 24-0 on its next possession. Starting from its own 43-yard line, the Wolverines traveled 57 yards in 11 plays, culminating in a eight-yard touchdown throw from Griese to tight end Jerame Tuman.

After going into the locker-room up 24-0 at half-time, Michigan didn't let up in the third quarter. Chris Howard raced 29 yards for another Maize and Blue touchdown and Baker hit a 42-yard field goal to increase the Wolverines lead to 34-0 heading into the fourth quarter.

Penn State did manage a touchdown in the fourth quarter as Curtis Enis scored from a yard out and caught the two point conversion to cut the deficit to 34-8. The Nittany Lions touchdown broke Michigan's streak of games without allowing a fourth quarter score, but it didn't matter as Michigan held Penn State from scoring again.

Michigan head coach, Lloyd Carr, was proud of his team's performance on both sides of the ball, saying, "This is the best our offense has played all year. Everybody was talking about the matchup with our defense against their offense but our offense has been on the verge of breaking through which they did today... Our defense was tremendous and I would not have guessed our defense would do as well as they did because Penn State's offense is so physical."

U-M controlled the ball for nearly 34 minutes, gaining 265 yards on the ground and 151 yards via the air. Griese had another solid game, completing 14 of 22 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns while gaining 46 yards on the ground in just five carries. Howard and Tuman each had four catches for the Wolverines for 41 and 39 yards, respectively. Howard also gained 120 yards on 22 carries while scoring a touchdown and Thomas ran 12 times for 40 yards and a touchdown.

Defensively, the Wolverines gave up 169 yards of total offense to the Nittany Lions. Enis became the first runner to gain 100 yards against the Michigan defense this season with 103 yards on 18 carries, with 47 of those yards came during the fourth quarter with the game already in hand for the Wolverines. Dhani Jones led the Wolverines with eight tackles and a sack, while Sam Sword added seven tackles. Josh Williams had two sacks to go along with his four tackles, while Marcus Ray had Michigan's lone interception.

Chris Howard carried 22 times for 120 yards and made four receptions for 41 yards against Penn State.

GAME 10

Wisconsin

November 15, 1997
Camp Randall Stadium, Madison, WI
Attendance: 79,806

Michigan	7	9	0	10-26
Wisconsin	0	3	7	6-16

Madison, WI - The top-ranked Michigan Wolverines utilized a balanced offensive attack in defeating Wisconsin, 26-16, on a snowy, cold Saturday afternoon in Madison.

The Wolverines took the fourth-largest crowd in Camp Randall Stadium history (79,806) out of the game early, driving 80 yards on the opening drive for a 7-0 lead. Michigan scored on a one-yard Chris Howard fourth-down run. The 13-play drive was aided by a 28-yard throwback pass from Charles Woodson to quarterback Brian Griese that went to the Badgers one-yard line.

The Michigan defense asserted itself early, holding the Wisconsin offense to successive series without a first down. After holding the Badgers on their third drive of the game, the Michigan offense took over from its own 22-yard line.

The Wolverines struck quickly, marching 78-yards in 1:18, ending with a 38-yard touchdown pass from Griese to wide receiver Tai Streets, giving Michigan a 13-0 edge. Kraig Baker had his consecutive string of 31 extra points snapped as he missed left.

Trailing 13-0, Wisconsin took the ensuing kickoff and put together a 14-play, 62-yard drive that ended with a 33-yard Matt Davenport field goal. Badgers' running back Carl McCullough carried the ball 10 times for 45 yards on the drive.

Michigan would answer the Wisconsin field goal with one of its own, an 18-yarder by Jay Feely. The 10-play, 73-yard drive was aided by a 39-yard pass from Griese to wide receiver Russell Shaw that went to the Badger one-yard line. Michigan was unable to punch the ball over the goal line from the one and settled for the field goal and a 16-3 halftime lead.

Wisconsin tried to drive the length of the field before the half ended but Woodson intercepted a Mike Samuel pass to send both teams to the locker-room with Michigan holding a 16-3 edge. It was Woodson's team and conference-leading sixth pick of the season.

Wisconsin took the second half kickoff and cut the Michigan lead to 16-10 with a methodical 11-play, 80-yard touchdown drive. The series ended with a one-yard plunge by quarterback Mike Samuel on third down. The TD was only the second second-half score yielded by the Wolverines defense all season.

After trading punts, Michigan would start its next drive at the eight-yard line. The Wolverines put together a time-consuming, seven-minute and 23-second drive, that led to a 24-yard field goal by Feely. The 19-play, 85-yard drive was kept alive by four consecutive third down conversions, all of which were complete passes by Griese, as Michigan led 19-10.

After holding Wisconsin to three plays and out, the offense took over once again from its 38-yard line. Michigan put the game out of reach with a 62-yard drive that ended in a Chris Howard four-yard touchdown run and a 26-10 lead. Howard carried the ball four times for 39 yards and caught one pass for seven yards on the drive, scoring his second TD of the game.

Wisconsin's Tony Simmons caught a late 21-yard touchdown reception from Samuel to close the gap to 26-16. The Badgers failed on the two-point conversion, and the Wolverines recovered the ensuing on-side kick, sealing the win.

Griese had another solid day for the Wolverines, finishing with 254 yards on 19 of 26 passing, with one touchdown and no interceptions. Wide-out Streets, who had been relatively quiet the previous few weeks, came up big, hauling in five passes for 108 yards, while fellow receiver Shaw grabbed four balls for 68 yards. Howard had his fourth 100-yard game of the season, running for 100 yards and two touchdowns on 26 carries, while classmate Chris Floyd rumbled for 66 yards on six carries.

Defensively, Michigan held Wisconsin in check for most of the game. While the Badgers did put up 154 yards on the ground behind tailback McCullough's 102 yards on 20 carries, Michigan's pass defense was phenomenal once again. Badger quarterback Samuel was under pressure all day, completing just 8 of 22 passes for 81 yards, one touchdown, and one interception.

GAME 11

Ohio State

November 22, 1997
Michigan Stadium, Ann Arbor, MI
Attendance: 106,982

Ohio State	0	0	7	7-14
Michigan	0	13	7	0-20

Ann Arbor - For the first time since the 1992 season, the undefeated, Big Ten Champion Wolverines earned a Rose Bowl bid after a thrilling 20-14 victory over the No. 4 Ohio State Buckeyes. In front of 106,982 fans, the largest crowd in Michigan Stadium history, the Wolverines raced out to a 20-0 lead and survived a Buckeyes comeback to complete its first regular season without a loss or tie since 1971.

Both defenses dominated in the first quarter as neither team could put any points on the board. Finally, on Michigan's sixth possession of the game, the Wolverines got on the scoreboard. After taking over on their own 38-yard line, U-M was faced with a third-and-12 from its own 47-yard line. Brian Griese came through as he dropped back and fired a pass to a wide open Charles Woodson for a 37-yard gain. After Chris Floyd raced for 15-yards, Anthony Thomas scored from a yard out to give the Wolverines a 7-0 lead with 6:22 to go in the first half.

It didn't take long for Woodson and the Wolverines to strike again. After three plays, the Buckeyes were forced to punt. Woodson caught Brent Bartholomew's punt at the U-M 22-yard line, broke a couple of tackles, and took off down the left sideline for a 78-yard touchdown, his first career score on a return. The extra point was blocked, and Michigan had to survive a scare as OSU linebacker, Andy Katzenmoyer, picked up the loose ball and bolted down the sideline towards the end zone before being caught from behind by fifth-year senior Rob Swett.

The Wolverines carried a 13-0 lead into the lockerroom and were 30 minutes away from a victory and a trip to Pasadena.

Things looked good for the Wolverines when Andre Weathers intercepted a Stanley Jackson pass on the first play of OSU's second possession of the third quarter and ran it all the way back for a 43-yard touchdown. The defensive score increased the lead to 20-0 with 10:29 to go in the third quarter.

But the Buckeyes didn't give up. Two possessions later, Ohio State took over at its own 28 yard line. After a Pepe Pearson run for six yards and a Dee Miller catch for 10 yards, Joe Germaine went deep to David Boston for a 56-yard TD which cut the deficit to 20-7.

The Wolverines carried the 20-7 lead into the fourth quarter, but on its first possession, Griese fumbled on the Michigan seven-yard line and Ohio State recovered and returned the ball to the U-M two-yard line. On the very next play, Pearson scored from two yards out and the Michigan lead was reduced to 20-14 with 13:08 left to go in the game.

But with a Big Ten Championship, Rose Bowl berth, and potential chance at a national championship on the line, the Wolverines defense proved once again why it was best in the nation. After a U-M punt, Ohio State drove from its own 27-yard line to the Michigan 45, but the Wolverines pressured Germaine into two incompletions and forced the Buckeyes to punt.

On the next OSU possession, Glen Steele recorded his second sack of the game on third-and-13, forcing another punt. However, once again, the Michigan offense faltered, so Ohio State got one last chance at the win with 1:35 left in the game from its own 16-yard line. On first down, Steele dropped Germaine for a seven-yard sack. After Woodson broke up Germaine's pass attempt for Miller on second down, Germaine found Boston for a seven-yard reception, bringing up fourth-and-10. When Ian Gold deflected Germaine's intended pass for Boston, the Wolverines sealed a victory and a Rose Bowl appearance.

Griese, playing in his final home game, completed 14-of-25 passes for 147 yards. Thomas caught eight of those balls for 77 yards, plus he ran 14 times for 29 yards and a touchdown. Howard was the only other Wolverine with more than one catch as he had three receptions for seven yards, in addition to seven carries for 12 yards. Chris Floyd led the running attack with 11 carries for 33 yards.

Defensively, Marcus Ray and Rob Renes were each in on a team-high seven tackles. Dhani Jones compiled six tackles, while Steele came up with five tackles. Weathers also had five tackles plus the 43-yard interception return for a TD. Woodson had three tackles, an interception, a 37-yard reception, and 78-yard punt return for a TD.

In victory, Michigan was outgained by 63 yards as the Buckeyes compiled 252 total yards to the Wolverines 189 yards. Michigan had 42 yards on the ground and 147 yards via the air. Ohio State managed 119 yards on the ground, but it took 41 carries for just a 2.9 average per rush attempt. Michigan pressured both Ohio State quarterbacks, Germaine and Jackson, as the duo completed just nine-of-26 passes for 133 yards.

Pasadena, CA - The No. 1-ranked Wolverines laid claim to the national title by winning the Rose Bowl, 21-16, over No. 7/8 Washington State. Michigan finished the season 12-0 and undefeated and untied for the first time since the 1948 National Championship season.

Washington State won the toss and after trading series struck for an early 7-0 advantage. The Cougars gained the lead as quarterback Ryan Leaf hit wide receiver Kevin McKenzie on a 15-yard touchdown pass. The first quarter scoring drive that covered 47 yards in six plays (3:09), was only the third touchdown scored on the Wolverines' during the opening quarter all season.

The Cougars drove deep into the Wolverines territory in the second quarter, but Charles Woodson kept the deficit at seven points with a diving interception in the end zone.

Michigan got on the board as quarterback Brian Griese and wide receiver Tai Streets connected on a 53-yard scoring reception. The three-play, 66-yard drive took 56 seconds and knotted the score at seven, the halftime score.

The Wolverines took the second half kickoff and marched to the Cougars' 37-yard line before the drive was haulted. Senior/junior punter Jason Vinson had his punt downed on the WSU one-yard line, but Leaf led WSU on a 99-yard scoring drive. The Cougars scored on a 14-yard reverse by wide receiver Michael Tims as the Cougars drive took 3:45. Michigan's James Hall kept the deficit at 13-7 when he blocked the extra point attempt.

Michigan responded immediately as Griese and Streets connected on a 58-yard pass play, the longest score of the season, giving the Wolverines' a 14-13 edge (with placekicker Kraig Baker's extra point conversion). The seven-play, 80-yard scoring drive took 3:26.

After the stingy Wolverine defense held the Cougars offense, the Michigan offense used one of its patented time-consuming drives to take a 21-13 lead. Griese rolled right and hit tight end Jerame Tuman on a 23-yard TD reception. The 14-play scoring drive took 5:25 off the clock. The Wolverines managed four first downs on the drive and converted twice on third down.

On its next possession, Washington State managed a 48-yard field goal by Rian Lindell. The scoring drive carried 49 yards (eight plays and 3:56).

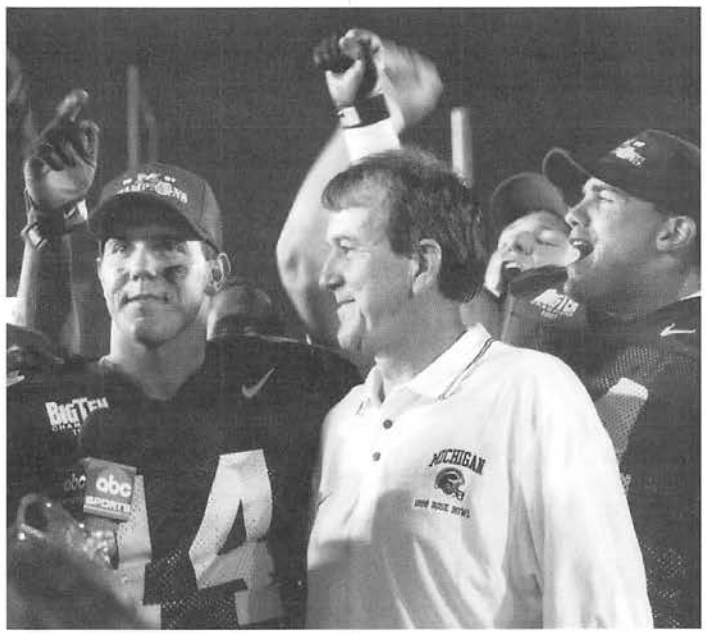
The Wolverines iced the contest as they chewed up all but the final 29 seconds. Taking over on their 19-yard line after the Cougars' field goal, Michigan ran 16 plays which used 6:56. After lining up for a potential 47-yard field goal, placekicker Jay Feely received the direct snap and proceeded to pooch punt the ball to the WSU seven-yard line.

The Cougars attempted to score a last second victory taking over on their seven-yard line. After two incomplete passes and a delay of game penalty, Leaf connected with Nian Taylor on a 46-yard reception. Washington State was assessed a five-yard delay of game penalty on the next play, moving the ball back to the WSU 48-yard line. Leaf hit Love Jefferson who lateralled the ball to Jason Clayton for a 36-yard gain. With the ball on the Michigan 16-yard line, Leaf's attempted to stop of the clock was thwarted as the time ran out and Michigan claimed the Rose Bowl title.

Griese was named the Rose Bowl Most Valuable Player after throwing a Michigan Rose Bowl record three touchdowns. He completed 18 of 30 passes for 251 yards. His 18 completions were the most by a Michigan quarterback in a Rose Bowl.

Streets led the team in receiving as he hauled in 127 yards on four receptions, including a career-best two touchdowns. His TD's of 53 and 58 yards were the two longest by the Wolverines all season. Michigan gained 128 yards rushing and 251 passing for a game total of 379 total offense.

Defensively, Dhani Jones sacked Ryan Leaf twice (minus 11 yards) and led the team with 10 total tackles (six solo, four assists). Tommy Hendricks totaled seven tackles (five solo, two assists). Heisman Trophy winner Woodson intercepted the team's only pass and tied for second all-time in the Michigan single-game record book with four passes broken-up.



Brian Griese was named the Rose Bowl MVP after passing for 251 yards and three touchdowns.

"The Big Game"

A Legendary Rivalry in College Football

The winner of the annual rivalry between Michigan and Ohio State does not receive a trophy for the triumph. Rather, there is usually something much bigger on the line when these two teams match up, be it a conference title, a Rose Bowl berth or even a national championship. In a series that dates back to 1897, Michigan and Ohio State have met on the gridiron 94 times, ranking it tied for 17th amongst Division I-A most played rivalries. The Buckeyes and Wolverines have played every year since 1918, an 80-year streak which ranks 10th in NCAA Division I-A for longest uninterrupted series.

Since the game was moved to the final Saturday of the Big Ten season in 1935, the game has had the potential for major impact in the Big Ten standings 37 times. This includes 18 contests where the two schools decided the Big Ten champion between themselves. Every season from 1972-81, the Michigan-Ohio State game determined which team would take a New Year's trip to Pasadena.

While Michigan holds a 54-34-6 edge over Ohio State in the series, the advantage is just 42-34-4 since 1918. This includes a 20-17-1 Michigan record at Ohio Stadium, where the Wolverines played and won the dedication game in 1922 and a 19-14-3 Michigan lead at Michigan Stadium, where the Buckeyes were invited for the dedication game in 1927.

Since 1927, the teams have been so evenly matched that neither one has compiled anything longer than a four-game winning streak in the matchup. In fact, in the last 17 meetings between the Buckeyes and the Wolverines, the team that entered the game with a lower winning percentage has recorded a record of 8-8-1 (the teams came in with equal records in 1983). In the last 10 games where exactly one team has come in without a loss, that team has only left with its record unblemished four times (Ohio State in 1979 and Michigan in 1971, 1992 and 1997).

Since the Ohio Stadium dedication game in 1922, 6,353,157 fans have seen the Wolverines and Buckeyes meet on the gridiron. Forty-eight of those 76 games have been sold out, including the last 30 in a row. Since 1922, more people have attended Michigan-Ohio State games than any other gridiron matchup in the country.

After becoming an All-American player and serving as an assistant coach for the Wolverines, Lansing native Harry Kipke (far left) began his head coaching career at Michigan State University in 1928. Kipke returned to Ann Arbor as Michigan's head coach in 1929, a position he would maintain until 1937.

Fielding Yost

Michigan and Nebraska have a unique connection dating back to the early days of college football. Nebraska's first official head coach was Frank Crawford in 1893, who had been a part of Michigan's original coaching duo in 1891. Crawford was replaced at Nebraska by Charles Thomas, a guard on Michigan's teams of 1891 and 1892 and who had served as an assistant coach under Crawford since his graduation. Thomas took over the reins as Nebraska's head coach for the 1895 season.

In 1898, Fielding Yost stepped in to lead the Huskers. Yost, who three years later would begin his storied Wolverine coaching career, compiled an 8-3 record in his only season at the helm.

In 1919, Henry Shulte, a guard on Michigan's national championship teams of 1903 and 1904 as a well as 1905, took over as coach of Nebraska. He led the Huskers to an 8-6-3 record over two seasons, but is more well known as a track coach, guiding the NU track team to 15 conference titles in 20 years.

A standout quarterback on Michigan's national championship team of 1948, Pete Elliott became the fifth person to become part of both Wolverine and Husker football history when he took the top spot as Nebraska in 1956. At just 29 years of age, Elliott was the youngest coach in the modern history of Nebraska. He compiled a 4-6 record in just one season before going west to take the head coaching position at California.

CONQUERING

All-Americans

William Cunningham, Center
Michigan's first All American, chosen by Caspar Whitney, who actually started the All-American selections, preceding Walter Camp. Recommended by Amos Alonzo Stagg after his great performance in the Chicago game of 1898, won by Michigan, 12-11. It was this contest that inspired Louis Elbel to write The Victors, greatest of all college marching songs.

Neil W. Snow, End
Michigan's second All-American, chosen by Caspar Whitney. Captain of the 1900 team that climaxed an undefeated season by winning the first Tournament of Roses game, January 1, 1902, under Coach Fielding Yost. Snow earned 10 letters at Michigan in football, baseball, and track. Chosen All Western end four seasons although he played fullback as well. Selected by National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

1903,04
William M. Heston, Halfback
The third Michigan player to be named to the All-American team, and the first to be chosen by Walter Camp. Heston was also chosen on several All-Time All-American teams. Unequalled at hitting a line, he was also one of the fastest starters in football. Scored more than 70 touchdowns as he spearheaded Michigan's "point-a-minute" teams from 1901 through 1904. Named to both the National and Michigan Hall of Fame list.

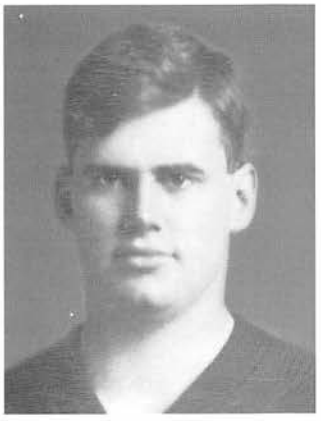
Adolph G. (Germany) Schulz, Center
First of the roving centers, Germany dropped back on defense to plug holes anywhere in the line. Although chosen All American in 1907, his play against Pennsylvania in 1908, earned him the praise of Coach Fielding Yost, who said, "He gave the greatest one-man exhibition of courage I ever saw on a football field." Schulz limited the great Quaker team to a single touchdown before injuries put him out at the half and Michigan was overwhelmed. A National Hall of Fame selection. Chosen on the All-Time All-American team in 1951.



1909,10
Albert Benbrook, Guard
Called the first of the great running guards by the critics. Despite his giant 240 pound frame, Benbrook moved with cat-like quickness and was faster than most backs. Walter Camp, choosing him twice commented: "He leads his mates across the line with his quick, ripping charge that simply smothers the opposition. A tremendous player."

Germany Schulz

Stanfield Wells, End
A great wingman, he was, strangely enough, Michigan's first forward passer of note. In a time when the pass was considered risky and unorthodox, he threw spectacular passes and then dove across the goal line to score the winning touchdown himself against Minnesota in 1910. "Wells is not only a first class end but a starting back as well," wrote Camp.

James Craig, Halfback
Noted chiefly as a ball-carrier, he also was an excellent defensive back. An outstanding player and a letterman in 1911 and 1912, as a senior. Craig was a member of Camp's All-American backfield along with Eddie Mahan and Charles Brickley of Harvard and Huntington of Army. He is a brother of Ralph Craig, Olympic trackman, who later became an Olympian as a yachtsman as well.

Miller Pontius, Tackle
A teammate of Jimmy Craig, Miller "Brute" Pontius became an All-American tackle after earning All-Western honors at end in 1912. Greatest game perhaps was against Pennsylvania in 1913, when Collier's Magazine's football expert said of him, "He was aggressive against Pennsylvania, playing both end and tackle. He showed a thorough knowledge of the game and always crashed into the point of rival attacks."

John Maulbetsch, Halfback
"Maulie" was a true Ann Arbor product, starring at Ann Arbor High before becoming Michigan's ninth All-American. The "German Bullet" weighed but 153 pounds, but generated amazing power and speed. He outgained the entire Harvard backfield in 1914 although Michigan lost. Camp picked him over Crimson Tack Hardwick and Ring Lardner wrote: "If anyone tells you the East plays the best brand of football, Maulbetsch shot that theory full of holes."

Ernest Allmendinger, Guard
Quick and powerful, "Aqua" often led interference from his guard position. A teammate of Johnny Maulbetsch both at Ann Arbor High School and Michigan in 1911-12-13, he later joined two other Michigan men, Cedric Smith and Frank Culver, on Camp's 1917 All-America Service Eleven. One of "Aqua's" greatest games helped bring Michigan a 17-0 victory over Cornell in 1913.

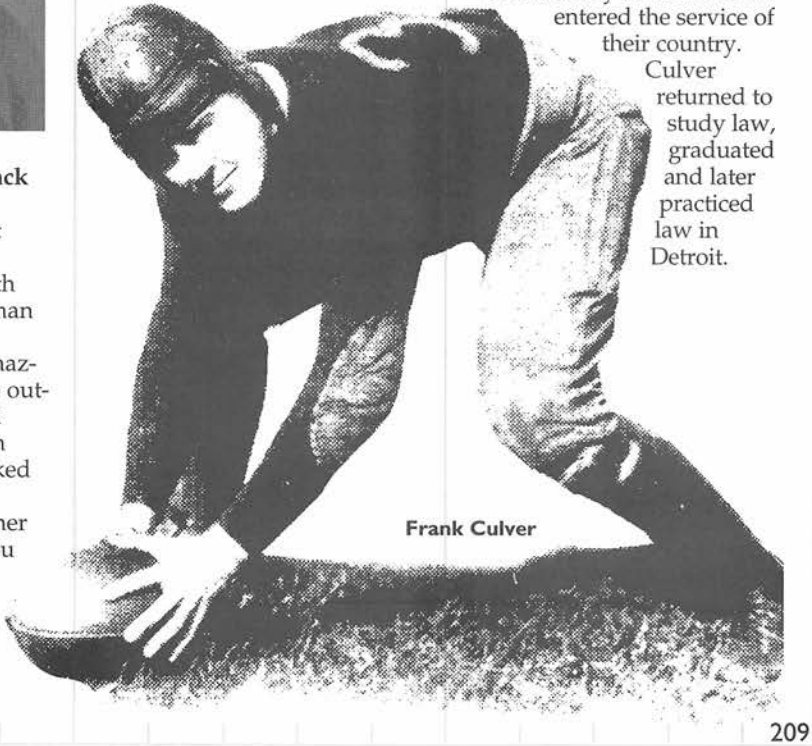
Cedric Smith, Fullback
"Pat" was captain of Michigan's 1917 team, the same year he was named fullback on the All-America chosen by Walter Camp. Joining the Navy in 1917 for World War I service, he later transferred to the Army Air Force and played for Selfridge Field. Returned to Michigan following his service career, he graduated in 1919 and later played professional football for the Massilon, O., and Buffalo, N.Y. teams against the famous Jim Thorpe and the Canton Bulldogs.

1917
Frank Culver, Guard
Chosen as tackle on a number of "all" teams as well, this versatile 195 pounder played guard and center for Michigan in 1917. This Wolverine team won eight and lost two games before many of its members entered the service of their country. Culver returned to study law, graduated and later practiced law in Detroit.



Frank Culver

Frank Steketee, Fullback
He became Michigan's second successive All-American fullback as he sparked his team to an undefeated and untied season. A great punter and field goal kicker, "Stek" also was a line-plunger of note. His place-kicks defeated both Syracuse and Illinois. Following World War I, he returned to star again in 1920 and 1921, defeating Minnesota with three place-kicks and a touchdown.

Paul Goebel, End
An excellent example of a man who carried gridiron success into late life, the Grand Rapids athlete entered Michigan in 1919, started at end and played every game. He continued through 1921 as an outstanding all-around wingman. A brilliant student, later an engineer and businessman, he also became a Big Ten official, a University Regent, member of the Athletic Board. During World War II, he served as Lieutenant Commander on an aircraft carrier.

Harry Kipke, Halfback
One of Michigan's few nine letterman in football, basketball, and baseball. Kipke was a brilliant performer in all the three sports. One of the Wolverine all-time greats as a punter, he booted with amazing accuracy. Following graduation in 1923, he had a highly successful life as a football coach, winning four Big Ten titles at Michigan, as a businessman, a Regent, and Civic leader. National Football Hall of fame and Michigan Hall of Fame member.

Jack Blott, Center
Another of Michigan's great centers, he also was a talented dropkicker, breaking up several games with his timely kicks. After graduation he coached lines on Kipke's championship teams and later served in the same capacity on Michigan's Rose Bowl teams of 1947 and 1950 and on the national championship staff of 1948. Among players he developed were All-American centers Maynard Morrison and Chuck Bernard.

Henry (Ernie) Vick, Center
Following the footsteps of such giant immortals as Cunningham and Schulz, he became one of Michigan's greatest centers despite his comparatively small stature. His terrific tackling and blocking earned him nationwide attention. Walter Camp wrote: "Ernie is the most accurate passer ever to put a ball into play. Dependable under great pressure, a wonderful tackler." Also starred in baseball.

Harry Kipke

Edliff R. Slaughter, Guard
A standout on both offense and defense, he starred on a team that won six and lost only two games in 1924. Selecting him, Walter Camp wrote: "A veteran guard who has always towered in the line. A big man, but extremely active, he provides the pivotal spot upon which a line-plunging attack may rest."

Robert Brown, Center
Captain of 1925 team and held his own among super stars on team. This eleven was called one of the greatest he ever coached by Fielding H. Yost as it won the Conference title. Of Brown he said, "One of the greatest inspirational leaders I have seen." Later, his son led the 1962 Wolverines under Coach Bump Elliott.

1925
Thomas Edwards, Tackle
Regular on 1925 championship team which Fielding Yost considered one of his finest. Two-year letterman who played both offense and defense. Extremely fast and effective on punt coverage.

Harry Hawkins,Tackle
Tackle and guard on Big Ten champions of 1925. Won three letters in football and two in track as a weightman in the latter sport. Graduating from Mechanical engineering in 1926 he became outstanding in the automotive field. In 1957 he was honored by his Alma Mater for his "outstanding achievements and contributions to the development of the field of engineering."

Benny Friedman, Quarterback
One of the greatest passers and quarterbacks to play football. Came off the bench in 1924 to become one of football's immortals. As a sophomore he played only five minutes as Red Grange and Illinois defeated Michigan, then guided the Wolverines to a 3-0 victory over the Illini in 1925. Played 60 minutes of every other game. Earned Chicago Tribune's Silver Football as the Big Ten Conference's MVP in 1926. Later starred for such pro teams as Cleveland, Detroit, New York, and Brooklyn. All-pro quarterback five years. Later entered coaching and then became athletic director of Brandeis University. Selected to both National and Michigan Hall of Fame.

Bennie G. Oosterbaan, End
Michigan's first, and one of only two, three-time All-Americans. Considered one of the greatest pass receivers of his era. Chosen on the All-Time All-American team in 1951. Also a National Football Hall of Fame member with his teammate Benny Friedman to join such other Wolverines preceding him as Snow, Heston, Schulz and Kipke. Named to Michigan Hall of Fame as well. One of the greatest all-around athletes in Big-Ten history, All-American in basketball and All-Conference in baseball as he won nine letters. With Friedman, formed one of footballs foremost passing combinations. Later coached his Alma mater when the Wolverines won or shared Big Ten titles three times, captured the 1951 Rose Bowl and earned national football championship in 1948. Football Coach of the Year in 1948.

Otto Pommerening,Tackle
Came off the bench in 1928 to astound Michigan fans with the finest tackle play of the year to win a berth on Grantland Rice's All-American team. First Wolverine to be chosen at tackle since Pontius in 1913. Practically unanimous choice on every major selection. Regarded as one of the best lineman ever to represent Michigan.

Maynard Morrison, Center
Ranked by his coach, Harry Kipke, as the finest linebacker he ever saw, the stocky 212 pound Morrison stood head and shoulders above all other centers in the nation in 1931, playing on a Conference championship team. "No one ever got past him," Kipke said of the player who was selected by Grantland Rice for his All-American team.

Harry Newman, Quarterback
Analyzing his 1932 All-Americans, Grantland Rice said: "From a fine field, Newman stood well above the mass. He made Michigan's run of eight successive victories possible with his passing, running, and place-kicking. One of the season's most effective triple-threat backs. Scored 57 of Michigan's 83 points in the Big Ten." He won the Douglas Fairbanks Award in 1932 as College Football MVP, predecessor to the Heisman trophy. Also won the Chicago Tribune's Silver Football as the Big Ten's MVP. Later played pro ball with the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers.

Charles Bernard, Center
Grantland Rice picked him as another of Michigan's great pivot men. Chuck had understudied Maynard Morrison in 1931, and was well prepared to be a brilliant center on three Big Ten championship teams. Called greatest college player in the country by pro coaches in 1933. Equally brilliant on offense and defense. "Without Bernard," said AP sports editor Alan Gould, "the Wolverines could hardly have topped the toughest league in the country."

Francis (Whitey) Wistert, Tackle
First of three All-American brothers to earn tackle honors at Michigan. With Chuck Bernard that year he was one of chief reasons why Wolverine lines were impregnable. Earned three baseball letters and was the Big Ten's most valuable in this sport in 1934. He also played professional baseball for Cincinnati and assisted on the Wolverine grid staff before entering the practice of law where he attained an outstanding position in industrial relations. Named to National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

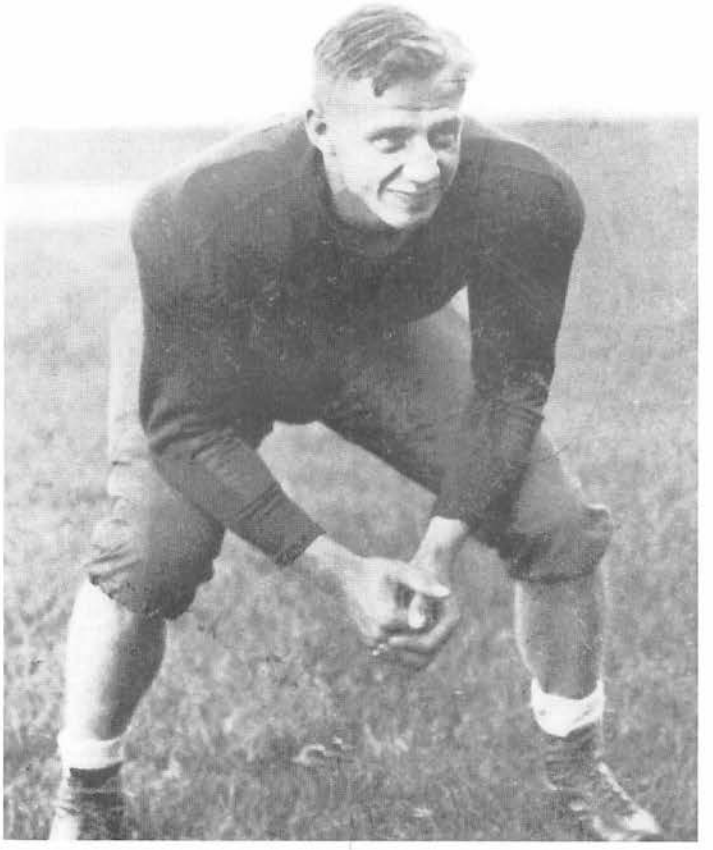
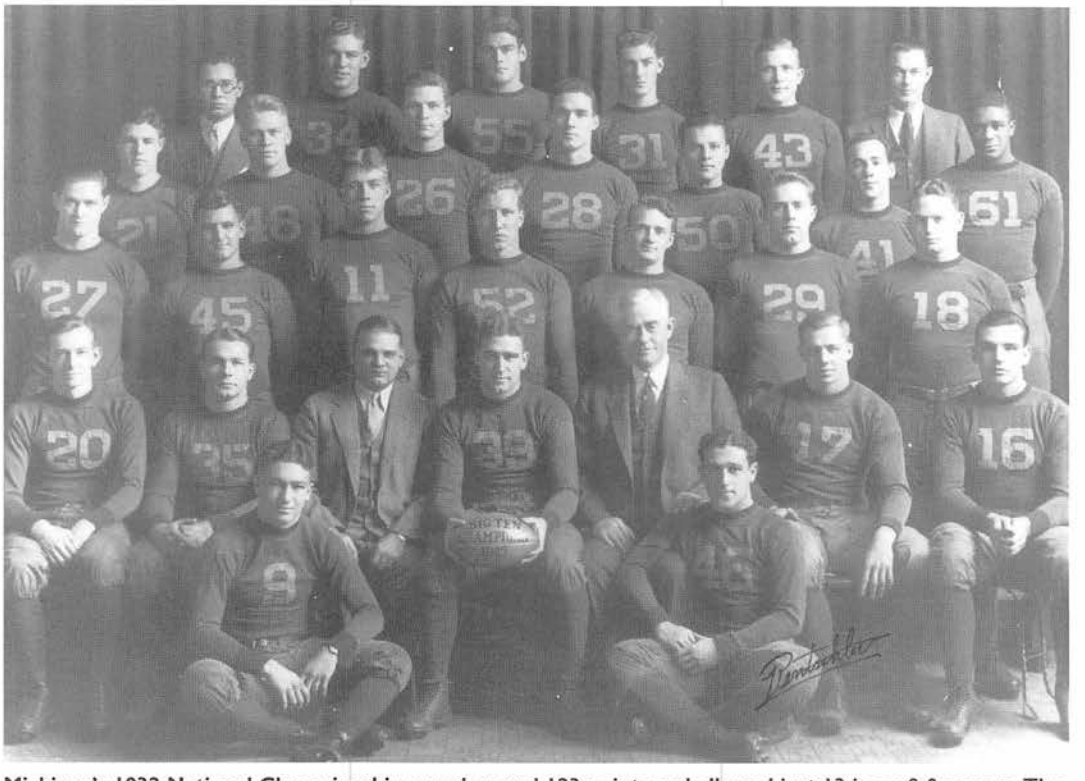
Ralph Heikkinen, Guard
Guard on Fritz Crisler's first Wolverine team, Ralph was one of the fastest men at the post ever to play for Michigan. Made the All Big Ten team for two years as well and was Michigan's Most Valuable player for two seasons. A 60-minute performer he was seldom fooled by maneuvers designed to hold him. A Law graduate, he became successful in the automotive industry.



1932,33
Ted Petoskey, End
Selected on several All-American teams in 1932, he placed on the Associated Press eleven of 1933. A great wingman on three Big Ten championship squads, he earned eight letters in football, basketball, and baseball. He entered coaching for a number of years before entering the business field.



Michigan's 1932 National Championship squad scored 123 points and allowed just 13 in an 8-0 season. The team featured All-Americans Harry Newman, Charles Bernard and Francis Wistert.

Thomas Harmon, Halfback
"Old 98" literally blazed across the football skies in 1939 and 1940 after a fast start in 1938. He was one of the country's greatest backs of his era. He became Michigan's first Heisman trophy winner following the 1940 season and also received the Chicago Tribune's Silver Football as the Big Ten's MVP. During the three seasons he rushed 2,134 yards, scored 33 touchdowns and kicked the same number of point-after-touchdowns, and booted two field goals for 237 points. He also threw 16 touchdown passes. After a thrilling career as a pilot in World War II, he married film star Elyse Knox and became one of the nation's top sports broadcasters and directors. Another Michigan and National Hall of Famer.

Tom Harmon

Tom Harmon ranks as one of the greatest all-around players in the history of college football. A two-time All-America halfback, he twice led the nation in scoring. He ran and passed for 3,438 yards in his three-year career (1938-40), threw 17 touchdown passes, kicked 33 extra points and a pair of field goals, and scored 33 touchdowns.

Harmon's last college football game - the 1940 showdown with Ohio State - was one of the greatest ever played by a Wolverine. In that contest, Harmon rushed for 139 yards and two touchdowns, completed 11 of 12 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns, scored four extra points, intercepted three passes (including one for a touchdown), and averaged 50 yards per punt, leading Michigan to a dominating 40-0 victory. In a rare tribute to a Wolverine in Columbus, the 73,000 fans gave Harmon a standing ovation as he left the stadium.

Harmon's performance against Ohio State clinched his selection for the Heisman Trophy, making him the first Michigan player honored with that award. In addition to his 1940 Heisman, Harmon was awarded the Maxwell Trophy, was voted Most Valuable Player in the Big Ten, and was named Male Athlete-of-the-Year by the Associated Press. After his playing days were over, Harmon was inducted into the National Football Hall of Fame, the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame, and the University of Michigan's Hall of Honor.

Additionally, Harmon is credited with the longest interception return in Michigan history, a 95-yard touchdown return against Iowa in 1939, and ranks among Michigan's all-time leaders in several offensive, defensive, and special teams categories.

The Chicago Bears selected Harmon as the first Player in the 1941 NFL draft, but he signed with the New York Americans of a rival pro league. Harmon entered the Air Force prior to World War II and rose to the rank of captain. As a fighter and bomber pilot, Harmon was shot down once and forced to parachute in another instance. Although presumed dead on one occasion, his safe return was aided by natives. For his military heroics, Harmon was awarded the Silver Star and a Purple Heart.

On his return to the United States, Harmon married actress Elyse Knox, whom he had met in 1941 while appearing on Bing Crosby's radio show. Harmon played for the Los Angeles Rams from 1946-47, but his legs had been debilitated from the war and he was unable to match the football success of his college years. Harmon then embarked on a career in broadcasting as sports director at KFI television in Los Angeles, and, in 1949, Harmon was named sports director for the Columbia Pacific Radio Network. Eventually, Harmon moved to ABC radio where his nightly sports show was syndicated to more than 400 stations coast to coast. Harmon's transition from the playing field to the broadcast booth helped pave the way for ex-athletes of the future to make similar career shifts.

Harmon's children include Mark, an actor who started at quarterback for UCLA in the early 1970s, Kristin, who was married to the late Ricky Nelson, and Kelly, an actress and fashion model.

Tom Harmon died on March 17, 1990 in Los Angeles, CA shortly after winning a golf tournament at Bel-Air Country Club.

Harmon's number, "Old 98", long since retired, remains as a symbol of his accomplishments on the field as running back, passer, defender, placekicker, punter, and return specialists. More importantly, it serves as a reminder of his contributions to American society as a scholar, community leader, war hero, father and grandfather, and broadcasting pioneer.

Edward Frutig, End
Ed entered Michigan from River Rouge to become the greatest punt blocker since Bill Flora back in the 1920's. Excellent pass receiver and blocker in 1938,39,40. After navy Air Corps service, he played pro ball with the Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions. Later entered coaching field before becoming successful advertising representative.

Robert Westfall, Fullback
Small as fullbacks go at 180 pounds, his smashing drives and ability to pick holes made Bobby, particularly with Harmon in 1940, part of a one-two punch that contributed to Michigan's success. Captain in 1941, he led Big Ten scoring as a junior, and then earned All-American honors. After leaving school for the Army Air Corps, he returned to for his degree and play for the Detroit Lions before becoming a successful business executive.

Albert Wistert, Tackle
Second of the famed Wisterts, the "Ox" as he was called, had one of his greatest days as Michigan defeated Notre Dame in a thrilling 1942 battle. Most Valuable Player for Michigan that year. Played in 1943 East-West game, then played nine years for the Philadelphia Eagles, starting and earning all-pro honors. Selected to the National Football Hall of Fame. Later he became a highly successful life insurance agent, and now lives in California.

Julius Franks, Guard
Played with the famed "Seven Oak Posts" on the line. A hard-nosed competitor and a 60-minute player. An attack of tuberculosis cut his career short in 1943, but with characteristic courage he came back to graduate and become a successful dentist in Grand Rapids where he is active in civic affairs.

William Daley, Fullback
Bill came to Michigan from Minnesota as a Marine Corps trainee. Nation's fourth best groundgainer in 1943, where his tremendous speed and power helped the Wolverines to tie with Purdue for the Conference title. Averaged seven yards per play, and scored 57 points against the greatest lines in the country.

Mervin Pregulman, Tackle
An outstanding guard and center, Marv became an All-American tackle in 1943. Originally a center, he was shifted to guard, then back to center where his accurate passes were a vital factor in Michigan's famed single-winged attack. Smart and aggressive, he never turned in a performance below the high standard he set for himself. Later played pro football and became a successful executive in the steel industry.

Elmer Madar, End
Sub quarterback in 1941, shifted to end in 1942, Madar's career was interrupted by Air Corps duty overseas until he returned in 1946 to become "iron man" of the Wolverines squad. He played more minutes than any other player despite Fritz Crisler's newly introduced platoon system. His play attracted attention of both newsmen and coaches. Later played pro football, served as assistant at Harvard and Holy Cross before entering Detroit public school systems.

Robert Chappuis, Halfback
A triple-threat back, Bob returned from World War II service to pick up his career where he left off. During war service as an aerial gunner, he was shot down over Italy on his 21st mission, but escaped after a series of thrilling adventures. He became one of the country's greatest backs in 1947 and climaxed a brilliant career by setting two Rose Bowl records, Jan. 1, 1948, eclipsing records for total offense and pass completions. He also lettered twice in baseball. Following two years in professional football, he entered business and is now a successful labor relations director.

Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, Halfback
Called the greatest right halfback he ever saw by his Coach, Fritz Crisler, Bump starred both on offense and defense during the early platoon days at Michigan. Returned from overseas service with the Marines in 1946, he climbed immediately to stardom. In 1947 he led the Big Nine in scoring with 54 points and was chosen the Most Valuable Player in the Conference to win the Chicago Tribune Trophy. He became head coach at Michigan in 1959, after serving as assistant at Oregon State, Iowa and his Alma Mater. His 1964 team won the Big Ten and Rose Bowl titles. Bump also earned letters in football, basketball and baseball at Purdue during Marine training days.

The Wisterts

Those well-versed in college football are aware of the contributions made by the Wisterts - three brothers who helped write an unprecedented chapter to the Wolverine football tradition.

Francis, Albert, and Alvin all played tackle, all wore the now retired #11 jersey, and amazingly enough, were all voted first team All-American, an accomplishment that has never been duplicated by three brothers on any level of collegiate competition.

The first brother of this unprecedented family to attain single honors was Francis (Whitey) Wistert, a member of Michigan's 1933 Big Ten and National Championship team. In that same year Francis was named first team All-American. After a brief career in professional baseball and as an assistant football coach at Michigan, he practiced law for 14 years in New York before becoming vice president and director of industrial relations of the Eltra Corporation of Toledo, OH. Whitey Wistert passed away in April of 1985.

The second Wistert brother, Albert, called "The Ox" by his teammates, starred at Michigan under Fritz Crisler in the early 1940's, and subsequently was chosen to the All-American team of 1942. He later played with Philadelphia of the NFL before entering the life insurance business.

Alvin "Moose" Wistert, third of the Wistert dynasty, was the oldest man ever to play football for the University of Michigan, at the age of 32. Following Marine Corps service in WW II, Alvin transferred from Boston University and enrolled at Michigan. He was an All-America tackle on the Crisler-coached Rose Bowl Champions of 1948, and earned All-American honors the following year under first-year coach Bennie Oosterbaan. After graduating from Michigan, Alvin worked in the insurance business for several years before becoming a manufacturers representative. Alvin currently resides in Northville, MI.

The Wisterts have been enshrined in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame and inducted into the Michigan Hall of Honor.

Richard Rifenburg, End
Entering Michigan as an 18-year old freshman in 1944, Dick caught two touchdown passes to beat the Iowa Seahawks in his first college game that fall. He saw Navy service in 1946, but returned in 1947 to star on the Rose Bowl winner, and reached the heights in 1948 as he became the second highest scoring end in the nation. His marvelous hands and speed and deadly tackling easily earned him All-American honors. He became a top TV announcer in Buffalo, N.Y.

Pete Elliott, Quarterback
Besides quarterbacking Michigan's 1948 national champions, Pete became the only Michigan athlete to earn 12 letters in football, basketball, and golf. He played on four championship teams, two in football, and one each in basketball and golf. He came to Michigan in 1945 as a Navy trainee, starring as a runner and passer. Shifted to quarterback, his blocking and defensive strength became invaluable. Later he served as head coach at Nebraska, California, and Illinois, and later enjoyed success in the building business and as a sports commentator.

Alvin Wistert, Tackle
The third of the All-American brothers was one of the oldest men ever to play college football at 32 after four years in the U.S. Marine Corps. His career was even more remarkable since he did not play high school athletics, but worked as a salesman until World War II. He was determined, however, to follow his brothers' footsteps and after a year at Boston University, he entered Michigan to win a defensive berth at 31 in 1947, and then became an All-American in 1948 and 1949. He entered the insurance business and later became a successful manufacturer's representative.

Allen Wahl, Tackle
Robert Allen Wahl was named All-American tackle in 1949 by Grantland Rice and again repeated in 1950. He played in the 1951 All-Star Game. Six-feet, three-inches tall, he weighed a lean 225 pounds. A former Army boxing champion, he was extremely quick and strong for a big man. He played as a 17-year old under wartime rules, but injuries handicapped him. A year of Army service in Germany, during which he won a service boxing title with 14 knockouts, developed him physically. Wahl later became president of his own company dealing with farm equipment.

Lowell Perry, End
Possessed of great hands, he became one of Michigan's greatest receivers. Reached his peak as a senior, scoring five touchdowns and catching 16 passes for 400 yards as well as returning 22 punts for 232 yards. After Army service where he was commissioned, he won all service team honors and later joined the Pittsburgh Steelers. Injuries halted his career and he entered the insurance business. He also managed to earn a law degree in Detroit.

Arthur Walker, Tackle
Brooklyn-born, Walker entered Michigan from South Haven. A chunky, hard-charging lineman, he earned Big Ten honors his junior year before becoming an All-American. Although injuries hampered him in his earlier career, he played 55 minutes per game. After graduation he began playing professionally in Canada, enjoying a fine career.

Ron Kramer, End
From East Detroit, Kramer became a two-time All-American and a nine letterman in three sports- football, basketball, and track. Led Wolverine grid scoring for two seasons and did the same in basketball. He was a star receiver, a fine punter, and placekicker, and a ball-carrier as well. As a basketball player, he scored 1,119 points and was a Most Valuable Player as a junior. Following graduation, he embarked on a spectacular pro career with the Green Bay Packers and the Detroit Lions.

James Pace, Halfback
Originally from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he played sandlot football with Terry Barr, Jimmy's career was replete with thrilling runs with All-American honors. Led Big Ten scoring with 10 touchdowns, topped ballcarriers with a 5.84 yard average, and further proved his great speed by winning the Big Ten 60-yard indoor dash title. Although he was not a regular as a sophomore, he scored twice and then played 289 minutes his junior season to average 4.8 yards. He became Michigan's Most Valuable Player in 1957.

Ron Kramer

In the long tradition of outstanding Michigan athletes, Ron Kramer deserves to be ranked among the best. A nine-time letterman (three each in football, basketball, and track), Kramer's credits include two consensus football All-American selections (1955-56), the retirement of his jersey number (87) by the Wolverines following his senior season, and the selection as basketball Most Valuable Player for three years standing.

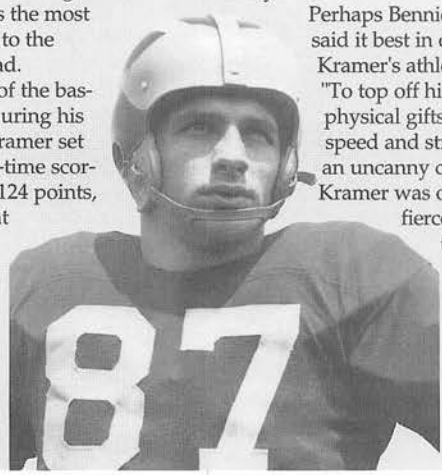
A native of Girard, KS, Kramer's family moved to East Detroit when he was five. Prior to attending the University of Michigan, he won Michigan all-state honors in football, basketball, and track.

As a Wolverine, Kramer was an excellent two-way player on the gridiron, occupying at some point the positions of offensive and defensive end, running back, quarterback, kicker, and receiver, often all in the same game. Despite these talents, coach Bennie Oosterbaan described his blocking and tackling abilities as the most valuable asset to the Michigan squad.

As captain of the basketball team during his senior year, Kramer set Michigan's all-time scoring mark at 1,124 points, a standard that stood until 1961. As a member of the Wolverine track squad, Kramer was a talented high jumper, despite his 230-pound frame. On at least one occasion he walked over to the Michigan track meet after participating in spring football drills, and won the high jump with a 6-foot-4 leap.

Kramer went on to play for the Green Bay Packers under Vince Lombardi in the early 1960's. As the prototype of NFL tight ends, he was named to the all-Pro team following the 1961 and 1962 seasons, as the Packers went on to win consecutive World Championships. Kramer finished his career with the Detroit Lions, following a trade involving their #1 selection in the 1965 NFL draft.

After retiring from football in 1968, Kramer was elected into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame in 1971. Later, in 1981, he was named as a recipient of the NCAA's Silver Anniversary Award in recognition of significant professional and civic contributions spanning 25 years after completion of his college eligibility.



Perhaps Bennie Oosterbaan said it best in describing Kramer's athletic abilities: "To top off his marvelous physical gifts of size and speed and strength, plus an uncanny coordination, Kramer was one of the fiercest competitors I've ever seen. Nothing was impossible for him - the impossible was only a challenge."

Robert Timberlake, Quarterback
One of the great quarterbacks in Michigan history. Big Bob- six feet, four inches tall, weighing 210- guided the Wolverines to the Big Ten and Rose Bowl crowns. A mainstay for three seasons. Total offense mark of 1,381 yards for the regular season was second highest in Michigan annals. Earned the Chicago Tribune's Silver Football as MVP of the Big Ten Conference and made practically every All-American team. Playing 217 minutes, he scored 80 points on eight touchdowns, four field goals and 20 conversion kicks. Placed on Big Ten All-Academic team and was named scholar-athlete by National Football Association.

William Yearby, Tackle
One of the finest defensive tackles in the country his junior and senior years. Made Coaches' All-America squad and voted one of the Big Ten's Most Valuable Players. Tremendous strength and speed made him a football player's football player. He was noted particularly for his great pursuit.

Jack D. Clancy, End
Started as a quarterback and halfback. Injury in 1964 robbed him of Rose Bowl trip but he was granted an extra season. Shifted to split end in 1965, his great pass receiving and running continued through 1966 to give him Big Ten receiving record of 50 passes caught for 698 yards in seven conference games. He also set Michigan pass reception career marks with 132 for 1,919 yards in three seasons. Joined Miami team in NFL at completion of his career.

Richard R. (Rick) Volk, Defensive Halfback
Rick Volk was one of the best all-around players ever to represent Michigan on the gridiron. The 6-3, 195-pound native of Wauseon, O., a nephew of Bob Chappuis, All-American halfback of 1947, played offensive quarterback and halfback before becoming an All-American defensive back. A hard hitting and accurate tackler and a keen analyst of opposing plays, he was recognized as one of the truly great defensive players of his time. He was a "clutch player" who demonstrated this fine quality upon numerous occasions when Michigan needed him most. He graduated from the University in 1967, and later joined the Baltimore Colts to become one of the top young stars of the NFL in his first season. Rick was born in Toledo, Ohio, March 15, 1947.

Ronald A. Johnson, Halfback
One of the greatest football players in University of Michigan history. Broke virtually all school rushing records- setting eight in Big Ten. His 347 yards gained in 1968 against Wisconsin was an NCAA high. Won the Chicago Tribune's Silver Football as Big Ten's Most Valuable Player after setting a conference record with 1,021 yards in 1968. Set Michigan season (1,391) and career (2,440) rushing records. Scored more points in a season (92), more touchdowns (5) and more points (30) in a game than any player at that point in Big Ten history. All-American halfback- twice voted Michigan's most valuable player. Elected captain of the 1968 team. Voted Big Ten's most valuable player and state's Amateur Athlete of Year in 1968.

James M. Mandich, End
Combined great pass catching with sturdy blocking at tight end to make virtually every All-American squad including Academic All-American. Caught 119 passes for 1494 yards and seven touchdowns in three-year career. Once had 10 receptions for 156 yards in single game and had eight catches for 79 yards in 1970 Rose Bowl. Elected captain of team and most valuable player. The 6-3, 220 pounder was an All-American prep player at Solon, Ohio.

Thomas N. Curtis, Safety
Greatest pass interceptor in Big Ten history. Wore No. 25 on jersey and that was total interception number for three-year career. Tied Big Ten record for pass interceptions as sophomore with seven. Had nine in league as junior and 10 for season, returning them for 182 yards. Added eight interceptions for 156 yards in All-American senior year with 45 unassisted tackles. Returned 25 interceptions for NCAA record 431 yards. The 6-1, 187 pounder from Aurora, Ohio, twice was All-Big Ten.

Dan Dierdorf, Offensive Tackle
One of the finest offensive tackles ever to play for Michigan and a consensus 1970 All-American. He combined strength and speed to become a key blocker as the Wolverines set a series of rushing records. A native of Canton, Ohio, he was twice All-Big Ten and went on to become an all-pro with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League and player representative for the team. He twice was named best offensive lineman of the NFL.

Marty Huff, Linebacker
A premier linebacker in the Big Ten for two seasons, the Toledo product was equally adept at stopping the run or pass. His first interception as a sophomore resulted in a 44-yard touchdown. In three seasons he made nine pass interceptions, returning them 159 yards. He scored a touchdown on a blocked punt, had 266 career tackles, called defensive signals and was awarded the John Maulbetsch Trophy as the top freshman player.

Henry Hill, Middle Guard
Attending Michigan on an academic scholarship, he made All-Big Ten second team as a sophomore and junior and became an All-American as a senior in 1970. One of the quickest defensive lineman ever to play at Michigan, making 16 tackles for losses as a sophomore and recording a total of 35 for his career. Hill, from Detroit, walked on to the practice field and went on to captain the 1970 Wolverines.

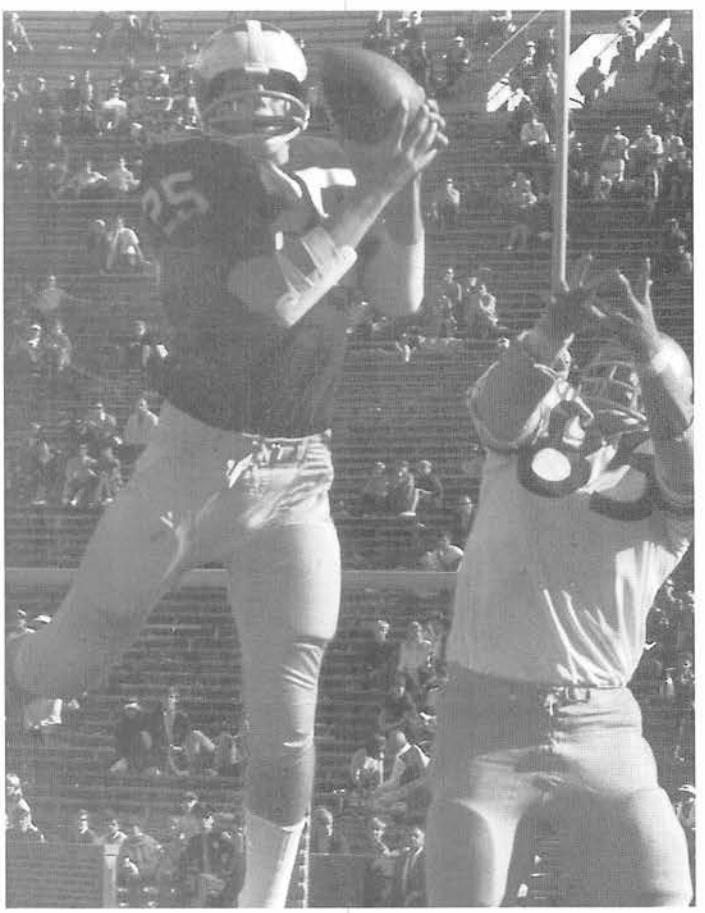
Reggie McKenzie, Offensive Guard
A consensus All-American. Regarded as one of nation's top pulling guards. During his three seasons Michigan broke nearly all team rushing records. Played on two championship and Rose-Bowl teams.



Thomas Curtis is Michigan's all-time leader in interceptions.

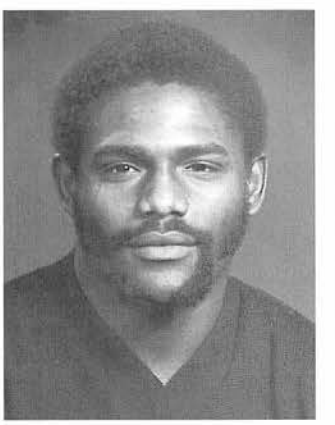
Mike Taylor, Linebacker
Made virtually every All-American team. Led Michigan as a senior with 132 tackles and was one of top tacklers on team for three seasons. Extremely effective against running plays and still made several interceptions from middle linebacking position. Considered one of Michigan's finest linebackers.



1971
William Taylor, Halfback
Broke Michigan career rushing record with 3,072 yards in three seasons. His 587 attempts were more than any previous Wolverine runner from scrimmage. Was second only to Tom Harmon in career touchdowns with 32 and points with 194. Three-time All-Big Ten runner. 1971 football Most Valuable Player as Michigan's top senior athlete.

1971
Thom Darden, Defensive Back
Three-year regular playing all defensive back positions. Returned interceptions 92 and 60 yards for touchdowns and had 11 interceptions in his career. Ranks among Michigan leaders in punt returns and punt return yardage for career. Outstanding tackler.

Thom Darden ranks among Michigan's all-time best in interceptions and punt returns.

Randy Logan, Defensive Halfback
Maintaining the great tradition of outstanding defensive backs. Logan had a banner year in 1972. He was selected as All-Big Ten and All-American by the press and coaches, and was honored by his Wolverine teammates when they elected him co-captain and Most Valuable Player.

Paul Seymour, Offensive Tackle
Coming from one of the great football families in Michigan, Seymour earned All-American honors in 1972 at the tackle position after playing two seasons at tight end. As a receiver, Seymour caught 19 passes for 257 yards. His great blocking ability warranted the needed adjustment in his senior year. His brother Jim was an outstanding receiver at Notre Dame, while cousin Phil was a fine defensive end for the Wolverines.

David Gallagher, Defensive Tackle
One of the finest defensive tackles ever to play at Michigan. Gallagher was named All-American in 1973 and sophomore All-American in 1971. As co-captain of the 1973 Wolverines, Gallagher was also selected to the All-Big Ten team, twice to the All-Big Ten Academic squad, and was also a recipient of a National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame post-graduate scholarship.

Dave Brown, Defensive Halfback
A two-time consensus All-American and three-time All-Big Ten selection. Brown maintained the great Michigan tradition of fine defensive backs. A native of Akron, Ohio, Brown intercepted nine passes during his career and was also a fine punt returner, including an 88-yarder, the second longest runback in Michigan history. Brown was co-captain of the 1974 squad.

Don Dufek, Jr., Defensive Back
Twice an All-Big Ten strong safety, completed career with 249 tackles, nine fumble recoveries and four pass interceptions. Son of former outstanding fullback and coach, Don Dufek, Sr. Earned three letters in football and four in hockey to rank as one of the finest all-around athletes.

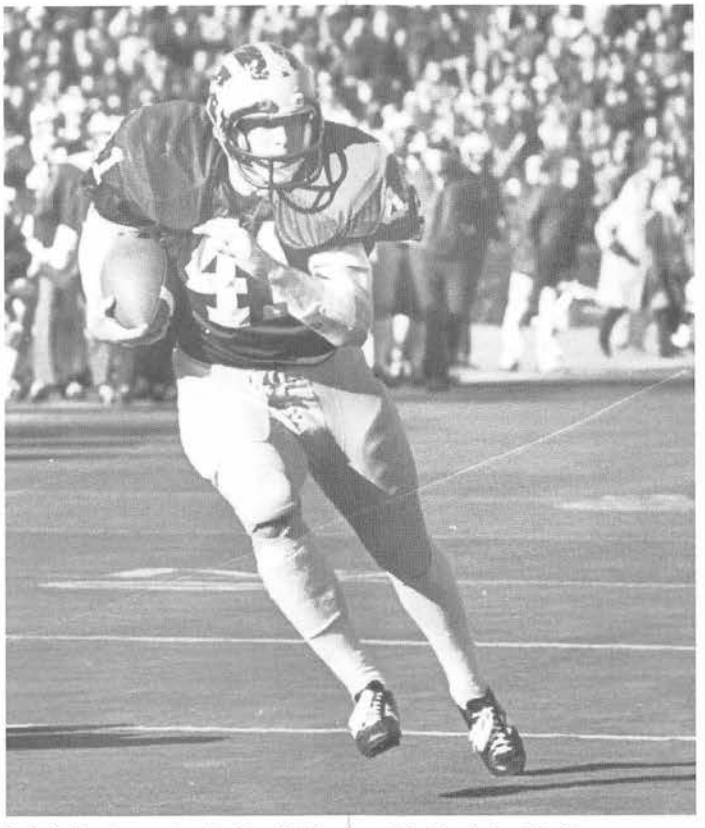
Rob Lytle, Running Back
Consensus All-American and named Chicago Tribune's Big Ten Conference Most Valuable Player in 1976. He gained 1,469 yards as a senior to set a Michigan record and broke the Wolverine career rushing mark with 3,317 yards. His honors include the John F. Maulbetsch Award (top freshman) and the Louis B. Hyde Award (team's MVP). He finished third in Heisman Trophy balloting. He set a conference record by rushing for 180 yards in just 10 carries against Michigan State, an unprecedented 18-yard per carry average. Lytle became an outstanding player with the Denver Broncos of the NFL.



Rob Lytle starred as both a fullback and tailback for Michigan.

John Anderson, Linebacker
John earned All-American honors as an outside linebacker and twice was selected as an Academic All-American. He was named to the Academic All-Big Ten team at linebacker and as a punter. He led the Wolverines in punting for four seasons, including a 41.5 yard average in 1976 that was the second highest in modern Michigan football. He won the Frederick Matthaei Award for leadership and achievement and the Meyer Morton Award. A first-round draft selection, he became an immediate success with the Green Bay Packers.

Calvin O'Neal, Linebacker
Calvin was twice named All-Big Ten and was a consensus All-American. He was a team leader on defense, setting a season record with 151 tackles, and had a record 278 tackles for his career. O'Neal combined strength and speed from his inside linebacking spot, making 10 tackles for losses his last two seasons. He was elected team co-captain. He went on to join the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League.

Jim Smith, Wide Receiver
One of the most versatile offensive players in Michigan's history. He averaged more than 7-yards running, more than 10 yards on punt returns, more than 20 yards on pass receptions and more than 17 yards on kickoff returns. In all, he gained 2,890 yards during his career. An All-Big Ten performer, his 184 yards gained on pass receptions against Purdue was the second highest in Michigan history. Smith went on to become an outstanding player with the World Champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

Mark Donahue, Offensive Guard
The native of Oak Lawn, Illinois was a rare, two-time consensus All-American lineman, earning these honors as a junior and senior. He was the 13th player in Michigan football history to be twice honored as an All-American and was considered one of the finest pulling guards ever to play at Michigan. Donahue joined the Cincinnati Bengals and became a regular at offensive guard.

Walt Downing, Center
Switched from guard to center, he became a consensus All-Big Ten selection and honorable mention All-American as a junior. He repeated as all-conference center in his senior year, was elected co-captain, and was named All-American, the eighth Michigan center to receive that honor. He went on to become a member of the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

Rick Leach, Quarterback
One of the finest athletes in Michigan history. Three times he was named All-Big Ten quarterback and three times placed in the voting for the Heisman Trophy, finishing third as a senior when he was voted Michigan's and the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player. Named Player of the Year by several athletic clubs and television networks, he was co-most valuable player in the 1979 Rose Bowl and Hula Bowl. All Michigan's career passing, total offense and touchdown records were broken by the lefthander as well as the season record for touchdown passes (17). He set an NCAA record for most touchdowns accounted for (82) and broke Big Ten records for total offense (6,460) total plays (1,034) and touchdown passes (48). He won the Big Ten batting championship as a junior and as a senior became one of the few athletes in modern times to become All-American in both football and baseball. He was a first round draft selection by the Detroit Tigers of the American League.

Curtis Greer, Defensive Tackle
This native of Detroit left Michigan after the 1979 season with the honor of being the school's all-time leader in tackles for losses. The catquick lineman registered 48 tackles for losses during his Wolverine career for 234 yards. His 23 hits behind the line of scrimmage for losses totaling 107 yards in 1979 established a school seasonal record. He was as All-American selection in 1979 and an All-Big Ten choice in both 1978 and 1979. He was drafted in the first round of the 1980 NFL Draft by the St. Louis Cardinals where he gained a starting berth in his first season.

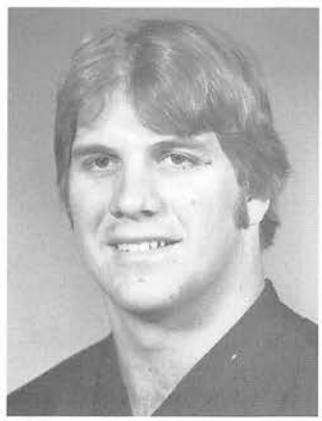
Ron Simpkins, Linebacker
This Detroit native left Michigan as the school's all-time tackler with a total of 516. His 174 in 1977 and 168 in 1978 ranked one-two on the Michigan seasonal list when he graduated. In 1979 (150 tackles) he was named to numerous All-American contingents. He was a three-time All-Big Ten selection and was also named the squad's MVP in 1979. He was drafted in the seventh round of the 1980 NFL draft by the Cincinnati Bengals where he made the squad as a rookie.



1980
George Lilja, Center
One of eleven Michigan centers to become an All-American. Voted co-captain of the 1980 team, he won the Meyer Morton Award. Lilja started at center in 24 straight games during his junior and senior years appearing in six post season games. He was drafted in the fourth round by the Los Angeles Rams.

Kurt Becker, Offensive Guard
Starting in 36 straight games, he was twice named All Big Ten and a first team All-American in his senior year. He was a finalist in the voting for the Lombardi Trophy. He was drafted in the sixth round by the Chicago Bears.

Ed Muransky, Offensive Tackle
One of the largest offensive tackles in Michigan history at 6 feet, 7 inches and 280 pounds, he was voted first team All-American, first team All Big Ten and an Academic All-American. He was drafted by the Los Angeles Raiders in the sixth round.

William "Bubba" Paris, Offensive Tackle
He was named All-Big Ten and second team Academic All-American as a junior and in his final year he repeated as a member of the All Big Ten team and also earned first team All-American honors. He was drafted in the second round by the San Francisco 49ers.

Butch Woolfolk, Tailback
During four years at Michigan he set Wolverine records for most attempts (718) and most yards gained rushing (3,861), leading the team in rushing for three straight seasons. His touchdown runs of 92 and 89 yards are the longest and third longest in Michigan history. Named Michigan's Most Valuable Player in 1981, he also was named MVP in the 1981 Rose Bowl and Bluebonnet Bowl games. He was selected in the first round of the NFL draft by the New York Giants.

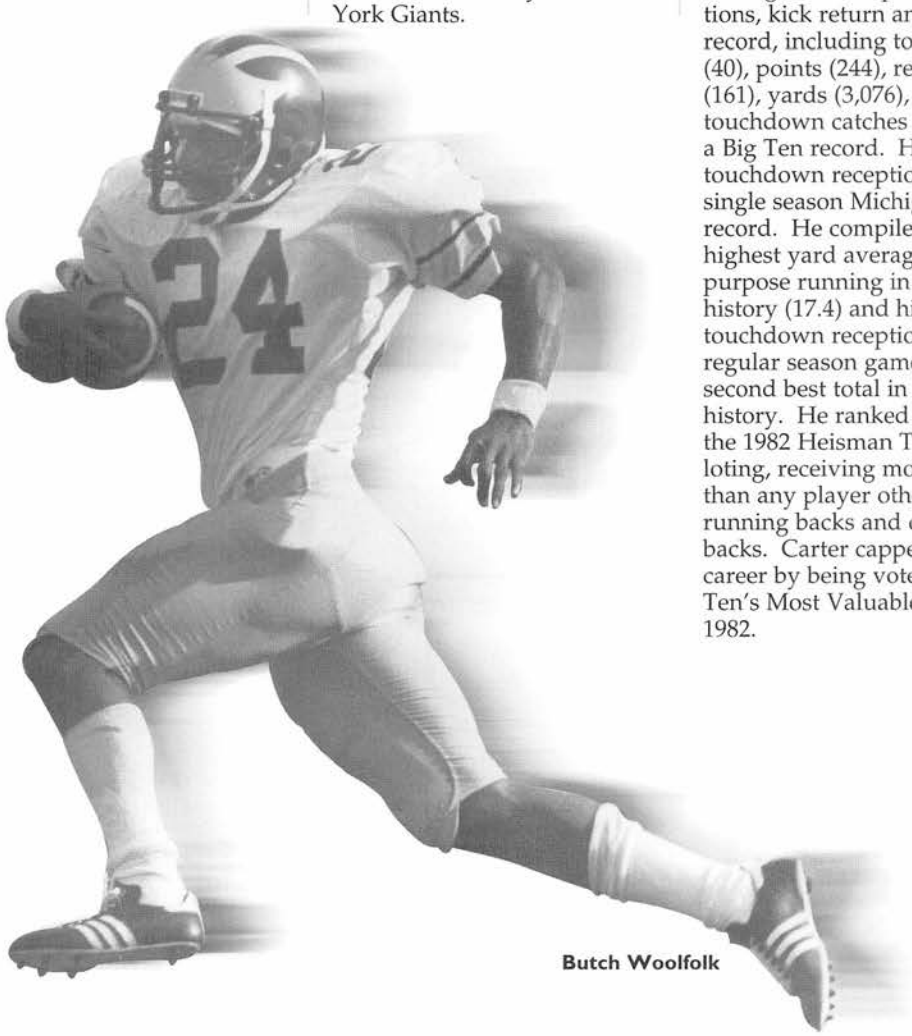
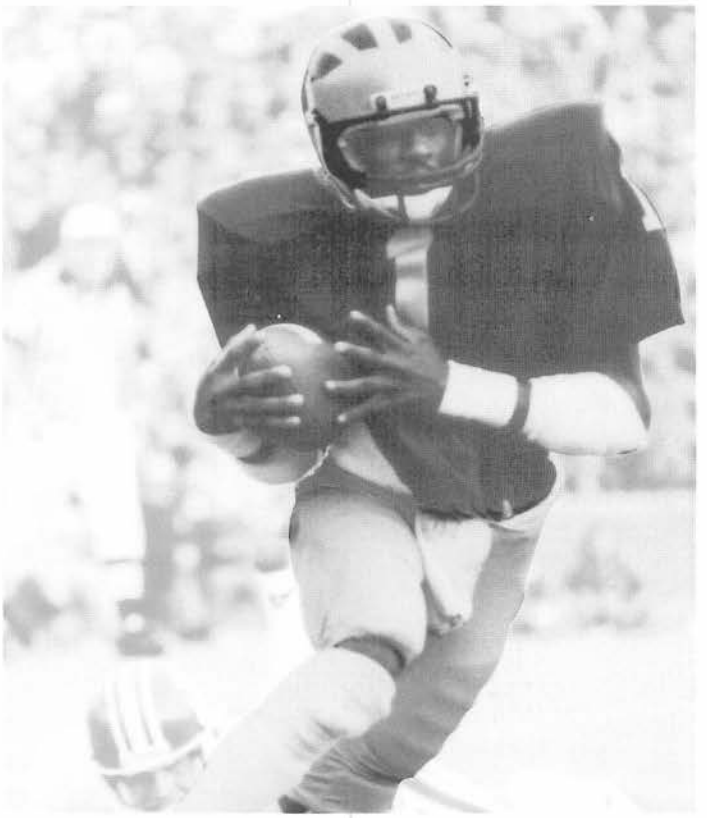
Anthony Carter, Wide Receiver
Called the most dominant player at his position in college football, he also became just the eighth three-time All American in Big Ten history (the first in 36 years) and the first receiver to surpass 3,000 yards in pass receptions. Voted captain of the 1982 team, he was the Wolverines Most Valuable Player twice (1980-1982). Just 5 feet, 11 inches, and 160 pounds, but having outstanding quickness he shattered virtually every Michigan career pass receptions, kick return and scoring record, including touchdowns (40), points (244), receptions (161), yards (3,076), and touchdown catches (37), also a Big Ten record. His 14 touchdown receptions set a single season Michigan record. He compiled the highest yard average for all-purpose running in NCAA history (17.4) and his 33 touchdown receptions during regular season games is the second best total in NCAA history. He ranked fourth in the 1982 Heisman Trophy balloting, receiving more votes than any player other than running backs and quarterbacks. Carter capped his career by being voted the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player in 1982.



Butch Woolfolk



Anthony Carter

Stefan Humphries, Offensive Guard
One of the top linemen to ever wear the Maize and Blue, Stefan Humphries was a leader on and off the football field. Humphries, a two-time Academic All-American selection, was the captain of the 1983 squad that played in the Sugar Bowl. He was awarded the Big Ten Conference's "Medal of Honor" for excellence in academics and athletics. A two-time first-team All-Big Ten selection, Humphries started the last 28 games of his career as a Wolverine. The Broward, Florida native was drafted by the Chicago Bears.

Tom Dixon, Center
Instrumental to the great Michigan running teams of the early 1980's, Tom Dixon thrived as the Wolverine center on the 1982 Big Ten Championship squad. Named to the UPI and Kodak All-American teams in 1983, Dixon started every game each of his last three seasons. His achievements were not confined to the gridiron as Dixon posted a 3.27 grade point average as a pre-medicine major. For his outstanding efforts on the field and in the classroom, Dixon received an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship and was named to several Big Ten and All-American academic teams.

Mike Hammerstein, Defensive Tackle
Few have dominated on Michigan's defensive lines as did Mike Hammerstein. An intense player on the field, Hammerstein is best remembered for his relentless pass rushing and tackles for losses. Hammerstein tied a single season record for tackles for losses with 23 while setting the record for yardage lost, sacking opponents for 112 yards lost in 1985. That year's Fiesta Bowl winning squad, of which Hammerstein was selected the Most Valuable Player, surrendered a mere 8.1 points per game- among the nation's leader's. Named First Team AP, UPI, and Kodak All-American, the native of Wapakoneta, Ohio, finished his career as the third highest in career tackles for losses with 37 for 116 yards.

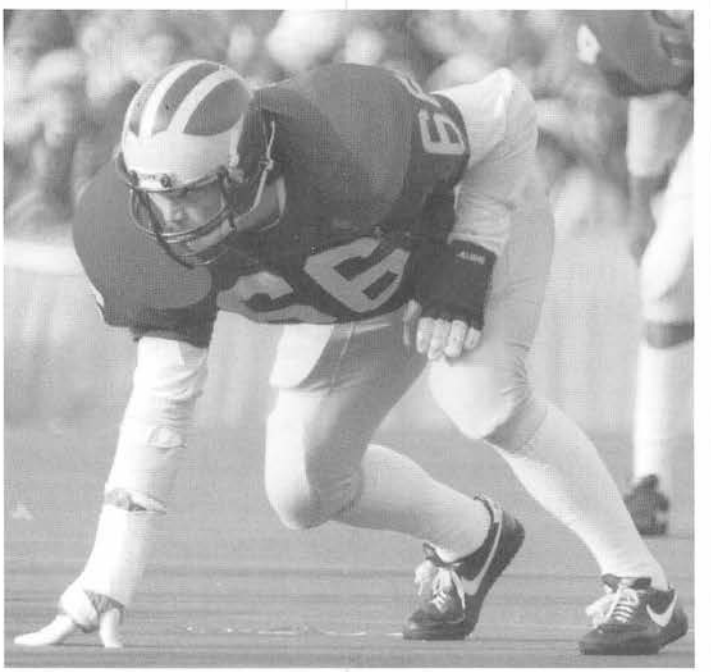
Brad Cochran, Defensive Back
Consistency and excellence best describe Brad Cochran's tour of duty with the Wolverines. Possessing exceptional speed and agility, he proved extremely durable, never missing a start over the final three years of his brilliant career. A consensus All-American and tri-captain in 1985, he led Michigan to a 10-1-1 record, including a win in the Fiesta Bowl over Nebraska. He intercepted 12 passes in four seasons, tying him for third on the all-time career chart. Cochran also amassed 184 tackles during the years in which the Michigan defense ranked nationally in fewest points and yards allowed.



Mike Hammerstein

Garland Rivers, Defensive Back
Always a threat wherever he happened to be on the field. Garland Rivers earned respect from offensive opponents with his fierce tackles. The only freshman to win a letter in 1983, Rivers started 32 consecutive games until a brief shoulder injury sidelined him in his senior season. Rivers intercepted six passes in his career, including one for a touchdown against Wisconsin his junior year. That same season he produced a game-saving interception in the Nebraska end zone to seal Michigan's 27-23 Fiesta Bowl victory. Rivers earned 1986 Kodak and Walter Camp All-American honors as well as AP-UPI All-American Honorable Mention.

John Elliott, Offensive Tackle
One of the largest players ever to play for Michigan, Elliott (6-7, 306), a two time All-American by AP, UPI, and Kodak, played on the strong side of the line for four years. His final game was the 1988 Hall of Fame Bowl when he led the ground assault by opening huge holes for the running backs, including Jamie Morris who rushed for 234 yards and three touchdowns behind that line. From Lake Ronkonkoma, N.Y., Elliott was called "Jumbo" by his teammates. He was a first round draft pick of the New York Giants.

Jim Harbaugh, Quarterback
In a football program renowned for its rich history of great quarterbacks, Jim Harbaugh stands out as one of the finest. Completely rewriting the Michigan passing record books, Harbaugh's skill and poise led the Wolverines to a Big Ten title in 1986, and a Fiesta Bowl victory in 1985. The nation's most efficient passer in 1985, Harbaugh went on to set several school records, including a single season mark of 2,729 yards. Honors that followed included Michigan's Most Valuable Player, Big Ten Player-of-the-Year, third in Heisman voting, as well as finishing second in the nation in passing efficiency. Became the first quarterback in Wolverine history to throw for over 300 yards in a single game. Harbaugh earned first team All-American honor from the Football News in addition to being named to the Big Ten All-Academic Team. He was also named second team All-American by AP and UPI.

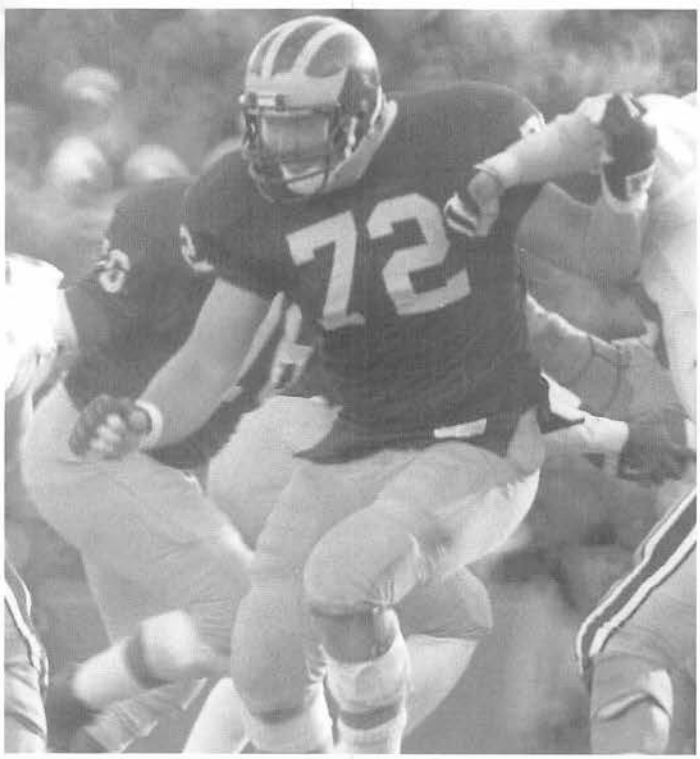
Mark Messner, Defensive Tackle
A quick, smart defensive lineman, Messner became Michigan's all-time leader in tackles for loss (70) and yards lost (376). The explosive down lineman from Hartland, MI., Messner was the Wolverines' sack leader in 1985, '86 and '87. The two-time All-American selection started all 49 games of his career after redshirting in 1984. He was the MVP of the Fiesta Bowl by registering nine tackles, forcing a fumble and later recovering another in the Wolverines' 27-23 win over Nebraska. He was later drafted by the Los Angeles Rams.



John Elliott

John Vitale, Center
An outstanding, versatile offensive lineman known for his very quick feet. Vitale was a four-year starter for the Wolverines. The Detroit native was a two-time first team All-Big Ten selection and was an All-American pick in 1988. A consummate team player, Vitale made the switch from guard to center in the fall of 1986, in an effort to strengthen the line. His senior year was capped with a 22-14 win in the 1989 Rose Bowl over Southern California.

Tripp Welborne, Safety
Hard-hitting defensive back who also handled punt returns for the Wolverines. The Greensboro, NC., native was a two-time consensus All-American selection. Welborne recorded 238 tackles in his three years in the defensive secondary and returned 67 punts for 773 yards. During his senior year (1990), Welborne set a single-season record for punt return yardage with 455. Welborne moved from wide receiver to defensive back after his freshman year and intercepted nine passes during his career. Played on three Big Ten championship teams. He was drafted by the Minnesota Vikings.

Dean Dingman, Offensive Guard
Strong and intimidating in the middle of the offensive line, Dingman from East Troy, Wis., was a two-time All-Big Ten selection who helped lead the Wolverines to a 10-2 record as a junior. Started 37 games of the 48 games the Wolverines played during his career and played both guard spots. The 1991 Gator Bowl MVP along with the entire offensive line, Dingman helped the Michigan offense to a record-setting 715 yards in total offense and a 35-3 victory over Mississippi. Played on three Big Ten championship teams. He was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Erick Anderson, Linebacker
Hard-nosed linebacker who will be remembered for his consistent tackling ability, Anderson became the first player to lead the team in tackles for four years. Michigan's first Butkus Award winner, Anderson registered 428 career tackles which placed him second on Michigan's all-time career tackles list. UPI and Football News tabbed the defensive team captain with All-American honors in 1991 and was also selected AP Big Ten Co-Defensive Player-of-the-Year. Participated in both the Japan Bowl and the East/West Shrine Game. Drafted by the Kansas City Chiefs.

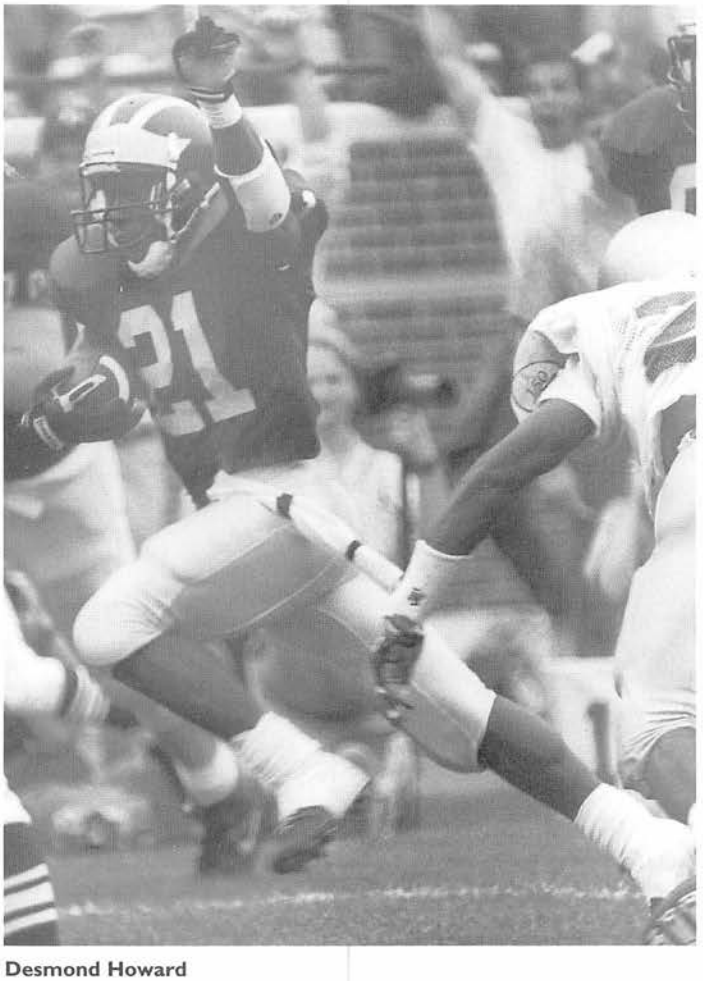
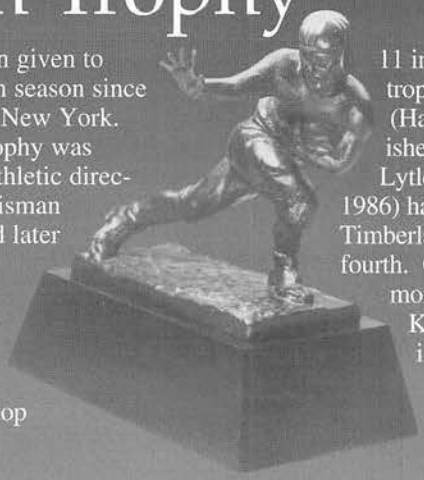
Desmond Howard, Wide Receiver
Winner of the 1991 Heisman trophy, Howard's acrobatic catches made him one of the most electrifying players ever to play the game. At 5-9, 176 pounds, Howard became the first receiver in Big Ten history to lead the conference in scoring (90) as he set or tied five NCAA records and 12 single-season Michigan records. Voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates, the All-American set standards for most points scored (138), most touchdowns (23), and most consecutive games with a scoring catch (19). Won the Heisman by the second largest margin of victory in the trophy's history; His 640 first place votes (85 percent) were the most ever for a Heisman winner. Recognized as Player-of-the-Year by receiving the Walter Camp Trophy and the Maxwell Award. The Big Ten Athlete-of-the-Year also captured UPI and AP Offensive Player-of-the-Year honors as well as being named the Dunlop Pro-Am Athlete-of-the-Year. Howard was a first round pick of the Washington Redskins.



Desmond Howard

The Heisman Trophy



The John W. Heisman Trophy has been given to college football's outstanding player each season since 1935 by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York. The trophy, first known as the D.A.C. trophy was renamed in 1936 for Heisman, the first athletic director for the Downtown Athletic Club. Heisman played football at Penn and at Brown and later coached for 36 seasons, serving at nine different schools.

Three Michigan players (Tom Harmon-1940, Desmond Howard-1991, and Charles Woodson-1997) have won the award and Wolverines have placed in the top 11 in the Heisman voting in 20 of the 60 years the trophy has been presented. Two Wolverines (Harmon-1939, and Bob Chappuis-1947) have finished second in the voting, three Wolverines (Rob Lytle-1976, Rick Leach-1978, and Jim Harbaugh-1986) have finished third, and two others (Bob Timberlake-1964, and Anthony Carter-1982) have placed fourth. Carter placed among the top ten in his sophomore, junior and senior seasons, while Harmon, Ron Kramer (1955, '56) and Leach (1977, '78) placed in the top ten twice during their Michigan careers.

Matt Elliott, Offensive Guard
Versatile offensive lineman who played all three interior line positions, starting in 35 of 48 games as a Wolverine. The Carmel, Ind., native garnered All-American honors his senior year and was named a UPI and AP All-Big Ten selection as well. Gator Bowl Co-MVP who helped lead Michigan to a single game bowl record of 715 yards total offense. Participated in post-season Senior Bowl. Drafted by the Washington Redskins.

Greg Skrepenak, Offensive Tackle
The largest player ever to wear the Maize and Blue, Skrepenak (6-6, 322), was a two time All-American selection and a four-year starter for the Wolverines. Set offensive line record with 48 consecutive starts. Hailing from Wilkes Barre, Pa., the offensive team captain was a finalist for both the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award. Gator Bowl Co-MVP. Skrepenak capped off a brilliant career at Michigan by being named Big Ten Offensive Lineman-of-the-Year. Participated in post-season Senior Bowl. He was a second round draft pick by the Los Angeles Raiders.

Joe Cocozzo, Offensive Guard
Smart, strong, accountable offensive lineman, feared for his intimidating style of play. Earned All-Big Ten and All-America honors while leading the Wolverines to a 9-0-3 record as a senior. The Mechanicville, NY native started 32 of his last 33 games at Michigan and he played on five Big Ten Championship teams. Cocozzo participated in the Senior Bowl and he was a third round draft pick of the San Diego Chargers in 1993.

Chris Hutchinson, Defensive Tackle
Epitomized the definition of a peak performer. He achieved at a consistently high level on and off the field. Hutchinson started 38 of a possible 48 games for the Wolverines during his career. He was Big Ten Defensive Lineman of the Year in 1992, a three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection and an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship winner. Set the single season record for sack yardage (99) while equalling the season sack record (11). The Houston, TX native finished second on the career sack list with 24 sacks for 188 yards. Enrolled in Michigan's Medical School upon graduation.

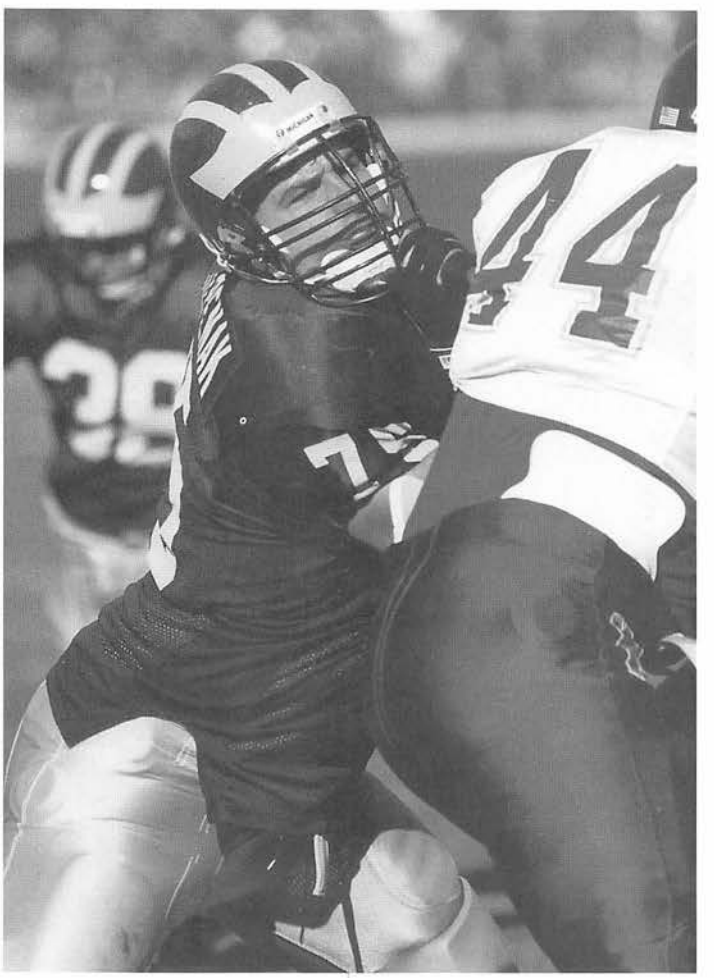
Derrick Alexander, Wide Receiver
One of the most prolific receivers in Michigan history. The 6-3, 190-pound Detroit native became the eighth Wolverine to amass over 1,500 career receiving yards and is one of only six Michigan players to catch over 100 passes. Alexander also ranks as one of five Wolverines to have over 1,000 career return yards. He is one of just two players in school history with four punt returns for touchdowns and was the first Wolverine to return punts for TDs in consecutive games. Alexander is one of 11 Michigan players and one of only three Wolverine receivers (along with Anthony Carter and Desmond Howard) to amass 3,000 career all-purpose yards. The two-time first-team All-Big Ten honoree had one of the best single game performances for an 'M' receiver in 1993 against Illinois. He caught seven passes for 188 yards (second highest yardage total in school history) and two touchdowns, including a 90-yarder, the longest reception in Michigan's storied football history. Alexander was picked in the first round of the 1994 NFL draft by the Cleveland Browns.



Greg Skrepenak

Remy Hamilton, Kicker
The first placekicker in Michigan history to earn All-America status. Remy Hamilton was named as a Walter Camp first team All-American, while the Associated Press and the Football News tabbed him as a second team All-American selection. A native of Boca Raton, FL, Hamilton emerged in 1994 and shattered several Michigan single-season kicking records. He broke single-season records for field goals made (25) and for field goals attempted (30). Hamilton also set Michigan's single season kick point record with 101 in 1994. A two-time finalist for the Lou Groza Award, Hamilton finished his career as the all-time Wolverine record holder in field goals made (63) and field goals attempted (82).

Ty Law, Cornerback
A 6-0, 201-pound Aliquippa, PA native, Ty Law became the first 'M' defensive back since Tripp Welborne to earn All-America honors. Law was chosen a first-team All-American by both Walter Camp and the Football News. A three-year starter, Law made 31 starts in his career, including 27 consecutive regular season starts. Law had 19 career pass break-ups, ranking him third on Michigan's all-time pass break-up list. Law also amassed 164 tackles and eight interceptions while wearing No. 22 for the Wolverines. A unanimous All-Big Ten selection in both 1993 and 1994, Law was a first round draft pick of the New England Patriots in 1995.

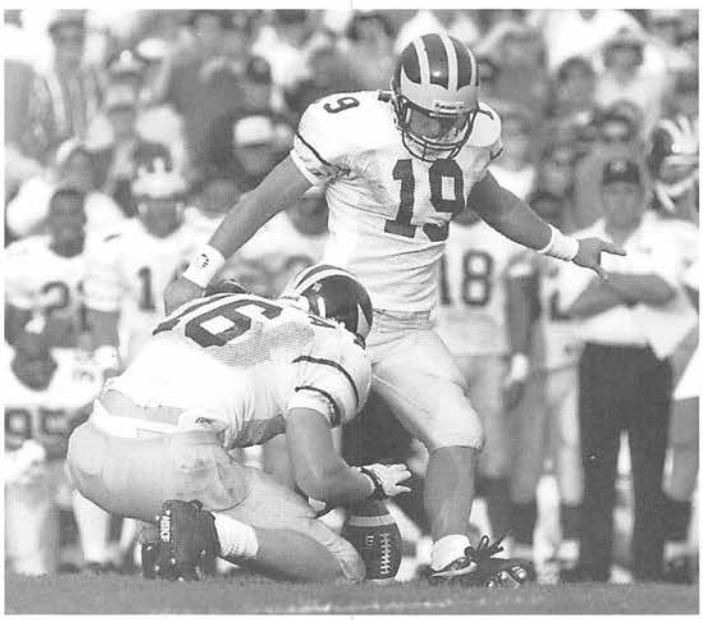
Jason Horn, Defensive Tackle
Learning the value of hard work while growing up on a farm in rural Indiana, Horn's efforts paid off in a stellar defensive career that was capped by being named first-team All-American by the American Football Coaches' Association in 1995. Consistently ranked among team and league leaders in sacks and tackles for loss, he was a two-time first team All-Big Ten pick. He made 18 tackles for loss as a senior and set a Michigan single season record with 122 yards of tackles for loss yardage. He finished as Michigan's second all-time leader in quarterback sacks (24), third in sack yardage (184), third in career tackles for loss (39) and second in TFL yardage (236).



Remy Hamilton

Jon Runyan, Offensive Tackle
In keeping with Michigan's tradition of big, powerful and versatile linemen, this native of Flint was named first-team All-American by College Sports magazine. Foregoing is final year of eligibility for the NFL draft, Runyan was named first-team All-Big Ten and finished his career with 34 starts (24 at tackle, 10 at guard). He was a fourth round pick of the Houston Oilers in 1996.

Rod Payne, Center
Able to snap the ball with either hand, Rod Payne became the 12th Michigan center to be named All-American. The Miami, Fla. native started 40 games in his career, including the last 37. A two-time first team All-Big Ten selection, Payne was named a first team All-American by the American Football Coaches Association in 1996. He was selected in the third round of the 1997 NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Jarrett Irons, Linebacker
A two-time team captain and two-time All Big Ten pick, Jarrett Irons finished his career ranked second on Michigan's career tackles list. A native of The Woodlands, Texas, Irons anchored a defense that was third best in the nation against the rush in 1995. Named a first team All-

American by the Associated Press, and American Football Coaches Association in 1996, Irons finished his career averaging over 100 tackles per season.

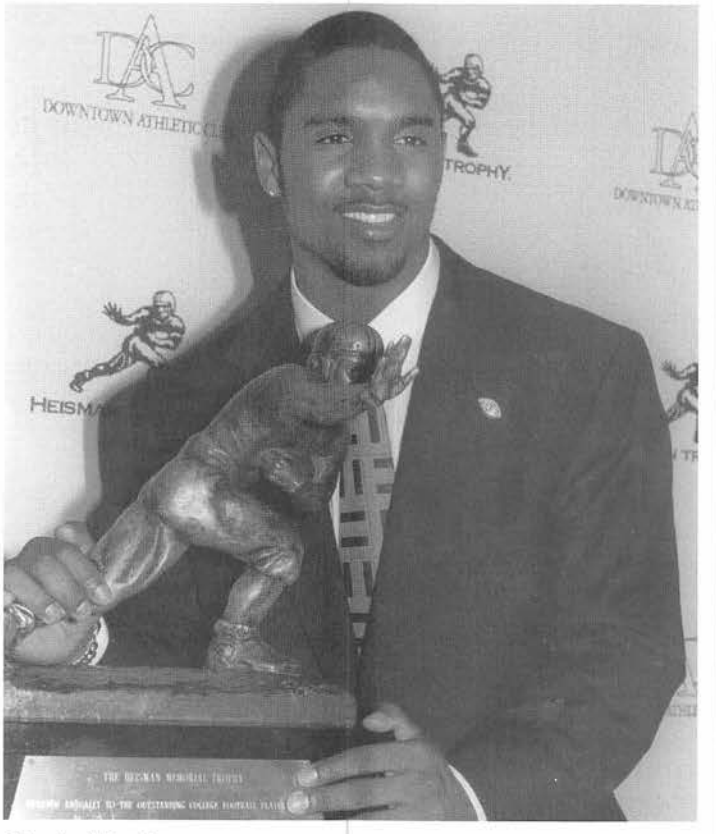
William Carr, Nose Tackle
The native of Dallas, Texas finished his career in third place on Michigan's career tackles for loss list. He was named a first team All-Big Ten selection by the coaches and media in 1996 and was picked by College and Professional Football News as a first-team All-American. Carr finished his career with 180 career tackles and was a seventh round pick of the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL Draft.

William Carr



Charles Woodson

Charles Woodson, Cornerback, Receiver, Returner
As the 1997 Heisman trophy recipient, Woodson became the first primarily defensive player to ever win the award. Woodson was known for his amazingly acrobatic interceptions and spectacular receptions. A force to reckon with on both sides of the ball, Woodson started his second game as a true freshman and played 34 games straight. Woodson was second in the nation with eight interceptions and voted MVP of the Wolverines 1997 national championship squad. The Freemont, Ohio native also was also recognized as the Walter Camp Player of the Year, Chevrolet Defensive Player of the Year, Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive season, the Bronko Nagurski National defensive Player of the Year and the Jim Thorpe Award winner as the top defensive back in the nation. Earned Associated Press first team All-American twice (1996 and 1997), Woodson was the first-round pick of the Oakland Raiders.

Defensive End
Selected the Dick Katcher Award winner as the top Michigan defensive lineman during the 1997 national championship season, the Ligonier, Indiana native closed out his Michigan career tied for second on the career sacks list with 24. He was named a first team All-Big Ten selection by the coaches and media in 1997 and was an American Colleges Coaches Association All-American first team. Steele completed his career with 45 tackles for loss and was a fourth round pick in the NFL draft by the Cincinnati Bengals.

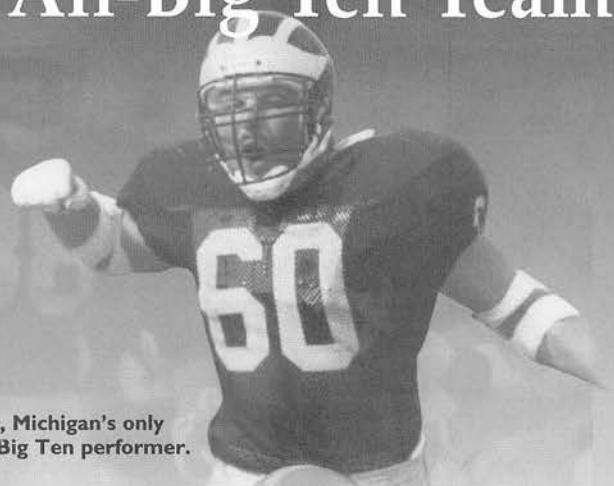
Jerame Tuman
Tight End
The All-Big Ten first team selection by the coaches and the media in 1996 and 1997. Tuman became a favorite target of quarterback Brian Griese during the 1997 season. Starting 11 of Michigan's 12 games in the 1997 national championship season, the Liberal, Kansas native finished the season ranked second on the team with receptions and reception yards. Selected as Football News first team All-American, Tuman is one of the most prolific tight ends in Michigan's history.

Michigan's All-Big Ten Team Selections

Since 1902, 237 Michigan players have been named First Team All-Big Ten a total of 333 times, the most of any conference school.



Mark Messner, Michigan's only four-time All-Big Ten performer.

In 1997, the Wolverines had 10 players named to the All-Big Ten first team, tying for the third-largest single season contingent in school history.

Retired Jerseys

Gerald R. Ford is not only one of Michigan's most famous and important graduates, but he is also one of the University's great student-athletes. On Oct. 8, 1994, Michigan retired his jersey number 48 during halftime of the Wolverines game against Michigan State.

Ford's jersey became just the fifth in Michigan's illustrious history to be retired. The five jersey numbers honor seven players because three Wolverines—the Wistert brothers—each wore number 11. Six of the players are linemen and all were two-way players.

Years after the retirement of Bennie Oosterbaan's "47", it was announced that "11" would disappear forever from the Michigan rosters, giving special recognition to three of the Wolverines greatest tackles, Francis, Albert and Alvin Wistert. Tom Harmon, "Old 98," had his number retired after winning the Heisman Trophy in 1940 and Ron Kramer's "87" never will be worn by another Wolverine because he was the epitome of the rugged defensive end and also made impossible catches as an offensive end.

Though Ford's football accomplishments may pale in comparison with his political achievements, the same would be said for any ex-President of the United States.

While at Michigan, Ford earned three varsity letters from 1932-34 and was named Michigan Most Valuable Player his senior year as a starting center. On Jan. 1, 1935, Ford played on the East Team in the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital game in San Francisco. In 1935, he played in the all-star game against the World Champion Chicago Bears following his standout senior season.

Ford, a '35 Michigan graduate, received his law degree from Yale in 1941 while also serving as an assistant football coach there. He went on to serve in the Navy for four years of active duty and returned home in 1946 with the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

On Jan. 3, 1949 Ford was sworn into Congress.

The Grand Rapids native, also a member of Michigan Sports Hall of Fame, was known as a "congressman's congressman," and was elected as the minority leader of the House of Representatives in 1965. He would later be named Vice President, and then President of the United States in 1974.

Former equipment manager Henry Hatch (above) displays four of Michigan's retired jerseys.

Gerald Ford's jersey became the fifth to be retired, Oct. 8, 1994

Academic Achievements

National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athletes

Since 1959, the Football Foundation has awarded graduate scholarships to the nation's outstanding scholar-athletes. In order to be eligible for the award, the recipient must be a senior and in his final year of eligibility. Additionally, he must have shown outstanding football ability, exhibited academic performance, demonstrated outstanding leadership and be a candidate for graduate study, having not yet received his diploma. Six Wolverines have been honored with this prestigious award.

NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Winners

The NCAA Began awarding postgraduate scholarships following the 1964 football season. Postgraduate scholarship winners must carry a minimum 3.4 (4.0) grade point average and are also evaluated on the basis of athletic achievement, extracurricular activities and community and civic involvement. University of Michigan student-athletes, including 10 football players, have claimed the $5,000 grants since they were first awarded in 1965.

Gerald R. Ford Award

The highest honor presented to former University of Michigan letterwinners is the Gerald R. Ford Award. Presented annually at the Athletic Department's Athletic Academic Achievement Banquet, the award is presented to a former Wolverine who epitomizes excellence in scholarship, sport and society. It is named after the 38th President of the United States, a former Michigan football standout and civic leader.

Big Ten Athlete Of The Year Awards

Beginning in 1982, the Big Ten directors of athletics have honored the best athlete in the Big Ten each year. For the first year, only the "Jesse Owens" Award was given. Starting in 1983 a separate award was given to the female athlete of the year. This honor was renamed the "Suzy Favor" Award in 1991-92. Since its inception, eight University of Michigan student-athletes have been honored as the Big Ten Athlete of the Year.

Big Ten Conference Medal of Honor Winners

In 1914, the Big Ten Conference endowed a Medal of Honor, to be awarded annually at each institution to the student demonstrating proficiency in scholarship and academics. Beginning in 1982, a woman athlete from each institution has also been awarded the Conference Medal of Honor.

In the 80-year history of the award, 35 Wolverine football players have earned the award, including quarterback Todd Collins in 1995 and tight end Jay Riemersma in 1996. Football player Paul White (1944 and 1947) is the only Michigan student-athlete to receive the award more than once. Following are Michigan's all-time Big Ten Medal of Honor recipients:

CONQU'RING HEROES

Michigan's Hall of Honor

The University of Michigan Hall of Honor was established in 1978 to recognize those persons who have made significant contributions as athletes, coaches and administrators to the tradition of Wolverine athletics and, in doing so, have enhanced the image and reputation of the University of Michigan.

Those inducted into the Hall of Honor have earned All-American recognition in a team or individual sport or, as individuals, have established an NCAA, American or World record; won an NCAA title; or made significant contributions to the Michigan Athletic Department as a coach or admistrator.

Team Awards

Each year, nine special awards are given to players on the Michigan football team. The awards are now the Bo Schembechler Award, the John F. Maulbetsch Award, the Meyer Morton Award, the Frederick C. Matthaei Scholarship Award, the Dick Katcher Award, the Dr. Arthur D. Robinson Scholarship Award, the Hugh H. Rader, Jr. Memorial Award, and the Robert P. Ufer Bequest.

Bo Schembechler Award

The Michigan Most Valuable Player Award was officially changed to the Bo Schembechler Award starting in the 1995 season with Tshimanga Biakabutuka as the first recipient. Schembechler, the winningest head coach in Michigan football history, led the Wolverines from 1969-89 and served as athletic director from 1988-90. He compiled a record of 194-48-5 and won 13 Big Ten titles during his tenure.

Meyer Morton Award

The Meyer Morton Award, established by the 'M' Club of Chicago in 1925, is given to the football player who shows the greatest development and most promise as a result of the annual spring practice. Morton, a 1912 Michigan graduate, was a lawyer in Chicago from 1915-48 and served as a Big Ten football official for 23 years. In fact, Morton was the referee in the famous 0-0 tie between Notre Dame and Army played at Yankee Stadium in 1946. A member of the Chicago 'M' Club, Morton traveled to Ann Arbor to present the award for many years, and the award was named in his honor after his death in 1948.

Dr. Arthur D. Robinson Scholarship Award

The death of Dr. Arthur D. Robinson in 1966 stirred his many friends to contribute to a fund which annually rewards the leading senior-scholar on the University of Michigan football team.

Dr.Robinson served the U of M Club of Greater Detroit and his beloved University in just about every capacity imaginable. He was especially interested in "The Club's" scholarship program.

Between 1947 and 1966, the leading athlete-scholar on the Michigan team was given the George Cornell "Bubbles" Patterson Award.

Hugh H. Rader, Jr. Memorial Award

The award was established in 1982 to perpetuate the fond memory of dedicated alumnus Hugh Rader. It is awarded to the "Best Lineman" as selected each year by his coaches.

Hugh was a past president of "The Club," a past member of the Board in Control of Intercollegiate Athletics, a past Director of the Alumni Association, a Trustee of the Scholarship Fund, and member of the vital Transportation Committee. He was honored in 1979 when he was selected as one of Michigan's "Greatest Fans" by the Football Centennial Committee. His consecutive home and away streak of 350 ended in 1980 when he missed the OSU game in Columbus. Hugh also received the rare distinction of being named an Honorary 'M' Club member.

Robert P. Ufer Bequest

This award is presented on behalf of Bob Ufer, the Voice of "Meechigan" football for 37 years. In a U-M career that spanned five decades, Bob broadcast 362 straight games.

During his college career, Bob set eight Michigan track records, including a world record quarter-mile. Bob was also famous for his annual OSU-Michigan pep rallies at the Mud Bowl and was the keynote speaker for President Ford's presidential kickoff rally in 1976.

In fond memory of Bob, this scholarship is awarded to the senior football player who demonstrates the most enthusiasm and love for the University of Michigan.

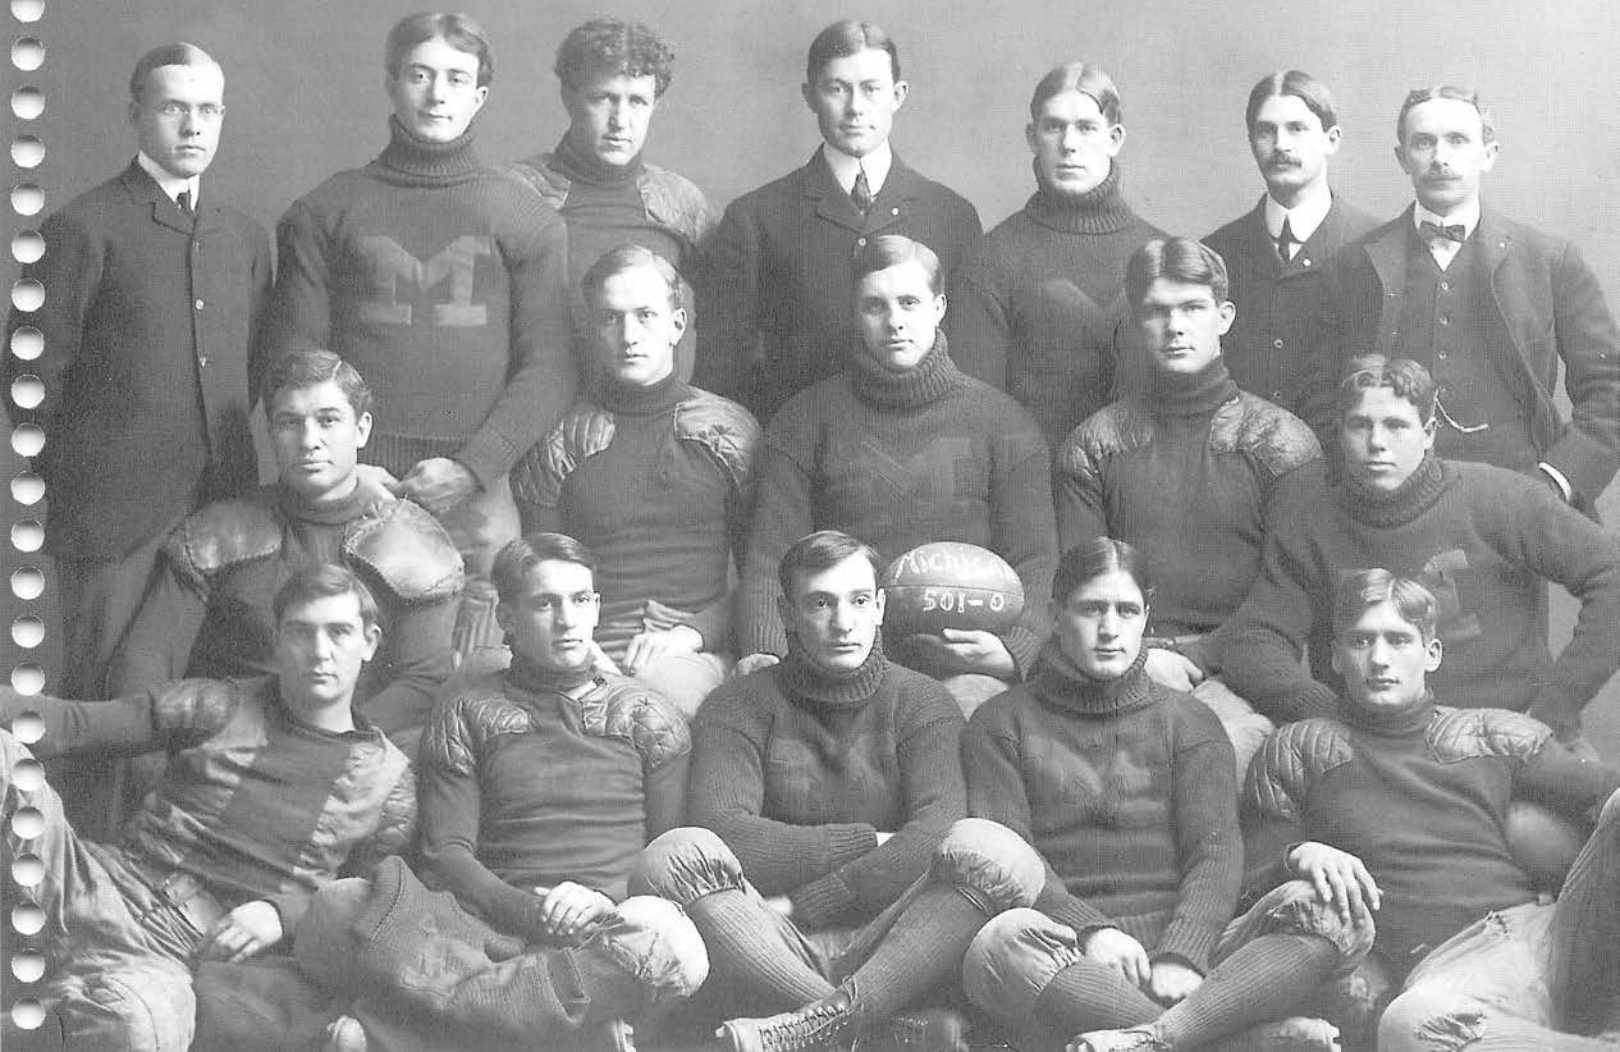
VICTORS VALIANT



All-Time Letterwinners

This listing of all-time football letterwinners is as complete and accurate as historical records allow. It includes the years lettered, position, uniform number, hometown and high school for each of the more than 1,500 letterwinners who have played at the University of Michigan since 1879. In each entry, the year is listed for each letter won (For example, in the listing for Cliff Wise, the years are 1940-42, meaning he lettered in 1940 and 1942, but not 1941). The information on each student-athlete was compiled from media guides, programs, yearbooks, and academic records.

Corrections and additions are welcomed if they can be verified. Inquiries should be directed to Michigan's Athletic Media Relations Office.

Information not listed was unavailable at the time of printing. Lettermen in boldface type are active players. Numbers did not appear on jerseys until 1915.

Manager Letterwinners

More than any other individuals involved with the football program, it is the managers who are most overlooked and least appreciated. However, it is the hard work and dedication of the managers that have meant so much to the success of Michigan football through the years.

All-Time Coaching Bios

Mike Murphy and Frank Crawford
1891 (4-5-0 overall)

In 1891, Murphy and Crawford became the first official football coaches in the history of the University. Prior to their appointment, the Michigan football program operated for eleven seasons without a coach. An experienced and popular trainer for the Detroit Athletic Club, Murphy was named the actual head coach of the 1891 team. However, midway throughout the season, Crawford was established as co-coach, doing most of the coaching while Murphy settled mostly into the more appropriate role as the squad's trainer. A graduate student from Yale, Crawford learned football while attending school in the East. Crawford's efforts in contacting other institutions about the possibilities of competing on the gridiron led to the first advance schedule in Michigan history. Prior to this, the school's games were somewhat sudden and occurred with little or no planning.

After his stint at Michigan, Crawford went on to coach the University of Nebraska to a 9-4-1 overall record in 1893 and 1894, and led the University of Texas to a perfect 5-0 record in 1895.

Frank E. Barbour
1892-93 (14-8-0 overall)

Michigan's second head coach was an 1892 graduate of Yale University, the national champions during the 1891 season. During his two seasons at the helm, he led Michigan on a then-ambitious 12 and ten game schedule. Ward's teams scored over 60 points four times and shutout the opponent on eight occasions, including five times during the 1893 season.

William L. McCauley
1894-95 (17-2-1 overall)

Attending the University as a medical student, McCauley was named Michigan's third head coach prior to the 1894 season. In contrast to today's modern football players, McCauley's first club weighed an average of 170 pounds. In his two seasons at the helm, the Wolverines only lost two contests, falling to eastern powers Cornell and Harvard. Michigan's 12-4 victory over Cornell in 1894 marked the first time in collegiate football history that a western school defeated an established power from the east.

Before coming to Ann Arbor to continue his medical studies, McCauley graduated from Princeton in 1894 and played tackle on the Tigers' championship football team. Before his departure in November of 1896, McCauley assisted William Ward in coaching the 1896 team.

William D. Ward
1896 (9-1 Overall)

Ward led Michigan into its first season in conference play, and the Wolverines emerged with a successful 2-1 record in the league. Like his predecessor, Ward had also graduated from Princeton and came out to Michigan after receiving his diploma in 1895. During the season, Ward's team only allowed eleven points and dropped only a 7-6 game to Chicago in the season finale in Chicago Coliseum.

Gustave H. Ferbert
1897-99 (24-3-1 overall)

Due to a move by the student-alumni advisory board (of which he was a member) to have only former students as coaches of the football team, Ferbert replaced William Ward in 1897. Ferbert was an 1897 Michigan graduate and would lead the team to its first Big Ten title in the 1898 season.

Langdon "Biff" Lea
1900 (7-2-1 overall)

Lea graduated from Princeton. After coaching a successful season at Michigan, he returned to assist his alma mater. Lea established a set of strict rules for his team at Princeton University's 1893 varsity football team featured three future Michigan head coaches: William McCauley, William Ward and Langdon "Biff" Lea.

Michigan, which he posted on the wall of the Gymnasium before tryouts. One such stipulation was, "The word 'Can't' is not in the football vocabulary. Any man feeling that way about any part of the game in detail is not wanted on the field and will please stay away. Only those wanted who say 'I will' with teeth together and who never stop fighting. Otherwise they go off the field."

Fielding H. Yost 1901-23, '25-'26 (165-29-10 overall)

In his 25 years as head coach of the Wolverines, Yost's accomplishments rank among the most legendary in collegiate football history. Beginning with his inaugural club of 1901, Yost led the Michigan football program on an unprecedented victory run over a five year period. Known as the "Point-a-Minute" teams, those Yost-led squads played 56 consecutive games without a loss from 1901-1905, including winning streaks of 29 and 26 games, which remain today as the longest in school history. In those five seasons, the Wolverines outscored their opponents 2,821 to 42—an average Michigan victory of 50-1. In his first season of 1901, Yost led the Wolverines to a perfect 10-0 record, a Big Ten Championship, a 49-0 victory over Stanford in the first Rose Bowl game and the school's first national championship. The Wolverines went on to win the national title again in 1902, 1903, and 1904. Under Yost, the maize and blue won ten Big Ten championships and 20 of his players earned All-American recognition.

Along with his accomplishments as the head football coach, Yost served as Michigan's Director of Athletics from 1921-41. For his leadership of the athletic department, Yost is viewed by many as the consummate pioneer and visionary of the field. As athletic director, Yost continued Michigan's tradition of accepting only the highest personal, academic, and athletic standards, while spreading that ideal to the facilities which support Michigan's athletic pursuits. Yost conceived and engineered today's modern athletic campus in Ann Arbor. Among the projects constructed under Yost's direction were Michigan Stadium, the university's 18-hole golf course, the nation's first Intramural Sports Building and the nation's first multi-purpose field house-now known as Yost Ice Arena.

Yost received a law degree from the University of West Virginia, yet also attended school at Ohio Northern University and Lafayette. He began his coaching career at Ohio Wesleyan University and led them to the school's only victory over Ohio State. After leaving Ohio Wesleyan, Yost held brief coaching stints at the University of Kansas and the University of Nebraska. In 1900, he continued his move to the west coast and took the over as the head coach at Stanford University, where he remained for a year before Stanford enacted a rule allowing only graduates to coach its football teams.

George Little 1924 (6-2-0 overall)

After serving primarily as Yost's top assistant for two seasons, Little was named head coach for the 1924 season. In his three years at Michigan, the Wolverine football program suffered only two losses. In the 1924 campaign, Little's defensive-minded clubs shut-out their opponents in five of the six victories. Upon his arrival in Ann Arbor, he helped restore Michigan's prominence on the gridiron after three straight finishes in the Big Ten's lower tier.

Little left Michigan following his lone season as head coach to accept the Athletic Director position at the University of Wisconsin. At the time of his appointment, Little was the youngest A.D. in the Big Ten conference. He later served as Director of Athletics at Rutgers and as the Executive Secretary of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Little graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1912 and began his successful coaching career at the University of Cincinnati in 1914-15. He then moved to Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, where he guided the Redskins to their first conference title in 1916. Little served in World War I in 1917-18 before returning to Miami in 1920-22.

Elton E. "Tad" Wieman 1927-28 (9-6-1 overall)

Considered one of the top offensive line coaches in the nation, Wieman succeeded Fielding H. Yost as Michigan's head man in 1927. In Wieman's first four games, the Wolverines won by an amazing 89-0 margin. Upon being appointed head coach, Wieman incorporated many of his own techniques into a system he fundamentally held over from the Yost years.

Known for his quiet, yet strong demeanor, Wieman came to Ann Arbor from Los Angeles to join the Michigan football team in 1916. He starred at a variety of positions, particularly tackle and fullback, and received all-conference recognition at each position. In addition to his accolades on the field, Wieman also earned Phi Beta Kappa honors for his achievement in the classroom.

Lea was also head coach at Princeton from 1938-42. He later went to Maine and served as head of the AFCA in 1947.

Harry G. Kipke 1929-37 (46-26-4 overall)

In a four year span between 1930 and 1933, Kipke's teams experienced unparalleled success by winning four Big Ten and two National titles (1932 and'33). During this stretch, the Wolverines compiled an astounding 34-1-3 record. Kipke stands as one of only three Michigan coaches ever to direct teams to four consecutive conference championships along with Fielding Yost and Bo Schembechler.

In his playing days, Kipke distinguished himself as one of the nation's greatest kickers and was named an All-American halfback by the Walter Camp Foundation. He holds the honor of being Michigan's first nine-letterman, participating in football, basketball, and baseball.

Following his graduation in 1925, Kipke became assistant football and head baseball coach at the University of Missouri, but returned to Ann Arbor the next fall to fill similar positions at Michigan. In 1928 he was named the head coach at Michigan State College (currently Michigan State University) where he remained for one season. Kipke's Spartans lost a tough 3-0 contest to Michigan in his only season in East Lansing. Kipke took over the Wolverine program in 1929 after a 3-4-1 season at Michigan State.

Herbert O. "Fritz" Crisler 1938-47 (71-16-3 overall)

In the ten seasons Crisler was coach, Michigan's fate on the football field was in good hands. Crisler's teams consistently excelled in conference play, finishing lower than second only twice. His style of coaching was offensive-oriented, using innovative formations to pile up yardage. In 1943, the Wolverines won their first Big Ten title in ten years with a 8-1 record. His .805 winning percentage ranks him second in school history behind only Fielding Yost (minimum 50 games coached). He climaxed his career by directing Michigan to a 49-0 rout of Southern California in the 1948 Rose Bowl. At the culmination of the 1947 season, members of the Associated Press voted the Wolverines as the mythical national champions and Crisler the National Coach of the Year.

Crisler graduated as an honor student from the University of Chicago where played football under legendary coach Amos Alonzo Stagg. He is one of two men in Chicago history ever to earn nine letters in three sports (football, basketball, baseball).

Upon receiving his diploma in 1922, Crisler became an assistant coach to Stagg, remaining there eight years. In 1930 Crisler was named the athletic director and head football coach at the University of Minnesota, where he remained for two seasons before accepting the head coaching position at Princeton University. In his six years at Princeton the Tigers compiled a 35-9-1 record.

Perhaps Crisler's greatest contribution to the history of Wolverine football was implementation of the Michigan winged helmet in 1938. Initially designed to aid quarterbacks in distinguishing receivers, the winged design has become a longstanding symbol of the University.

Bennie G. Oosterbaan 1948-58 (63-33-4 overall)

One of the greatest athletes ever to wear a Michigan uniform, Oosterbaan dedicated a great part of his life to the Michigan football program. After taking over as head coach in 1948, he guided the Wolverines to a 9-0 mark and the national championship. For his efforts in that first season, Oosterbaan was named National Coach of the Year. Oosterbaan utilized the traditional single-wing and T-formations on offense to capture the Big Ten title three times. His intelligent approach to the defensive side of the ball enabled the Wolverines to lead the league in total defense in five of his 11 seasons as head coach.

During his playing days, Oosterbaan became the first player in school history to earn All-America honors three times. He won nine varsity letters at Michigan in football, basketball and baseball—one of the few student-athletes ever to achieve this honor. Following his graduation in 1928, he turned down contracts from professional baseball and football organizations in order to join the Michigan coaching staff. Under Fritz Crisler, Oosterbaan tutored the Michigan backfield, ends, and eventually was promoted to first assistant.

Chalmers W. "Bump" Elliott
1959-68 (51-42-2 overall)

Named Michigan's 13th head coach in 1959, Elliott holds the rare distinction of both coaching and playing for Big Ten and Rose Bowl championship teams during his football career as a Wolverine. He directed the 1964 Michigan team to a 9-1 record and a Rose Bowl victory over Oregon State, 34-7. During Elliott's ten seasons as head coach, Michigan produced five All-American performers: Bob Timberlake '64, Bill Yearby 1964-'65, Jack Clancy '66, Rick Volk '66, and Ron Johnson '68.

As an All-American player at Michigan, coach Fritz Crisler called Elliott the greatest right halfback he had ever seen. In the Wolverines' national championship season of 1947, Elliott was selected as the Big Ten Most Valuable Player. He began his coaching career at Oregon State in 1948, remaining there until he was named the offensive backfield coach at Iowa in 1952. While at Iowa he helped the Hawkeyes to the Big Ten and Rose Bowl titles in 1956. Elliott returned to Ann Arbor in 1957 to coach the maize and blue backfield under coach Bennie Oosterbaan.

Glenn E. "Bo" Schembechler
1969-89 (194-48-5 overall)

As the winningest head coach in Michigan football history, Schembechler's teams won or tied an impressive 13 Big Ten championships during his 21 year tenure. Under Schembechler's guidance, Michigan's 96-10-3 regular season record through the decade of the 1970s was the nation's best. He guided 17 teams to post-season bowl games (Ten Rose Bowls) and another 17 to top ten finishes in the final wire service polls (AP and/or UPI). In his 27 years of coaching, Schembechler's teams never had a losing season. Upon stepping down after the 1989 season, Bo retired as the winningest active coach in the nation (234-65-8) and fifth on the all-time list, only behind coaching legends Paul 'Bear' Bryant, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Glen 'Pop' Warner, and Woody Hayes. In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Schembechler served as Michigan's Director of Athletics between 1988-90.

After earning his diploma from Miami (Ohio) University in 1951, Schembechler received his master's degree from Ohio State in 1952 while serving as a graduate assistant coach. He continued his coaching career with brief stints as an assistant at Presbyterian College (1954), Bowling Green (1955) and Northwestern (1958) before spending five seasons as an assistant at Ohio State. In 1963, Schembechler was named head coach at Miami of Ohio, a position he held until taking over the Michigan program prior to the 1969 campaign.

Gary O. Moeller

Taking over for the legendary Bo Schembechler in 1990, Moeller guided the Wolverines to four bowl victories in his five years, including a 1993 Rose Bowl triumph over Pac-10 champion Southern California. Moeller's list of accolades include directing teams to three Big Ten championships, two outright Big Ten titles, five bowl appearances ('91 Gator, '92 and '93 Rose, '94 Hall of Fame, and '94 Holiday), and five straight finishes in the nation's top 20. Moeller's Wolverines set a Big Ten record by winning 19 consecutive conference games between 1990-1992. By winning the Big Ten title in his first season as head coach, he joined Fritz Crisler, Bennie Oosterbaan and Fielding Yost as the only coaches to accomplish this feat in school history.

After graduating from Ohio State 1963, Moeller began his coaching career at Bellefontaine High School in Ohio. He joined Schembechler's staff at Miami (Ohio) for the 1967 and '68 seasons and made the move to Michigan with Bo in 1969. Moeller served as the defensive ends coach until being promoted to defensive coordinator in 1973. His Wolverine defensive units of 1974 and 1976 led the nation in scoring defense.

In 1976 Moeller took over as head coach at the University of Illinois, a position he would hold for three years before returning to Ann Arbor in 1980 as the Wolverines quarterback coach. Moeller resumed duties as defensive coordinator from 1982-87. As his units did twice in the mid-1970s, the 1985 Michigan "D" led the nation in scoring defense. Before being named Michigan's head coach in 1990, Moeller served as the team's offensive coordinator for three seasons (1987-89).

Michigan did not schedule any conference games for the 1907 season and officially withdrew from the Big Ten on Jan. 4, 1908 due to disagreement in rule changes. The Wolverines were an independent team until rejoining the conference on Nov. 20, 1917. Michigan then added Northwestern for a game to end the 1917 season.

All-Time Scores

The following year-by-year scores are believed to be an accurate record of the outcomes of all American football games played by the University of Michigan varsity team since 1879. In analyzing the data presented within, the game-by-game format is as follows:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Aug. 26	14/17		Virginia	(0:00)	H	W	18-17	101,444

From the example given above, the items left to right are: (1) The date of the game; (2) Michigan's Associated Press national ranking heading into the game; (3) The opponent's AP ranking heading into the game; (4) The name of the opponent; (5) The time left in the fourth quarter when the winning points were scored (since 1947), if applicable. If the game resulted in a tie, the team who scored the tying points is noted; (6) The site of the game; (7) The result of the game; (8) The score of the game, with Michigan's score listed first; (9) The attendance of the game. A "c." after the attendance figure indicates the game was played before a capacity crowd (in terms of tickets sold).

CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIPS: 1898, 1901, 02, 03, 04, 06, 18, 22, 23, 25, 26, 30, 31, 32, 33, 43, 47, 48, 49, 50, 64, 69, 71, 72, 73, 74, 76, 77, 78, 80, 82, 86, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 97.

A Different Game

The brand of football played in the game's infant years differed greatly from that played today. At the first Rose Bowl...

- The playing field was 110 yards long.
- Touchdowns and field goals counted 5 points and conversions 1 point.
- The game was divided into two 35-minute halves, not quarters.
- A team had to make 5 yards in three downs for a 1st down.
- Forward passes were not allowed.

Michigan's 1933 team won its fourth consecutive Big Ten Championship and a second straight national title.

The Associated Press selected a Top 20 college football poll from 1936-1960 and 1968-1988. From 1961-1967, the poll only consisted of the top 10 vote getters. Since 1989, the poll has listed the top 25 teams. The first preseason poll did not come out until 1950, meaning that the first poll for the years 1936-1949 was taken several weeks after the season began. Additionally, it was not until 1968 that the AP took a poll after bowl games were played. Prior to this season, the last rankings were taken during the last week in November or the first week in December, not taking into account teams that played games after this date. The only exception to the "no post bowl poll" rule came in 1947, when AP writers took a final vote after Michigan defeated Southern California in the 1948 Rose Bowl. The Wolverines jumped from No. 2 to No. 1.

When Michigan defeated Indiana 55-7 on Oct. 25, 1975, not much note was taken of the attendance figure of 93,857. However, 20 years later this game against the Hoosiers is still noted as the last time that Michigan failed to draw 100,000 to a Wolverine home game. Two decades and 129 games have passed since the streak began, as the Wolverines drew a capacity crowd of 102,415 to the Nov. 8, 1975 game against Purdue.

One of the few non-Saturday, regular season games for Michigan occurred on Oct. 25, 1991. This game between the Golden Gophers of Minnesota and the Wolverines was supposed to be played at the Metrodome on Saturday, Oct. 26. However, the game was moved back to Friday night due to the Twins appearance in the World Series and their need for the dome to play game six of the Fall Classic. The Twins won the game to set up Sunday night's game seven, which enabled the Twins to capture their second world championship in five years.

Desmond Howard had a career full of spectacular catches at Michigan, including this one against Notre Dame in 1991 which helped begin his Heisman Trophy campaign.

Between 1901 and 1905, Michigan compiled a 56-game unbeaten streak, a string that still ranks second in the NCAA record books. During this stretch of 50 months when the Wolverines compiled a record of 55-0-1, Michigan outscored its opponents, 2,821-40, beating three teams by triple digit margins. Often forgotten is the fact that Michigan played excellent competition over those years. The winning percentage of its 56 opponents was a combined .695 when their games against U-M are excluded. Of the teams Michigan played from 1901-05, 44 of the 56 finished with winning records on the season, while six teams would have compiled undefeated seasons without the loss to the Wolverines.

WOLVERINES IN THE NFL

Wolverines in NFL Draft

With its outstanding football heritage, the University of Michigan has long been a source for the National Football League draft. Since the NFL's inaugural draft on Feb. 8, 1936, at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Philadelphia, 322 Michigan football players have been selected.

Michigan has had 41 first-round draft picks, beginning with former All-American Tom Harmon, who was the first overall selection in 1941 after winning the Heisman Trophy. In 1995, three Wolverines were chosen in the first round: tailback Tyrone Wheatley by the New York Giants, defensive back Ty Law by the New England Patriots and offensive tackle Trezelle Jenkins by the Kansas City Chiefs. Charles Woodson, selected fourth by the Oakland Raiders, led a group of five Wolverines selected in the 1998 draft that included Chris Floyd (New England Patriots), Brian Griese and Chris Howard (Denver Broncos) and Glen Steele (Cincinnati Bengals).

The Rose Bowl

Each year the Big Ten champion earns the right to represent the conference against the Pacific 10 champion in the oldest bowl game in college football, the Rose Bowl. The 1999 contest will mark the 85th Rose Bowl game. However, starting with the 1998 season, the Big Ten or Pac-10 representative may or may not be tied to the Rose Bowl if they are ranked either first or second nationally.

The Big Ten and Pac-10 champions will meet if one of the two teams is not playing for the national championship. However, following the 2001 season (2,002 game), the Rose Bowl will host the title game featuring teams ranked one and two in the polls.

The game has featured Big Ten and Pac-10 teams since 1946, with the 53-year tradition being the longest of any conference bowl association.

The Rose Bowl arose out of quiet beginnings in Pasadena, CA, a growing Southern California city of fewer than 5,000 people. Most of those who inhabited Pasadena at that time were transplants from the East and Midwest, where the winters were filled with cold temperatures and snow. In late 1889, one of the town's leading citizens proposed to a group of fellow Valley Hunt Club members that it would be nice to have a small parade and display of athletic competitions on New Year's Day. Remembering their times back East, the natives were anxious to show off the warm climate and draw tourists.

The original parade was a line of flower adorned carriages, and the games consisted of foot races, a tug of war, jousts and a greased pig catching contest. The citizenry was pleased with the events, and the most major problems of the next decade were a shortage of roses in 1892 and a rule allowing women to wear split skirts (thereby allowing them to sit astride a horse when riding) in 1893.

By 1900, the Tournament of Roses committee began looking into securing a sports attraction that would grab national interest. In 1901, the suggestion was made to invite two college football teams to compete in the post season celebration.

The University of Michigan has made 16 trips to Pasadena to play in the Rose Bowl, beginning with the first one in 1902.

Michigan, "The Champion of the West" at 10-0 was selected to take on Pacific champion Stanford. For Michigan coach Fielding Yost, it was a dose of revenge, as he had been ousted from the Stanford coaching ranks in 1900 by a new rule that allowed only Stanford graduates to coach the team. Yost's men blasted Stanford on Jan. 1, 1902, 49-0, in a game that was stopped with nine minutes remaining because of the immense score.

The final score led tournament officials to discontinue football after that game, and settled on various other events to entertain the crowd. Polo took the game's place in 1903, and after the committee's president read "Ben-Hur" was replaced by chariot racing in 1904. After a chariot accident the previous year, two new events were introduced in 1913. A race between a camel and elephant headlined the tournament, followed by an ostrich race. The ostrich race was discontinued after 1913 as one of the jockeys in the race was thrown from his mount, and in an effort to capture the stray bird, was kicked across the track.

In 1915, Tournament of Roses Committee President Lewis Turner stated, "We better go back to football so we can give newspapermen from coast to coast something to write about." Washington State defeated Brown, 14-0 on Jan. 1, 1916 and the game has been going strong ever since.

Until 1923, the Tournament of Roses Committee selected the two teams that would compete in the New Year's Day classic. From 1923-46, the West Coast representative was allowed to choose its Eastern opponent. The Big Ten sent a representative in 1921, when Ohio State lost to California, 28-0. However, following the season, the Big Ten established a ban on post-season football games — a rule that lasted 26 years.

The Big Ten lifted the post-season ban Sept. 1, 1946, and a five-year pact was signed between the Big Ten and Pac-10 allowing Illinois to play UCLA in the 1947 Rose Bowl. The agreement has been renewed several times since, including Big Ten decisions in 1951 and 1974 to allow a team to go to the Rose Bowl more than once every three years and two years, respectively.

The national and international awareness and attention given to the Rose Bowl in unequalled. Approximately 425 million television viewers worldwide watch the Rose Parade each year and more than 164 million people around the world view the game.

Michigan has participated in 16 Rose Bowl games and has won seven times, both numbers being the highest of any Big Ten school.

A polo match as the sporting highlight of the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena had been satisfactory, but something more dramatic was needed in 1902. "Why not a football game?" offered one member of the committee, and immediately Tournament President James Wagner started a series of correspondence with the "best team in the West"—Fielding H. Yost's Michigan team.

Michigan was invited to play on January 1, 1902, against Stanford, champion of the "Pacific Coast Universities." The Wolverines left Ann Arbor on December 17 with temperatures below freezing and six inches of snow on the ground. Eight days later, Michigan arrived in Los Angeles and was greeted by 80-plus degrees and newspaper reports listing several reasons why Stanford should win.

New Year's morning found the Michigan team, outfitted in new uniforms, waving colorful Michigan banners, and riding a large carriage in the Rose Parade. Thousands jammed the parade route, and following the parade Pasadena experienced its largest traffic snarl ever as fans headed for the football grounds.

The city was a riot of color—mostly blue and gold, for by a strange coincidence, blue and gold were adopted as the year's official colors of the Tournament. Thus, blue and gold pennants were everywhere. The color combination so closely resembled Michigan's colors that some of the Stanford faithful, a bit miffed by what they thought was a show of support for their opponents, began to tear down the banners and streamers.

The crowd of 8,000 stormed Tournament Park, and the first 2,500 who arrived ran for the highest priced reserved seats. The rest, even those holding tickets to the reserved section, were forced to stand on the dusty sidelines throughout the contest.

The game opened with a blistering sun moving the temperatures into the mid-80's. The teams lined up at 2:57 p.m., and with Michigan defending the south goal, the Wolverines' Everett Sweeley kicked off to open the first bowl game.

Stanford appeared every bit as capable as the papers reported, turning back the powerful Michigan offense, time and again, early in the contest. In fact, the game's first score did not come until 23 minutes into the first half. After a series of short gains moved the ball to the Stanford 30, halfback Willie Heston broke loose on a naked bootleg and picked up 21 yards on the first "big" play in Rose Bowl history. Three plays later, fullback Neil Snow bulled through the tiring Stanford line from the six. Bruce Shorts added the PAT to give Michigan a 6-0 lead.

Soon after Sweeley booted a 20-yard field goal, Michigan's Chris Redden returned a weak Stanford punt 25 yards for a TD, giving the Wolverines a 17-0 halftime lead.

Under the sheer power of the Michigan eleven, Stanford's valiant defense began to crumble in the second half. The Wolverines proved relentless, scoring on nearly every possession.

With eight minutes remaining in the game, Stanford captain Ralph Fisher approached the Wolverine bench and offered to conceed; Michigan consented.

The 49-0 victory capped one of the most unbelievable seasons in college football history, Michigan had outscored its opponents, 550-0, winning 11 straight games. Willie Heston, too, made believers out of his West Coast critics. He gained 170 yards in 18 carries as the Wolverines recorded 527 yards on the ground.

The tournament association, though realizing a profit of $3,161.86, thought the wide difference in the score would make an annual game unappealing to spectators. The following year they replaced the football game with a chariot race, and it would be 16 years before the Rose Bowl would again feature a post-parade football game.

vs. Southern California

Pasadena, California

Led by All-Americans Bob Chappuis and Bump Elliott, Michigan led the nation in total offense (412.7 yards/game) and passing average (173.9 yards/game). Chappuis, runner-up in the Heisman Trophy balloting, was the Big Ten leader in total offense for the second straight year, Elliott, the team's only two-way player, was named Most Valuable Player for Michigan and the Big Ten after leading the league in scoring.

When the Wolverines arrived in Pasadena, they were 15-point favorites and Crisler felt it was necessary to call a team meeting to stifle over-confidence. Ten minutes into the game, on Michigan's second possession, Jack Weisenburger spun across the line from the one to cap an 11 play, 64 yard drive and initiate the day's scoring. In the second quarter, Weisenburger gained another one-yard touchdown, and Chappuis jump-passed to Elliott from the 11-yard line to give the Maize and Blue a 21-0 halftime lead.

In the second half, Weisenburger collected his third touchdown of the game and the Wolverines recorded three TD passes from three different passers, including tosses of 18 yards from Chappuis, 45 yards from Hank Fonde, and 29 yards from Howard Yerges as Michigan rolled to a 49-0 victory. The score, stood as USC's largest margin of defeat until 1966. In the game, Michigan shattered nine Rose Bowl records and accumulated 491 yards to the Trojans' 133. Jim Brieske's record of seven PATs remains unbroken.

In a special Associated Press poll following the game, Michigan replaced Notre Dame as the 1947 National Champion by a 226 to 119 margin.

1951 Rose Bowl

vs. California

January 1, 1951
Pasadena, California
Attendance: 98,939

Michigan	0	0	0	14	-14
California	0	6	0	0	- 6

In 1950, the Wolverines struggled through the regular season, but won the final game at Ohio State to earn the right to travel to Pasadena. Michigan's 5-3-1 squad was slated to face the California Golden Bears, a 9-0-1 club rated fourth in the nation and making its third consecutive Rose Bowl appearance. The Bears were favored to win, and many of the 98,393 fans who filled the stadium had hopes of watching the Pacific Conference end its four-game losing streak.

On the second play of the game, California's Pete Schabarum ran around left end 73 yards into the end zone, only to see it nullified on an illegal motion penalty. Cal pounded on the Michigan defense until early in the second quarter when QB Jim Marinos threw a 39-yard scoring strike to Bob Cummings. Les Richter missed the extra point, and California led 6-0. Late in the half, the Bears had moved to the Michigan 11-yard line and appeared ready to bring one more score into the lockerroom, but the Wolverines had other plans, stopping Schabarum three yards short of the goal on fourth down.

At halftime, California held a 192-65 advantage in offensive yardage and a 10-2 edge in first downs, but the Wolverines instigated a new defensive formation during the intermission. Head coach Benny Oosterbaan told his troops that "victory is still ours," renewing the team's faith in Michigan tradition and spirit, and the Wolverines returned to the field primed for victory.

Michigan was held scoreless until the fourth quarter when team MVP Don Dufek ran four identical plays from the four-yard line, finally scoring on fourth-and-one. The Wolverines extended their lead later in the quarter as Dufek again scored, this time from seven yards out. Michigan completely reversed Cal's first half domination by out-distancing the Bears 15-2 in first downs and 226-52 in total yardage during the half as the Wolverines won their third Rose Bowl in as many tries, 14-6.

After finishing no higher than fifth in the Big Ten during the previous seven years, all the pieces finally fell into place for the 1964 Wolverines. Air Force and Navy were forced to the air in the first two games, throwing a combined total of 75 passes. Michigan then ran off six victories in seven Big Ten games, dropping a one-point contest to Purdue, and shutting out Northwestern and Ohio State. The Wolverines' 8-1 record earned them the conference championship, and the team headed to Pasadena, breaking a drought of 14 years.

After USC upset top-ranked Notre Dame in the regular-season finale, it appeared that the Trojans would be Michigan's New Year's Day opponent. However, the Pac Eight Conference instead ruled in favor of the Oregon State Beavers, who had tied Southern Cal for the conference lead. The fourth- ranked Wolverines were installed as 11-point favorites over the eighth ranked Beavers as Oregon State brought an 8-2 mark into the game.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Beavers broke open the scoring with a five-yard pass from Paul Brothers to Doug McDougall early in the second period. Steve Clark kicked the extra point, and Oregon State had a 7-0 start on their upset bid. Three possessions later, Wolverine tailback Mel Anthony broke free virtually untouched for 84 yards and the score. On the Wolverines' next possession, Carl Ward rambled 43 yards around right end to put Michigan in the lead for good. Bob Timberlake's pass to Ben Farabee was broken up in the end zone, but the Wolverines still held a 12-7 advantage going into the locker room.

Anthony paced the Michigan third quarter attack after recovering a blocked Beaver punt, and extending the Wolverine lead with one- and seven- yard scores. Timberlake added a 24-yard TD run down the sideline in the fourth quarter,to close the scoring and give Michigan a 34-7 triumph.

Anthony earned Player-of-the-Game kudos for his efforts that day, and the Wolverines raised their post-season record to four victories against no losses.

In Bo Schembechler's debut at Michigan Stadium, the Wolverines outrushed Vanderbilt 367-55 en route to a 42-14 triumph, and a new era in Michigan football had begun. Heading into the season's final game, the 7-2 Wolverines were slated to meet the top-ranked and undefeated Ohio State Buckeyes. Michigan responded by pounding out 266 yards on the ground and 108 through the air while intercepting six Buckeye passes before the largest crowd ever to see a college football game up to that date. It also snapped OSU's 22-game winning streak, 24-12, and earned the Big Ten's Rose Bowl berth.

Facing the Wolverines in Pasadena was the University of Southern California. The Trojans compiled a 9-0-1 record and were ranked fourth in the polls. USC, coached by John McKay, was led by Pac Eight rushing leader Clarence Davis. The 1970 game marked the fourth consecutive Rose Bowl appearance for the Trojans.

Fate was not with the Wolverines from the beginning of their California trip. While running in practice out on the coast, Glenn Doughty, Michigan's second-leading rusher, injured his knee and was forced to undergo surgery. Then, the night before the game, Schembechler suffered a heart attack which kept him off the sideline and in the hospital during the contest. Defensive coordinator Jim Young assumed the coaching responsibilities for the game, but the players were unable to shake off their discouragement by kickoff time.

Southern Cal opened the scoring in the first quarter with a 25-yard field goal by Ron Ayala. Michigan added a field goal of its own two possessions later as Tim Killian nailed one from 20 yards out, and the teams had a 3-3 deadlock at halftime.

On third down with six yards to go late in the third quarter, Trojan quarterback Jimmy Jones hit Bob Chandler 13-yards downfield. Chandler broke several Wolverine tackles, scampered another 20 yards, and gave USC its margin of victory. Michigan saw fourth quarter drives stall at the Trojan 13, nine, and finally the 38 as time ran out, and returned to Ann Arbor with its first post- season defeat ever.

1972 Rose Bowl

vs. Stanford

Attendance: 103,154

Michigan	0	3	0	9-12
Stanford	0	0	3	10-13

By 1971, Bo had the foundation in place for a Big Ten dynasty. After stopping the Buckeyes, 10-7, in the regular season finale Michigan had completed its first undefeated and untied season since 1948 and prepared to meet Stanford in Pasadena.

Stanford entered the contest with an impressive 8-3 record despite the loss of Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett to graduation the previous spring. John Ralston's Indians thrived on the talents of quarterback Don Bunce, and running back Jackie Brown.

Dana Coin made a 30-yard field goal in the second quarter to produce the only points scored by either team in the first half. When the gun sounded after 30 minutes, Michigan held a 3-0 edge as they left the soggy Rose Bowl turf for the locker room.

Stanford egressed from the locker room to start the third period and held the Wolverines inches short of the game's first touchdown with a dramatic goal line stand. The Indians gained control of the ball and marched down the field where soccer-style kicker Rod Garcia added a field goal of his own, this one from 42 yards away. Early in the fourth quarter, Michigan fullback Fritz Seyferth plunged across from the one-yard line, and the Wolverines regained the lead, 10-3.

Facing fourth down on their own 33-yard line, Stanford used a fake punt to spring Brown for a 31-yard gain. Several plays later, Brown again broke free, this time for 24 yards and the score that tied the contest at ten apiece. Minutes later, when Coin's 42-yard field goal attempt fell short, Indian Jim Ferguson caught and intended to return the ball, but Ed Shuttlesworth dropped him in the end zone to give Michigan two points on the safety and a 12-10 advantage. Following a Michigan punt the Indians took over on their 22-yard line, and Bunce proceeded to complete five of his next six passes to move his squad down the field. With 16 seconds remaining in the game, Ralston sent in Garcia for one final play. The kick sailed 31 yards straight over the crossbar, and Stanford claimed a narrow victory, 13-12.

1976 Orange Bowl

vs. Oklahoma

Miami, Florida
January 1, 1976

Michigan	0	0	0	6- 6
Oklahoma	0	7	0	7-14

Under pressure from the conference coaches, led by Michigan's Bo Schembechler, the Big Ten finally lifted their long-standing policy of limiting post-season games to only the Rose Bowl. As a consequence, once the Wolverines lost their only regular-season game to top-ranked Ohio State, Michigan accepted an invitation to meet the Oklahoma Sooners in Miami's Orange Bowl.

The fourth-ranked Wolverines left for Miami armed with Gordie Bell, who led the nation's second-leading rushing team with 121.4 yards per game, and under the guidance of freshman field general Rick Leach. Oklahoma came in as defending Associated Press National Champions despite making their first post-season appearance since 1972, due to two years of NCAA and Big Eight probation. The Sooners' 10-1 record placed them second in both wire-service polls, and they marked Michigan's first experience against a wishbone offense since meeting UCLA three years earlier.

The first quarter was a defensive battle, with the Wolverines putting together the only substantial drive, starting at the Michigan 5-yard line and stalling at the Oklahoma 38. Following Bob Wood's attempted 51-yard field goal, the Sooners opened the scoring with a successive 40-yard pass from Steve Davis to Tinker Owens and a 39-yard reverse by Billy Brooks for the score.

The Wolverines drove as far as the Oklahoma nine-yard line in the third quarter, before being thwarted by a pass interception in the end zone. On the first play of the fourth quarter, Davis ran 10 yards around the left end to increase the Sooner lead to 14-0. Michigan finally got on the scoreboard following an Oklahoma fumble on their own two. Bell carried it over on the next play, but Leach's two-point conversion attempt was stopped. The Wolverines were only able to make it as far as midfield for the duration of the game, and the Sooners went on to a 14-6 victory.

Oklahoma was led by the defensive efforts of Leroy and Dewey Selmon (10 and 13 tackles, respectively) and, following Ohio State's 23-10 loss in the Rose Bowl to UCLA, was named National Champion in both polls. Leroy Selmon went on to become the first draft choice in the NFL college draft later that spring.

vs. Southern California

Pasadena, California
January 1, 1977
Attendance: 106,182

Michigan	0	6	0	0- 6
USC	0	7	0	7-14

By defeating Ohio State, 22-0, in the regular season finale, Michigan posted its largest margin of victory in the series in 30 years and handed the Buckeyes their first shutout in 112 games, a streak that began in 1964. The Wolverines tied OSU for first place in the Big Ten with a 10-1 record, and earned their first Rose Bowl berth since 1971. At season's end, Michigan led the nation in total offense (448.1 yards per game), scoring offense (38.7 points), and scoring defense (7.2 points).

In Pasadena, the third-ranked Wolverines were slated to face the No. 2 Southern California, a team with equally impressive credentials. The Trojans stocked with players such as quarterback Vince Evans, running backs Ricky Bell and Charles White, linebacker Clay Matthews, and coached by John Robinson, the Trojans promised to provide Michigan with quite a challenge on New Year's Day.

It took until midway through the second quarter for either team to put points on the scoreboard. The Wolverines scored first when Rob Lytle smashed over the goal line from one yard out. Bob Wood's extra point attempt was blocked, and Southern Cal used the momentum to march 80 yards on the following drive, tying the score with Evans rolling in on a fourth-and-one play with 1:28 left in the quarter. The conversion was good, and USC held a 7-6 advantage at the half.

The game was returned to the defenses in the second half. The Wolverines tallied just four first downs, and the Trojans used a relentless ground game to grind their way deep into Michigan territory in the fourth quarter. White scored on a seven-yard run with three minutes to go, but the Wolverines made it close by charging back to the USC 17 before running out on downs in the closing seconds.

Bell, the top pick in the 1977 NFL draft, left the game early in the first quarter with a head injury and was replaced by the freshman White, who went on to win the Heisman Trophy three seasons later. The game also marked Lytle's last in a Wolverine uniform as he led all Michigan rushers with 67 yards to up his then school record to 3,317 yards. USC finished no. 2 in the final football polls behind the Pittsburgh Panthers. The Wolverines finished No. 3 in the rankings, their highest finish under Bo Schembechler to date.

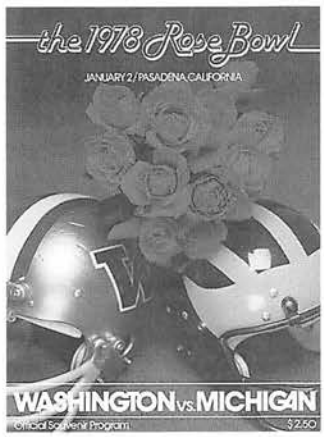
vs. Washington

Pasadena, California
January 1, 1978
Attendance: 105,312

Michigan	0	0	7	13-20
Washington	7	10	10	0-27



With a defense featuring Curtis Greer and Chris Godfrey on the line, Mel Owens at outside linebacker, and Dwight Hicks and Mike Harden in the backfield, the Wolverines held all but three of their opponents under 10 points during the 1977 season. Michigan had won 10 of 11 games and outscored its opposition by a three-to-one margin heading into the Rose Bowl to face the University of Washington Huskies.

Michigan failed to get out of the gate quick enough and even a 20-point second half could not rescue the Wolverines. A low center snap resulted in a 13-yard loss on a fourth down punt and gave Washington field position early. Ten plays later, quarterback Warren Moon scored from the two yards out. A field goal and Moon's second TD put the Huskies up 17-0 at halftime.

Moon's 28-yard scoring pass to Spider Gaines after Washington had stopped Michigan on the Huskey three-yard line appeared to put the game away in the third quarter, but Wolverine quarterback Rick Leach launched one of the finest aerial assaults in the history of this classic contest. First, he fired a Rose Bowl record TD pass of 76 yards to Curt Stephenson. Washington countered with a 18-yard field goal, but Leach completed four straight passes, and Russell Davis scored from the two. Later in the fourth quarter, Leach fired first down passes of 11 and 12 yards to Ralph Clayton, then connected with Stanley Edwards, filling in for the injured Harlan Huckleby, for 32 yards and a TD.

Leach led another dramatic drive to the Washington eight-yard line, but a diving interception by linebacker Michael Jackson stopped Michigan and preserved the 27-20 Washington win.

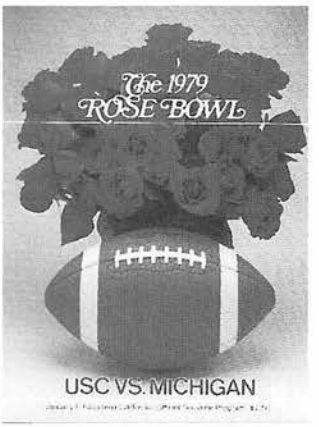
1979 Rose Bowl

vs. Southern California

Pasadena, California
January 1, 1979
Attendance: 105,629

Michigan	0	3	7	0-10
USC	7	10	0	0-17



After shutting out the Fighting Illini of Illinois in the season opener, the Wolverines won nine of their next ten games, including their third straight victory over Ohio State, and qualified for their third Rose Bowl in as many years.

Michigan played one of its finest defensive games in years, but a combination of circumstances and a relentless Southern California ground attack lifted the Trojans to a 17-10 victory in the 65th annual Rose Bowl Classic in Pasadena. An intercepted pass returned to the Wolverine 16-yard line set up USC's first touchdown of the game, a Paul McDonald to Hoby Brenner pass covering nine yards.

Michigan later drove to the Trojan 21-yard line, but a dropped pass stalled the Wolverines' progress, and allowed Gregg Willner to put the first "Big Blue" points on the board with a 36-yard field goal in the second quarter. USC extended its lead moments later on one of the more controversial calls in Rose Bowl history. On second down at the Michigan three-yard line, Trojan tailback Charles White dove through the heart of the offensive line in an attempt to score. During the ensuing contact, White lost the ball and Wolverine linebacker Jerry Meter came up with an apparent fumble recovery on the one-yard line. However, the line judge determined that White had crossed the goal line before losing control of the ball and signalled for the touchdown that put USC up by 11. Late in the half, the Trojans intercepted a Rick Leach pass and set up a Frank Jordan field goal from 35 yards away to increase their lead to 17-3 at halftime.

It didn't take long after leaving the locker room for the Wolverines to narrow the score. Midway through the third period, Leach tossed a 44-yard scoring strike to tailback Roosevelt Smith to close within seven points. Michigan held the strong USC offense scoreless for the remainder of the game, but was unable to put more points on the board as the score stayed unchanged for the duration. Playing in his third straight Rose Bowl, Leach set career records for total plays (94), total yards running and passing (523), and most yards passing (452) in the New Year's game. Leach shared Most Valuable Player honors with USC's White.

"Bo Schembechler is looking up into football's valhalla and saying, 'Thank you, Fielding Yost, thank you, Fielding Yost for that one'. . . They aren't even going to try the extra point. Who cares! Who gives a damn! I've never been so happy in all my cotton-pickin' 59 years." So said the Wolverines' all-time no. 1 cheerleader, Bob Ufer, describing the mayhem following "the greatest play in 100 years of Michigan football." Anthony Carter's dramatic, game-winning reception against Indiana was easily the season highlight of the 8-3 Wolverines as they headed to the Gator Bowl to oppose North Carolina's 7-3-1 Tar Heels.

Quarterback John Wangler opened the game with a 47-yard pass completion to Carter, but 20 yards in penalties took Michigan out of field goal range, giving the Wolverines a preview of events to come. Bryan Virgil booted a 20-yard field goal early in the second quarter and Wangler, hitting receivers at will, threw 53 yards to Carter for a 9-0 lead after Michigan missed the extra point. On the next series, Wangler was tackled by UNC linebacker Lawrence Taylor on a sprint out, suffering a severe knee injury, ending his playing time that night. Up to that point, he had already accumulated 203 yards through the air. North Carolina finally scored on a one-yard plunge by Doug Paschal late in the quarter, and trailed 9-7 at the half.

Midway through the third quarter, the Tarheels took control of the game, driving 97 yards in 15 plays behind the running of Amos Lawrence, and scoring on a 12-yard pass from Matt Kupec to Phil Farris. North Carolina added a field goal with 7:31 remaining in the game to move ahead 17-9. However, the Wolverines never gave up, and with 1:28 to go, backup quarterback B.J. Dickey, Wangler's replacement, connected with A.C. on a 30-yard bomb to bring the game to within two. In an attempt to tie, Dickey's pass to Carter in the endzone failed, and Michigan fell short. Hindering the Wolverines throughout the game were two lost fumbles, two pass interceptions, the loss of Wangler, and 87 yards in penalties.

The Wolverines may have started slowly in 1980, but by October, nobody was able to stop them. Beginning with the Illinois game on October 25, Michigan put together a streak of 15 consecutive scoreless quarters, shutout Indiana, Wisconsin, and Purdue, won the Big Ten title outright for the first time since 1971, and took a string of 18 straight quarters without allowing a touchdown into the Rose Bowl to face the Washington Huskies.

The Huskies compiled more total yards against the Michigan defense, 374, than any team had all season, but the Wolverines continued their consecutive no- touchdown string, and Bo Schembechler won his first Rose Bowl in six tries.

Washington dominated the game early, and on its second drive, the Huskies reached the Michigan one-yard line. But the Wolverines then stonewalled tailback Toussiant Tyler on fourth down and took the momentum from Washington. Butch Woolfolk put Michigan in the lead with a six-yard TD burst near the half, and despite Chuck Nelson's two field goals, the Wolverines remained in command the rest of the way.

Ali Haji-Sheikh's 25-yard field goal capped a six- minute, 83-yard drive to open the second half, and John Wangler connected with Anthony Carter for a seven-yard score, widening the Michigan margin to 17-6 with three minutes remaining in the third quarter. From there, the Wolverine defense took over with Keith Bostic forcing an interception and limiting the Huskies to 23 yards in total offense until the game's final minutes. Michigan clinched the victory on Stan Edwards' one-yard TD dive with four minutes remaining in the game to provide the final margin.

Butch Woolfolk's 182 yards rushing earned him game MVP honors, while Don Bracken's 73-yard punt in the first quarter set a Rose Bowl record. The season which had looked so bleak after a 1-2 beginning thus concluded with nine straight 'M' wins.

1981 Bluebonnet Bowl

UCLA	0	0	7	7-14

In the game billed as a "mini-Rose Bowl", the 8-3 Wolverines came out smelling sweet on New Year's eve. Michigan's defense limited the powerful UCLA attack to 195 total yards and held the Bruins to just 33 yards on the ground. The Wolverines led the entire game, beginning with Ali Haji-Sheikh's 24-yard field goal, set up by Butch Woolfolk's 52-yard run. With one minute remaining in the first quarter, quarterback Steve Smith spotted Anthony Carter behind the Bruin secondary, for a 50-yard scoring bomb that upped the lead to 10-0. Michigan dominated the rest of the half, yielding only 58 total yards to UCLA. But 12 penalties kept the Maize and Blue off the scoreboard the rest of the half.

The Bruins narrowed the gap to 10-7, scoring on their first possession of the third quarter, but the Wolverines responded immediately, marching 52-yards before Haji Sheikh kicked a 47-yard field goal, the longest of his career. UCLA again drove into Michigan territory, but two penalties and Winfred Carraway's sack of Bruin quarterback Tom Ramsey ended the march, and the Pacific 10 runners-up never again had a chance to take the lead. The Wolverines moved 74 yards ending in Woolfolk's one-yard TD run. After UCLA cut the lead to 19-14, Michigan drove 80 yards in seven plays with Smith scoring from nine yards out on the option play to clinch the victory. Reserve quarterback B.J. Dickey's touchdown run in the final minute iced the triumph.

Woolfolk closed his brilliant career at Michigan by gaining 186 yards rushing, bringing his four-year total to 3,861 and earning game MVP honors. Smith's 152 passing yards gave him Michigan's single-season record with 1,661 yards, as well as adding to his total offense mark. Anthony Carter grabbed six receptions for 127 yards, and the Wolverines left Houston looking forward to the new year.

Michigan dominated the Big Ten in 1982, rolling through its conference schedule and winning the title outright in the second-to-last-game against Purdue. Even a loss to Ohio State in the regular season finale could not take the roses from the Wolverines as they prepared to face the UCLA Bruins in Pasadena. The game featured a rematch of the previous season's Bluebonnet Bowl participants, and gave the Maize and Blue an opportunity to avenge the 31-27 loss suffered at the hands of the Bruins earlier in the season. This contest, however, would be played in the Rose Bowl, a stadium UCLA had claimed as its home field for the 1982 regular season.

A one-yard plunge by Ramsey on UCLA's second drive put the Bruins up 7-0 in the first quarter, a lead they never relinquished. In the second quarter, Wolverine quarterback Steve Smith ran an eight-yard option for a first down, but took a vicious hit from Bruin free safety Don Rogers. Smith left the game with a separated shoulder and did not return. Junior Dave Hall, with seven completions in 14 attempts for the season, finished the game in admirable fashion, but his inexperience hurt the Wolverines.

Late in the second quarter, kicker John Lee gave UCLA a 10-0 lead with a 39-yard field goal. However, the Wolverines stormed back after the intermission and drove 55 yards for a touchdown. Hall passed the final yard to fullback Eddie Garrett in the third quarter to bring U of M within three points at 10-7.

On the next drive the Bruins took control with Ramsey leading the way, passing for 33 yards and running for 20 in an 80-yard TD drive. With UCLA up 17-7 and nine minutes left to play, the Wolverines took over deep in their own territory. Here Hall showed his inexperience by lobbing a pass into the hands of Bruin Blanchard Montgomery. The 230-pound linebacker galloped 11 yards into the end zone to seal the Wolverines' fate.

After Hall passed to fullback Dan Rice for a 1-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter, the score read 24-14 in UCLA's favor. Michigan could not muster another scoring drive, and UCLA took home the roses.

Auburn	0	0	3	6- 9

Buoyed by back-to-back shutouts of Michigan State and Northwestern and a last-second victory over Iowa, the 1983 Wolverines charged to a second-place finish in the Big Ten, suffering its only conference setback to the Illinois squad that went on to play in the Rose Bowl. By holding off a late Ohio State comeback bid in the season finale, the Wolverines raised their record to 9-2 and gained a trip to New Orleans to meet the Auburn Tigers in the Sugar Bowl.

Steve Smith led a powerful offensive attack early in the game during which Michigan held the ball for over nine minutes of the first quarter and gained 116 yards to the Tigers' 61. The Wolverines' second offensive drive in the game was highlighted by a 19-yard Smith to Triando Markray completion and 38 yards on four carries by Rick Rogers. Smith's four-yard keeper midway through the first quarter gave the Wolverines a lead they would keep for 52 minutes of the 60-minute contest.

Each team showed a strong defense for the remainder of the half, and Michigan took its 7-0 lead into the locker room.

Campbell attempted only two passes in the second half and handed off 42 times to backs Lionel James, Bo Jackson, and Tommy Agee, who together collected 306 yards on the ground.

While Michigan's offense was thwarted time and time again, the Tigers ran all over the tiring Wolverine defense, controlling the ball for over 23 minutes of the second half. After a 26-yard Don Bracken punt—one of a season-high eight points—Auburn marched 68 yards, all on the ground, to set up a 31-yard Al DelGreco field goal.

The Tigers got a break when Smith was hit as he released the ball and Auburn's Gregg Carr grabbed it at the Michigan 41-yard line. Seven plays later, DelGreco chalked up his second three-pointer, a 32-yarder.

After another Michigan punt, Auburn took over on its own 39-yard line. The Tigers ran a ball control offense, using 15 rushing plays and 7:21 off the clock in reaching the Wolverines' one-yard line with 27 seconds to play in the game. Michigan called a timeout, but DelGreco booted the 19-yard field goal to send the Wolverines back to Ann Arbor with a taste of New Orleans but no sugar.

After upsetting top-ranked Miami in the season opener, Michigan's fortunes looked bright for 1984. But when quarterback Jim Harbaugh broke his arm against Michigan State, it took a great effort for the Wolverines to limp to a 6-5 record. Despite their less-than-spectacular season mark, Michigan found itself paired against No. 1-ranked Brigham Young in the Holiday Bowl. The Wolverines accepted the opportunity, and ended the season just how they had started—facing the nation's top-ranked team.

Aided by six Brigham Young turnovers and a blocked field goal attempt, Michigan held a 17-10 lead early in the fourth quarter. But BYU quarterback Robbie Bosco, hampered by an injured left knee and ankle suffered in the first stanza, led the Cougars to 80 and 83-yard TD drives to give BYU a 24-17 victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, BYU jumped on the scoreboard when Kelly Smith capped an 11-play, 80-yard drive with a five-yard TD run. The Wolverines knotted the score at 7-7 after Rick Rogers scampered in from five yards out with 1:13 left in the half. But Bosco led BYU down the field in the last minute, and Lee Johnson booted a 31-yard field goal giving the Cougars a slim 10-7 halftime lead.

Michigan went ahead late in the third quarter, moving 47 yards after Tim Anderson blocked Johnson's field goal attempt and Chris Zurbrugg threw a 10-yard TD pass to Bob Perryman. Early in the fourth quarter, Bob Bergeron pushed the Michigan lead to 17-10 with a 32-yard field goal. Then Bosco went to work, driving BYU for two late TDs—the last coming with just 1:23 to play—and the win.

In collecting its 24th consecutive victory, BYU put together some impressive offensive figures (483 yards in total offense, 32 first downs) and went on to claim the national championship.

1986 Fiesta Bowl

Attendance: 72,454

Michigan	3	0	24	0-27
Nebraska	0	14	0	9-23

The surprising 9-1-1 Wolverines — equipped with the nation's top scoring defense — found themselves matched against Nebraska in the Fiesta Bowl.

After a 21-yard run by Jamie Morris set up a 42-yard field goal by Pat Moons to open the scoring, the Cornhuskers got rolling. Nebraska used 10 plays to move 74 yards for the touchdown that gave Nebraska a 7-3 lead early in the second quarter. McCathorn Clayton hit Doug DuBose in the endzone from five yards out for the score. The Cornhuskers added another tally when a 15-yard run by fullback Tom Rathman set up DuBose's second touchdown of the game, giving Nebraska a 14-3 halftime lead.

In the second half, an inspired Wolverine defense began forcing turnovers to help U-M climb back into contention. On their third play from scrimmage, Nebraska's DuBose fumbled, and Michigan's Jeff Akers recovered. A 19-yard run by Jamie Morris set up Gerald White's one-yard dive for a TD, pulling the Wolverines to within 14-10 early in the third quarter. Another fumble by Nebraska, this one by Clayton, was recovered by Michigan's Mark Messner on the next series, and White's 19-yard run set up a one-yard plunge by Harbaugh to give the Maize and Blue the lead at 17-14. The Wolverine defense forced Nebraska to punt on the next series, and Dave Arnold rushed in untouched to block his third punt of the season to set up a short Moons field goal. The Wolverines scored again on their next possession when a 14-yard run by Morris set up Harbaugh's second TD of the afternoon, giving Michigan a seemingly comfortable 27-14 lead.

The excitement was not quite finished, thanks to an elusive freshman quarterback for Nebraska. Steve Taylor moved the Cornhuskers 77 yards in four minutes to cut the Michigan lead to 27-21. With the Wolverines in a hole late in the game, Schembechler elected to take an intentional safety, and Nebraska was unable to mount a drive on its final possession.

The win gave Schembechler his third bowl victory in five years, and vaulted Michigan to the No. 2 spot (behind Oklahoma) in the final polls.

vs. Arizona State

The Maize and Blue returned to the grass of the Rose Bowl after a four year drought to face seventh-ranked Arizona State, a team that had rolled to the Pac-10 title by running through its schedule unbeaten before slipping in their final game against Arizona.

Michigan made its first drive look easy. After Jim Harbaugh passed 24 yards to Greg McMurtry on the second play from scrimmage, the Wolverines quickly moved into scoring position. Jamie Morris took the handoff at the 18-yard line, broke two tackles, and smashed into the end zone. On the point -after attempt, the Sun Devils were caught when kicker Mike Gillette took the snap and passed to Gerald White in the end zone while the rest of the team remained huddled to the side. As the ecstatic Wolverine contingent cheered, the scoreboard flashed the score: Michigan 8, ASU 0.

Early in the second quarter, the Sun Devils' Kent Bostrom booted a 37-yard field goal. Michigan roared right back by powering the ball to the 2-yard line before Harbaugh plunged to paydirt. Gillette kicked the conversion, and Michigan led 15-3. After adding a 27-yard field goal, Arizona State used the last four minutes of the half to mount a 60-yard drive that commenced when Jeff Van Raaphorst passed to Bruce Hill for the Sun Devils' first touchdown. As the teams took to the locker room, the Wolverines hald a 15-13 advantage.

Opening the second half, Arizona State launched an 80-yard drive. Van Raaphorst again found Hill in the end zone, and after the two-point conversion failed, Michigan trailed by four. The Wolverines only touched the ball twice in the entire quarter, and netted just 22 yards, all from Harbaugh's pass completion in the third quarter. With 14:16 to go in the game, Bostrom added a 25-yard field goal and Arizona State had all the points needed for the victory.

Despite the disappointment of the final game, the 1986 season was a good one for Michigan football. Wolverine fans were treated to the 32nd Big Ten title in school history, Bo Schembechler's 200th career victory and the passing of Fielding H. Yost as the winningest coach in Michigan history.

For the second time in his 19 year reign, Bo Schembechler would not be on the sidelines for a Michigan bowl game. Schembechler underwent quadruple heart bypass surgery in early December and offensive coordinator Gary Moeller was given the task of preparing the Wolverines.

The Crimson Tide took the opening kickoff and moved the ball to Michigan's 34-yard line, where they had to settle for a 51-yard Philip Doyle field goal. In the second quarter, Jamie Morris broke a tackle for a 25-yard touchdown run, giving the Wolverines their first lead of the game. On Michigan's next possession, Morris again broke a tackle, then ran over a defender for a 14-yard TD run and the Wolverines went into the locker room with a 14-3 half time lead.

Michigan began the second half where it left off as Morris broke loose for a 77-yard TD run, lifting U-M to a comfortable 21-3 margin. Following Morris' run, the Crimson Tide launched a 72-yard drive in just under five minutes that culminated in a 16-yard touchdown pass from Jeff Dunn to Howard Cross. After a Michigan punt, Alabama marched 85 yards capped by Bobby Humphrey's one-yard TD run, cutting the Wolverine's lead to five points with 13 minutes left in the game. Two more times Michigan's offense was held and Alabama was again able to drive against the Wolverine defense, this time for 79 yards, culminating in a 17-yard scoring run by Humphrey. Alabama's two-point conversion was successful and the Tide took the lead, 24-21, with just under five minutes remaining.

Facing fourth-and-three from the 20-yard line late in the fourth quarter, Brown lofted a 20-yard pass that John Kolesar pulled down in the corner of the end zone for a touchdown and ended Michigan's most exciting scoring drive of the season. In the game's waning moments, Alabama's desperation pass was intercepted by cornerback David Arnold to seal the win.

Jamie Morris' 234 yards rushing set a Hall of Fame Bowl and Michigan bowl record. He also broke the Wolverines' single season rushing record with a total of 1,703 yards and ended his career with 4,393 rushing yards, the third best in Big Ten History.

Coming off one of the toughest Ohio State games in recent history, many questioned whether or not Michigan could withstand a team that led the Pac-10 in rushing defense, total defense, and was offensively led by Rodney Peete, the 1988 Heisman Trophy runner-up.

Michigan's first possession was highlighted by a 21-yard completion from Demetrius Brown to John Kolesar on the fourth play of the drive. U-M controlled the ball for 7:51 on 13 plays until it was stopped by the Trojan defense. Mike Gillette was called in to cap the drive with a 49-yard field goal with 4:07 remaining in the quarter.

At the beginning of the second quarter, the Trojan offense came to life. USC moved from its own 46-yard line to the Wolverine 22. Each side turned the ball over, however, before the Trojans scored the game's first touchdown on a one-yard run by Peete. USC began its second TD drive with 7:06 remaining in the half, ending with Peete's four-yard scoring run.

The opening minutes of the second half saw Brown's 22-yard scramble to the six, followed by his touchdown toss to Chris Calloway two plays later. U-M was unsuccessful on the two-point conversion, leaving the score at 14-9.

In the final minutes of the third quarter, the Michigan offense, led by running backs Tony Boles and Leroy Hoard, put together the longest drive of the game. The duo amassed 64 of the 92 yards gained by U- M in the drive. A 23-yard pass from Brown to Derrick Walker put the Wolverines on the one-yard line, and Hoard took it in for the score. Michigan again failed on the two-point try, leaving the Trojans just one point behind with plenty of time left in the final quarter.

With 5:28 left to play in the game, the Wolverines' sensed their third bowl victory in four years. On the very first play, Hoard exploded for a 61-yard run to the Trojan 9-yard line. On fourth-and-goal Hoard scored to give Michigan a seven point lead that became eight after Gillette's extra point with 1:57 remaining.

Peete then led the Trojans down the field in an attempt to tie the game, but linebacker John Milligan picked off an errant pass with 50 seconds remaining to secure a Wolverine win.

The victory gave Schembechler his second win in Pasadena and the Wolverines a 9-2-1 season record, finishing with a no. 4 national ranking by Associated Press.

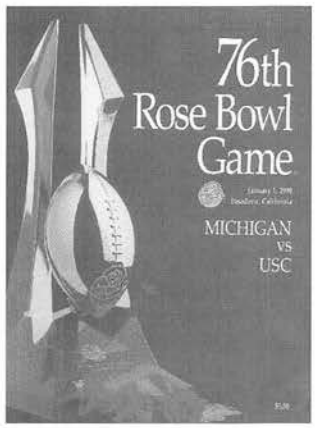
1990 Rose Bowl

vs. Southern California

Pasadena, California
January 1, 1990
Attendance: 103,450

Michigan	0	3	7	0-10
USC	0	10	0	7-17



Every Rose Bowl is a grand spectacle of the best college football has to offer, but the 1990 clash between Michigan and Southern California had added luster as it was the last game in Bo Schembechler's 27-year coaching career.

The first quarter was dominated by the defenses, as neither team was able to put any points on the scoreboard. USC opened the scoring in the second quarter on a one-yard touchdown run by quarterback Todd Marinovich. Michigan answered USC's score midway through the second quarter. Leroy Hoard ripped off a 46-yard run and Michael Taylor connected with Greg McMurtry for 20 yards to get down to the Trojan eight-yard line. J.D. Carlson's 19-yard field goal cut USC's lead to 7-3 with 6:28 left. The Trojans closed out the first half scoring on a 34-yard Quin Rodriguez field goal that pushed USC's halftime lead to 10-3.

The Wolverines played an inspired third quarter, limiting the Trojans to just 27 yards while scoring the tying touchdown. Michigan scored on their second drive of the quarter as Allen Jefferson scored from two yards out to tie the game at 10.

The game's pivotal play came on a fourth and two from the Michigan 46 with 12:00 left in the contest. On that play, Wolverine punter Chris Stapleton's fake punt gained 24 yards, but a holding penalty and a subsequent unsportsmanlike conduct penalty pushed Michigan back to its own 21 and eliminated the first down. Southern Cal took advantage of Michigan's misfortune, marching 75 yards in 13 plays for the game-winning TD.

Despite the Rose Bowl defeat, the Wolverines had their first 10 win season (10-2) since 1986, and earned their second consecutive outright Big Ten Championship. Bo Schembechler ended his coaching career as the winningest coach in Michigan football history with a 194-48-5 record.

Mississippi	0	3	0	0- 3

Gary Moeller's Wolverines gained a share of the Big Ten title in his first season and the Wolverines met Mississippi in the Gator Bowl.

After both teams exchanged early turnovers, Michigan opened the scoring when Elvis Grbac threw deep down the right side of the field to Desmond Howard, for a career-long 63-yard touchdown reception. J.D. Carlson's extra point gave Michigan a 7-0 lead with 1:04 left in the first quarter.

Mississippi scored its only points of the game in the second quarter when Brian Lee kicked a career-long and Gator Bowl record 51-yard field goal to trim the margin to 7-3.

Following a 32-yard Howard return of the ensuing kickoff, Jon Vaughn sprinted around left end for a gain of 37 yards and a first down at the Rebel 31. Five plays later, Grbac threw seven yards to Jarrod Bunch for a 14-3 halftime lead. Grbac's touchdown pass, his 19th of the season, broke Jim Harbaugh's Michigan single season record for touchdown passes thrown (18 in 1985).

Early in the third quarter, Grbac threw a screen pass to Howard who eluded the Mississippi defense en route to a 50-yard touchdown reception and a 21-3 Michigan lead with 10:53 left in the third quarter.

Later in the quarter, Ole Miss quarterback Tom Luke was intercepted by Todd Plate at the Michigan 37. After a three-yard Ricky Powers run and an 11-yard Grbac to Howard completion, the Wolverines had a first down on Ole Miss 49-yard line. On the next play, Powers blasted up the middle for a gain of 44 yards and a first down at the Rebel five. Bunch pounded into the end zone on the next play, giving Michigan a comfortable 28-3 lead.

As the third stanza was nearing completion, Grbac connected with Derrick Alexander over the middle for a 33-yard touchdown—Grbac's fourth of the game, and a Michigan single bowl record. That closed the scoring, giving Michigan a resounding 35-3 win.

Offensive linemen Dean Dingman, Tom Dohring, Greg Skrepenak, Matt Elliott and Steve Everitt were named the game's Most Valuable Players for leading the offense to a Michigan single game record 715 total yards.

Washington	0	13	8	13-34

With a fourth consecutive Big Ten title locked up, the Michigan Wolverines ventured to Pasadena hoping to add a Rose Bowl title and possible national championship to their already impressive list of accolades. Thus far the 1991 season had seen Desmond Howard win the Heisman Trophy and Erick Anderson garner the first Butkus Award in school history. However, standing in the way of Gary Moeller's team was the Washington Huskies, a team boasting the nation's top-ranked defense.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Huskies went ahead as Billy Joe Hobert faked to Beno Bryant and ran off left tackle for two yards and the touchdown. Howard, an electrifying player, would then add another clip to his collegiate highlight film on Michigan's ensuing drive as he snared a leaping, 35-yard reception over eventual NFL first round selection Dana Hall. Three plays later, Elvis Grbac connected with Walter Smith on a 9-yard touchdown pass. Two Travis Hanson field goals made the score 13-7 Huskies at halftime.

Washington extended its lead in the third quarter on an 80-yard touchdown drive. Hobert completed a 5-yard TD toss to Mark Bruener and the two-point conversion to Aaron Pierce.

Facing a 21-7 deficit, the Wolverines were again unable to manage a first down and were forced to punt. Excellent field position awaited the Washington offense again, with the ball resting on the Michigan 48. On the second play of the final quarter, Hobert gave a play-action fake and found Pierce in the back of the endzone for a two-yard touchdown. The Wolverines found themselves trailing 27-7.

Michigan started the next drive at their own 29 yardline. Michigan moved the ball out to the 38-yardline before a Grbac keeper on fourth and one was stopped Washington took only six seconds to find the endzone again. Mark Brunell hit Mario Bailey streaking down the right side for the Huskies final score of the game.

Tyrone Wheatley, a freshman, capped off an outstanding afternoon (68 yards on 9 carries) and closed the scoring on a 53-yard touchdown run, and J.D. Carlson's 126th consecutive PAT.

For the second consecutive season, the Michigan Wolverines and Washington Huskies celebrated the New Year together at the Rose Bowl. The Huskies were searching for an unprecedented third straight Rose Bowl victory, while the Wolverines were looking to avenge a 34-14 Rose Bowl defeat to Washington in 1992.

Trailing, 7-3, the Wolverines energized their fans who made the trip to California on a 49-yard touchdown pass from Elvis Grbac to Tony McGee, which capped a six-play, 69-yard drive and provided Michigan the lead after the first quarter. On its next possession, Michigan opened up a 17-7 lead as Tyrone Wheatley, on his way to a 235-yard rushing performance, sprinted untouched 56 yards for a touchdown.

In this offensive showdown, the Huskies responded with two straight touchdowns — a 64-yard touchdown pass from Mark Brunell to Jason Shelley and an 18-yard touchdown strike from Brunell to Mark Bruener. Washington took a 21-17 lead into the halftime intermission

Wheatley then went to work, taking advantage of a key block by All-American Steve Everitt on an 88-yard touchdown run—his second long scoring play and a new Rose Bowl record. But the Huskies were far from through. They put together 10 straight points and went ahead 31-24 until Wheatley responded. His third touchdown run of the game—24-yard scamper on a draw play—tied the game at 31 and swung the momentum back to Michigan.

The Wolverines' game-winning score came on an 80-yard drive, as Grbac, facing third and short from the Huskies' 15-yard line, found McGee at the two. McGee fell into the end-zone for the only score of the fourth quarter, the winning points in Michigan's thrilling 38-31 victory.

The 1994 Hall of Fame Bowl opened the New Year's Day bowl festivities with an 11 a.m. kickoff in unusually wet conditions for the Tampa, FL site. By the time the rain subsided and the other New Year's Day bowl games were set to begin, Michigan was well on its way to a 42-7 trouncing of North Carolina State. Tyrone Wheatley, in his third consecutive tremendous bowl outing, was named the game's MVP after compiling 124 rushing yards on 18 carries, including touchdown runs of 26 and 18 yards.

Michigan opened the scoring early in the second quarter—the first points in what would become two straight 21-point quarters. Wheatley took a pitch from Todd Collins on a sweep to the right and blazed down the sidelines for a 21-yard score. On its subsequent possession, the Wolfpack were forced to punt, and Derrick Alexander made N.C. State pay. He fielded the punt at Michigan's 21-yard line and burst up the middle of the field unchallenged for a 79-yard touchdown—the longest punt return in Hall of Fame Bowl history.

The Wolverines put away the game late in the half. Closing a 13-play, 85-yard drive, Collins, on fourth and 10 from the Wolfpack 31, found Amani Toomer in the right corner of the end-zone for a score. The conversion, gave the Wolverines a 21-0 lead.

The scoring continued for Michigan in the third quarter, as it strung together two more touchdowns—on Clarence Thompson's 43-yard interception return and Wheatley's 18-yard scoring run—before N.C. State finally broke the shutout with a touchdown of it's own. Wheatley's score—his sixth bowl touchdown over the past three seasons—was the 35th rushing TD of his career, breaking Rick Leach's school record for career rushing TDs. It was also Wheatley's 40th career touchdown, tying him with Anthony Carter for the most career TDs by a Wolverine. Ricky Powers closed the game's scoring with a 16-yard TD run with 3:13 left in the third.

Colorado St.	7	0	0	7-14

Michigan, which had taken its lumps on the defensive side of the ball during a 7-4 regular season, stuffed Colorado State when it counted in a 24-14 win at Jack Murphy Stadium that helped ease the sting of some painful late-season losses.

CSU nearly mirrored the Wolverines in total yardage (341-340), but gained just 51 yards rushing against a Michigan defense that forced four turnovers and had a key goal-line stand in the second half.

U-M struck first on the game's opening drive on Todd Collins' four-yard TD pass to Amani Toomer with 8:51 left in the opening quarter, then the Rams took the ensuing kickoff and turned in a nine-play, 66-yard drive to tie the game, 7-7. The drive was culminated by Paul Turner's 32-yard TD reception.

All-American Remy Hamilton booted a 34-yard field goal with 2:46 remaining in the first quarter to put Michigan ahead 10-7. A blocked punt by freshman Chris Howard gave U-M the ball deep in Rams territory with less than two minutes left before halftime. Collins then connected with Mercury Hayes for a 16-yard TD strike to put U-M ahead 17-7 with 1:28 left in the half.

The Wolverines forced a turnover on CSU's first drive of the second half and they took over on the Rams' 17-yard line. Tyrone Wheatley made short work four plays later with a three-yard plunge into the endzone. That gave U-M a 24-7 lead with 11:58 left in the third quarter.

Midway through the third quarter, a 42-yard pass play helped CSU move the ball from their own 13-yard line to inside the Wolverine 10. A pair of pass interference calls against U-M gave the Rams seven plays to attempt to go eight yards into the endzone.

Four plays from the Michigan two-yard line turned up nothing for Colorado State, as a two-yard loss and incomplete pass on fourth down helped the Wolverines turn away the high-scoring Rams.

Michigan held a 24-7 advantage after three quarters and the Wolverines held that lead until 1:18 remained in the game. CSU finally cracked the stubborn U-M defense with an 18-yard TD pass by Anthoney Hill to complete the scoring.

Collins threw for 162 yards (14-for-24) and two touchdowns, earning the game's offensive MVP honors. The Michigan defense tallied 11 tackles for loss, driving the CSU offense back 61 yards.

Aggies placekicker and Alamo Bowl offensive MVP Kyle Bryant booted a Michigan-opponent record five field goals in the game (27, 49, 47, 31 and 37 yards), and a Wolverine rally ran out of time at the third Alamo Bowl Game.

Midway through the first quarter, Tshimanga Biakabutuka's fumble was recovered by the Aggies on U-M's five-yard line. Two plays later, Eric Bernard took it in to give Texas A&M a 7-0 lead.

The Wolverines responded quickly. Aided by 35 yards in Aggie penalties, Michigan went 77 yards in two plays to tie the game. The drive was capped off by a 41-yard Brian Griese to Amani Toomer touchdown pass.

After the two teams traded field goals, the two defenses settled in and held it's opposition scoreless on the next four possessions. On its final possession of the half, Texas A&M drove to the Michigan 32-yard line, where Bryant kicked a career-best 49-yard field goal at the gun to give the Aggies a 13-10 halftime lead.

Texas A&M extended the lead with a 47-yard field goal with 5:34 left in the third quarter. Michigan took the kickoff at the 19-yard line and ran the ball down to the Texas A&M four-yard line in 11 plays. The Wolverines had to settle for a Remy Hamilton 26-yard field goal to close the gap to 16-13.

The Aggies again extended their lead to six early in the fourth quarter, then held off an ineffective Wolverine offense. After a 31-yard interception return gave the Aggies possession at the Michigan four-yard line, Bryant kicked a 37-yard field goal to put Texas A&M ahead, 22-13, with 23 seconds remaining.

The Wolverines showed strokes of brilliance in the final seconds, with Griese completing long passes to Mercury Hayes and Toomer, the latter going for 44 yards and a touchdown. The onside kick was unsuccessful, and the Aggies ran out the clock to hand U-M a 22-20 defeat.

For the game, Griese completed nine-of-23 passes for 182 yards. Five of those passes went to Toomer, who tallied 135 yards and two touchdowns. Michigan managed only 129 yards on the ground, an Alamo Bowl-record 94 coming from Biakabutuka and 36 from Clarence Williams.

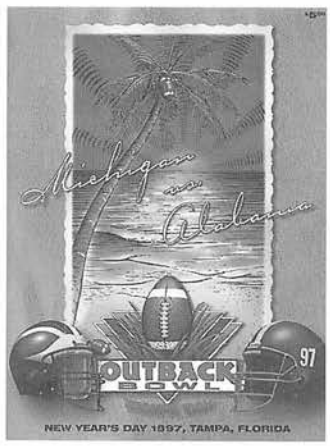
1997 Outback Bowl

vs. Alabama

Tampa Stadium, Tampa, FL
January 1, 1997
Attendance: 53,161

Alabama	3	0	0	14-17
Michigan	0	6	0	8-14



The highly-regarded defensive units of Michigan and Alabama were showcased in the New Year's Day Outback Bowl, but it was a Crimson Tide offense which led 'Bama to a 17-14 victory.

It was only the second time the two traditional football powers had met. The first was under similar circumstances, in 1988, when the teams met in the Hall of Fame Bowl, the predecessor to the Outback.

The game also marked the final coaching appearance at Alabama for its head coach Gene Stallings.

Michigan entered the game ranked 18th nationally in total defense while Alabama brought the No. 8 defense into the game.

Neither unit disappointed.

The Wolverines held the Crimson Tide to 247 yards of total offense and effectively shut down Alabama for most of the game. For its part, Alabama made stops when they had to and turned the game around with one fourth-quarter play.

Michigan, already leading 6-3 early in the fourth quarter, worked a drive deep into Alabama territory. On third-and-five, quarterback Brian Griese, who started his first game of the season, attempted a short pass across the middle, but was intercepted by Alabama linebacker Dwayne Rudd. Rudd turned up field and raced to an Outback Bowl record 88-yard interception return. The score, which came with 12:13 left in the game, gave the Crimson Tide a 10-6 lead and they never trailed again.

Alabama put the game away two possessions later when running back Shaun Alexander dashed 46 yards to put the Crimson Tide up 17-6 with 2:15 left in the game.

Griese attempted to bring Michigan back, and with 1:16 to go hit receiver Russell Shaw with a nine-yard touchdown pass to end a nine play, 80-yard drive. After a pass-interference call, fullback Chris Floyd ran the ball in for a two-point conversion to bring Michigan to within three, 17-14.

The Crimson Tide recovered the onside kick and ran out the clock.

Alabama opened the game's scoring with a 43-yard Jon Brock field goal just 2:07 into the game.

Remy Hamilton knotted the game for Michigan with a 44-yard field goal with 8:03 left in the first half, then gave the Wolverines the lead with a 22-yard field goal 20 seconds before the intermission.

Michigan finished the game with 415 yards in total offense, but it was unable to put the ball in the endzone. Three times the Wolverines failed to score after moving within the Alabama 35-yard line.

Griese, who was a surprise starter over Scott Dreisbach who had started Michigan's previous 11 games, completed 21-of-37 passes for 287 yards. He threw one touchdown and one interception.

vs. Washington St.

No. 1-ranked Wolverines laid claim to the national title, winning the Rose Bowl, 21-16, over No. 7/8 Washington State. The Wolverines finished the season 12-0 and undefeated and untied for the first time since the 1948 national title.

WSU won the toss and took an early 7-0 lead. The Cougars gained the lead as quarterback Ryan Leaf hit receiver Kevin McKenzie on a 15-yard TD pass. The first quarter scoring drive that covered 47 yards in six plays (3:09), was only the third touchdown scored on 'M' during the opening quarter all year.

Michigan rallied as quarterback Brian Griese and receiver Tai Streets connected on a 53-yard TD. The three-play, 66-yard drive took 56 seconds and knotted the score at seven, the halftime score.

The Wolverines took the second half kickoff and marched to the Cougars' 37-yard line before the drive was haulted. Leaf led WSU on a 99-yard scoring drive. The Cougars scored on a 14-yard reverse by wide receiver Michael Tims as the Cougars drive took 3:45. Michigan's James Hall kept the deficit at 13-7 when he blocked the extra point attempt.

Michigan responded immediately as Griese and Streets connected on a 58-yard pass play, the longest score of the season, giving the Wolverines' a 14-13 edge (with placekicker Kraig Baker's extra point conversion). The seven-play, 80-yard scoring drive took 3:26.

The Wolverine defense held the Cougars. Michigan used one of its patented time-consuming drives to take a 21-13 lead. Griese rolled right and hit tight end Jerame Tuman on a 23-yard TD reception. The 14-play drive took 5:25. Michigan managed four first downs and converted twice on third down.

On its next possession, Washington State managed a 48-yard field goal by Rian Lindell. The scoring drive carried 49 yards (eight plays and 3:56).

The Wolverines iced the contest as they chewed up all but the final 29 seconds. Michigan ran 16 plays which used 6:56. After lining up for a potential 47-yard field goal, Jay Feely received the direct snap and proceeded to pooch punt.

WSU took over on its seven-yard line. After two incomplete passes and a delay of game penalty, Leaf connected with Nian Taylor on a 46-yard reception. Leaf hit Love Jefferson who lateralled the ball to Jason Clayton for a 36-yard gain. With the ball on the 'M' 16-yard line, Leaf's attempt to stop the clock was thwarted as time ran out.

Griese was named the Rose Bowl MVP after throwing a Michigan Rose Bowl record three touchdowns. He completed 18 of 30 passes for 251 yards. His 18 completions were the most by an 'M' quarterback in a Rose Bowl.

Tai Streets caught four passes for 127 yards, including a career-best two touchdowns. His TD's of 53 and 58 yards were the two longest by a Wolverine all season.

Dhani Jones sacked Leaf twice and led the team with 10 tackles. Tommy Hendricks totaled seven tackles. Heisman Trophy winner Charles Woodson had the lone interception and tied for second all-time in Michigan's single-game record book with four PBUs.

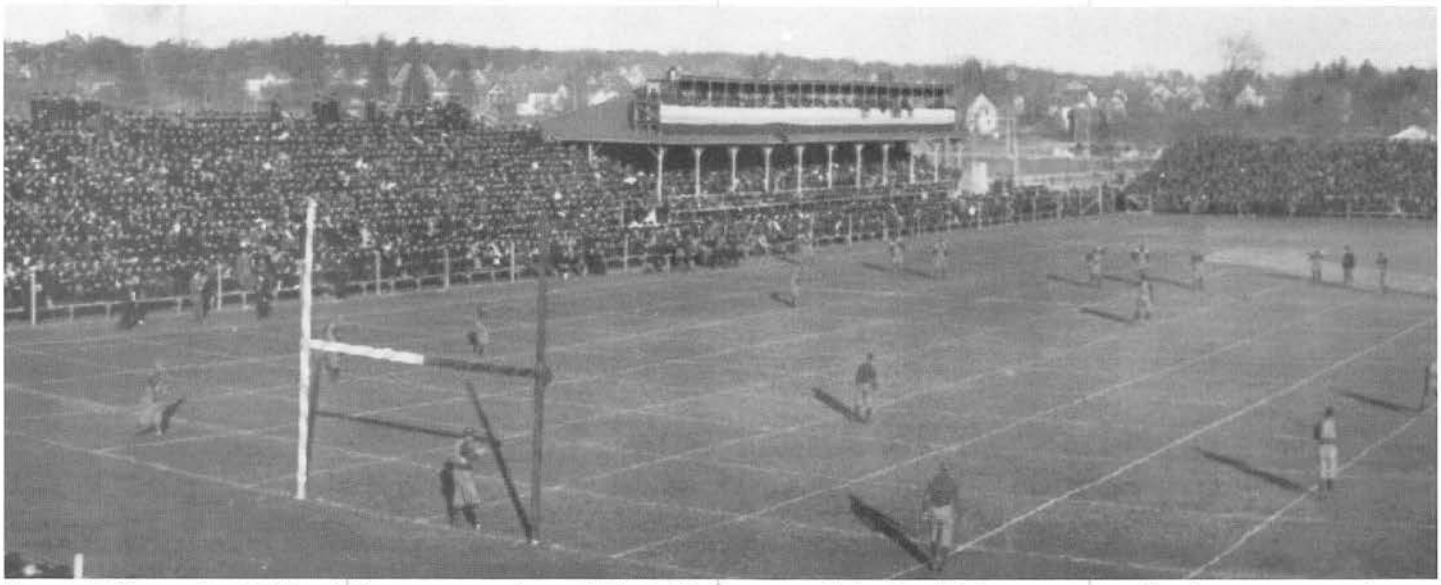
THE MICHIGAN STADIUM STORY

The Michigan Stadium Story



Regents Field served as Michigan's first permanent home field. Originally accomodating just 400 fans, temporary bleachers were erected to seat up to 17,000. The Wolverines compiled an 87-2-3 record in all games at Regents Field.

The first University of Michigan football game played on a home field occurred on May 12, 1883, when Michigan took on the Detroit Industrial Team in Ann Arbor. For the next 10 years, Michigan players would call two sites in Ann Arbor, as well as several fields in Detroit, home turf. The Wolverines fared well in Detroit, recording a 12-4-1 mark in games played there, but had an even better record in Ann Arbor, going 18-1 at the locations where Waterman Gym was later built and where Burns Park stands today.

Following a successful Michigan football season in 1890, the Michigan Board of Regents authorized $3,000 for the purchase of land so a permanent home football field for the Wolverines could be built. Twelve months later, the Regents voted to add $5,000 more to this allotment to improve drainage and put the field into shape. By the fall of 1893, this new facility was ready, and on Oct. 7th, Michigan played on a permanent home field site for the first time, defeating the Detroit Athletic Club, 6-0.

The new home of Michigan Football, named Regents Field, was located along South State Street, where Schembechler Hall stands today. Though Regents Field had a single wooden bleacher section that seated 400 people, many more would show up for the Michigan home games. The original seating area burned down in 1895. The following year, the Regents ordered construction of another covered stand. This stand doubled the seating capacity to 800 but still fell far short of demand. Often times, temporary seats were erected to accommodate the throngs of Wolverine faithful. Crowds of 5,000 were not uncommon in the early part of the 20th century.

In 1902, Detroit native Dexter M. Ferry donated 21 acres of land to the University, stretching from South State Street to the railroad tracks. This donation united the land which now comprises the athletics campus of the University of Michigan. In honor of this gift, the University Regents renamed the entire complex as Ferry Field. Despite the name change, the stadium still only had room for a small number of fans. As Fielding Yost's "point-a-minute" teams continued to win games, Ann Arborites, Michiganders and people from around the nation came to see the "Champions of the West."

Realizing the need to accommodate more people, the Regents approved the building of a new football field. The new complex was to continue under the name Ferry Field and would be located closer to campus at the site where the Michigan outdoor track now lies. But while the name stayed the same, much else about the new field was different. Unlike the old field, which was home to the football, baseball and track teams, the grass on Ferry Field was for football use only. Michigan had built separate practice fields so that use of Ferry Field could be restricted to game days only. In addition, Ferry Field had the capacity to seat 18,000 fans. To facilitate media coverage, Ferry Field included a press box on the Hoover Street side, where the Intramural Sports Building now stands.

After compiling a record of 87-2-3 at Regents Field, many wondered whether the new field could offer such great success. Michigan quickly answered that question in its new setting. On Oct. 6, 1906, Johnny Garrels scored the first touchdown en route to a 28-0 victory over Case.

As Michigan continued to win at home and fans lined up to pay $1 to see a Michigan home football game (conference rules required that students pay no more than 50 cents), Fielding Yost saw the need to increase the seating capacity of Ferry Field. In 1921, Yost's wish was granted as temporary wooden bleachers were added to both ends of the stadium to almost double capacity from 21,000 to 40,000. This substantial increase in stadium capacity was not enough and Yost soon asked the Regents for approval to build a new stadium.

The "Roaring '20s" were a great time for stadium building. In the previous five years, Michigan had already played in the dedication game of the home stadiums for Vanderbilt, Ohio State, Michigan State and Illinois. In addition, conference foes Minnesota, Northwestern and Purdue had each erected new facilities.

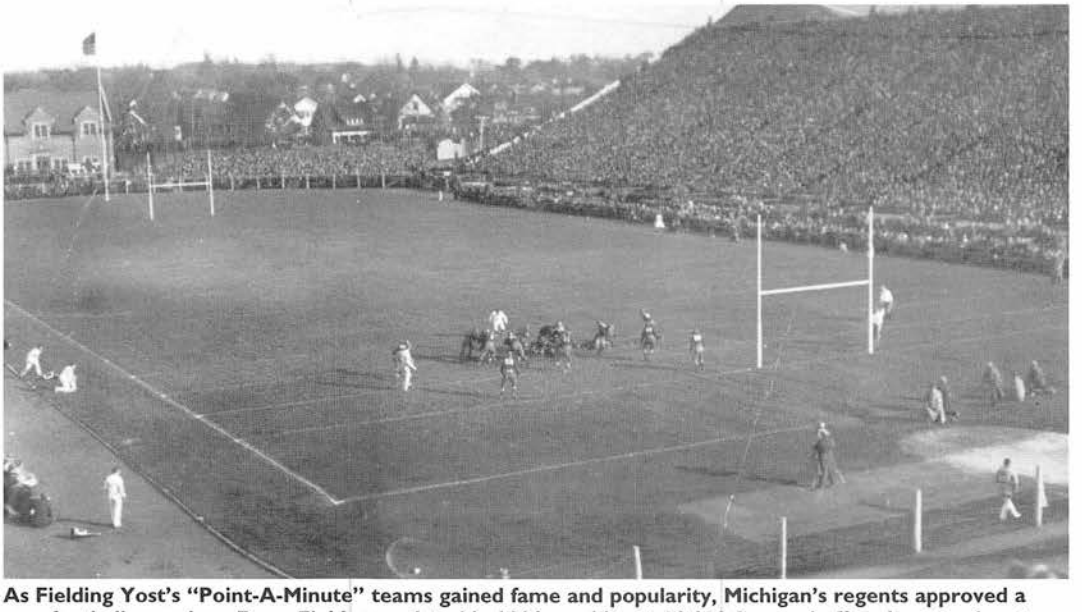
Fielding H. Yost envisioned a stadium that would seat between 100,000 and 150,000 people for each Michigan home game. Because of the recent expansion of Ferry Field, the Regents were reticent to approve Yost's request. Once word of Yost's idea reached the public, the debate raged in the Ann Arbor community. Some contended a new stadium with twice the capacity would create no serious evils and would provide greater convenience to the students, alumni and general public. However, others believed the new stadium would injure the University academically, socially and intellectually. Furthermore, it was stated that the large stadium would inevitably increase student attention to football in conversation, publications, and in attendance at practice. The increased interest would



As Fielding Yost's "Point-A-Minute" teams gained fame and popularity, Michigan's regents approved a new football complex. Ferry Field, completed in 1906, could seat 18,000 fans and offered a press box to facilitate growing media coverage.

1896 The Regents order the construction of another covered stand in order to offer seating to 800 people.

1902 Due to the donation of 21 acres by Detroit native Dexter Ferry, the Regents change the name of complex to Ferry Field.

1906 The home field of the Wolverines moves to a new site on the land that Dexter Ferry had donated the year before. The new field carries the Ferry Field name and is located where the Michigan outdoor track now stands.

1914 Concrete stands are erected at Ferry Field, increasing capacity to 25,000.

1921 The stands around Ferry Field are completed, allowing Michigan's home site to hold 40,000 people.

1925 The land where Michigan Stadium now stands is purchased for $240,000. This land is located where a spring had been, a source that had served the University of Michigan's water needs in its earlier days.

1926 The Athletic Association increases the capacity of Ferry Field by adding wooden structures to both ends.

The Michigan Board of Athletics offers bonds at a price of $500 each to pay for the construction of Michigan Stadium. The bondholder is become a detriment to the community as it would overshadow academic and scholastic honors, and the building of a new stadium would be a permanent and undeniable concession—set in concrete for years to come—to the notion that "college is nothing more than a Roman holiday."

Through Yost's dogged perseverance, the Regents approved the new stadium on April 22, 1926. Although Yost originally wanted to build the new stadium where the Michigan Golf Course is now located, that plan was denied. Instead, this new structure was to be built on land the University had purchased in 1925, land that at one time had been home to a barn, a strawberry patch and an underground spring. This underground spring had been capable of delivering 300 gallons of water per minute, which had served the University's water needs in the early years. The water posed a problem to the construction, as the land had to be lowered to take care of a large underground lake. The underground lake also led to a surface which nearly resembled quicksand. It was this moist ground that during construction, engulfed a crane which remains under the stadium today. The high water table also led to nearly three-quarters of the stadium being built below ground level.

After much debate, the Regents, the University of Michigan and Fielding Yost reached an agreement by which the stadium would seat 72,000. However, Yost was able to influence the plans so the stadium could be expanded to seat more than 100,000. The construction would be financed not by the taxpayers of the state of Michigan, but by the sale of 3,000 $500 bonds. These bonds would entitle the bondholder to buy season tickets (guaranteed to be between the 30-yard lines) for every season from 1927 until the bonds would be retired in 1936 (due to the Great Depression, not a penny was paid on these bonds between 1931 and 1936, and they were not completely retired until October 15, 1947).

With Yost's successful promotion, the bonds sold (although slowly at first) and construction began. Fashioned after the Yale Bowl, 440 tons of reinforcing steel and 31,000 square feet of wire mesh went into the building of the 44-section, 72-row, 72,000-seat stadium a cost of $950,000. The original seats consisted of 22 miles of California Redwood and the 360 x 160 foot grass playing field included the planting of one four leaf clover. Despite the grandeur of the new home, doubt still existed, as it was written in an article on the last game at Ferry Field, "Ferry Field passed on as the home of Michigan Football Saturday to give place to a larger, possibly better field..." Again the question of home field success arose, as Michigan had gone 88-14-2 in games played on the new Ferry Field.

As the stadium neared completion, Yost requested an addition of 10,000 temporary seats for the concourse at the top of the stadium. This request was passed, and Michigan Stadium opened at the corner of Main Street and Stadium Boulevard with a capacity of 84,401—the largest college owned stadium of any team in the nation.

On Oct. 1, 1927, Michigan played Ohio Wesleyan in the first game at Michigan Stadium. The game was a successful one as Michigan started the scoring on a 28-yard pass from Louis Gilbert to tight end Kip Taylor, and prevailed easily, 33-0. Dedication of the new stadium came three weeks later, Oct. 22, 1927, against Ohio State. The Buckeyes came into Michigan Stadium seeking to get revenge for a game five years earlier, when the Wolverines spoiled the dedication of Ohio Stadium with a 19-0 victory. However, Michigan was not to be denied on its big day, and the Wolverines blanked the Buckeyes 21-0 before a capacity crowd of 84,401. Before the 1927 season ended, Michigan shattered its own attendance mark again, drawing 84,423 to a game against Minnesota.

After a successful season in which the Wolverines drew nearly 300,000 fans, the capacity of Michigan Stadium was upped to 85,753 prior to the start of the 1928 season. In 1930, the University took advantage of new technology and installed electronic scoreboards at both ends of the stadium. In doing so, Michigan Stadium became the first to use electronic scoreboards for official game time.

With the end of World War II in 1945, Michigan Stadium was dedicated to all the men and women who gave their lives for the United States. In their honor, a bronze eagle was placed at the southwest entrance of the stadium where it remains today.

The Wolverines continued to draw crowds in the 80,000 range for 20 years, and in 1949 plans were drawn up to increase the size of the stadium. The most ambitious of the plans called for the addition of a top deck entirely around the stadium, increasing capacity to 125,300. However, the choice finally settled upon the plan which would only put permanent steel stands around the stadium complex, allowing for the seating for 97,239 fans. Additionally, Michigan replaced the temporary wooden bleachers erected in 1927 with permanent steel stands. In its first game in the enlarged stadium, Michigan drew a then-record capacity crowd to the game against Michigan State. In the first season of official NCAA attendance records (1949), the final tally showed Michigan leading the nation in offered the right to purchase tickets from the 1927 season through the 1936 campaign, when the bonds are scheduled to be retired. The seats offered to these bondholders were guaranteed to be between the 30 yard lines.

1927 Michigan Stadium is constructed at a cost of $950,000. It contains 70 rows and is designed to seat 72,000 fans, capacity was increased to 84,401 with the addition of wooden bleachers.

1949 Permanent steel stands replace the wooden bleachers, raising capacity of Michigan Stadium to 97,239.

1949 In the first year that NCAA attendance records are kept, Michigan leads the nation, with an average of 93,894 for each of its six home games. Michigan's nearest competitor, Ohio State, averages 76,429.

1956 The capacity of Michigan Stadium is increased once again, and the "Big House" can now hold 101,001 people.

A state-of-the-art press box is added at a cost of $700,000. Dedicated on Sept. 22, 1956, it included a host of amenities, such as a press area, photo deck and dark rooms.

October 6—Michigan Stadium hosts over 100,000 people for the first time, as 101,001 see Michigan and Michigan State square off.

1968 August—The scoreboards at each end of Michigan stadium are replaced at a cost of $75,000.

November 16—Michigan crushes Wisconsin, 34-9, in the last Michigan Stadium game on grass for the next 22 seasons.

average home attendance with 93,894.

Seven years would pass before the capacity of Michigan Stadium was raised again with the building of the Michigan Sports Communications Center (press box). Built at a cost of $700,000, the new structure provided a host of resources, including a press area, a photo deck, darkrooms and various other amenities. Dedicated on Sept. 22, 1956, the press box and the additional seating constructed along with it increased the capacity of Michigan Stadium to 101,001. This began a tradition of ending all Michigan Stadium capacity numbers with the digit 1, the extra seat being in honor of Fritz Crisler, the director of athletics at the time. On Oct. 6, 1956, Michigan Stadium hosted over 100,000 people for the first time as a capacity crowd saw Michigan State defeat Michigan, 9-0.

Though the Michigan football team suffered some lean years in the 1960s, the Ann Arbor faithful still packed the stadium to the point where between 1959 and 1971, Michigan finished no lower than fifth in the nation in average attendance.

During this period, major changes continued. In 1965, the benches were redone in blue fiberglass to prevent weathering and discoloration of the seats. It was then that the yellow "Block M" was created on the east bleachers of the stadium, a design done by former U-M player Dan Dworsky. In August of 1968, at a cost of $75,000, both scoreboards were replaced after 38 years of service. The new scoreboards added the number of time outs left for each team as well as the spot the ball was on, in addition to the features given on the old boards. These scoreboards, measuring 41 feet by 16 feet, are still in use today at the north and south ends of the stadium.

Based on evidence that artificial turf could withstand any type of weather and required less maintenance than grass, the Regents of the University of Michigan approved the installation of artificial turf at Michigan Stadium. In July 1969, a total of 88,285 feet of Tartan Turf was installed at a cost of $250,000. In its first game on the new surface, Michigan defeated Vanderbilt, 42-14. However, the Wolverines would drop their next home contest, 40-17 to Missouri on Oct. 4, 1969. After this defeat, Michigan would not lose at home again until Nov. 22, 1975—a span of 41 games.

In the summer of 1973, renovations called for the removal of many of the rails in the stadium and replacement of the box seats in the first three rows with bleacher seats. This change allowed for six hundred more seats in the stadium, and capacity was now 101,701. In 1974, Michigan led the nation in average attendance, as it has done every season since. Another game of note in the 1970s was Michigan's shutout of Purdue on Nov. 8, 1975. That day, 102,415 fans witnessed the beginning of a streak in which Michigan played every home game in front of more than 100,000 fans, a streak that continues into the 1996 season.

Michigan resurfaced the field with artificial turf in 1975 and 1982. When the time to do so arose again in 1990, a decision was made to return to a natural surface in time for the 1991 season. Michigan played its last home game on artificial surface against Minnesota on Nov. 17, 1990, winning, 35-18. The Wolverines' artificial turf home record was an impressive 120-17-3 over 22 seasons.

In May of 1991, 87,000 feet of prescription athletic turf was installed in a comprehensive renovation of Michigan Stadium. In addition to returning to natural grass, the field was lowered by three and a half feet to facilitate sightlines in the lower rows. The bill for these improvements came to $2,250,000. Included was the addition of two rows to the lower seating area of the stadium, raising capacity to 102,501.

As Michigan closed out the 1993 regular season against Ohio State, 106,867 fans filed into the stadium, breaking both the Michigan Stadium and NCAA single Artificial turf was added to Michigan Stadium in 1969. In 1975, a streak of consecutive 100,000 crowds began and has continued for over 20 years.

1969 June—Upon the evidence that turf required less maintenance than grass and could withstand any type of weather, the Regents of the University of Michigan approve artificial turf for use at Michigan Stadium. At a cost of $250,000, 88,285 feet of Tartan Turf are installed in July.

September 20—The Wolverines break in the newly installed Tartan Turf with a 42-14 defeat of Vanderbilt.

October 4—The Wolverines lose at home to Missouri, 40-17. Michigan would not lose another game at home until Nov. 22, 1975, a streak of 41 games.

1972 The University of Michigan leads the nation in attendance as 513,398 (85,566 average) fans watch Michigan go 6-0 at home.

1973 Michigan stadium capacity is upped again, to 101,701, as the box seats and railing are removed from the first few rows and replaced with bleacher seats.

1974 Michigan leads the nation in attendance again, as it has done every season since.

1975 The playing area is resurfaced with Tartan Turf.

November 8—102,415 fans are on hand as Michigan shuts out Purdue, 28-0. This begins a streak of consecutive crowds of over 100,000 at Michigan Stadium that is still alive today.

1976 The stadium seats are repainted and workers discover 19 new seats, 15 where the old box seats and rails were eliminated and four new ones above the tunnel. The painting of the seats is part of a $250,000 face-lift the stadium undergoes in the mid 1970s

1982 The playing area is once again resurfaced, this time with All-Pro Turf.

1990 November 17—Michigan defeats Minnesota, 35-18, in its last Michigan Stadium game on artificial turf. Since 1969, when the turf was installed, Michigan compiled a 120-17-3 record while playing on artificial turf in Michigan Stadium.

1991 May—Michigan Stadium returns to grass as 87,000 feet of Prescription Athletic Turf are installed. Eight thousand square yards of sod were brought in to make up the actual playing surface. In addition, the playing surface was lowered three and a half feet to facilitate better sightlines for those seated in lower rows. The conversion from turf back to grass costs $2,250,000.
The rows in Michigan stadium now number 91, up one from the 90 rows Michigan had maintained since the 1950s.

September 14—Michigan plays on grass on its field for the first time since 1968 as the Wolverines defeat Notre Dame, 24-14.

October 19—Michigan draws 106,097 to its homecoming game against Indiana, the 100th consecutive crowd over 100,000 in Michigan Stadium.

1992 After nearly 20 years of constant capacity, Michigan Stadium begins the 1992 campaign with space for 800 more fans, now totaling 102,501. Michigan also adds another row to its home field, giving it the 92 that it still has today.

1993 November 20—Michigan sets a Stadium and then NCAA record with an attendance of 106,867 for the Ohio State game. The attendance at this game increases the Wolverines total home attendance for the season to 739,560, an NCAA record, breaking the one Michigan set in 1987.

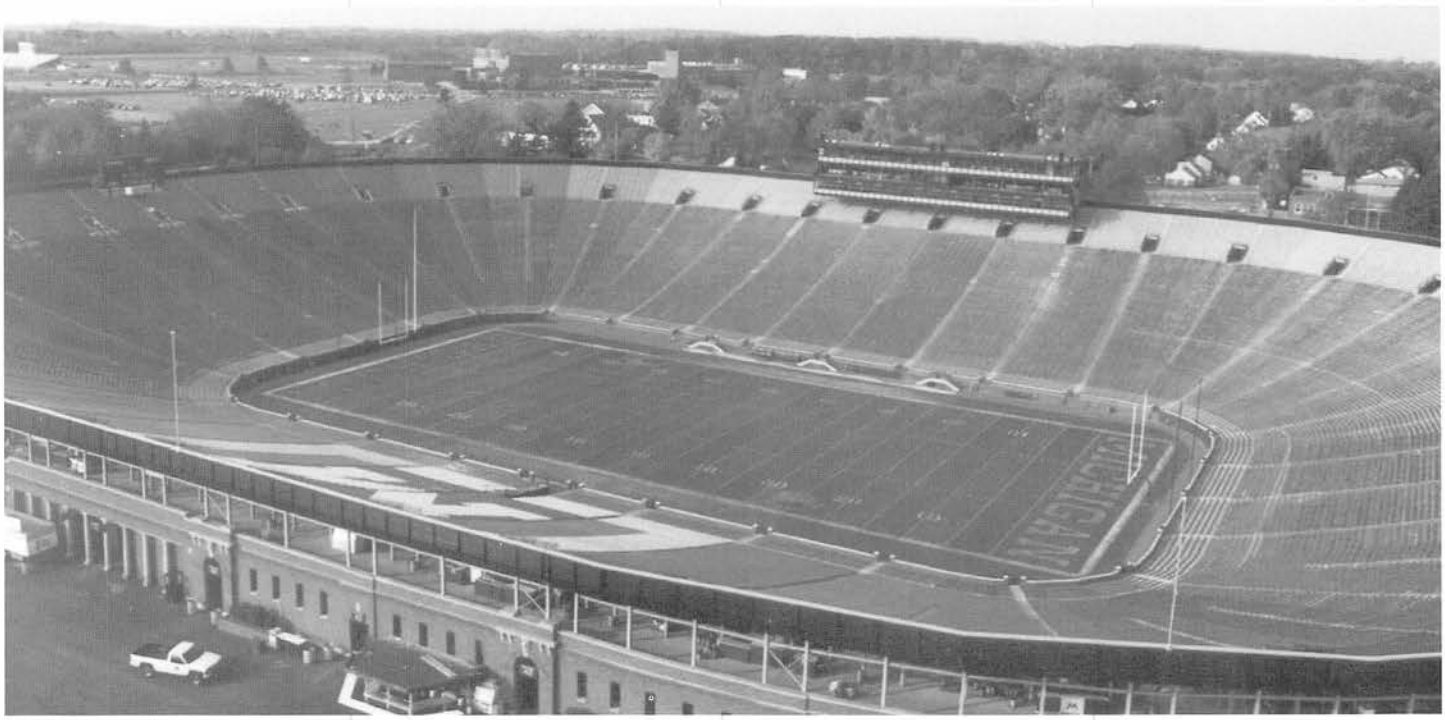
game attendance records. The number of people in Michigan Stadium exceeded the population of all but 185 cities in the United States and increased the Wolverine season tally to 739,560, a then NCAA record.

The stadium continues to undergo changes as it enters its 71st year of service. Prior to the 1996 season, the surface was torn up and the field crowned to allow for better drainage.

Prior to Michigan's 1997 game against Ohio State, the University of Michigan Board of Regents approved the proposed current expansion of Michigan Stadium that would add seats around the stadium and video scoreboards in each end zone during its Nov. 20-21 meetings. The project is to be completed prior to the start of the 1998 season.

During the 1997 national championship season, the schedule was highlighted by the 17th seven-game home slate in Michigan Football history. A single-game Michigan Stadium record crowd of 106,867 fans witnessed the Wolverines 20-14 victory over Ohio State that clinched the Big Ten title and subsequent Rose Bowl berth. That game closed out a 7-0 home slate that saw Michigan draw a new NCAA record as 745,134 fans (106,448 per game average) watched the Wolverines play at the "Big House".

Michigan has tallied a 317-99-15 record in "The Big House" and has drawn in excess of 33 million fans. While there are many things known about Michigan Stadium, one aspect that is not is the location of Fritz Crisler's seat. Despite this anonymity, the legacies of Crisler and Yost live on as Michigan continues to pack the Stadium full of 100,000-plus fans game after game.



In 1991, Michigan Stadium replaced its artificial surface with Prescription Athletic Turf. In addition, the playing surface was lowered three and a half feet as seating capacity increased from 101,701 to 102,501.

1994 November 12—Michigan ends the home season with a crowd of 105,624 against Minnesota. The season average for the six Wolverine home games is 106,217, breaking the NCAA record that the Wolverines set in 1992.

1997 Varsity Plaza is added as well as brick and wrought iron fencing around stadium concourse.

November 22—Michigan set a new single-game attendance record at the "Big House" as a crowd of 106,867 fans witnessed a 20-14 victory over Ohio State that clinched the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl berth. The attendance also surpassed the Wolverines' previous NCAA record as 745,134 fans (106,448 per game average) attended the seven-game home schedule that led to the national championship.

1998 Michigan Stadium undergoes renovations that adds seats around the stadium and two video scoreboards in each end zone. The Wolverine Plaza, phase three of the Michigan Stadium Brick Program, was completed at the northwest entrance of the stadium.

Michigan Stadium Facts

Michigan Stadium 1927-1997

Won 317, Lost 99, Tied 15

CAPACITY: TBA—among the largest college-owned structure of its kind designed solely for football—closer to the playing field with no running track—no posts or other obstructions.

COMPLETION: 1927—at a cost in excess of $950,000 to seat 72,000 spectators. Capacity raised to 84,401 by addition of temporary wooden bleachers until 1949 when permanent steel stands replaced the wooden bleachers, increasing the capacity to 97,239. Seating capacity then raised to 101,001 in 1956, 101,701 in 1973, 102,501 in 1992 and TBA in 1998.

FIRST GAME: October 1, 1927—Michigan led by Captain Bennie Oosterbaan, defeated Ohio Wesleyan, 33-0. LaVerne (Kip) Taylor, Michigan end, scored first in the stadium on a 28-yard pass from halfback Louis Gilbert.

DEDICATION GAME: October 22, 1927—Michigan defeated Ohio State, 21-0.

ATTENDANCE: Since 1927—33,001,476 fans have watched the Wolverines play 431 games (an average of 76,570). Stadium attendance record of 106,982 set Nov. 22, 1997 against Ohio State. NCAA season record of 745,139 set in 1997. Entering 1998 season, 142 consecutive crowds of over 100,000.

FIELD: 360 x 160 feet—Installed Prescription Athletic Turf in 1991, giving Michigan its first natural grass field since 1968. Field was also lowered 3-1/2 feet allowing better sightlines for those seated in the lower rows.

Notes on the building of Michigan Stadium

- The number of tons of reinforcing steel used in the construction was estimated at 440 (880,000 pounds)
- The 31,000 square feet of wire mesh used in building the stadium could, at that time, imprison all the inmates of Sing Sing, and the federal prisons of Atlanta and Leavenworth
- "Nature" Magazine estimated that it would take 14,000 woodchucks, working eight hour days, 11 1/2 months to move an amount of dirt equal to the 240,000 square yards that were excavated out of the Michigan Stadium site before the cement was poured.
- 45,000,000 words were typed before the stadium was even authorized, and 4,500 yards of type were devoted to the construction process. Of these 4,500 yards of type, 3,000 were made up of adjectives.
- It was estimated that there were 106,000 blades of grass making up the field at Michigan Stadium at the dedication game in 1927.

‡ Stadium Record/NCAA Record

142 Straight

The University of Michigan football team has played 142 consecutive home games in front of crowds in excess of 100,000 through the 1997 season. The last time Michigan did not have 100,000 in attendance in Michigan Stadium was on Oct. 25, 1975 vs. Indiana. A crowd of 93,857 was on hand for the 55-7 Michigan victory.

Since then, Michigan has set numerous NCAA attendance marks and the Wolverines have led the nation for 23 of the past 24 seasons in attendance.

Consecutive 100,000+ Crowds

Nov. 8, 1975. Not many things have remained consistent since that Saturday 23 years ago. Nearly 33 percent of the United States population today was not even born when 102,415 fans filed into Michigan Stadium to begin a streak that continues on to the present day. Entering the 1998 season, Michigan has drawn in excess of 100,00 fans for 142 consecutive games at Michigan Stadium. Since 1975, 14,898,984 fans (104,922 avg.) have seen the Wolverines compile a record of 117-24-1 (.827).

THIS IS MICHIGAN

THIS IS ANN ARBOR

A city rich with tradition and a storied past, Ann Arbor is so much more than just the University of Michigan. Historical sites, architectural anomalies, winding tree-lined backroads. A unique community where the benefits of a large city combine with a small town atmosphere, Ann Arbor can be a haven for peace and solitude, or a meeting ground for people of all backgrounds. Ann Arbor truly offers something for everyone.

History

Settled in 1824 by land developers John Allen and Elisha Rumsey, Ann Arbor was established on 620 prime wooded acres along the Huron River. The town was christened as Annarbour: "arbour" for the many shaded, woodland retreats the land offered, and "Ann" in honor of Allen and Rumsey's wives. Just 13 years later, a 40-acre land grant from Ann Arbor citizens persuaded the University of Michigan regents to make the thriving village home to the Wolverines. Over the years, Ann Arbor has been strongly influenced by this eminent academic institution that draws students, faculty and visitors from Michigan, the United States, and the four corners of the world.

In the past several decades, Ann Arbor's business and industry has flourished. Light industry, service industries, and high-tech and research facilities flocked to the area.

A city of 110,000, USA Today called Ann Arbor one of the nation's best cities in which to live, citing it as popular and fast-growing for people aged 20-34 based on quality of life, economic growth, employment, recreation and climate. The number one employer in Ann Arbor is the University of Michigan, employing 24,000 full-time and part-time workers.

Recreation

There is no off-season in Ann Arbor when it comes to sports and recreation. The town claims 124 parks, and is surrounded by the world's largest body of freshwater — the five Great Lakes, keeping the outdoor enthusiast occupied with a variety of pastimes. A fascinating collage of vegetation and terrain in and around Ann Arbor is easily found.

The Huron River winds through the northern part of Ann Arbor, with three liveries offering canoes, fishing gear and paddleboats throughout the spring, summer and fall months. Fifty lakes surround Ann Arbor and are open to the public, as well as the University of Michigan Golf Course and four city courses, three public Olympic-size pools, tennis, and indoor and outdoor skating facilities. Cross country skiing rentals and lessons allow for a unique birds-eye view of Ann Arbor's winter wonderland, and the best downhill skiing in the midwest can be found a few hours away in the northern half of Michigan's lower peninsula.

Entertainment

Ann Arbor provides an incredible variety of year-round entertainment that appeals to all tastes. Theater buffs have a choice of lively local theater groups, university productions, and Broadway touring companies. Nine film associations feature classic, foreign, and contemporary films. Local, national and international dance troupes perform weekly on Ann Arbor's stages, and concerts range from baroque to jazz, classical to rock, avant garde to bluegrass.

For the academic, there are lectures and symposia, as well as museums of natural science, art, archaeology, local history, baseball, music and hands-on science. Numerous art galleries showcase antiques, ceramics, and sculptures. The Domino's Center for Architectural Design, situated in the Domino's Pizza, Inc. world headquarters, is home to the world's largest collection of decorative works by Frank Lloyd Wright, said to have been America's greatest architect.

A dozen night spots with music and comedy clubs scatter the area, with festivals and fairs scheduled downtown throughout the year. Ann Arbor's entertainment ranges from the March Film Festival, Chamber Orchestra and Comic Opera Guild, to the Sunday's Artisans Market and Farmer's Market in Kerrytown. The ever-popular Summer Art Fair in July brings thousands upon thousands from around the world to the quaint streets of Ann Arbor, literally filling the town with unique and electrifying artwork and people alike.

Ann Arbor attracts various national talent, always promising a packed house. Hill Auditorium, with its unmatched accoustics and intimate quarters is a favorite, as is U-M Basketball's Crisler Arena. Artists such as Sarah McLachlan, Billy Joel, Elton John, INXS, the 10,000 Maniacs, They Might Be Giants, Pearl Jam and the Indigo Girls have all graced Ann Arbor's stages over the years.

For the sports enthusiast, Ann Arbor provides the community with unparalleled athletic enticements. Residents have a multitude of nationally renowned athletic programs to view first-hand. Teams comprised of Olympians, national champions, Big Ten champions, USA National Team members — it is truly amaize-ing!

Creating its own microcosm, one needs to look no further for a wealth of educational or social opportunities. But just beyond the landmarks of Ann Arbor, lie limitless additional options in the Motor City — Detroit. The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Detroit Institute of Art, the Detroit Zoo, Second City comedy theatre, numerous upscale shopping areas, and professional sports are all easily at Ann Arbor's disposal.

A City for Everyone

For the person who wants it all, Ann Arbor is definitely the place to be. The city offers and encourages any type of lifestyle, and is flexible enough in its offerings to entice anyone. Historically and aesthetically, Ann Arbor is a city second to none. The variety and quality of cultural and recreational opportunities is limitless. The vast ethnicities and backgrounds of its residents, and the quality they bring to Ann Arbor is something for all to experience first-hand. If any city can claim to offer something for everyone, Ann Arbor surely can!

The Place to Be

Ann Arbor consistently ranks among the nation's top cities in which to live. In 1996, Money magazine named Ann Arbor the fifth-most livable city in the country, based on weather, education, arts and entertainment, health, crime and housing. Swing magazine named Ann Arbor the third-best city for "Generation X," the under-30 crowd. Swing compared Ann Arbor to a smaller Manhattan, offering its residents 'a little of everything.'

Did You Know?

President John F. Kennedy first announced the organization of the Peace Corps while visiting the University of Michigan. A bronze plaque on the steps of the Union commemorates his announcement on October 12, 1960.

On April 12, 1955, the announcement of the Salk Polio Vaccine was made by Dr. Thomas Francis. Dr. Francis conducted the research in Ann Arbor for his former student, Jonas Salk.

The University of Michigan has had its share of NASA astronauts. The corner of South University has been designated as the "McDivitt-White Corner" in honor of the 62 orbits of those on the Gemini. Another U-M graduate, Jack Lousma is noted in history for his space walk, and during Apollo 15, James Irwin, David Scott and Al Worden founded the "Alumni Chapter of the Moon" when they planted the Michigan flag on the moon.

Hill Auditorium was built in 1913 and is considered one of the top performing arts venues in the world. James Galloway, the renowned international flutist, ranks Hill Auditorium second only to the performing center in Sydney, Australia, and ahead of Carnegie Hall because of its larger seating capacity.

In 1913, Ann Arbor led all Michigan cities in the size of industrial growth. Today, Ann Arbor is the fastest growing high-tech center in the country.

The University of Michigan...

The University of Michigan Mission Statement
The mission of the University of Michigan is to serve the people of Michigan and the world through preeminence in creating, communicating, preserving and applying knowledge, art, and academic values, and in developing leaders and citizens who will challenge the present and enrich the future.

Situated in the southeast corner of Michigan's lower peninsula, 40 miles west of Detroit, the University of Michigan's largest campus spans 2,900 acres. Valued at over $1 billion, the University of Michigan is among the nation's most respected institutions of higher learning. Nearly 51,000 students attend the three Michigan campuses (Ann Arbor, Dearborn and Flint), including 36,450 in Ann Arbor alone.

In the Community

The University of Michigan is everywhere. Michigan not only plays a major role in Ann Arbor's socio-economics, but influences the nation, and world as well. Wherever one travels, chances are a Michigan alumnus is nearby. Michigan has nearly 400,000 living alumni — in other words, one of every 600 Americans holds a U-M degree. Of those, 90,000 are members of the Alumni Association. Approximately 190 alumni clubs are scattered across the country and internationally, aiding in anything from student recruitment programs to alumni scholarship awards. The Alumni Association offers benefits and continuing education opportunities, both on and off campus, to its members.

In the town of Ann Arbor though, the university directly influences every aspect of life. The university offers the community cultural opportunities rarely found in such abundance and scope. Of course Ann Arbor supplies its own wealth of entertainment, but U-M adds to that with its University Musical Society, Opera and Musical Theatre, and Department of Theatre and Drama, to name a few. Various cultural events are promoted by a number of campus organizations and include professional and student/faculty music, and dance and stage performances.

The University of Michigan Medical Center, ranked among the nation's Top 10, serves over 800,000 patients yearly, and is the largest university medical center in the world. The prestigious Michigan Medical School is included in the Medical Center, as well as eight U-M hospitals, which are among the most advanced health care facilities and include the C.S. Mott Children's Hospital and W.K. Kellogg Eye Center. The Geriatric and Cancer wing was added in 1997.

The Medical Center proudly maintains a long tradition of excellence in patient care, education and research. Twenty-four research centers and institutes, two medical transport services and 10 outpatient facilities help make Michigan's one of the most comprehensive and respected medical centers in the nation. Additions and technological advances are constantly made, keeping the Medical Center among the leaders in health care, research and medical advancement.

Among the many "firsts" the U-M Medical Center claims is the first burn unit in the country - believed to be the best in the midwest - as well as the first helicopter emergency service in the state. One of the first infant open-heart operations in the world was also performed at the Medical Center.

Academia

Hailed as one of the premiere research institutions, the National Research Council ranked U-M second among publicly supported universities in scholarly quality and doctoral program effectiveness. Research expenditures at U-M total $441.3 million, the largest of any public university in the nation.

The Michigan library system is comprised of two main libraries, the Harlan Hatcher Graduate Library and the Shapiro Undergraduate Library (the UGLi), five independent and 19 divisional libraries. Michigan's 6,640,000 volumes make it the sixth-largest collection in the nation. The Bentley Historical Library houses information ranging from state governor's briefs to athletic photos. The Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library, one of 10 presidential libraries in the U.S., documents the Michigan football stand-out's presidency. The collection includes correspondences, vice presidential and congressional papers, speeches, social files and videos to name a few.

Michigan's 36 computing sites, some of which are open 24 hours a day, give students access to over 20,000 computers. Seventeen of the centers are located in residence halls.

Student Life

At Michigan, there is never a lack of options. Whether it's recreation, culture or just plain socializing, Ann Arbor and the surrounding areas have something for everyone.

On campus, a popular outdoor meeting ground is "The Diag," which marks the center of campus and connects the State Street and South University campus "hot spots." State Street and "South U" offer many shops oriented to the university community. Book stores, record stores, shops and restaurants quaintly line the streets, offset by The Galleria mini-mall and Nickels Arcade boutiques.

The campus also features numerous outdoor cafés, pubs and coffee shops, which make for popular study areas and social hangouts. Campus clubs with dancing and live bands of all ranges fill Ann Arbor, from jazz and alternative, to country and Cajun. Frequenting Ann Arbor's wide variety of restaurants is another favorite U-M pasttime. The campus restaurants' range in cuisine is unparalleled — Caribbean, Central European, Ethiopian, French, German, Greek, Indian, Japanese, Middle Eastern, Italian and Chinese.

And then there are sporting events. Always in a title chase of some sort, Michigan sponsors 23 sports for men and women, and promises a game, meet, or match nearly every day of the week. Athletics cannot be discussed in Ann Arbor without mentioning football — nothing compares to 105,000 screaming fans on a fall Saturday cheering on the Maize and Blue.

Only 40 minutes away, Detroit provides professional options as well, with the Tigers, Lions, Stanley Cup Champion Red Wings and Pistons. Michigan is truly a great sports state!

Did You Know?

More U-M undergrads are accepted into medical schools than from any other university.

Michigan's teaching and research staff is rated among the Top 5 in the country.

U-M was the first university in the west, with 1859 founding of the Law School.

Graduated first woman to practice law in the U.S. (Law School, 1871).

Famous Alumni

A Michigan graduate belongs to the largest alumni body in the world. Michigan alumni number over 350,000, meaning one in every 700 Americans holds a Michigan degree.

The academic and athletic credentials gained as a Michigan alumnus are key ingredients to individual success after graduation. By any measure — the caliber of the student body, the accomplishments of faculty staff, and especially the success of the graduates — Michigan holds a firm place in academia, athletics, business and industry.

FROM NASA ASTRONAUTS ...

Michigan is proud to claim itself as the only university to provide a NASA space flight with each one of its crew members. The Apollo 15 astronauts, who flew to the moon from July 26-Aug. 7, 1971, were: Col. David R. Scott, commander of Apollo 15; Maj. Alfred Worden, command module pilot; and Col. James Irwin, lunar module pilot. It was the first moon shot to be equipped with a lunar rover vehicle (used by Scott and Irwin who went to the surface of the moon). The crew carried three Michigan items with it: a miniature of the U-M flag; a miniature of the U-M Department of Aerospace Engineering seal; and a charter of the U-M Alumni Club of the moon, which was left on the moon.

Michigan has graduated a total of eight NASA astronauts since 1950: Theodore Freeman; Karl Henize; James Irwin; Jack Lousma; James McDivitt; David Scott; Edward White; and Alfred Worden.

... TO NOBEL PRIZE WINNERS

Seven Nobel Prize winners have earned degrees from Michigan: Stanley Cohen (1986 Nobel Prize in Medicine); Jerome Karle (1985 Nobel laureate in Chemistry); Lawrence Klein (1980 Nobel laureate in economics); Marshall Nirenberg (1968 Nobel laureate in medicine); Richard Smalley (1996 Nobel Prize in chemistry); Samuel C.C. Ting (1976 Nobel laureate in physics); and Thomas Weller (1954 Nobel laureate in medicine).

Tradition of Champions

The University of Michigan has a rich and storied tradition in athletics, boasting a total of 49 national champion teams since 1901, in addition to 239 individual national champions. The Wolverines have always been looked upon as an archetype of success achieved the proper way - with distinction, class, and respect, distinguishing characteristics that make any alumnus proud.

In 1997-98, the Wolverines proved yet again that they are truly the Leaders and Best as the fight song, "The Victors," proudly proclaims. Michigan was crowned national champion in not one, but two sports last season: football and ice hockey, two of the most distinguished programs on campus. The national title was football's 11th and first since 1948, while hockey won its second NCAA title in three years and eighth overall.

A multitude of other Maize and Blue student-athletes brought home individual national titles as well. One of track and field's most exceptional athletes, Kevin Sullivan won an astounding fourth NCAA individual title with a win in the indoor mile, making him Michigan's most decorated runner. The track and field women contributed national titles as well, with Katie McGregor winning the 3000-meter indoor title. She joined Adrienne Hunter, Sarah Hamilton and Lisa Ouellet to win the distance medley relay that same weekend.

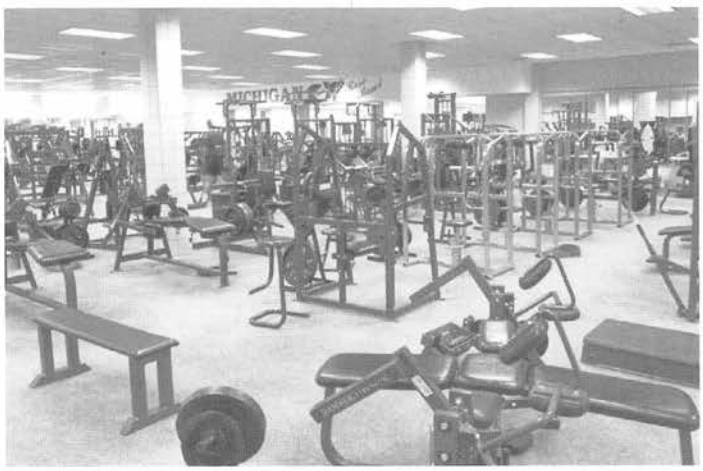
The Maize and Blue...

To be a Wolverine means not only to expect the best, but to achieve it. As Michigan football coaching legend Bo Schembechler coined, "Those who stay will be champions."

At the University of Michigan, every possible measure is taken to ensure the success of nearly 600 student-athletes who represent and maintain the tradition and high standards to which Wolverine faithful have grown accustomed. This commitment to excellence applies not only to the athletic arena, but to the academic world and beyond.



Academics

Some universities are distinguished by their academic programs, while others achieve athletic prominence. The University of Michigan possesses the best of both worlds. Michigan exemplifies successful athletic programs sustained by students who demonstrate a determined commitment to their education and to the academic standards of the university.

The University of Michigan consistently ranks as one of the finest academic institutions in the nation. Recent studies, U.S. News and World Report Surveys and the Gourman Report, rate Michigan's overall undergraduate program third in the United States. Athletics at Michigan are equally superior, as they continually compete and rank among the very best in the country. Excellence in both academics and athletics is a rare achievement, but at Michigan it is an on-going tradition.

Student Athlete Support Program

To foster the tradition of excellence, Michigan has a nationally recognized and comprehensive academic support system. Academic advising services, along with unique student development programs meet the needs of each individual. The Student Athlete Support Program (SASP) offers a variety of services:

1) a comprehensive tutorial program;
2) individual and group study sessions;
3) monitoring of academic performance and degree progression;
4) scheduling, degree, and career advice;
5) programs for students with disabilities;
6) evaluation and testing to pin-point areas of developmental need;
7) specialized reading and writing support;
8) planning and time management guidance; and
9) assistance with adjustment issues.

The University of Michigan and Student Athlete Support Program strive to provide the student-athlete with the best possible learning environment so they may be competitive both on the field and in the classroom. This allows them to develop and achieve success in every aspect. We stand firm on the notion that a Michigan education is for the rest of your life. This is why Michigan is known as the Leaders and Best!

Athletic Medicine

Michigan's athletic training program is dedicated to the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries sustained by Michigan varsity athletes. Each individual has access to the nationally-renowned athletic medicine staff, among the nation's largest and most comprehensive.

The athletic medical staff is comprised of 13 certified athletic trainers, three of whom are also physical therapists. Additionally, 40 student athletic trainers complement the full-time staff. Michigan's six team physicians have more than 110 years combined experience in collegiate athletic medicine. At the athletic department's disposal is a network of medical specialists in the distinguished University of Michigan Hospital system. This represents every facet of athletic health care, providing access to the most advanced medical diagnostic testing and treatment resources available. The team physicians and athletic trainers provide year-round coverage with daily treatment times in each athletic medicine facility.

The athletic medicine facilities at U-M conveniently provide quality health care. Nine satellite training rooms, found in each practice/competition facility, complement the two full-service training rooms located in Canham Natatorium and Schembechler Hall. Each of the primary training rooms is equipped with physical therapy modalities, allowing all rehabilitation and treatment from the most minor to significant injury to take place on the athletic campus. A cast room, running pool, and three physician's examination rooms are available exclusively for the care of varsity athletes.

The vast experience of the Athletic Medicine Staff affords a sense of stability in health care. Every U-M varsity athlete is cared for by the same staff of medical professionals, avoiding discrepancies in methods or access. The Michigan Athletic Medical staff is contemporary in their methods and constantly seek continuing education in an effort to remain on the cutting edge.

Michigan has spared no expense in providing the necessary facilities, equipment, and resources essential to providing the best health care to the Michigan athlete. Athletic Medicine at Michigan — truly the Leaders and Best!

Strength and Conditioning

Michigan makes sure every step is taken to provide student-athletes with the finest in facilities and guidance. The Strength Training Program is no exception. It is designed to provide each athlete with the necessary attention in their pursuit of excellence.

Michigan is unique among universities in that its Strength and Conditioning program maximizes the athletes' time, as well as their results. Wolverine student-athletes benefit from a multi-faceted collegiate experience by being able to balance sport skill acquisition, academics and student life in their daily schedules.

Michigan Strength Training equipment is ergonomically designed for the greatest efficiency and safety. Student-athletes use computers for nutritional needs and daily tracking of weight training programs. Every weight and repetition a student-athlete performs is collected and analyzed in order to achieve their potential.

With weight training and conditioning facilities in Schembechler Hall, Canham Natatorium, Crisler Arena and Yost Ice Arena, each athlete has facilities and equipment available to help them reach their potential. Michigan is a leader in exercise prescription. We challenge you to come be your best!

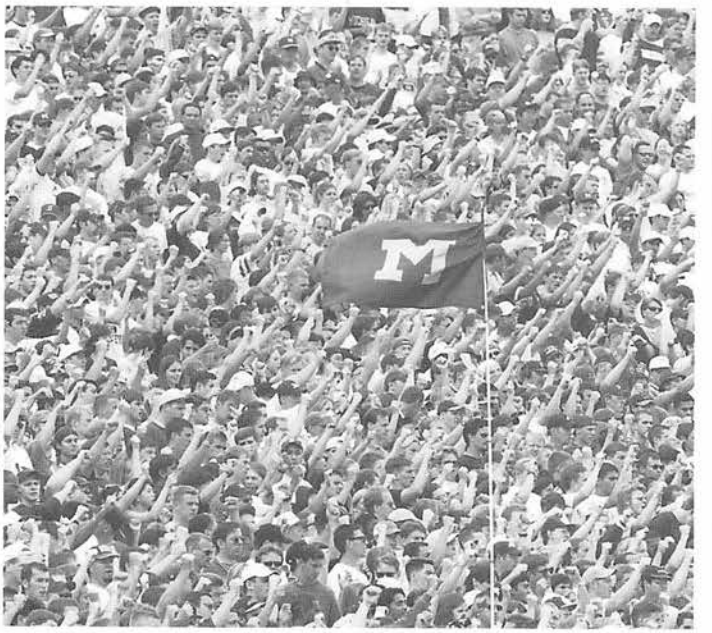
Facilities

The Michigan Athletic Campus is among the nation's finest with traditional, yet modern, state-of-the-art facilities. The Michigan Football Stadium hosts an average of 105,000 fans each game, and set an NCAA regular-season attendance record in 1993. The Schembechler Hall football complex houses full team and individual meeting rooms, coaching and administrative offices, and the Margaret Dow Towsley Sports Museum.

Crisler Arena, home of Michigan Basketball, showcased the 1989 NCAA Champion Wolverines, as well as the 1992 and 1993 NCAA runner-up teams. A multi-million dollar scoreboard system and television monitors along the concourse enhance the arena, as does the newly resurfaced and re-painted court.

Available to student-athletes any time year-round, the Canham Natatorium houses a 50-meter pool and diving well with an Olympic Tower. Michigan hosted the 1996 NCAA Women's Swimming and Diving Championship, and was site of the 1992 National Diving Championship that served as part of the U.S. Olympic Trials. The Natatorium showcases Michigan's league-best 41 Big Ten title banners, as well as 18 NCAA champion banners. Renovations and a museum honoring the rich tradition of the Michigan programs are on the way.

Several facilities have undergone recent renovation. Providing U-M with great pride is the University Golf Course. Designed by Alister MacKenzie, whose credits include The Masters' Augusta National, a $3.3 million renovation was completed in 1994. Yost Ice Arena, home of the 1996 national champion Wolverines, was renovated that same year. A new lobby entrance is featured, along with renovated press box facilities, seating, lockerrooms and coaches' offices.



The Varsity Tennis Complex is Michigan's latest addition to the athletic campus. The $5 million facility will feature eight indoor and 12 outdoor courts. Locker and event rooms will be maintained, as well as modern training facilities.

Michigan and NCAA Rules Compliance

Compliance with NCAA rules is a never-ending process that requires diligence on the part of both the Department of Athletics and University of Michigan as a whole. Below is a brief summary of the basic issues that shape NCAA rules compliance at the University.

Institutional Control

Institutional control over the Department of Athletics and its staff is an essential requirement for NCAA member institutions. Responsibility for the conduct of an athletic program extends to all aspects of the Department of Athletics, as well as to individuals and organizations that are representatives of the institution's athletic interests.

Absence of institutional control can result in severe penalties for a collegiate athletic program. There is a lack of institutional control when an athletic department and its staff fail to:

— Maintain compliance with NCAA rules and regulations;
— Monitor its athletic programs on a daily basis through identifying and reporting any NCAA rules violations by athletic department staff or by representatives of the athletics interests;
— Educate staff and representatives of the athletics interest by providing updates, additions and changes to NCAA rules.

Representative of the Institution's Athletic Interests

A representative of an institution's athletic interests is an individual who is known (or should be known) by members of the institution's executive or athletic administration to:

— have participated in or to be a member of an agency or organization promoting the institution's intercollegiate athletic interests;
— have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization of the institution;
— be assisting or have been requested (by athletic department staff) to assist in the recruitment of prospects;
— be assisting or to have assisted in providing benefits to enrolled student-athletes or their families; or — have been involved otherwise in promoting the institution's athletic program.

Once an individual has been identified as such a representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely.

Extra Benefit

An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee, or representative of the institution's athletic interests, to provide a student-athlete, a student-athlete's relative, or student-athlete's friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation. Receipt of a benefit by student-athletes or their relatives or friends is not a violation of NCAA legislation if it is demonstrated that the same benefit is generally available to the institution's students or their relatives or friends or to a particular segment of the student body (e.g., foreign students) determined on a basis unrelated to athletics ability.

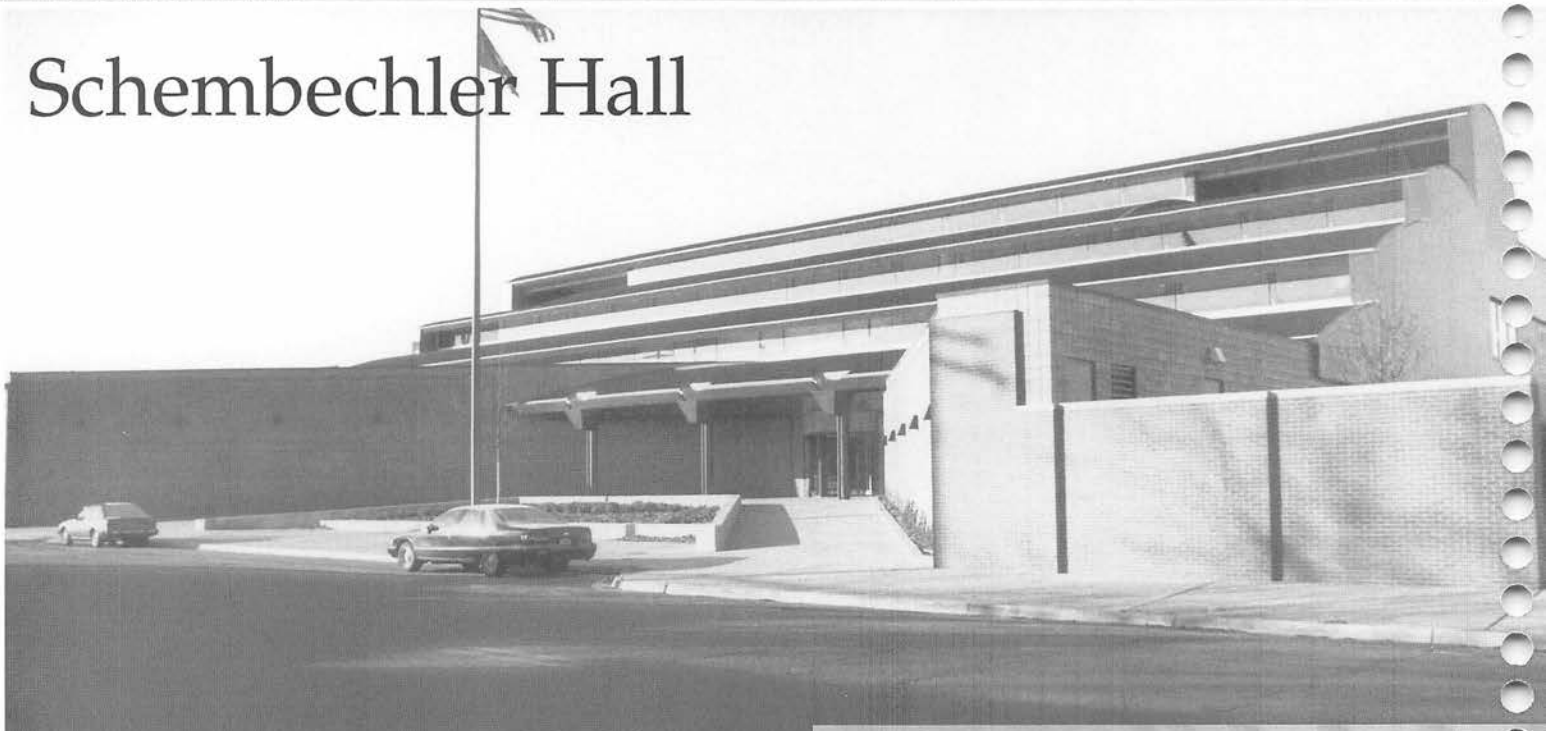
Extra benefits include, but are not limited to:

— Credit on a purchase (e.g., airline ticket, clothing) or services (e.g., dry cleaning, tailoring);
— The loan of money in any amount;
— The purchase of meals or services at commercial establishments;
— The use of personal properties (e.g., boats, summer home, car, stereo);
— Providing holiday or birthday gifts;
— Cash.

Receipt of an extra benefit by a student-athlete can result in the student-athlete being declared ineligible to compete.

If you have any specific questions you are encouraged to contact the Michigan Compliance Office, 734/647-3709.

Schembechler Hall



One of the top athletic facilities in the country.

Opened Aug. 1, 1990, the Schembechler Hall facility is designed to be state-of-the-art well into the 21st century. The multi-million dollar center houses a medical training and treatment center, weight room, freshmen and varsity locker rooms, full team and individual meeting rooms, coaching and administrative offices. Schembechler Hall is also home to the Margaret Dow Towsley Sports Museum. The museum celebrates over a century of Michigan Athletics and features a theatre and interactive videos. It is open free of charge to the general public 11:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Monday-Friday and 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m on Saturdays.

Athletic Campus

From the stadiums and arenas to the recreational sports buildings, Michigan's athletic complex is unsurpassed as the most complete campus sports facility in the nation.

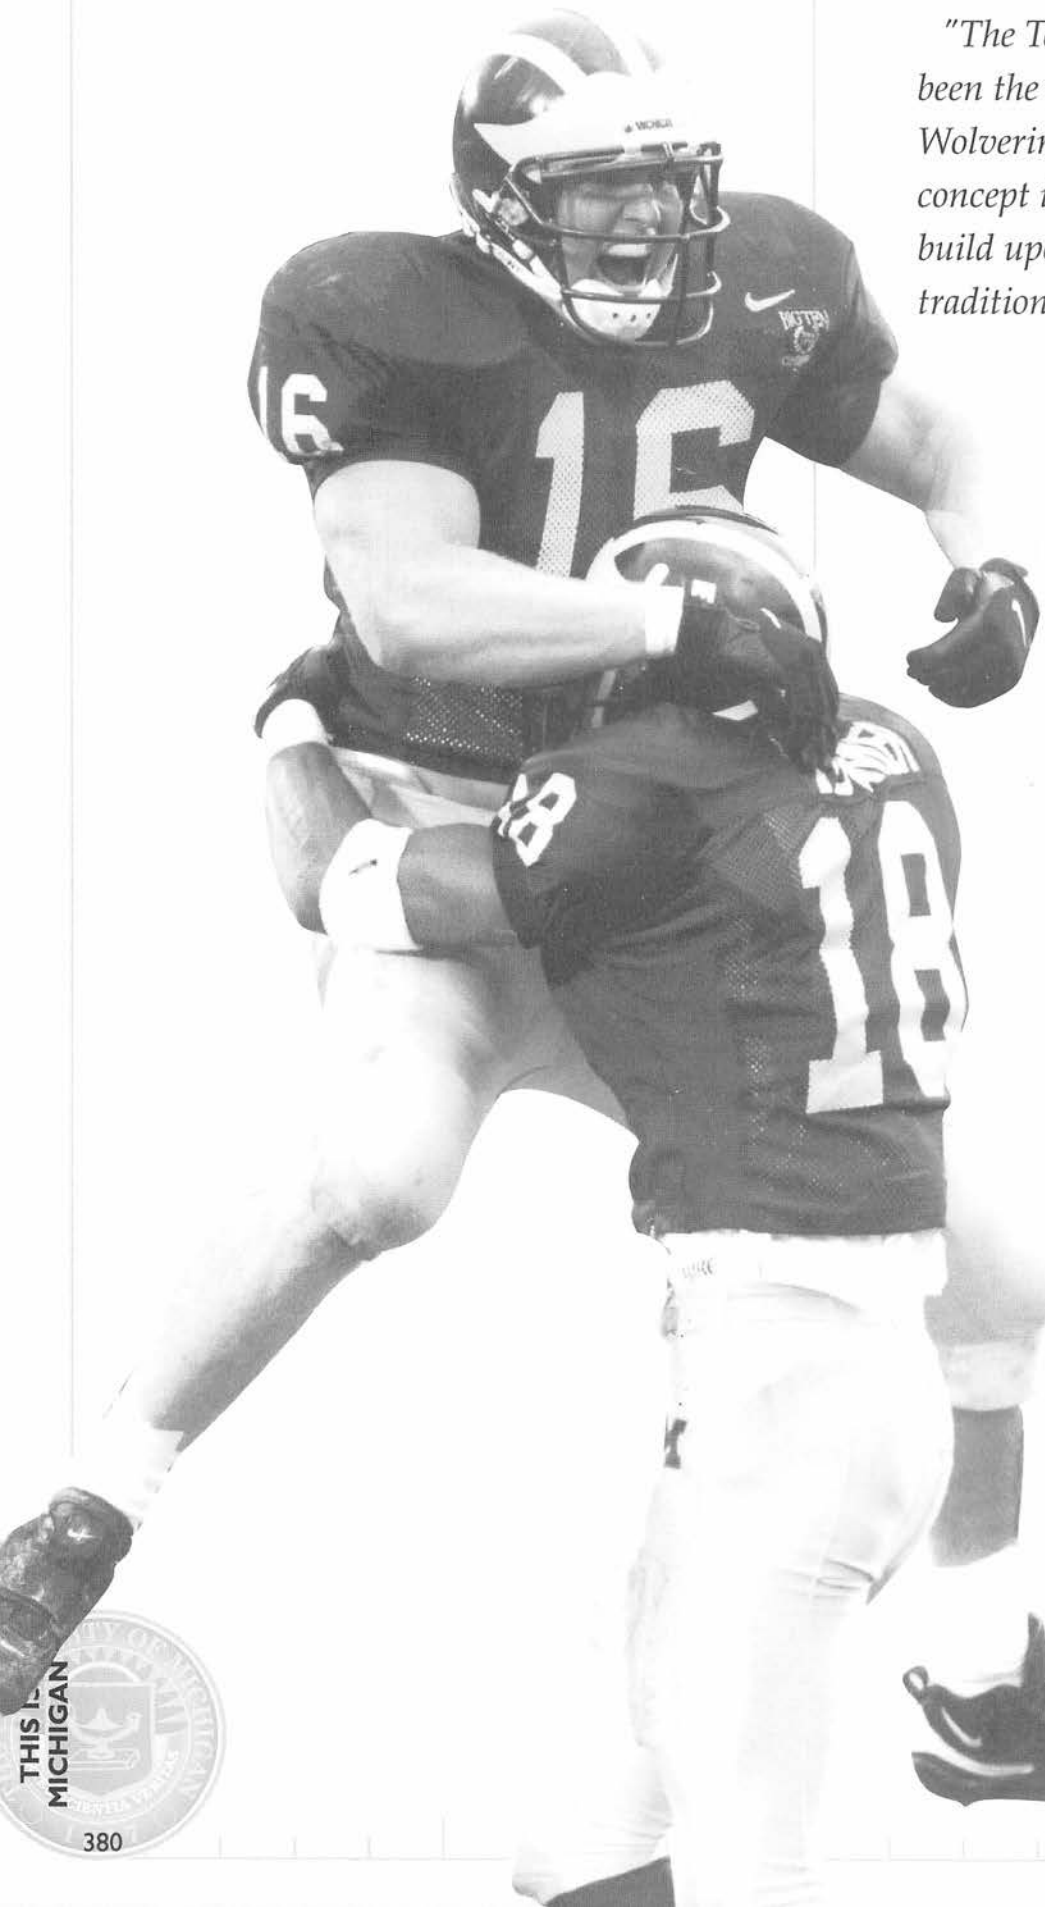
The highly-competitive Michigan athletic program demands the best for training and competition. Beginning with the "athletics for everyone" vision of Fielding Yost and enduring through tomorrow and beyond, Michigan has continually added and improved to the multi-million dollar athletic plant.

Improvements in 1998 included the expansion at Michigan Stadium, video scoreboards added at "The Big House" and Crisler Arena, renovations to Canham Natatorium and completion of the outdoor tennis courts.

Michigan continues to make improvements yearly to its athletic campus that give the Wolverines modern championship-quality structures for years to come.

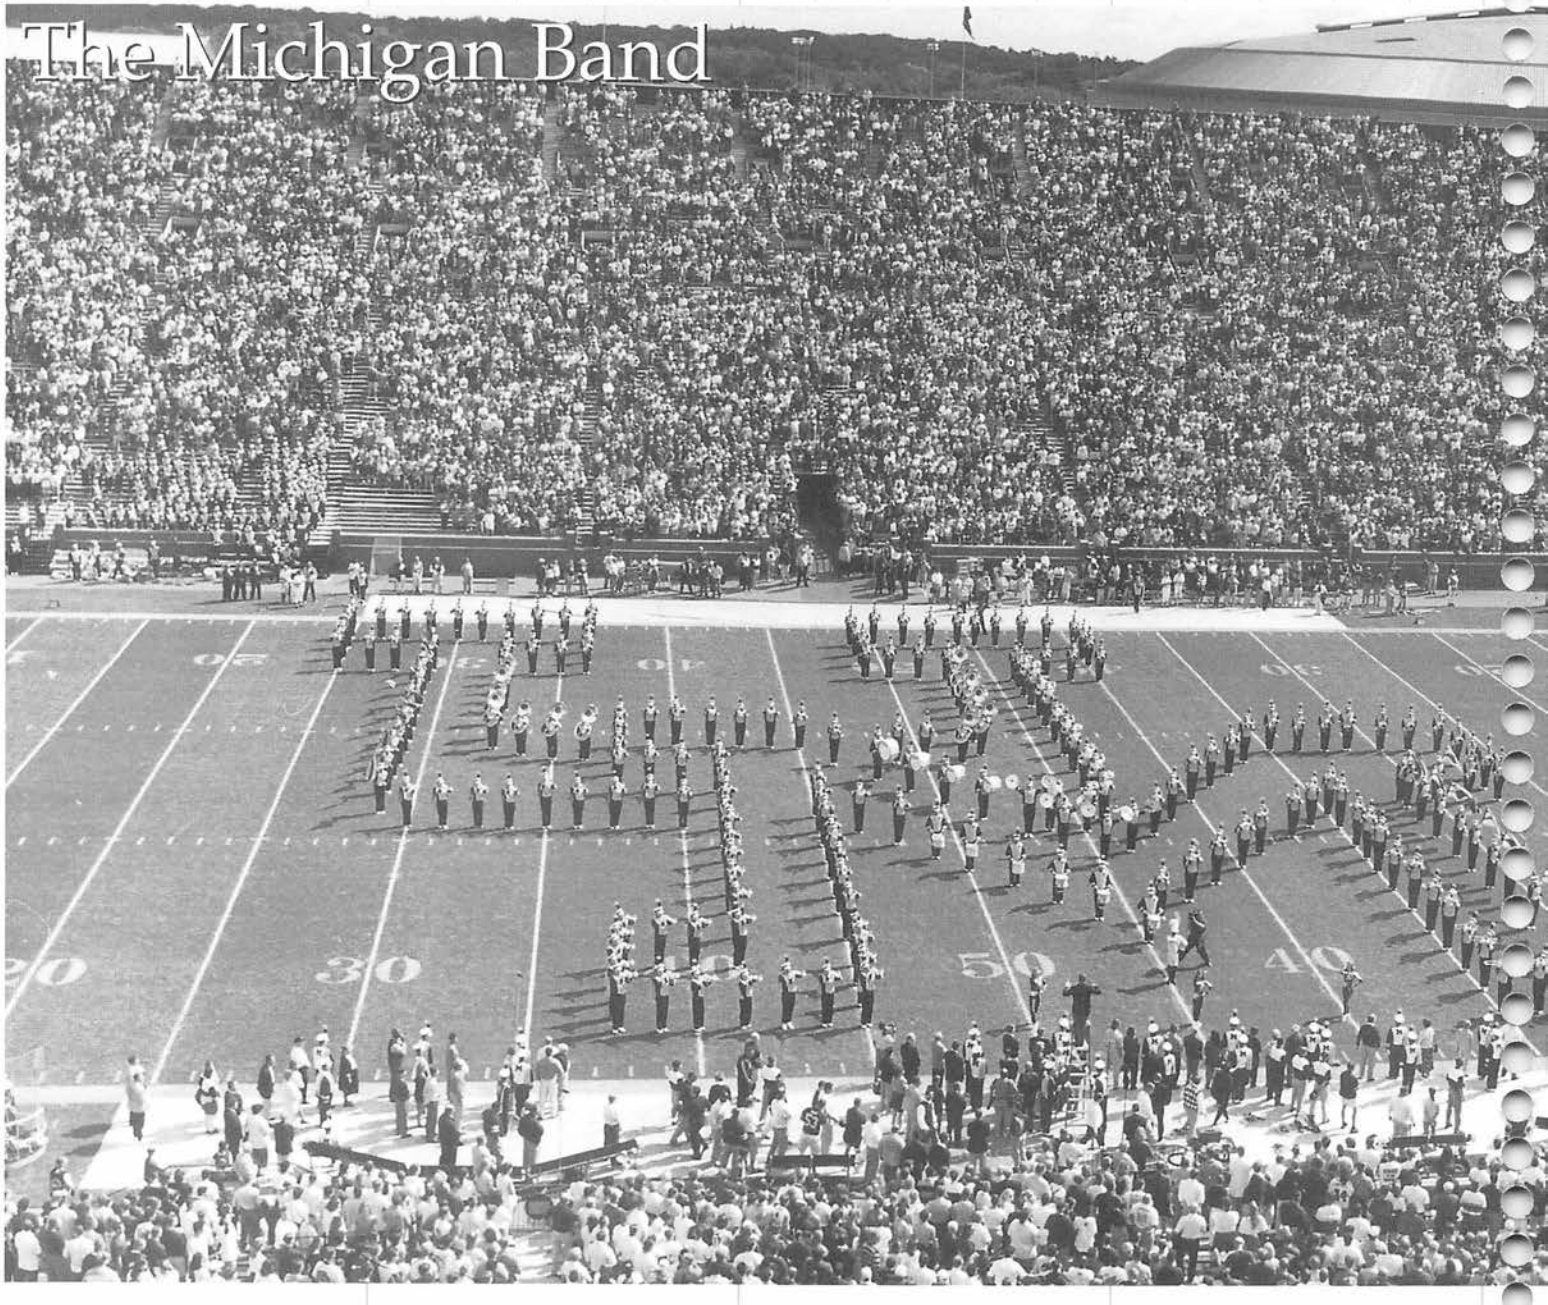
The Team, The Team, The Team

"The Team, The Team, The Team" has been the memorable battle cry of the Wolverines for decades. This "team first" concept is what has allowed Michigan to build upon its distinguished winning tradition year after year.



- More wins than any other Division I-A collegiate football program.
- The second-best winning percentage in college football history.
- A string of 23 consecutive bowl games.
- A total of 29 post-season appearances.
- A record 38 Big Ten football championships.
- Five consecutive conference titles through 1992.
- More Rose Bowl appearances than any other Big Ten team.
- The nation's leader in total attendance every year since 1974.
- A streak of 142 consecutive home games with a crowd of over 100,000 fans.
- Holds the NCAA season attendance record of 745,135.

The Michigan Band



Following hard on the heels of the football team's 1997 National Championship, the Michigan Marching Band is having a celebration of its own, a Centennial Celebration. The Michigan Band made its first appearance on the gridiron in the fall of 1898. Since then the Band has had a very rich history.

Some notable events in the history of the Michigan Marching Band include:

In 1898, shortly after the first appearance at a football game, University music student Louis Elbel composed Michigan's world-famous fight song, The Victors. Elbel's inspiration was a last minute 12-11 victory over then football rival the University of Chicago.

In 1948, the Michigan Marching Band became the first Big Ten Band to travel to Pasadena, California for the Rose Bowl. The Band marked the 50th Anniversary of this event with a return trip to Pasadena in January 1998 to cheer the football team on to another National Championship.

Traveling to Los Angeles in 1973, the Michigan Band was the first collegiate marching band to perform at a Super Bowl. The band later appeared at the 1982 Super Bowl at the Pontiac Silverdome, and game five of the 1984 World Series at Tiger Stadium.

In 1983 the Michigan Marching Band was honored as the first recipient of the Louis Sudler Trophy, and award given annually to a college marching band of particular distinction and excellence.

The 1998-99 Centennial Season marks the third year Dr. Kevin L. Sedatole will direct the Michigan Marching Band. He will be assisted for the second year by Dr. James R. Tapia. Michigan's "man up front" for the third consecutive season will be Ramon Johnson, a senior in the College of Engineering. Greg Whitmore, a senior in the School of Music, was elected by the Band as assistant drum major. The Band rehearses Monday through Friday on Elbel Field, 4:45 - 6:15 p.m.

Fans at Michigan Stadium this season will be treated to six exciting new half-time shows. For Syracuse, the band will perform music by Elton John, and the final home performance will be music by Earth, Wind and Fire. In addition, Band Day 1998 will be held at Michigan Stadium on October 3. High school bands from around the state of Michigan will join with the Michigan Band in performing and watching the football game (Michigan at Iowa) on the new video monitors at Michigan Stadium. In between all of this, fans will be treated to music from blockbuster films, Gustav Holst's The Planets, and a special salute to The Victors, which is

All Michigan fans are asked to show their support for the concurrent Centennial Celebrations of the Michigan Marching Band and The Victors.

We're asking that all the Maize and Blue faithful pledge $1.00 for every time the Band plays The Victors at a home football game. We average playing the fight song 25 times per game (unless, of course, the team scores a lot!) A $1.00 pledge would mean a gift of approximately $150.00 for the season. You may designate your gift for the Marching Band Scholarship Fund, the Uniform Fund, or you may leave your gift undesignated. All gifts from the Michigan family will be used directly for the benefit of Marching Band students. If you are interested in making a pledge, please call Revelli Hall at (734) 764-0582 for further information.

In addition to the appearances at Michigan Stadium, the Band will perform in concert a Band-O-Rama on October 31, 1998 and at Crisler Arena on December 6, 1998. Three other performances have been scheduled for the Centennial Season. They are in Battle Creek, MI on October 9, Defiance, OH, on October 10, and Auburn Hills, MI, on November 12. Specific information on these performances will be posted on the Band's web site as they become available.

The Michigan Marching Band is pleased to announce the release of its most recent recording, Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue, which contains music from the 1996 and 1997 seasons. Also, previous Marching band recordings, such as Fire Up...It's Saturday and Halftime Classics have been digitally remastered and are now available for purchase on compact disc. To order one of these recordings or other Michigan Marching Band merchandise, such as t-shirts, sweatshirts and hats, please contact Revelli Hall at (734) 764-0582. The Victors

Here they come with banners flying,
In stalwart step they're nighing,
With shouts of vict'ry crying,
We hurrah, hurrah, we greet you now,
Hail!

Far we their praises sing
For the glory and fame they've bro't us
Loud let the bells them ring
For here they come with banners flying
Far we their praises tell
For the glory and fame they've bro't us
Loud let the bells them ring
For here they come with banners flying
Here they come, Hurrah!

Hail! to the victors valiant
Hail! to the conqu'ring heroes
Hail! Hail! to Michigan
the leaders and best
Hail! to the victors valiant
Hail! to the conqu'ring heroes
Hail! Hail! to Michigan,
the champions of the West!

We cheer them again
We cheer and cheer again
For Michigan, we cheer for Michigan
We cheer with might and main
We cheer, cheer, cheer
With might and main we cheer!

Hail! to the victors valiant
Hail! to the conqu'ring heroes
Hail! Hail! to Michigan,
the champions of the West!

The Big Ten Conference

A meeting of seven Midwest university presidents on January 11, 1895 at the Palmer House in Chicago to discuss the regulation and control of intercollegiate athletics, was the first development of what would become one of organized sports' most successful undertakings.

Those seven men, behind the leadership of James H. Smart, president of Purdue University, established the principles for which the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives, more popularly known as the Big Ten Conference, would be founded.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the control and administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first-known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies."

This helped limit some problems of the times, especially the participation of professional athletes and "non-students" in the university's regular sporting events. That important legislation, along with others that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for amateur intercollegiate athletics.

Eleven months after the presidents met, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House, and officially established the mechanics of the "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives," or "Big Ten Conference" or "Western Conference."

Those seven universities were: University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin. Indiana University and the State University of Iowa were admitted in 1899. Ohio State joined in 1912. Chicago withdrew in 1946 and Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added three years later in 1949.

After a 40-year period of constancy in membership, the Conference expanded to 11 members for the first time. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents voted to confirm its earlier decision to integrate Pennsylvania State University into the Conference.

At the turn of the century, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1906, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence. Freshmen and graduate students were not permitted to compete, training tables (or quarters) were forbidden, and coaches were to be appointed by university bodies "at modest salaries."

Football and baseball were the popular sports prior to 1900. Wisconsin won the first two football championships and Chicago claimed the first three baseball titles. The first "official" sponsored championship was in outdoor track, and it was held at the University of Chicago in 1906. That was won by Michigan.

Since then, there have been many different athletic events popularized on Big Ten campuses. Some, such as football and basketball, became extremely popular. Others, like boxing, fell by the wayside. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 24 championships, 12 for men and 12 for women.

The office of the commissioner of athletics was created in 1922 "to study athletic problems of the various Western Conference universities and assist in enforcing the eligibility rules which govern Big Ten athletics." Major John L. Griffith was appointed as the first commissioner and served in that position until his death in 1944. Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, former, former director of athletics at Northwestern, served from 1944 until he retired in 1961. Bill Reed, an assistant commissioner since 1951, succeeded Wilson until his death in 1971. Wayne Duke became the fourth Big Ten commissioner in 1971 and retired June 30, 1989. Duke was succeeded by Jim Delany on July 1, 1989. Delany became the Big Ten's fifth commissioner following 10 years as Ohio Valley Conference Commissioner.

The Board of Regents

The University is governed by the Board of Regents, which consists of eight members elected at large in biennial state-wide elections. The president of the University serves as an ex officio member of the board. The Regents serve without compensation for overlapping terms of eight years. According to the Michigan Constitution of 1963, the Regents have "general supervision" of the institution and "the control and direction of all expenditures from the institution's funds." The Regents meet once a month in a public session.

1998 U-M BOARD OF REGENTS

Laurence B. Deitch, elected Regent in 1992, earned his bachelor's degree in history in 1969 and his law degree in 1972, both from the U-M. He is a principal member of Seyburn, Kahn, Ginn, Bess, Deitch and Serlin, a Detroit area law firm.

Term expires Dec. 31, 2000

Daniel D. Horning, elected Regent in 1994, received his bachelor's degree from U-M in 1982. He is a member of the Graduate "M" Club and past president of the U of M Club of Grand Rapids. An insurance and estate planning specialist, Horning is a partner in the Grand Haven district agency of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Term expires Dec. 31, 2002

Olivia P. Maynard, elected Regent in 1996, earned her bachelor's degree from George Washington University in 1959 and her M.S.W. degree from the U-M in 1971. Currently serving as president of The Michigan Prospect in Flint and president of Planned Parenthood of Michigan, she is also a former director of the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging.

Term expires Dec. 31, 2004

Shirley M. McFee, elected Regent in 1990, earned her bachelor's degree from the U-M in 1951 and her master's degree from Western Michigan University in 1970. She served as a Battle Creek city commissioner from 1985 to 1991 and was mayor of Battle Creek from May 1990-November 1991. She and her husband, Robert, are the majority owners and operators of GHS Corporation of Battle Creek.

Term expires Dec. 31, 1998

Rebecca McGowan,elected Regent in 1992, received her B.A. degree in 1970 from Lake Forest College. She served as a legislative assistant in the U.S. Senate and as assistant to Vice President Walter F. Mondale before moving to Ann Arbor in 1985. She is, with her husband Michael Staebler, the parent of a 6-year-old daughter.

Term expires Dec. 31, 2000

Andrea Fischer Newman, elected Regent in 1994, received her bachelor's degree with honors in history in 1979 from U-M and her law degree in 1983 from the George Washington University National Law Center. She is currently a vice president for state and local affairs at Northwest Airlines, previously having been a senior partner with Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, PLC. She and her husband Frank, who is chairman and CEO of Eckerd Corporation, have two children.

Term expires Dec. 31, 2002

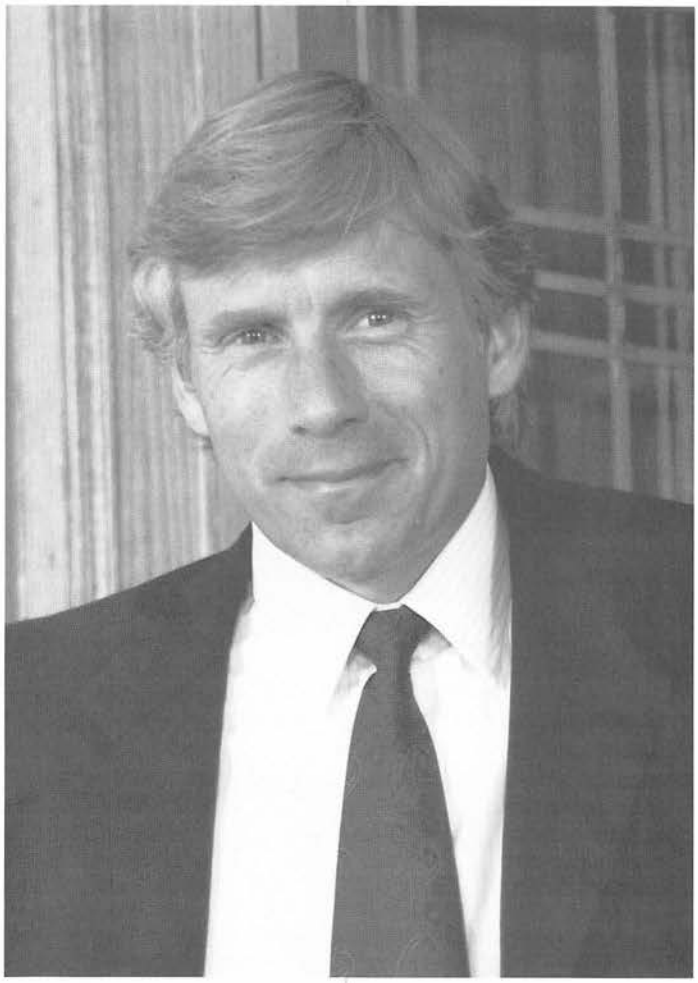
Philip H. Power has served as a Regent since 1987. He holds an A.B. degree from U-M and an M.A. degree from Oxford University. He is chairman of Hometown Communications Network, Inc., which publishes community newspapers (including the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers) and telephone directories and provides a variety of Internet services.

Term expires Dec. 31, 1998

S. Martin Taylor, elected Regent in 1996, holds a bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University and a J.D. degree from the Detroit College of Law. He is vice president for corporate and public affairs at the Detroit Edison Company. He and his wife, chief judge of the U.S. District Court Anna Diggs Taylor, reside in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Term expires Dec. 31, 2004

Lee C. Bollinger, President, University of Michigan



Lee C. Bollinger is President of the University of Michigan and a member of the faculty of law. He is a graduate of the University of Oregon and the Columbia Law School, where he was an Articles Editor of the Law Review.

After serving as a law clerk to Judge Wilfred Feinberg on the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and for Chief Justice Warren Burger on the United States Supreme Court, Bollinger joined the faculty of the University of Michigan Law School in 1973. In 1987 he was named the Dean of the University of Michigan Law School, a position he held for seven years. He became Provost of Dartmouth College and Professor of Government in July, 1994, and was named the 12th President of the University of Michigan in November 1996.

Bollinger's primary teaching and scholarly interests are focused on free speech and first amendment issues, and he has published numerous books, articles and essays in scholarly journals on these and other subjects. Two highly acclaimed contributions to First Amendment literature include Images of a Free Press, published by the University of Chicago Press in 1991 and The Tolerant Society: Freedom of Speech and Extremist Speech in America, published in 1986 by Oxford University Press. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Bollinger is the third U-M president to come from a legal background (Harry B. Hutchins and Robben W. Fleming were the others) and the second former Law School dean (Hutchins was dean of the U-M Law Department when he accepted the presidency in 1910).

In addition, Bollinger is the sixth school president to arrive with a U-M background (Erastus O. Haven, Hutchins, Alexander G. Ruthven, and each of the last two presidents to precede Bollinger, Harold T. Shapiro, and James J. Duderstadt were the others). Of those six, he becomes the U-M president with the second-longest consecutive history—22 years—with this institution (Ruthven had been at the University as a graduate student, professor, and then museum director, for 26 years when he became president in 1929.

An avid runner, Bollinger and his wife, Jean Magnano Bollinger have one son and one daughter. Carey is a sophomore at Harvard University and Lee is a second-year law student at the University of Michigan.

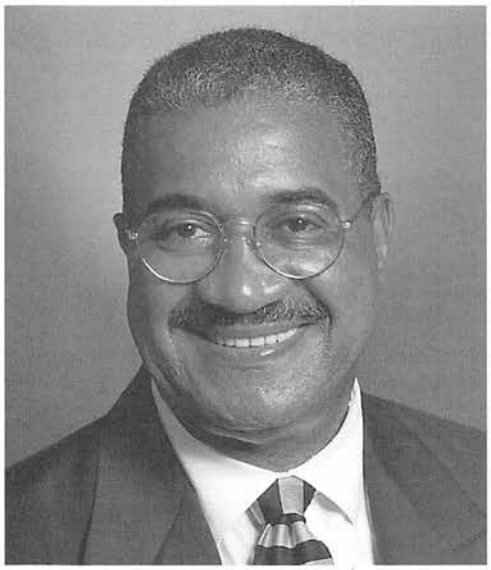
Tom A. Goss,

Donald R. Shepherd Director of Intercollegiate Athletics
University of Michigan



Tradition. Excellence. Accountability. Integrity.

Those four words shape the focus of University of Michigan Athletic Director Tom A. Goss, the ninth person to lead the Wolverine Athletic Department.

Named as the Donald R. Shepherd Director of Intercollegiate Athletics by University President Lee Bollinger Sept. 8, 1997, Goss, a University of Michigan graduate, brings full circle a commitment to the institution and its athletics programs.

His first year as athletic director was one of the best in Michigan history as the Wolverines claimed two national titles (football and ice hockey), seven Big Ten titles and three Big Ten tournament crowns. Goss was also instrumental in the expansion of Michigan Stadium.

Goss was a three-year Wolverine varsity football letterwinner who graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in education with a major in physical education (1968) and All-Big Ten Conference accolades on the field.

During a productive career in the business world, Goss kept contact with the University helping students pursue their academic and extracurricular dreams in Ann Arbor. He served several years as Michigan's Special Advisory representative to the Big Ten Conference, was a member of the President's Advisory Committee, sat on the board of directors of the Alumni Association, and served as president of the Detroit-area alumni organization.

Now Goss is in the lead of Michigan's tradition-laden Athletics Department, an organization which boasts 23 varsity sports teams, an impressive physical plant and a $38 million department budget. He plans to lead by example, calling upon the University's tradition and excellence in all endeavors to maintain accountability among those associated with Wolverine athletics.

"There's always been tradition at Michigan. But the 'Michigan tradition' is a little bit more than just going to school here. It's understanding the values, what people did before you and what they built," says Goss.

"That tradition, the excellence of those who represented the University before us, is the basis of what makes Michigan athletics the special program that it is."

Goss succeeds M. Joseph Roberson who retired after four years as athletic director. He continues the succession of athletic directors which began with Charles Baird in 1898, and is the first African-American to hold the Michigan position.

Goss returns to campus after serving as managing partner of The Goss Group, Inc. He previously was president and chief operating officer of PIA Merchandising Co., the nation's largest supplier of regular scheduled merchandised services.

Prior to joining PIA in 1993, Goss was executive vice president and general manager of ShasCo Inc. for National Beverage Corp., which distributes Faygo and Shasta beverages. He worked for National Beverage in 1986-93. Goss earlier was vice president of sales and marketing for Faygo Beverages and held several management positions with RJ Reynolds/DelMonte Corp. and Procter and Gamble Co.

While a student at U-M, Goss earned All-Big Ten football honors at left tackle in 1968 after starting all 10 games in his final collegiate season.

A 52-year-old native of Knoxville, Tenn., Goss is married to Michigan alumnae Carol Goings (U-M 1969, '72). They are the parents of Anika, Fatima and Maloni.

Through The Years.

Don Canham 1968-88

Bo Schembechler 1988-90

Jack Weidenbach 1990-94

Joe Roberson 1994-97

Senior Staff

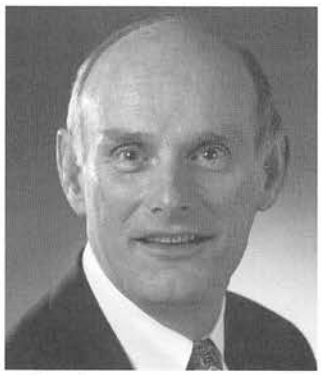
Fritz Seyferth
Executive Associate Director

Fritz Seyferth enters his first year as the Executive Associate Director overseeing Business and Finance Operations, Information Technology, Marketing and Communications, Development and Alumni Relations, and Licensing. He previously oversaw nine varsity sports that won one national championship (men's swimming in 1995) and nine Big Ten titles.

As Director of Development and Alumni Relations, Seyferth and his staff were responsible for the fundraising efforts that funded Schembechler Hall, the U-M Golf Course restoration, the Varsity Tennis Complex and the Yost Field House Renovation project. These projects were part of the $43.6 million "TEAM" Campaign for Athletics, which was part of the $1 billion University of Michigan "Campaign for Michigan."

A former Wolverine fullback (1968-71), Seyferth played in two Rose Bowls and received All-Big Ten honors. He graduated with an Industrial and Operations Engineering degree (1973) and received his MBA from the University of Connecticut. Drafted by the New York Giants, he played two seasons for the Calgary Stempeders of the CFL. Seyferth then went to work for B.F. Goodrich in Akron, OH, and Arthur Young and Co. in New York City, before joining Bo Schembechler's staff as Recruiting Coordinator in 1979.

Seyferth enjoys supporting the community and is active in Ann Arbor and Detroit as a member of several community and corporate boards of directors. Fritz and his wife, Lynn, live in Ann Arbor and have three children, Sean, Courtney and Nicholas.



Michael Stevenson, Ph.D.
Senior Associate Director

Mike Stevenson is in his 29th year with Michigan Athletics. His new responsibilities as Senior Associate Director include the management of all athletic department facilities and venues. Stevenson will handle strategic planning of all capital improvements, oversight of plant maintenance, game and event management and facility scheduling.

Stevenson has continued to direct the University's Recreational Sports program since 1975 as well as overseeing the management of Radrick Farms Golf Course since 1986.

He has held numerous administrative responsibilities within the athletic department and university community. He has served as a member of the Provost's Advisory Committee on Excellence and the Advisory Committee on University Budgets, as well as the Search Committees for the Chair of the Department of Physical Education, and for Director of Plant Operations.

Stevenson received his Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education from Central Michigan University in 1962. He received his Master's degree and Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration from Minnesota in 1973. In 1994, Stevenson was named an "Honorary 'M' Man" in recognition of his many contributions to the Michigan Athletic Department.

He and his wife, Vernee, have two children, Andrea, a 1989 Michigan graduate, and Scott, a 1993 Eastern Michigan University graduate.

Peg Bradley-Doppes
Senior Associate Director

Peg Bradley-Doppes was named Senior Associate Athletic Director in 1994 after serving as Women's Athletic Director and Associate Athletic Director since 1991.

She moved into athletic administration following a successful Division I coaching career that spanned 13 seasons. Recognized as the youngest coach in NCAA volleyball history to reach 300 Division I victories, the former All-American volleyball player coached at Miami (Ohio) and North Carolina before moving to Michigan where she coached the volleyball team for two seasons.

Bradley-Doppes is the department's senior women's administrator representing Michigan at the NCAA and Big Ten levels. Her day-to-day responsibilities include supervision of 14 men's and women's sport programs as well as the supervision of medical. She has overseen game event management, postseason championships, marketing and promotions and corporate development.

Bradley-Doppes' Big Ten responsibilities include the Program and Budget Review and Executive Committee for Sport Administrators. She has represented Michigan on the Television Officiating and Principles as well as the Priorities and Guidelines Committees. She serves on the NCAA Division I Volleyball Committee, is a NCAA peer reviewer and has spoken at national seminars and clinics.

Bradley-Doppes is active in Ann Arbor and Detroit organizations. A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, she received her undergraduate degree from the College of Mt. St. Joseph and her master's degree from Miami (Ohio).

Jeff Long
Associate Director

Jeff Long is beginning his 11th year as an Athletic Administrator at Michigan. His new responsibilities include working with the women's rowing, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and diving and baseball programs. In addition, Long oversees strength and conditioning, athletic equipment operations, The Marching Band and the cheerleading program.

Prior to his new role, Long spent 10 years working with the football and men's basketball programs and the last three with the women's basketball and ice hockey teams. He was named Assistant Athletic Director in 1990 and promoted to Associate Athletic Director in April of 1996.

A Kettering, OH, native, Long attended Ohio Wesleyan, earning his bachelor's degree in economics (1982). While at OWU, Long competed on both the football and baseball teams, earning seven varsity letters. He served as a football graduate assistant while earning his master's degree in education from Miami (Ohio) in 1983.

Long spent three seasons (1983-85) as football recruiting coordinator and administrative assistant at North Carolina State. He was an assistant coach at Duke in 1986 before arriving at Michigan as a graduate assistant in 1987. Long was hired at Rice as Assistant Athletic Director for recruiting and football operations in February 1988, but returned to Michigan the following September as an Assistant to the Athletic Director.

Jeff and his wife, Fanny, are the parents of a daughter, Stephanie Marie (3).

Jim Balgooyen
Director for Business Operations

Jim Balgooyen begins his 10th year as the director for business operations at the University of Michigan. In his current position, he oversees the athletic departments budgeting, financial reporting, and accounting operations.

Since joining the staff in June of 1989, Balgooyen has helped Michigan remain as one of the few athletic departments in the country to continually operate in the "black." Balgooyen moved into the athletic area after working for the University's internal audit department (1986-87) and was a senior financial analyst for M-CARE (1988).

He earned an ecomonics degree from the University of Michigan (1978) and completed his MBA in accounting from Michigan State University (1982). He passed the CPA exam in 1982 and went to work as a public accountant with the firm of BDO Seidman, LLP in Grand Rapids.

A Muskegon native, Balgooyen resides in Plymouth with his wife, Carol, and their two daughters, Laura (9) and Sarah (7).

Wayne Baskerville
Director for Development & Alumni Relations

Wayne Baskerville is in his second year as the Director for Development and Alumni Relations with the University of Michigan. He is responsible for the athletic departments …

A native of Waterloo, IA, Baskerville graduated from Western Michigan University. He earned his bachelor of arts in 1973 and completed work on his masters degree two years later (1975).

Before accepting his 1996 appointment with the Michigan Athletic Department, Baskerville was the director of gifts at Wayne State University (1990-94) and Michigan State University (1994-96). He was the regional major gifts officer for the University of Michigan from 1985-90.

Baskerville is a member of numerous professional associations, including the Council for Advancement and Support Education (CASE) and the Big Ten Athletic Fund Raisers.

Baskerville resides in Ann Arbor with his wife, Sharon. They have two children, Tia (24) and Wayne II (22).

Marty Bodnar
Director of Ticket Operations

Marty Bodnar begins his first year with the University of Michigan Athletic Department as the Director of Ticket Operations. Appointed on June 22, 1998, Bodnar manages the overall ticket sales and distribution for the Athletic Department.

Bodnar spent 14 years practicing law before accepting his current position at Michigan. Of those years, Bodnar spent the last seven as the Law Director for the City of Barberton and as the Chief Prosecutor for the Barberton Municipal Court (1991-98) while maintaining a private law practice. He specialized in estate, business and tax planning in his private practice. Bodnar is admitted to practice law in both the states of Michigan and Ohio.

Involved in the community, Bodnar is the second vice-president of the Barberton Sports Hall of Fame. He was the president of the University of Michigan Alumni Club of Akron (Ohio) and was chairman of the Dunk with Authority, a drug prevention/basketball clinic.

Bodnar is a former Michigan basketball player (1978-81) who co-captained the 1979-80 team. He was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten honoree (1979-81) and earned Academic All-American recognition twice (1980-81).

He is 1981 University of Michigan graduate with a bachelors degree in economics. Bodnar continued his education at the University of Akron, graduating with a law degree (1984).

Bodnar and his wife, Renee, have two children, Rachel (10) and Jacob (8).

Thomas Cecchini
Director for Marketing & Communications

Tom Cecchini is in his first year with the University of Michigan Department and serves as the Director for Marketing and Communications.

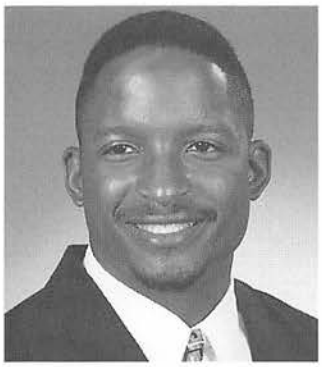
A native of Detroit, Cecchini graduated from Michigan with his bachelors degree in 1966 and earned his masters degree in education (1968).

As a Wolverine football player, Cecchini received All Big Ten honors and All-American recognition as an offensive and defensive line starter. He was a member of the 1965 Rose Bowl winning team and captained the Wolverines' 1996 squad the following season.

Upon reception of his bachelors degree, Cecchini embarked on a career coaching football that would span 19 years. He began as a graduate assistant at Michigan in 1969 and was a member of the coaching staff on Bo Schembechler's 1970 Rose Bowl team. At the collegiate level, he also coached at the University of Iowa, Tulane, and Xavier where his responsibilities ranged from defensive coach to head coach. Cecchini was also a defensive coach for the Minnesota Vikings (1980-84) under Bud Grant, twice helping the team to the playoffs.

Prior to returning to Michigan, Cecchini was the Owner and Chief Financial Officer of Microforms Trans-Lingual in Minneapolis, MN (1984-95). He was also the President of Loviel Computer from 1995-96.

Cecchini resides in Ann Arbor with his wife, Lynn Marie. They have three children, David (26), J.T. (22) and Katelyn (15).



Derrick Gragg
Director for Compliance

Derrick Gragg is in his second year as the Director for Compliance at the University of Michigan. Prior to his appointment in July 1997, Gragg spent two years as the Director of Compliance and Operations at the University of Missouri (1995-96).

He served as the chairman of the Big 12 Compliance Coordinators and was the chairman of the conference's compliance subcommittee since 1996. Gragg is an active member of the Black Coaches Association. He has also had articles dealing with athletics published by The NCAA News.

A 1992 graduate of Vanderbilt University, Gragg served as the Director of Student Life and as an academic counselor within the athletic department of his alma mater from 1993-95. He was a four-year letterwinner for the Commodores football team during his undergraduate days.

He attended the University of Tennessee in 1993 before returning to Vanderbilt. He is currently completing work on a master's degree in education at Eastern Michigan University.

Phil Hughes
Acting Director for Student Academic Services

Phil Hughes begins his eighth year with the Student Academic Services Department for Michigan Athletics. He directs all aspects of the Department's Student-Athlete Support Program including academic advising, academic compliance, tutorial services, admissions tracking, faculty relations, and academic advocacy.

Hughes came to Michigan from Tulane University, where he served as Assistant Athletic Director for Athletic Student Life for three years. His initial position at Tulane was as an academic counselor, a position he took in 1987.

A 1980 graduate of the University of California-San Diego, Hughes continued his education at the University of Kentucky. After earning his master's degree in Counseling Psychology, Hughes worked as an academic athletic counselor before moving to Tulane. He has previously served as an Executive Board Member of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletics.

Phil and his wife, the former Betty Bagot of New Orleans, have a eight-year-old son, Stafford, and a six-year old daughter, Elizabeth.

Bruce Madej
Director for Media Relations

Entering his 17th year of coordinating media relations for the Michigan Athletic Department is Bruce Madej. A Dearborn native and graduate of University of Detroit High School, Madej graduated from Western Michigan University in 1974 with a bachelor's degree in communication and education.

After working for The Ypsilanti Press from 1974-75, he joined the staff of The Ann Arbor News where he remained until 1978 before accepting the position of Assistant Sports Information Director with Michigan. In 1980, Madej was promoted to Associate Sports Information Director, a position he held briefly before joining the American Power Boat Association Offshore Racing Commission as the director of public relations and marketing. In 1982, he returned to Michigan as Sports Information Director.

Madej has worked as sports talent for various independent production companies airing his shows on ESPN, USA Network and PASS. In 1990, he handled the color commentary for the PGA's AmeriTech Senior Open golf tournament for WTTN-TV Cadillac-Traverse City. He has handled media relations for the Spirit of Detroit Thunderfest unlimited hydroplane race since 1986. He has also hosted sports talk shows and handled radio play-by-play for hockey, basketball and baseball on WAAM and WTKA in Ann Arbor as well as color commentary for basketball on WJR in Detroit. Madej has done play-by-play and commentary for boat races on WLLZ-FM, WXYT-AM and WWJ in Detroit, and various stations in Florida and Louisiana.

Warde Manuel
Director for Student-Athlete Development & Research

Warde Manuel was named Director for Student-Athlete Development and Research at Michigan in February of 1998. His responsibilities include student-athlete career development and community service as well as assisting Tom Goss with the administration of football, men's and women's basketball and ice hockey.

Manuel previously worked as Assistant Athletic Director of Academic Affairs at Georgia Tech in 1994-95, where he was responsible for the daily management of the academic support program. He also served as an academic advisor for volleyball, men's and women's tennis, men's golf and women's swimming.

A University of Michigan graduate and football letterwinner, Manuel returned to Ann Arbor in 1996 to begin work his Ph.D. He joined the Athletic Department as an executive staff assistant, serving on several planning and development committees, devising and implementing a number of department programs and procedures as well as production of a departmental newsletter.

A native of New Orleans, La., Manuel earned his bachelor's degree from Michigan after earning letters as a defensive tackle under Bo Schembechler in 1987 and 1988. He earned a first master's degree in social work (1993) as well as a second master's degree in psychology (1998). He is completing work in the joint doctoral program at U-M in social work and psychology.

Athletic Endowments

The University of Michigan Athletic Endowment Program was established to ensure the quality of student-athletes who will represent the University in the future. In the past, Michigan has been able to attract some of the best, brightest and most dedicated individuals to its academic classrooms and athletic programs by providing them with scholarships funded through Athletic Department revenue. To help offset the rising costs of supporting quality student-athletes, the Michigan Athletic Endowment Program has established five endowment levels designed to assist in the education of student-athletes.

Schembechler Scholarships
Reflecting Bo's unwavering commitment to academic excellence and graduation of athletes, these endowments provide an individual with a full scholarship.

Robert A. Baumgartner Scholarship
Bob Baumgartner was a starting guard on the 1969 Big Ten Championship team. He attended the Michigan Graduate Business School and began a successful career in the banking business. He continued to show his love and support for the University until his untimely death from cancer in 1993. With the support of Bob's wife, Cheryl, Ken Mortenson, in concert with many of Baumgartner's former teammates and business associates, have established a scholarship to be awarded to a football player who exhibits the intelligence, character and toughness that Bob Baumgartner displayed. Nate Miller is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Marion E. and Robert N. Beebe Scholarship
Marion and Bob Beebe continue their love affair with Michigan athletics, especially football. Marion's strong support and Bob's close relationship with the players and coaches have led them to endow a second Schembechler Scholarship for football. Marion and Bob again exhibit their spirit and loyalty to the Wolverines. Kraig Baker is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Robert N. and Marion E. Beebe Scholarship
Bob and Marion Beebe are true followers of the Michigan tradition. Bob, having graduated from Michigan Dental School, established a successful practice in the Flint area with the help of his wife Marion. Over the years, he followed Michigan athletics and upon retirement moved to Ann Arbor to be closer to Michigan football. Marion and Bob have expressed their loyalty and support by endowing a football scholarship to a student whose college career would be enhanced with financial assistance. Andre Weathers is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Alvin Glick Scholarship
Al Glick attended college to be a sports writer, but circumstances placed him in the family metal business. The University of Michigan has been the benefactor of his interest in college athletics and his concern for the young people who benefit from competition. Al Glick has supported many athletic projects and now has endowed a football scholarship to be awarded to a player who strives for excellence on and off the field. The 1998-99 recipient is Tai Streets.

Jerry Hanlon Football Lineman Scholarship
Through the generosity of Alvin Glick, and with the support from several former players of Coach Jerry Hanlon, an endowed scholarship has been established in the name of Jerry Hanlon. The recipient of the scholarship should reflect the respect Coach Hanlon has for the game of football and for those who play it. He should strive for success as a student, as an athlete, but most of all, as a man. The 1998-99 recipient of the Jerry Hanlon Football Lineman Scholarship is Chris Zieman.

Tom Harmon Scholarship
Friends of University of Michigan football All-American and Heisman Trophy winner Tom Harmon, alumni of the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, and the Michigan Athletic Department have endowed a scholarship in Harmon's name. The scholarship benefits a football player who exhibits leadership and character, and, when appropriate, has interest in communications. Recipient of the 1998-99 Harmon Scholarship is Tate Schanski.

Jamieson Family Scholarship
Rick and Laura Jamieson are a unique young couple. Their experiences, leading to degrees from the University of Michigan, provided them with a deep appreciation for all that Michigan represents. That appreciation has translated into their endowing a full scholarship for a football player to receive the same opportunities afforded them. The Jamiesons, along with their three children, reside in Toledo, Ohio and are enthusiastic fans of the Wolverines. Rick and Laura serve as an example of committed loyalty to the University of Michigan. The 1998-99 recipient of the Jamieson Family Scholarship is Tom Brady.

Tom and JoAnn Maentz Scholarship
Tom Maentz is a true "Michigan Man." His hard work and dedication have earned him honors on the athletic fields and in the business world. An All-Big Ten Conference tight end and excellent all-around athlete, he by-passed professional football offers to enter business. His success continues into his chosen field, and now he and wife Jo continue to support Michigan athletics in a number of ways. They have established a scholarship in football to reflect the dedication, loyalty and academic endeavor of the "Michigan Tradition." The 1998-99 recipient of the Tom and JoAnn Maentz Scholarship is Kevin Bryant.

Jack Roth Scholarship
Jack Roth, a successful advertising executive, has established a scholarship for a deserving student-athlete who places emphasis on scholastic achievement. Despite the distance from his home in California, Roth has maintained close ties with the University and Ann Arbor, returning frequently for football games. The 1998-99 Roth Scholarship recipient is Steve Frazier.

Donald R. Shepherd Scholarship
A 1958 University of Michigan Business School graduate, Donald Shepherd has been the top contributor to the Michigan Athletic Department over the years. One of his commitments established the first scholarship endowment for the Michigan football program. A scholarship will be given in Shepherd's name each year to a student-athlete enrolled in a pre-professional or professional school. The bequest will be granted to a football player who would benefit from financial aid in furthuring his education. Jason Vinson is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Mildred S. and Myron S. Steinberg; Joann and Ned I. Chalat, M.D. Scholarship
Myron Steinberg was a great friend of the University of Michigan. Although he never graduated from the University of Michigan, he had a great love for the University, particularly the Athletic Department. This Schembechler Scholarship is for a football player who is a worthy upperclassman, preferably from the Detroit area. DiAllo Johnson is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Leo A. Thomas Scholarship
The Leo A. Thomas Scholarship was established in the will of his wife, Lucile, to pay all scholarship costs for a Michigan football player who demonstrates enthusiasm and commitment to the Michigan football program and the University as a whole. Mr. Thomas (B.A. Literature 1908) and his wife were enthusiastic and avid followers and supporters of Michigan football. This Schembechler scholarship serves as a lasting tribute to Mr. Thomas' commitment and dedication to the Michigan football family. As the Thomas family were residents of the Troy, Ohio area, individuals from this area will be given scholarship preference. Daydrion Taylor is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Zachary Family Scholarship
Jack Zachary epitomizes the team player. His loyalty and dedication to the team, in his playing days for the Wolverines, have carried over into his family and business life. Taking over his father's candy business, he and his children have built Zachary Confections, Inc. into one of the most respected companies of its kind in the country. He has relied on his experiences at Michigan to help shape his commitment to family, friends and Michigan. Jack and his wife, Charlene, along with their children, have maintained a strong allegiance to the Wolverines and have again demonstrated that team spirit by endowing a scholarship for football. The 1998-99 recipient of the Zachary Family scholarship is Josh Williams.

Roy and Helen Ziegler Scholarship
Roy and Helen Ziegler are well known names throughout the Michigan community and have supported various areas of the University, including Michigan athletics. Helen's untimely death is a loss to the Wolverine program, but Roy continues his service and financial support. He has increased his endowment to a full scholarship to benefit a student-athlete deserving recognition for his efforts in academics and football. Jeff Holtry is the 1998-99 recipient.

Yost Scholarships
In recognition of the man who set Michigan athletics on its course of excellence, these scholarships cover all tuition costs for a student-athlete.

Kalvin and Eileen Grove Scholarship
Kal and Eileen Grove have supported Michigan athletics both personally and financially for a number of years. Following graduation from Michigan, Kal has been a successful practicing attorney. His interest in Michigan has continued to grow over the years. He and Eileen have been familiar faces at Michigan contests, both home and away. Their respect for the integrity and pursuit of excellence of the Athletic Department has led them to endow a scholarship to be awarded to a football player who exhibits a special degree of toughness and leadership on and off the field. James Hall is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Carl A. Kreager Family Scholarship
Carl Kreager was an offensive linesman for the University of Michigan from 1947-50. After graduation, he became a successful businessman in his home area of Lansing, Michigan. Carl is a trend setter in that he is the first former player to endow a football scholarship. He and his wife, Joannie, wish to afford other young men the opportunity to enjoy the experience of a Michigan education that proved so valuable to Carl. Jeff Potts is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Leland Family Scholarship
Bob and Donna Leland are both graduates of the University of Michigan. Their experiences of a Michigan education and their involvement with Michigan athletics are a great source of pride. That pride is manifest in the endowment of a Yost scholarship in football. The 1998-99 recipient of the Leland Family Scholarship is

Other Varsity Scholarships:

Samuel L. Westerman Foundation Scholarship for Baseball

Canham Scholarships
Named in honor of the innovative athletic director and track coach, the scholarships cover the cost of room and board for student-athletes.

Benny Friedman Scholarship
The first Canham scholarship has been endowed in the memory of Benny Friedman, a former All-American quarterback for the Wolverines. Members of the Jewish community, who respected the values Benny exemplified, joined together to fund this scholarship. They wish to preserve the tradition of hard work, dedication and perseverance of Benny Friedman. The 1998-99 recipient of the Benny Friedman Scholarship is Aaron Shea.

Other Varsity Scholarships:
The Dekers Blue Line Club Scholarship for Ice Hockey
Foussianes Family Scholarship for Baseball

Crisler Scholarships
Remembering the great man whose mind and motivation shaped collegiate athletics as we know it, these endowments cover all scholarship costs for an individual's summer term studies.

Charles S. Kennedy & Charles S. Kennedy II Scholarship
In the memory of the above individuals, an endowed Crisler scholarship has been established. They were dedicated followers of the University of Michigan athletics. Their support of Michigan football, from the days of Fielding Yost through the days of Bo Schembechler, will now be carried into the next century through this endowment. The 1998-99 recipient of the scholarship is William Peterson.

Jim & Bonnie Mandich Scholarship
Jim Mandich is synonymous with Michigan football. An All-American tight end who achieved tremendous success in pro-football, he is now a successful business man and sports personality in Miami, Florida. Jim has exhibited his respect and love for his school in many endeavors. Now with his wife, Bonnie, he has endowed a Crisler scholarship for future Wolverines. Anthony Jordan is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Virginia Nicklas Scholarship
Virginia Nicklas has been a long-standing supporter of Michigan football. She has closely followed the Wolverines since the late '60's. As an active alumna, in the Pittsburgh area, her respect for Bo Schembechler and the Michigan program has endured over the years. Virginia's interest has led her to endow a Crisler scholarship for a deserving athlete. The 1998-99 recipient is Todd Brooks.

U of M Club of Ann Arbor Scholarship
The U of M Club of Ann Arbor has endowed a scholarship to be awarded to a worthy football player. Through the functions of the club, money is raised to fulfill the club's desire to assist a player who displays the attributes to succeed in athletics and academics. Noah Parker is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

U of M Club of Greater Detroit Scholarship
The U of M Club of Greater Detroit, longtime supporters of Michigan athletics, has taken a lead in supporting Michigan football by establishing a Crisler Scholarship. The scholarship will be awarded to the Michigan football player who has demonstrated the leadership and integrity representative of a Michigan Man as a student, and one who can be counted on to continue his dedication to the University as an alumnus. Preference for this scholarship will be given to individuals who attended high school in the greater Detroit area and will be a senior following the summer term. Maurice Williams is the 1998-99 scholarship recipient.

Media Information

Credentials

All members of the media covering the game in a working capacity must secure appropriate credentials in advance from Michigan Assistant Athletic Director and Media Relations Director, Bruce Madej. Credentials for the working media are restricted in accordance with NCAA rules and guidelines. The object of this policy is to insure that proper, professional use is made of the limited space available for members of the media. The following regulations apply:

1. Working press box credentials shall be issued only to accredited newspapers, radio and television reporters. Because of the limited press box space, reporters representing papers with Sunday editions, reporters representing daily newspapers, and reporters representing national magazines or wire services shall be given priority.
2. Photo passes may be issued for either the press box or the field. All photographers working the field must display a photo ribbon. Sideline access is generally limited to accredited photographers on assignment by daily newspapers, national publications, wire services and local and national television outlets. No free lance, private, high school or college photographer, weekly newspapers or journalism students, shall be issued photographic credentials unless they officially represent the visiting or host school. Sideline photographers must follow NCAA guidelines, which prohibit access to the bench areas and the stands.
3. Credentials are non-transferable.

Press Will Call

Press passes left at the Press Will Call can be picked up beginning two hours before kickoff on the day of the game. Press Will Call is located directly behind the Michigan Stadium Press Box near Gate 6.

Press Parking

The press parking lot is located on the north side of Michigan Stadium, near Gate 9. Parking for the working media is very limited, so members of the media are urged to arrive early. Parking credentials should be requested at the same time game day working credentials are requested. If time permits (at least five working days), both credentials will be mailed. Those who request parking passes the week of the game must pick them up by no later than 4 p.m. Friday at the Athletic Media Relations Office.

Hotel Rooms

The Athletic Media Relations Office has a limited number of rooms reserved in the Ann Arbor area. Please contact Tara Preston at least two weeks in advance to reserve accommodations at (734) 763-4423.

Telephones

Members of the media are encouraged to order phone lines and to supply their own phones as no telephone lines or instruments are available through the Michigan Athletic Public Relations Department. Telephone lines in the press box must be ordered at least one week in advance of the game(s) for which they are needed. Pay phones and several charge-a-call phones are located on the Working Press Level, but their use is usually in great demand.

Contact Tara Preston with the Michigan Media Relations Department for information on how to order phone lines.

Pregame and Postgame Services

Play-by-Play, halftime and complete final statistics, quote sheets and pregame and postgame notes are all regular services on game day.

Postgame—Coach Lloyd Carr and selected Michigan players will be available after a short cooling off period after the conclusion of the game, and will be brought to the interview room located in the 'M' Room at Crisler Arena. Media members must secure a post-game pass from Athletic Public Relations personnel at the "control point" of the press box on the Working Press Level to enter Crisler Arena.

Michigan Interview Policies

Requests for interviews with Michigan football players and coaches should be directed to the Michigan Athletic Public Relations Office. The best time to interview Coach Carr is each Monday during the season at his weekly press luncheon. He will also be available each Tuesday during the season on the Big Ten Teleconference. The teleconference, which features each of the Big Ten Conference head coaches, is restricted to media members only. Those who wish to be included must contact contact the Big Ten Communications Department (847-696-1010), which will provide a schedule of times each coach will be available on the teleconference.

Player interviews are conducted early in the week and must be arranged in advance through the Michigan Athletic Public Relations Office. Members of the media are urged to plan their schedules accordingly. Home phone numbers for players and coaches are not released.

Big Ten's "Fax-On-Demand" Service

The Big Ten Conference's "Fax-on-Demand" service allows media members 24-hour access to the latest media releases on Big Ten sports from both the conference office and each of the 11 institutions. Media is able to pick and choose between each school's release as well as have the opportunity to choose between specific categories (statistics, results, etc.) in all sports. The football release will be available by no later than 5 p.m. eastern time every Monday. From the handset of the fax machine, the caller should dial the "Fax-on-Demand" phone number to access information. When the start button on the fax machine is pressed, the ordered information is delivered immediately. For the Big Ten "Fax-on-Demand" phone number, please call the Big Ten Communications Department (847-696-1010) or the University of Michigan Athletic Public Relations Department.

Teamline

Fans who are not within listening range of one of Michigan's affiliate stations may still listen to Wolverine radio broadcasts using their telephone and Teamline. A credit card number is required to use this service. At game time, dial the Teamline number, (800) 225-5313, from any phone. By following the computer prompts, fans will be connected to the live Michigan radio broadcast. Charges are accrued by the minute and are billed to the credit card number.

NewsTalk 760 WJR has served as The University of Michigan's Flagship Radio Station for more than a quarter of a century. WJR provides coverage on its powerful 50,000 watt clear channel signal allowing Michigan sports to be heard in more than 38 states and Canada.

Returning to the Broadcast Booth for his 17th season, Frank Beckmann calls the play-by-play action. Frank formerly anchored WJR's popular SportsWrap program and was WJR's sports director for 16 years. He spends his summers as the play-by-play voice of the Detroit Tigers baseball team.

Former U-M offensive tackle, Jim Brandstatter, has been the color analyst for Wolverine Football for 16 years. He also hosts "Michigan Replay," the popular show featuring Michigan Head Coach, Lloyd Carr.

WJR's veteran sports reporter, Dan Dickerson, provides sideline reports plus in-depth pre and post-game coverage. During the season, Dan anchors the WJR morning sports reports.

During the Wolverines run to the 1997 national championship, Brian Griese (left) and Charles Woodson (right) distinquished themselves. Griese capped off a stellar senior campaign by winning the Rose Bowl Most Valuable Player Award after passing for 251 yards and three touchdowns. The multi-dimensional Woodson, a two-time All-American, became the first primarily defensive player to claim college football's most prestigious award, the Heisman Trophy.
